

Gonzaga University Comes First On C. P. S. Football Schedule

Most Formidable Opponent of 1922 Season Will Meet Local Team in the Tacoma Stadium on Saturday, October 7

The College of Puget Sound has arranged one of the hardest schedules in the history of the college to be played this year by the football team. The season will open in Tacoma on October 7 when the Gonzaga University of Spokane opposes the local eleven in the Stadium, and closes in Salem, Oregon when C. P. S. and Willamette University meet in their annual Thanksgiving Day contest.

The first game is probably the hardest that the local college team has scheduled in the last 10 years. Gonzaga University has made an enviable record in Pacific Northwest football and according to reports will have a powerful eleven this season. Several of the men have received honorable mention in American and Pacific Coast football circles.

The complete schedule is as follows:

- October 7—Gonzaga University at Tacoma.
- October 14—Bellingham Normal at Tacoma.
- October 21—Ellensburg Normal at Tacoma.
- October 28—Open date.
- November 4—Bremerton Naval Training School at Tacoma.
- November 11—Pacific University at Forest Grove, Ore.
- November 18—St. Martin's College at Tacoma.
- November 30—Willamette University at Salem, Oregon.

FROSH-SOPH SCRAP ARROUSES RIVALRY

Annual Bag-Rush Commands Interest of Two Lower Classes

"Let's go!" roar the Sophs. "Let's go!" shout the wearers of the green. A mighty rush! A mad scramble! A tangle of arms and legs! Then—Victory for—?

This will be the situation at C. P. S. on the day of the Frosh-Soph Scrap. It is then that the learned Sophomore class, with all the tender paternal feelings of "It hurts me more than it does you," will try to show the "younger generation" its proper place in campus life. Then, too, will the verdant Frosh rebel against parental discipline and defend their outraged dignity.

When the representatives of the two classes mix in the annual bag-rush, they will be defending not only the honor of their respective classes, but they will also be carrying out a college tradition dear to the heart of every red-blooded college student in years gone by.

Until a few years ago, the old tradition was carried out in the form of a color rush. This took place on the day of the color-post exercises, when the Freshman class is formally presented with the side of the color-post left vacant by the former Seniors.

Each year the Frosh had been obliged—at the gentle suggestion of the Sophomores—to wear the tell-tale green cap at all times upon the campus. They were made joyfully to obey the "Rules for Freshmen," drawn up and posted at convenient and conspicuous places, by the watchful Sophs.

As tradition has it, the best men of the two classes lined up for the fracas at a distance of fifteen yards from each other, with an upper classman as judge and others as umpires. At a given signal, the pennant bearing the Frosh colors was thrown into the air by the judge and the fight was on.

At the end of fifteen minutes of continuous fighting, the side having complete possession of the colors, or having possession of the greatest amount of the colors was declared winner. Often the Frosh proved to be wolves in sheep's clothing, and the Sophs were badly beaten. But just as often the Sophs were victorious.

It was in the fall of 1919, that perhaps the greatest battle ever waged between Frosh and Soph took place. The Freshmen had been weakened by the loss of several of their best men, who had been kidnapped by the Sophs the night before and spirited away to a safe distance. In spite of this they put up a hot fight, and at the end of the allotted time, were found to have won by a big margin. Their success was due to one of the Frosh who had managed to cram his mouth full of the colors during the fight, and since the mouth was built on a large scale, Frosh success was assured.

At that time the bag-rush was substituted for the color-rush in carrying out the tradition. The change was made because of the difficulty in deciding the victors, since the colors were generally so torn and scattered that a just decision was very difficult. Perhaps the fact that even a Frosh would have some trouble in concealing a one hundred fifty pound sawdust bag in his mouth aided the change.

At any rate, the bag-rush is now the final culmination of the annual scrap, and is hailed with as much enthusiasm as was the old color-rush.

Now the Freshmen provide a green bag and the Sophomores a brown, each weighing one hundred fifty pounds. Teams of an equal number each tries to rush its bag over the goal line, and at the end of ten minutes, the team having its sack over the goal or nearest the goal, is declared the winner and may fly its colors from the color-post.

Whatever the outcome and whoever the winner, the friendly rivalry is kept up until the Soph-Seniors hand down the hatchet to the Frosh-Juniors on cap and gown day.

"Trail" Thought Inappropriate for New Weekly Publication

Shakespeare's oft quoted opinion in regard to names may be very well in theory but we believe the name of our college paper is important enough to be given ample thought and due consideration.

"The Puget Sound Trail" has done very well in the past few years, when the paper was a monthly, or a fortnightly, but it hardly seems appropriate for a weekly.

Various names have been suggested, such as "The Collegian," "The Collegiate," "Enterprise," and "The Grizzly." A great many are in favor of a return to "The Maroon," as the paper was known before the days of "The Trail."

"The Grizzly" also seems a good suggestion as this is the college nickname.

Let's put on our thinking caps, students and have our paper named when the next issue comes out! Can't you think of a name? At least tell us what you think of those already suggested.

25 MEN OUT FOR PLACE ON VARSITY

Keen Rivalry for Positions on School Football Team

Twenty-five husky C. P. S. students are out every afternoon fighting for a place on the varsity football eleven, and excepting a few minor injuries and bruises all the men are in first class shape.

The practice to date has consisted of passing, kicking, and light formation work. Regular scrimmage practice will begin in earnest this week, only two weeks remaining before the season opens.

The men who seek places on the varsity squad are: Amende, Blevins, Brooks, Ralph Brown, Frank Brown, Carli, Chowning, Christine, Daniel, Gloyde, Guntle, Guest, Howell, McArthur, Medlock, Olene, Parker, Peterson, Revelle, Simpson, Upton, Vaughn, Van de Vanter, Walters, Wasson, Wellman, Stiles, Greene, Bieson, McKenzie, Stine, and Schwartz.

New Faculty Members Receive Hearty Welcome from Students

New Teachers Have Record of Past Achievements—Are Rapidly Becoming Acquainted with the Student Body

Although the College of Puget Sounds regrets the loss of a number of its faculty members of last year the positions left vacant by them have been filled by new professors, old in experience, and to them the official publication of the student body, wishes to extend a hearty welcome.

Among the new professors is Mrs. E. B. Gulick, Professor of English and Dean of Women. Mrs. Gulick was born in Magnesia near Smyrna in Asia-Minor. Her father lived in Turkey seventeen years as an educational missionary, founding two large schools for Greek boys and one for Greek girls.

Mrs. Gulick first attended the Constantinople College for women and later graduated with a B. A. degree from Wellesley College. She is now a graduate student in English at the University of Washington. She has traveled extensively in Europe and has taken an advanced course in French in Paris. She has taught in institutions all the way from Boston to Tacoma. Mrs. Gulick comes from a very cosmopolitan family. An older brother is a British official in West Gambia, Africa, and a younger brother is a leading railroad man in Canada, being one of the Board of Arbitration with the Canadian National Railway, a consolidation of the three largest railroads.

Dean Gulick is the mother of three fine sons. The oldest is attending the new million-dollar Roosevelt High School in Seattle and the two younger boys attend Washington School here. She makes her Tacoma home at 2509 N. Washington street.

"I am very fond of boys but specialize in girls," she says.

Professor Samuel Wier comes to the College of Puget Sound with a long list of achievements. His name will be found in "Who's Who." He received an A. B. degree at at Northwestern University; B. D. at Garrett Biblical Institute, Ph. D. at University of Jena, and was a graduate student at Boston University and University of Leipsic.

Mr. Weir was professor in New York University, 1895-1901; Dean and Professor in Dakota Wesleyan University, 1905-1914; Professor of Education in Simpson College.

He has been a minister in the Methodist Episcopal church and lectures at teachers' institutes and associations.

Professor Weir is married and has a son, Richard, Sophomore in college and a daughter, Mary, Junior in high school. His home is at 614 S. Mabton street.

Miss Budd, who is a new professor in the English Department, hails from St. Paul, Minn. Altho we mistook her for one of the new students on the first day of school, we soon learned that she is entirely capable of filling her place as English Professor. Miss Budd says she is well pleased with C. P. S. and thinks we are a fine bunch, for which we thank her. We hope she holds to her opinion.

Professor Schilpp, head of the Department of Religion, formerly preached in Waterford, Wisconsin, at the same time taking his master's degree at Northwestern. Later he took his B. D. at Garret Biblical Institute.

Prof. Schilpp is already much attached to C. P. S. and believes it has great possibilities.

THREE COACHES HERE THIS YEAR

Coach McNeal Will Be Assisted by Wright and Parker

Three men will compose the coaching staff of the College of Puget Sound this year. They are Head Coach R. W. McNeal and Assistant Coaches Lynn Wright and Harry Parker. Assistant Coach Lynn Wright is the only member of the staff who was with the college last year.

Head Coach McNeal has been in coaching work for the past eight years. The last five of these years he has been head coach at Albany College in Albany, Oregon. He made a creditable record in the time he coached in the Oregon college and comes to C. P. S. with high references. While in college, McNeal played tackle and fullback.

Lynn Wright has been acting as line coach for the college teams for the past four years. He gained his football experience in the College of Puget Sound about 10 years ago. He was one of the mainstays of the college eleven in 1911 and 1912 when the University of Washington and other fast Pacific Coast elevens were on the local schedule.

Harry Parker, assistant backfield coach, is both a coach and a player. He is out for the quarterback position on the varsity team and has been showing up well. He was a star on the Lincoln High School team here in 1915 and 1916. Later he was coach and quarterback for the fast Tacoma Athletic Club team.

C. P. S. SECURES TRAINER FOR MEN

Training Department Has Coach For First Time

For the first time in the history of the college a training department has been organized. C. V. Munsey, a well-known trainer and coach of the city, has charge of the department and is assisted by two students, Harry Enochs and "Dig" Williams.

Both Williams and Enochs have had considerable experience in training work and will be able to keep the men in better shape than ever before.

THE WEEKLY

In accordance with the vote taken in Student Assembly last spring, we are putting out a weekly this year. Work? Of course it means work but what of that? Let's show 'em C. P. S., that we can do it.

And we want to know what you think of it. If you like it, tell others; if you don't like it, tell us.

Let's all get behind this and put it across! Can we do it? Ye-a-a—Bo!

EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING

(A new student's point of view)

In the end a college will succeed or fail because of what is back of it. But it is almost impossible to put before the prospective student the real merits of a college. A school must persuade a student that it is worth attending.

This is an age of advertising. Yet an institution gains little by putting "ads" in the papers and announcing that it is a leader in producing high scholarship students and that it is capable of making good in almost any activity, and certain to be three or four times better than any other institution.

A college must have some kind of an "ad," however, with which to sell itself and the best one available is a good appearance.

If a college looks prosperous, if it is well kept, and its student body is alert and cheerful, it is well advertised.

A school's only good "ad" is the impression new students and others get of it at the start.

Make that a good one. All good advertising is expensive, yet it is the best investment that a college can possibly make.

P. W.

ATHLETICS

For the past four years the College of Puget Sound has been giving good football to the fans of Tacoma, but due to lack of advertising and student pep the attendance at football games has been deplorable. The press of the city has been very generous with publicity, but that is not enough. The students have failed to get the proper spirit and have failed to put over the games.

This season the College of Puget Sound football team is tackling one of the toughest propositions in the Northwest when it meets the Gonzaga University eleven of Spokane in the Tacoma Stadium on October 7. It is by far also the most expensive. In order to put this game over every student must get in line and help the Athletic Manager, Harold Fretz, and the athletic council advertise the game.

The college alumni have picked this date for the Annual Homecoming Day and are organizing to boost the game. A committee of former students is already at work planning some of the several details that must be looked after. The Athletic Manager and the members of the athletic council have been planning and working for months to get a first class team to represent our college on the gridiron.

Now, students, here is what you can do. You can distribute posters, sell tickets and boost. Posters must be distributed to every part of the city, several thousand tickets must be sold, and to sell these tickets, you must boost. Whenever you meet a friend or an acquaintance boost for our football team and our football schedule, and especially our opening game with Gonzaga University, here October 7. If every student does his share there will be no doubt as to the success of our campaign.

DRAMATICS

Dramatics has gotten a firm foothold in the College curriculum, and is rising rapidly in fame. It has been granted a charter in the National Fraternity—the Theta Alpha Phi. Only two of its members returned this year, Ruth Wheeler and Mrs. Hovious, but initiation is to be put off until December, after the three one act plays, have been put on. So that many more may be eligible to join.

Lester Ellis is Dramatic Manager for this year and he and Mrs. Hovious are already working on the All College Play which will be put on in the Spring in one of the down town theatres.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. plays a large part in the lives of the College women. With the personal membership constitution that we adopted last year, and with the increase in enrollment, we feel that we have a very successful year ahead of us and a larger field is opened to us than ever before.

Most of the students have become acquainted with Y. W. C. A. activities, partly thru the "Little Sister" plan and partly thru the Bean Feed and Mixer given in cooperation with the Y. M. C. A.

Once a week the organization holds its devotional meeting, and we want to urge each and every girl in the college to attend. We were very proud of the large number that were out last Tuesday and we feel sure that we will have a very active organization during the ensuing year.

Next Wednesday, Sept. 26, our membership campaign will start and it is the sincere desire of Y. W. to obtain a 100% membership. In becoming members of Y. W. C. A. we feel that the girls will come in closer touch with the spiritual side of life as well as the social. SENIOR NOTES

Thrill! Thrill! went thru us when we first occupied the Senior section in chapel. We realize our great responsibility and especially in keeping up our dignity before the Freshmen who have so much to learn.

We boast of 18 seniors and one may be sure that we will keep up our reputation of the class of '23.

We started the year right by having a class meeting last Monday to discuss several important matters. We are jubilant to find that we are not in debt for the publishing of the Tamanawas.

The Senior officers for this semester are:

President, Ermine Warren.
Vice Pres., Esther Johnson.
Secretary, Gladys Harding.
Treasurer, Hilda Scheyer.
Central Board, Frank Brooks.
Trail Reporter, Esther Johnson.
Sgt. at Arms, V. Ciscar.

FRESHMAN CLASS ORGANIZATION

Monday, 12.05, Sept. 28, the Freshman Class assembled in the chapel room for the primary purpose of electing officers for the future year. All were elected at this time but the class representative who is to be elected at a future date. Owing to the duties and responsibilities of this office it was voted by the class to make a general investigation as to the best person for this office.

The class was lead in yells by the most enthusiastic yell king in captivity up to date.

Following this each member was turned out to graze.

The following officers were elected:

President, Merrill Ginn.
Vive Pres. Joyce Glasgow.
Secretary, Erma Eagen.
Treasurer, Clinton Hart.
Sergeant at arms, Geo. Medlock.

JUNIOR NOTES

The class of '24 is up and doing, altho not much has been heard from the class as a whole. We are striving to bear up with becoming dignity under the heavy weight of responsibility that has come with the distinction of being upperclassmen. We are well represented in Y. W. and Y. M. and Student Body Officers and our members are among the most efficient workers in all the organizations. Under the able leadership of our president, Mr. Fretz, we are expecting a very successful year. We are very glad to welcome so many Frosh, altho they are so green, there is yet hope, for we can remember years ago when we were adorned also with a bright cap and see what we have become. So—

Let 'er sizzle, Let 'er roar

"CHAPEL CHIMES"

By the Bell Rope

To the swelling tones of the magnificent Pipe Organ the timid Freshies were ushered in to the massive chapel building Wednesday, Sept. 13, for the first chapel exercise. A solemn hush fell over the audience as Dean Henry uttered the opening words of his address of welcome. Old students thrilled to a sense of their responsibility and new students were filled with awe at the glimpse of the intellectual field opening before them.

"Sport that wrinkled care derides laughter holding both his sides." Into the chapel's solemn retreat came jest and youthful jollity to participate in the football rally. The student body president, Alfred Matthews, athletic manager, Harold Fretz, and football captain, Dick Wasson made their bows over the foot lights. Then Coach McNeal proceeded to knock the breath out of C. P. Sers by telling them that no matter how you looked at it our first game would be a failure. He then tried to inject the fighting spirit into his prostrate audience.

"Japan and the United States will never shake hands till they know the meaning of Christianity and Democracy," said Mrs. Eddie, a missionary from the East. Mrs. Eddie says that the students of China, Japan, Germany, Poland, Austria, and Russia are playing an important part in the world of today. She spoke particularly of the students of Russia. She said, "Use your imagination; make the picture as bad as you can and that is Russia." Students there work all day for a mere existence and go to school at night. Money is so scarce that they never have heated rooms and are forced to share their books, food and clothing. To lose a lead pencil is tragic because they have not the money to buy another.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are trying to provide work for these people and to relieve some of the suffering. The students of Russia say, "Tell America if she sends us coats for a hundred men she sends us warming for a thousand souls."

According to Senator Davis there are six great institutions to which we owe our loyalty: family, country, school, industry, social organizations, and the church. Senator says these sum up the various phases of a well rounded life. He says we don't have to belong to the Odd Fellows to be an odd fellow, we may be one already.

The Annual Matriculation Day Exercises were held in the Chapel Wednesday morning, Sept. 20. As is customary on this occasion the faculty appeared in cap and gown.

Pres. Todd gave a very impressive address on the ideal of the College as represented on the Dedication Stone on the New Campus, namely, Learning, Good Government, and the Religion of Jesus Christ. Each point was emphasized in a manner which brot a vital message to all present, and we only wish we could see and hear more of our President. A number of outside visitors were present at the Exercises.

Friday's Chapel was lead by Professor Hanawalt. He emphasized very strongly the importance of Faith in our religious lives.

RECORD BREAKING ENROLLMENT

Mr. Robbins reports that there are 273 enrolled for this semester, 19 of whom are Seniors, 23 Juniors, 80 Sophomores, 136 Freshmen, and 15 Specials. This is more than there have ever been in the history of the school. Who says C. P. S. isn't "coming up?"

PI KAPPA DELTA

The Washington Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta is one of the largest chapters in the organization. There are in all about twenty members. Their chief interest now is centered about the Debate Dinner soon to be held for the purpose of interesting new students in the art. This year there is an unusually large amount of "material" in the Freshman class. Upper classmen of experience are back and new students have entered from other colleges.

This will be the first year for C. P. S. to enter a big East-West Debate. Simpson College, Iowa, and the University of Pittsburg, one of the oldest and largest schools in the country are soliciting debates. The Debate outlook for C. P. S. is of the finest kind. We have the $50 prize for men from the Puget Sound Bank, the A. O. Burmeister $50 prize for women, the Newbegin Cup and prizes for Inter-society Debate, and the Burmeister $100 prize for Oratory. The entrance of this college into the national Fraternity, Pi Kappa Delta, and the offers of debates from the large eastern institutions show where C. P. S. stands in the Debating world. This department of student affairs is justly proud of its record and prospects, and receives the heartiest of support from students, faculty, and townspeople.

LAMBDA SIGMA CHI

The Lambda Sigma Chi are a group of jolly girls full of College spirit. Though we are young we're up and doing.

Our officers for the year are: President, Thelma Bestler. Vice Pres., Marjorie Anderson. Secretary, Helen Pangborne. Treasurer, Vera Brown. Corresponding Sec., Ellena Hart. Sgt at arms, Eleanor Kenrick. Editor, Esther Graham. Historian, Bernice Ohlson.

We cordially invite all the new girls to get acquainted with us at our meetings on Thursday afternoons at 4.15 in Amphictyon Hall.

"A noble aim faithfully kept is a noble deed." - Public Motto.

SIGMA MU CHI

Sigma Mu Chi extends a hearty welcome to the new fellows at C. P. S. We hope that this may prove a happy and profitable year to you; and we are glad to share with you the responsibilities, the opportunities and the joys that have fallen upon us.

Realizing that rounded education can not be gained entirely from books and that the social viewpoint is a powerful factor in the shaping of our outlook, we have bonded together with this idea in mind. And in order that you may profit too, we welcome and invite you to our meetings.

AMPHICTYON NOTES

It sure is great to be back. Many of our number are not returning, but there is a bubbling over of Amphictyon Spirit for the coming year and expect to accomplish great things.

Our first program was held Monday, Sept 18. The program was in form of a puzzle, the numbers and names being jumbled together and it was up to each one to figure out his topic.

We welcome all the new students to our weekly programs which are held in the Amphictyon Hall in the Ad building.

DELTA ALPHA GAMMA

We are glad to be back again. We—meaning all but four of us, and those four who not return to an active life in Delta Alpha Gamma are Mable Scott, who is working for the government, Agnes Scott, who is teaching kiddies at Midland, Esther Dufall—yes—married—to Steve Arnett, a Sigma Zeta man, and Helen Miller who is attending an Eastern college. We miss these sisters sadly.

Monday, September twenty-fifth, we celebrated our annual birthday party. Every Delta Alpha Gamma who could possibly be there was present. And did we have a good time? We'll say—everyone registered joy. There was a perfectly scrumptious birthday cake, and that aint all.

Our new officers are: Norma Lawrence, President. Mildred Eaton, Vice President. Dorothy Floberg, Recording Secretary.

Katherine Chester, Corresponding Secretary. Edith Thomas, Treasurer. Ardis Fox, Marshall. Willabelle Hoage, Historian. Helen Small, Pan-Hellenic Representative.

We are looking forward to a very interesting year.

SIGMA ZETA EPSILON

"To be or not to be." Only four members back to school and we are proud to state that things are already running smoothly with prospects fine for a bright future.

Buckley, Wasson, Swayze and Warburton answered the roll call at the beginning of the semester and now Stiles has just got the fever and is trying to enroll. Our first program Monday, Sept. 18, went over big, thanks to the cooperation received from various alumni. We were fortunate in having Mr. L. Wright, Mr. G. Partridge and Mr. H. Rector propound their idea on "The Man and the College." In addition Mr. Swayze and Mr. Wasson gave interesting talks on intimate college life. College songs were in order and hearty response was received from both members and visitors.

We look forward to a bright and prosperous year both scholastically and athletically, and also good results for our fraternity.

PHILOMATHEAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Philos held their first meeting of the new school year Monday, Sept. 18th. The reunion of old members was eagerly looked forward to, but was dimmed a little by the absence of several old Philos who have already started out in the world.

The program for last week, "Looking Backward and Forward," was symbolic of the opening of the school year. It is well for us to take a backward look before stepping out into the future.

The pleasures of literary, social and moral attainments serve not only for the present but for the forward trend for high ambitions.

As the name Philomathean signifies, we are truly "lovers of learning."

You'll find a royal welcome to all our programs which are held every Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

We trust we will be a benefit to all students new and old in the College of Puget Sound.

KAPPA SIGMA THETA

First activities of the Kappa Sigma Theta sorority for the fall term of 1922 began with the open program meeting of the sorority held in their room on Wednesday, September 13.

As guests at the meeting the members entertained a group of freshmen girls who just entered school this fall.

Six numbers comprised the program which had as its theme, the return to school. Papers were read by Margaret Lemmon, Hilda Scheyer, Nan Tuell, and Juliette Palmer. Evelyn Ahnquist gave several piano selections and a short stunt was presented by Evelyn Backus, Ella Purkey, Anita Greenlaw, and Margaret Moore.

Theta has extended an invitation to every new girl in school to come to the weekly program meetings which are held in the Theta room in the Administration building.

We are unfortunate in losing a large number of our members, many of them going to the University of Washington and a few to other schools. However, we have a dozen of our number back in school and are planning for a record year.

Officers for the coming semester are: President, Hilda Scheyer; Vice-president, Nan Tuell; Secretary, Evelyn Backus; Treasurer, Ella Purkey; Pan-Hellenic Representative, Evelyn Ahnquist; Sergeant-at-Arms, Margaret Moore; Trail Reporter, Margaret Lemmon.

SCIENTIFICIANS

The Scienticians was organized for the purpose of developing a greater interest in scientific investigation and research among the young women of C. P. S. Every effort is made to encourage a thorough study of the various fields reached through the realm of science. Honorary membership is offered to girls above Freshmen standing who are pursuing some definite line of scientific work, whether it be physical, biological, household, or intellectual.

The general program of the meetings for the year is designed to give each girl a better acquaintance with the up-to-date appliances being made for her major subject as well as a closer contact with the complete realm of science.

Each girl is expected to entertain the club once during the year at dinner preceding the regular monthly meeting which is held on the third Wednesday of each month. Reports of various scientific research and investigation are given and discussed at these meetings.

Prominent people interested in various scientific enterprises are invited to speak with intensely interesting discussions following.

Two delightful social functions in conjunction with the Men's Science Club are looked forward to each year. The first is the Annual Banquet of the Science Club and Scienticians which is held at the first semester; and in the spring the Annual Hike. Each organization acts as host at one of these affairs, the two alternating the following year.

It is with great hopes and delightful prospects that the Scienticians look forward to making this year the best and most successful in the history of the organization.

The membership at present consist of Marjorie Mills, Helen King, Ermine Warren, and the President, Mary Anderson, Vice President, Thelma Bestler, Secretary Bernice Ohlson, and Literary Editor, Norma Lawrence.

GIRLS' DORMITORY REJUVENATED

The Girls' Dormitory, the technical name of which is "The Sacajawea Club," has, within the last three months undergone a complete renovation. The walls have been repapered, new furniture has been added, and new rugs take the place of the threadbare rugs of former days. Those who lived at the Club last year would hardly recognize it as the same place.

The College has been fortunate in securing Mrs. Parkin of Seattle as House Mother for the girls. Mrs. Parkin is a motherly woman and has made the Club a home for the girls during the school year instead of merely a place to go to for eating and sleeping.

The girls living at the Club at present are: Margaret Parkin, Phoebe Nicholson, Marjorie Anderson, Margaret Dorwin, Alice Olson, Lois Hoover, Mary Donahue, Jeanette Hour, Carrie Burger, Ellis Parkin, Hilda Scheyer, and Agnes Hodge.

KLOEPPEL-COOK

At a quiet home wedding Saturday, September 23, Miss Miriam Kloeppel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kloeppel of McKinley Hill became the bride of David Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cook of Burton.

The wedding was solemnized at the home of Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Gebert of 5906 South Thompson avenue and the ceremony was read by Rev. Gebert.

Miss Kloeppel, wearing a smart tulle of navy tricotine and hat of velour, was attended by her sister Miss Catheryn Kloeppel, whose frock was a mid-night blue Canton crepe. The bride wore a corsage of bridal roses and bouvardia. The bridesmaid's flowers were an arm bouquet of sweetpeas. Mr. Cook had as best man, his cousin, Allen Davison.

After the wedding ceremony an informal reception was held. Immediately after the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Cook left for a week's motor trip through Washington. They will make their home at Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook both attended the College of Puget Sound for two years where they were well-known. Mrs. Cook is a talented pianist.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. began its year's work with a cabinet meeting the 18th and first regular meeting the 19th. The plans of the Cabinet will make this the biggest year that this college has experienced with the campus Y. M. C. A. work.

Dean Henry has assured the "Y" of the unqualified support of the Administration and Faculty. At the Tuesday meeting he gave a splendid review of the work of the "Y" and Christian Education in foreign lands.

THE Y. M. C. A. STAG IS COMING—BE READY!

SOCIETY

The social interests for the students at the College of Puget Sound for the first two weeks of school were centered in the two annual all college affairs—the Mixer and the Bean Feed.

The Bean Feed was given the second day of school in the gymnasium. It was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. organizations at the college. Speeches were made by the officers of the college.

The Mixer was also arranged by the Y. W. and the Y. M. students and was a jolly get-together affair Friday evening, September 15, at the Athletic Building. A representative group of students and members of the faculty were present. Everett Buckley was in charge of the games and entertainment. A group of girls assisting included the Misses Margaret Parkin, Marjorie Anderson, Mildred Eaton, Evelyn Ahnquist and Evelyn Backus.

Enjoy Swimming Party

A group of girls who enjoyed a swimming party and picnic at American Lake last week included Helen Small, Carol Hovious, Kathryn Chester, Willabelle Hoage, and Edith Thomas.

Thetas Entertain Little Sisters

The Kappa Sigma Theta girls entertained their little sisters at a theater and tea Saturday, September 23. After the matinee at the Rialto the girls had tea at the home of Miss Florence Todd.

Enters Grinnell College

Miss Helen Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Miller, who attended the College of Puget Sound last year has enrolled at Grinnell College in Iowa this year.

Have Positions At Yelm

The Misses Helen Monroe and Myrtle Warren, two of the local college graduates are teaching in the Yelm high school this year. Miss Florence Maddock, another 1922 graduate is connected with the teaching staff at the Nooksack school.
