JAN. 19 DATE OF BANQUET FOR THE FOOTBALL TEAM

Lambda Sigma Chi Sorority Preparing Big Feed for the Football Team

A banquet will be given by the Athletic Management in the Home Economics room of the College at six-thirty o'clock Friday evening, Jan. 19th, to honor the football team.

Invitations have been sent to many business men of the city who have taken a keen interest in the College Athletics.

An interesting program has been arranged. The main attraction for the evening will be Tom Swayze with his wit and humor who will hold the seat of honor, that of toastmaster. Speeches will be made by Dean Henry, Coach McNeal, Capt. Dick Wasson, Manager Fretz, Dr. Wheeler, some Alumni representative, and the captain-elect for the 1923 squad.

SENATOR DAVIS HAS BIRTHDAY

December 29 Is Birthday of Great Men

Senator Davis was born in the Hoosier state fifty-six years ago the 29th of December. The Senator tells us that he spent his birthday very quietly and we can easily imagine that he passed the usual amount of time in his room reading and studying.

The 29th of December is also the birthday of Ex-President Johnson, Ezra Meeker and William Gladstone. We are not superstitious, but we like to believe that that day was especially set aside for great men.

PROF. HANAWALT IS GRANDFATHER

Word has been received at C. P. S. that Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hanawalt at Puyallup, are the parents of a baby daughter born on December 10.

Mr. Hanawalt, now principal of Puyallup High School, graduated from C. P. S. with the class of '18, and Mrs. Hanawalt, nee Alice Baker, graduated with the class of '20.

The baby has been named Ruth, in memory of Prof. and Mrs. Hanawalt's little daughter.

FORMER C. P. S. PROFESSOR HERE

Health is one of the three great factors in human welfare, said Dr. Richardson in his talk before the student assembly, Thursday. Mr. Richardson thinks a health department needs training and experience behind it. He says that the most important asset which a person has is health. It influences his commerce, his business and his play.

SURPRISE FOR MISS HART

Miss Ellena Hart was pleasantly surprised by a number of her sorority sisters Tuesday afternoon, January 2nd, in honor of her birthday. The girls enjoyed a theatre party at the Colonial after which a birthday cake and other refreshments were served at the Pheasant. The girls who attended the party were the Misses Ellena Hart, Thelma Bestler, Helen Pangborn, Eleanor Kendrick, Nellie Smith, Ruby Tennant, Berenice Olson, Ruth Bitney, Julia Landis, Esther Graham and Mrs. Joe Crews.

EIGHT MEN OUT FOR WRESTLING

Former Student Is Instructor

Last Thursday, eight men turned out at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for their first instructions in wrestling by Claude Turley. Turley reports that the material is good and the chances are a strong mat team can be formed.

Others are expected to join the class. Instruction is given every Thursday at four o'clock.

Those who reported were: Clarence Gilbert, weight 143; Smith Snyder, 135; Allison Wetmore, 135; Theodore Upton, 141; Glen Brown, 135; Max Vaughn, 149; Dennis Shenk, 153; Cleo Osborne, 111.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR STUDENT

A delightful surprise party was given in honor of Harley Notter at his home at Summit by a number of college friends Friday, January 5th.

Mr. Notter was studying for a political science examination and did not hear the crowd as they slipped quietly in and stood waiting for him to discover their presence.

The evening was spent in games and music. Mr. Notter was presented with a large Philomathean penant and a beautiful birthday cake covered with lighted candles. Late in the evening dainty refreshments were served.

Those who enjoyed the party were the Misses Anne Davis, Beatrice Wahlgren, Alba Jensen, Lucile McWilliams, Dorothy Newell, Gladys Harding, Marian Harding, Mildred Gast, Ella Miller, Elva Murland, Kathrine Fuller, Helen Brix, Mary Anderson, Ermine Warren, Majorie Davison, Alice Morgan, Evelyn Carr, Esther Osborne, Frances Clinton, Margaret Libby, Florence Meador and the Messers Paul Lung, Roy Norris Ed. Amende, James Mc Annally, Guy McWilliams, Cleo Osborne, Arthur Harris, Walter Hunt, Ralph Cory, Matt Thompson, Frank Pihl, Ed. Newell, Harley Notter, Ted Raudebaugh.

C. P. S. STUDENT SPENDS WEEK END NI GIG HARBOR

Miss Ermine Warren spent the week end at Gig Harbor with Miss Thelma Hastings. Miss Hastings graduated in the class of '21 and has been teaching in the Science department in the Gig Harbor high school the past two years.

C. P. S. TO MEET DEBATE TEAM OF SIMPSON COLLEGE

Forensic Department Arranging Other Debate Schedules

A debate between Simpson College and the College of Puget Sound has been definitely arranged and the contract signed, announces Roy Norris, C. P. S. debate manager. The debate has been scheduled for March 30. The subject is the official Pi Kappa Delta question, Resolved: That the United States should adopt the cabinet parliamentary system of government.

Mr. Norris also reports that he is working on contracts with Willamette University, Pacific, and Colorado Aggies, and has received an offer of debate with Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, but can give no definite report on these arrangements at present.

FACULTY LADIES MOUNTAINEERING

Miss Crasper, Miss Balcke, and Miss Brown Among Hardy Hikers

On December 28, the Mountaineer Club left for an extended trip on Mount Tacoma, returning on Monday, January 1.

Miss Crasper, Miss Balcke, and Miss Brown, who were with the party, bring back enthusiastic reports of the trip.

Dr. Whitacre, a great friend of the College of Puget Sound, was head committeeman for the whole trip.

Among the interesting events which took place at the Mountain were skiing and snow shoeing, but the most thrilling was the great snowball battle, which was waged on December 30, when the snow fort was defeated.

THINK PURE THOUGHTS SAYS DR. MCKAY

At the first chapel service of the new year, Dr. McKay of Mason M. E. Church, urged the students to think of the true, the just and the pure during 1923. He said the success of the recent campaign of C. P. S. and Willamette was largely made possible by the students in the two schools. He said that if the right type of school is to be maintained, it must have the right kind of students and the right type of students can be attained only through getting the students to think on the things that are like God.

MATT THOMPSON TO RETURN TO SCHOOL

Friends of Matt Thompson will be pleased to hear that he is planning to return to College next Semester.

Mr. Thompson was well known on the campus, and a popular member of Philomathean Literary Society.

PHILOS HAVE HOUSE PARTY

About twenty members of the Philomathean Literary Society enjoyed a house party at Camp Sealth on Vashon Island, between Christmas and New Years. A special feature of the party was the celebration held on New Year's Eve. Stunts, mock weddings and charades filled the evening, and refreshments were served after the New Year had been welcomed in. It has long been a tradition of the society to hold an annual affair of this kind.

SEN. DAVIS GOES TO LEGISLATURE

Prof. Innis to Hold Classes

Senator Walter S. Davis left Sunday afternoon, January 7, to take up his duties at the state legislature, and will not return to the College until sometime in March.

During his absence, Prof. Innis, who taught in the English department of the College last year, will have charge of the Senator's history classes.

FORD CONTEST UNDER WAY

With Ted Upton as leader, the contest for winning the Ford car put up by Tacoma Merchants is well under way.

Each class in the college is divided into teams for the purpose of securing votes. Many votes are already reported. It is requested that when you buy your school books you be sure to register your own name and get the benefit of the votes given. Turn these votes in to Ted Upton.

JUNIATA COLLEGE HAS FROSH CLUB

An important organization at Juniata College, Huntington, Pennsylvania, is the Freshman Club, which holds its interesting meetings every two weeks, and has recently begun the publication of a peppy journal of Freshman poetry, prose, jokes and the like. The club is proving a successful medium of "defense," "offense," and co-operation.

Student Volunteers Gather For Early Training

Student Volunteers met for a half hour of prayer, beginning at 7:15 a. m., Wednesday, January 10 in the Amphic room. These meetings will be continued on the first Wednesday of each month.

Student Volunteers Spend Meeting In Self Examination

"Wherein have we failed in the past," and "How can we make our efforts more effective in the future," were some of the things discussed at the Student Volunteers' New Year's meeting Wednesday, January 3rd.

Mission Study Class to Start at Noon

The Student Volunteers are planning a Mission Study Course to begin in the near future.

ORATORY CONTEST THEMES MUST BE IN BY MARCH 1

Winner To Participate in Interstate Contest

All college students who wish to enter the Burmeister Oratory Contest, offering prizes of seventy-five and twenty-five dollars, must have their manuscripts in Mrs. Hovious' hands not later than noon of March 1, according to a notice from the public speaking department.

The orations are not to exceed eighteen hundred words and must be typewritten. They are to be judged from the standpoint of clearness of thought, accuracy of statement and originality of presentation.

The public contest will perhaps be held sometime in April, and the winner will represent the college in the Interstate Oratorical League contest to be held this year in Oregon.

The colleges in the league are: Washington State College, Montana University, College of Puget Sound, Oregon Agricultural College, University of Oregon, Willamette University, and Leland Stanford.

DEAN HENRY SPEAKS

According to Dean Henry who spoke to the students Friday morning, at chapel, Christianity has not made as great progress as it should have made. There are still vast stretches of land unoccupied by missionaries of church. There are two types of unoccupied fields, those nominally occupied by Christian missionaries such as Japan, India and China and those closed to missionary work such as Tibet, Arabia, and Indo-China.

We are a superior nation only in so far as we are a Christian nation. We, therefore, have a great obligation to pass this Christianity on to others, to go to these unoccupied fields and make Christ known.

DR. TODD LEAVES FOR THE EAST

Dr. Todd left for Chicago last week on business regarding the College of Puget Sound building plans.

ELLENSBURG HERE ON JANUARY 15TH

The Varsity basketball team will meet the fast Ellensburg Normal basketball team in a game on the home floor Jan. 15th.

Little information has been received concerning the Ellensburg team except that they are planning to make up for the defeats handed them in past years by Puget Sound.

On Jan. 20th the Varsity team will take the Sixth Engineers of Camp Lewis into their den for a game.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

The following standards of conduct were adopted by the Women's Executive Council at a meeting held January 5. The girls of the Executive Council, as representatives of the entire girls' student body feel that they are entirely fair and reasonable and necessary to maintain the best health and scholastic standards. It is to be understood that these are standards and not rules or laws. No method of compulsory observance will be adopted, but each girl whether she lives at home or not is appealed to to voluntarily abide by these standards.

1. No men callers shall be permitted on college nights without the consent of the house-mother. Callers as a usual thing will not be received before 5 p. m.
2. No guests shall be permitted to stay later than twelve o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights and ten fifteen on Sunday. Informal entertaining shall close at eleven thirty Friday and Saturday nights.
3. All women shall be home by ten-fifteen on college nights and eleven o'clock on Sunday nights.
4. Women shall be in their houses by twelve-thirty Friday and Saturday nights. Escorts returning women to the house may not be entertained after twelve o'clock. This holds for doorsteps, walks, etc.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS

At the polls citizens express themselves more effectively than anywhere else. Let the student body carefully select its leaders for next year. The Central Board set a good example by reelecting Mr. Guy McWilliams General Manager of the Associated Students.

In keeping with the provisions of the new constitution the officers for next year will be elected now and take office in May. Thus they may learn their duties, make schedules, budgets, and other plans assuring the students of an efficient administration of their affairs. In many ways the advantages of the new constitution are becoming increasingly evident.

A committee, consisting chiefly of Seniors, because they are ineligible for this election and because they have no further political interests of their own to serve, will investigate the constitutional qualifications of candidates such as grades and standing, in order that misunderstanding and subsequent embarrassment may be prevented. Personal qualifications will be decided by the student body at the polls.

Nominations will be received by the Secretary from January 18 to 25. The election will be held February 1. It is advised by President Matthews that it be made certain that candidates nominated will return to C. P. S. next year so that a situation such as confronted the Associated Students this fall may if possible be prevented.

C. P. S. THE CENTRE COLLEGE OF THE WEST

Sounds pretty good, doesn't it? Yea bo! All right then, let's make it our football slogan for 1923.

How can we carry out that slogan? Here's how. Back up the athletic manager to the limit. He is desirous of new football talent for next fall to take the place of that of last year's team that will not be back. He is desirous of material enough to make three squads that will stay on steady all through the season.

What we can do is campaign, individually, the high schools from which we come. Don't wait until spring or later on; some other college or university may have our high school star lined up by then. Now is the time. Pay a visit to your high school soon and tell the students of the wonderful possibilities of our college. Tell them of the football schedule for next fall. Tell them of our high grade coaching staff. Tell them all you can that is good about the College, laying stress on the academic and athletic features.

Day by day, in every way, let us all, individually, help make C. P. S. THE CENTRE COLLEGE OF THE WEST. Let it be our one big unbroken New Year's resolution. —P. W. '26.

WORDS LIKE FEATHERS

The following editorial is quoted from the "Emerson College News" published by the Emerson College of Oratory at Boston.

"Did you ever hear of the woman who went to the priest and confessed that she had been guilty of slander? She said she was willing to go to all she had told and take back her words, but the old priest shook his head. He gave her a peculiar task for penance: He told her to pluck a goose, put all the feathers in a bag, take the bag to the marketplace, empty the feathers out and bring the bag back to him.

"The woman did as he bade her and when she returned with the empty bag he told her to go, gather up the feather and return them to him.

"But I cannot. They have gone. The wind has blown them away. I never could find them," cried the penitent. Then the wise old priest showed her that words were like feathers—she never could bring them back.

"Fortunately, good words, too travel fast and far. The good word which you, as an alumnus, former student, student or friend of Emerson, may speak of the college today will travel far and fast in an advertising flight for Old Emerson. And good words, unlike feathers come back to us in an echo of satisfaction over a worthwhile deed done in a worthy cause."

A NICKNAME FOR THE COLLEGE

Every College has a nickname. C. P. S. has one.—The Grizzlies. It is the same as that of Montana State College. Furthermore it is not typical of C. P. S.

Many Colleges are known throughout the country by nicknames. There is something about a nickname that is catchy. A person with ease will remember a nickname where he will not remember the more dignified name of the institution.

It is desirable that a College should have a nickname that is different from that of any other school. The names should be of that is typical probably to the geographic locality of the College or to some of the principles or purposes for which the school stands.

A nickname is a good tool to use for publicity work. As the athletic department is planning a large publicity campaign in the matter of getting new students, it is the desire to have everything that will aid in this work.

Get busy and hand in your suggestion to the Athletic Manager. They will be arranged so as to be voted upon at a Student Assembly. You will be given until Jan. 17th to get your suggestion in.

BALLOON JUICE

That after-vacation look has about worn off.

We hear from a reliable source that our Puyallup friends celebrated the incoming of the New Year, night before last. Pretty good for Puyallup, we say.

Whee! We sang two songs in chapel last Monday.

What next? Doug. Wight has gone in for agriculture. He's raising a _____ well anyway Doug, it isn't red.

The men's glee club made its second appearance in chapel last Wednesday noon. The members of the club enjoyed several selections rendered by themselves.

It rains! (occasionally). Those having classes in the attic on the third floor are urged to carry umbrellas and wear hip boots. (By order of the Board of Health.)

Christmas neckties are very much in evidence. Have you noticed the shimmering sunset hues in the one Doc Harvey has on? We have not observed any purple bordered handkerchiefs yet.

Our New Year's resolutions aren't broken exactly, but some of them have a rather cracked appearance.

We notice that Santa Claus was most kind to Miss Balke.

We wouldn't go so far as to state that spring is coming, but we notice with interest that a number of Lounge—or rather Radiator-lizzards—are hard at work these days. Even the "spoon-holder" on the landing has had to be reinforced.

Our sobering thot—Only 14 more days before exams. Do your semester cramming early and avoid brain fever.

Each student's picture should be in the annual publication of the College which is put out under the direction of the Senior class. Pictures will be grouped according to Literary Societies, Fraternities, Sororities, Clubs, Classes, etc. It is the only annual of any kind put out by the students so it is up to everyone to co-operate in trying to make it a success. The best way each student can co-operate is to have his picture taken early and return the proofs promptly to the photographer.

Now listen! The photographer is at Rhodes' Studio, sixth floor. The man in charge is Mr. F. C. Plummer, who one time owned five of the largest studios in Seattle and was compelled to give them up on account of his health. The staff has secured one of the best in the city at a most reasonable price to the Students.

A charge of $0.50 will be made. Two settings will be given and if you are not satisfied other settings will be given at no extra charge to you. If your picture is in the Tamanas more than once it will be necessary for you to have a glossy print for each group, to which you belong. For each print extra, an additional charge of 20 cents each will be made, which is five cents below last year's price.

If you wish to buy pictures by the dozen a liberal discount will be given. Following are the sizes of pictures that may be had, the regular price and the price you will have to pay.

Size	Regular Price	Price for Students
4x6	$10.00	$4.00
5x7	11.00	4.40
5x8	12.00	4.80
6 1/2 x 8 1/2	15.00	6.00
8x10	20.00	8.00

Please have your picture taken early and you will help greatly the publication of the Annual. The present plans are now to have the Annual ready for distribution on or about May 15, and if everyone will co-operate this can be done.

Again, if you want a Tamanas, put in your subscription now. The subscription list will close very soon. The price is $3.50, one dollar if which is due at the time you give your subscription.

PHILOMATHEAN NOTES

The first program of the New Year was given last Monday evening in Philo room. "Books and their Authors" was the topic for the evening. The following program was given:

1. Solo Mr. Hunt
2. Inside the Cup—Churchill..... Miss Grace Fuller
3. Original Story .. Mr. Newell
4. Ukelele Sextet .. Mr. McKenzie, Mr. Newell, Miss Mead-er, Miss Brix, Miss Warren, and Miss Newell.
5. Main Street Mr. Shenk
6. Original Story .. Miss Verhardson
7. Tragedy of Books Miss Katherine Fuller, Miss Clark, Miss Morgan, Mr. Pihl, Mr. Amende.

AMPHICTYON NOTES

Thursday the twenty-eighth of December, the Amphictyon entertained their Alumni at the home of Laura Brewitt.

In the early part of the evening the society enjoyed a short program, the music being furnished by new talent. They also had the pleasure of hearing from Paul Snyder, Majorie Kennedy, Hazel Brasslin, and Dorothy Michener. The rest of the evening was given over to merry-making and the renewing of old friendships.

The society is glad to be back after their vacation, full of pep with a determination that the New Year shall be a success in every way.

SIGMA ZETA EPSILON

The members of the Sigma Zeta Epsilon Fraternity enjoyed one of the most interesting and instructive programs of recent weeks when a talk was delivered by Mr. Lem Yorkson, a native from China, on the topic of "China as an International Market." Mr. Yorkson attended the college last year and left in June to visit his former home. During his stay in China, he visited Canton, Hong Kong, Peking and other coast cities studying industrial and political conditions. He was fortunate in meeting Sun Yat Sen and other Chinese notables and had many interesting experiences to relate. He spoke at length on the subject of mutually advantageous relations in commerce between our country and China. Mr. Yorkson stated that the opium traffic had been practically stamped out through the drastic measures of the new Chinese Republic. The Fraternity takes the occasion to thank Mr. Yorkson for his excellent discourse and to invite him to visit us again.

SPORTS FROM THE OUTSIDE

A Challenge

John L. Griffith, Commissioner for the "Big Ten" Conference, in a recent article calls attention to the fact that there is greater demand for college graduates in the coaching profession today than ever before, and that that demand is increasing every year. The day of the professional coach in high school is gone. Boards are more and more demanding college men of high ideals and education to direct the destinies of the coming generations.

There can be no doubt but that coaches have a wonderful opportunity to combat anti-patriotic tendencies and to teach loyalty and respect for the institutions which have made this country great.

When the call to arms came in 1917, school and college athletes, and coaches, responded nobly. Two

Have you noticed our new bulletin board? We are very proud of it, and are very grateful to George Kenrick for his work.

A week ago Tuesday the Seniors had a delightful surprise party in honor of Ellena Hart's birthday. They went to the Colonial and afterwards to the Pheasant. The Seniors enjoyed the beautiful birthday cake also the counting of the candles as Ellena blew them out.

Miss Nellie Smith and Mrs. Joseph Crews, former sorority sisters, accompanied them.

DELTA KAPPA PHI

Mr. Wallace Scott, founder of Delta Kappa Phi, former president of the Associated Students, and Northwest Tennis Champion, paid the fraternity and C. P. S. a very welcome visit last Thursday. Mr. Scott will attend the University of Washington this quarter.

Seven of the Fraternity are on the roll of the Glee Club, as follows: Max Vaughn, Cleo Osborne, Walter Hunt, Guy McWilliams, Alfred Matthews, Frank Pihl and Kenneth Warner. Accordingly the luncheon has been changed from Tuesday noon to Thursday noon to accommodate the larger interests of the school.

KAPPA SIGMA THETA

The regular program of the Kappa Sigma Theta Sorority will consist in the review of the works of Booth Tarkinton. It is as follows:

Booth Tarkinton

- Penrod Jean Van Zante
- Seventeen Lareen Bonds
- Alice Adams Ruth Wheeler
- Music Ella Purkey
- Man from Home .. Gertrude Conrad.
- Gentleman from Indiana Margaret Lemmon.
- Life and Work .. Evelyn Buckner

DELTA ALPHA GAMMA

It certainly takes a long time to fix up a house. The Sorority never realized it before, but slowly and surely the goal is approaching a finished ALPHA GAMMA House.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Y. M. C. A. is glad to announce that on Tuesday, Jan. 16th, Mr. Hampton will speak to the organization on the topic "When Pistols Came." He is an authority on the firearm and his talk will be interesting to all.

The Y. M. C. A. will have a definite program to present to the members so and hopes the men of the college will get behind and boost for the Y. this next year.

Hundred Illinois U. men gave their lives; two hundred twenty one Princeton men received decorations for bravery; two hundred Michigan letter men were in the service, seventy five percent of the "D" men from Drake were, in the service. The college athletes met the test in 1917 and will meet every test of the future. This was to be expected and was as it should be, for athletics not only develop a fighting spirit, but likewise a sense of loyalty and patriotism.

There is an insistent call today for the coaches—who have such a tremendous influence on the several millions of young Americans to use that influence in the right way. The U. S. A. is a pretty good country after all, and those who would "scatter it to bits and make it over according to their hearts' desire" are enemies of the common good.

and fight and keep on fighting. The athlete may be "Down" but he is never "out." The point is this. When a true sportsman loses or fails to succeed, he doesn't blame society or the government and turn Bolshevist, but he takes off his coat and fights with all he's got, to win the next time.

This is our country, yours and mine, and it was not made great through syndicalism, communism, or I. W. W.-ism, and if every coach and every boy on school and college teams of America will consider it his duty to combat foreign propaganda, which is as dangerous as it is insidious, they will be serving just as much as they served during the war.

If you have the right ideals and the right preparation to make a coach, big or little, the field is open; the opportunity for real individual and National service is no greater in any profession.

President Lowell of Harvard seems unduly anxious regarding the status of football in America. When the Harvard agitation for a shorter season and more careful supervision started a year ago many believed it to be a bona fide attempt to improve the standards of collegiate football. As the agitation progresses, however, it seems to take on more and more the earmarks of a move on the part of the "Big Three" (and a well organized move, too, since the Athletic Departments have influence enough to enlist the aid of the presidents) to eliminate any chance of losing prestige through losing to teams outside their little circle. It is not unusual for "small" colleges to win from the "Big Three."

It seems that there is an unusually large number of coaches who are changing positions this season. Buck O'Neill, for many years a successful coach at Columbia U. has resigned. "Greasy" Neale, as good a coach as ever "razed" a beginner, resigned his position at W. & J. where he has been a wonderful success and has exerted a wonderful influence over the sports in the little school. Heissman, at Penn. U., is rather expected to hand in his resignation soon. Kelly, for years a successful coach at Idaho, this season at Missouri, resigned before the season closed. And now, in our own State school, Gus Welch announces his resignation. There is not a man in the above list who is not an outstanding success as a coach. Not one of them has been asked by the school authorities to resign. Not one of them cared to leave his position simply for the sake of a change. Coaches are human and would much prefer to have a home and friends than to be wanderers, jumping from here to there every year. Each of the above men, and a dozen others not so well known, have given exactly the same reason for leaving his position. "I am coaching because I believe in athletics as a character builder, because I believe I am rendering a great service in this work. Were it not so, I should be in more remunerative, more pleasant work. I refuse to be abusively criticized, publicly condemned as inefficient and worst of all, dictated to by student bodies, alumni association and cheap sports, for conditions over which I have no control."

It does seem somewhat out of order for a man of the calibre of Gus Welch, either as a man or coach, to be placed in such intolerable circumstances by a little group of alumni that he finds it best to resign and leave the Northwest. Welch has forgotten more football than the average alumnus of W. S. C. ever knew. His ability is proven beyond a doubt. During his first three years at W. S. C. his teams won thirteen and lost four conference games. They only won one game this year, but that is no indication that Welch has ceased to be a good coach. The Northwest is losing a coach of extremely high ideals and a man who always stands four square for good sportsmanship and clean play. It seems a pity that administration authorities in our large institutions have not the nerve to stand between alumni associations and coaches and calmly inform critics that a coach is chosen on account of his ability to lead men and build character first and that the building of championship teams is always secondary to that. Unless this is done, the best men, those of high ideals and the proper viewpoint regarding football and its place in the educational program of the school, are very sure to leave the profession. Many have done so this year. And when the men of lower ideals get control we are certainly going to face a serious situation in intercollegiate athletics. Intercollegiate athletics will be banished from the face of the earth. The men who conduct our colleges have the good of our future men at heart too much to allow them to be trained under low moral standards, for which they should be rightfully thanked.

Robbins; loyalty. In one group were observed Dr. Weir, Dean Henry, Prof. and Mrs. Hedley, Mrs. Hovious, Prof. each year, the college is only a mass of individuals, but with the long yell that greets the team worthy of that high honor. And boys from the different schools as they cheered their different teams on school campus we have no room for courts so I leave our tennis net on the porch nights so the boys can

You all know the Pied Piper of Hamlin. We have one in our own school, only it's a Piperess. Just happen into the library some Thursday and watch the mob that slowly but surely slink out of the room lured by "Hot Lips" on the chapel piano with Ella Miller playing. Evidently some music has charms.

He—May I kiss you goodnight?
She—I don't know—I am very particular about which college boys I allow to do that.

—C—P—S—
He—What are the necessary requirements?
She—Well, I usually have to see your Associated Student Body ticket but I guess I can make an exception in this case.

Everybody is interested in dreams. We heard a good one the other day. Prof. Davis had one and it was very complete. He remembers that in the last one a cemetery was being moved, and seeing a dead man leaning against one of the tombstones. Prof. Davis walked over to him and asked him who our next president was to be. The reply was, "Someone who can use a pencil." Will he be a representative?" queried the professor and he heard, "without a doubt." His curiosity satisfied, the professor awakened. He says he does not guarantee to foretell every event, however, and asks that those who feel anxious over their love or business affairs please dream their own dreams.
