TALES OF RUSSIAN STARVATION ARE TRUE, SAY NATIVES

Natives of Land Under Rule of Reds Come to Tacoma to Attend College and Back up Newspaper Stories

Tales of starvation and terror, iron rule of the Bolsheviks and the trampling of religious freedom in Russia, as told by press reports in American newspapers, have not been exaggerated according to Vladimir T. Tellason, native Russian, who will enter the College of Puget Sound January 28.

Discussing conditions in his native land, Mr. Tellason, who has been in the United States a year with his friend, Alexander V. Alexeeff, told a story in broken English of a people who have suffered to the utmost and from day to day have seen their happiness crushed by those enforcing the laws of the Bolshevik rulers.

"No upper class in Russia," Tellason said. He told how all these having money for traveling, expenses, or friends to defray their expenses, have fled to France, Germany, the Orient or America.

The Russians are a religious people, believers in the teachings of the Greek Orthodox Church. The rulers of Russia today are trying to wipe out the religion of the people according to Tellason, and even employ force in attempting to keep the people from their churches and religious meetings. The teaching of the bible in Russian schools has been done away with by the present law makers, which is one of their strongest blows dealt in an effort to change the fundamental teachings of the people.

Born in Odessa

Both Tellason and Alexeeff were born in Odessa, where they resided with their families for a short time. Later both families moved to Valdivostok, living there for eight years. Since then the boys moved to Harbin, Manchuria, being in a Russian colony where there were Russian schools, theaters and churches. Tellason has a father and brother living in Harbin and Alexeeff has three brothers and one sister in Harbin.

Both boys came to the United States about a year ago, working in the vicinity of Seattle to earn money to attend school. They are living at the boys' dormitory in the college, preparing to enter school this month. They will both enroll for general courses, planning to be at this school two or three years. Then they will go to the University of Washington. Tellason will specialize in civil engineering and Alexeeff will take up the study of forestry. When they have completed their college work in this country, they plan to return to their native land, probably to central Russia, to follow their life work.

Russian children are taught English in their high school work. Their preparatory schools correspond to our grammar schools, but children attend the preparatory schools for only three or four years, while their high school course takes eight years. So for eight years, by requirement, young Russian students must study the English language.

Well Educated

"English we study like English people talk, not like Americans," said Tellason, in explaining that it is difficult to converse with the American, even though they have studied the language.

In Seattle, the boys joined one of the organizations for Russian students in America. In this organization there are approximately 300 Russian students who are enrolled in American high schools and colleges. This group is one of several like it established in this country.

Although they speak broken English, Tellason and Alexeeff show that they are well educated, intelligent and quick to understand those with whom they converse. They realize the difficulty of studying in a foreign college and of adapting themselves to foreign customs, but are not daunted by the hardships ahead of them.

SCOUTING FOR NEW STUDENTS

The Athletic Management has already started in securing new students for the college. Those who are gifted for special student body activities are most desired.

Favorable reports can already be made along this line. Several men especially strong in football have stated that they will be at C. P. S. next fall. Next year's football schedule is aiding in getting at those men interested in athletics.

The one problem of the department is securing jobs for the new men, as well as for some already in college. The management is soliciting the co-operation of business men in trying to secure work for any student, and anyone knowing of available jobs is asked to report them to Coach McNeal or Harold Fretz.

Brains Raise Man Above the Animals

According to Dr. Harvey who spoke in the chapel of the College of Puget Sound on Wednesday morning, the thing which distinguishes man from animal is his brain. He ought therefore to have pride in his mental ability, should spend time in developing it. Some time every day should be spent in studying big, hard problems.

One of the problems, which is worth study, is the nature of matter. Of what is the world made? There has been a desire among philosophers to reduce everything to one element. Thales said everything was composed of water. Heraclitus tried to reduce everything to fire.

There are twenty or thirty other theories, but probably the nearest approach to a solution of this problem would be electricity, which is now thought to be one of the prime elements out of which everything is made. Gravitation is an electrical attraction between electrons on earth and electrons on the sun.

With such problems as these to solve, one need have no difficulty in finding material to enlarge his mind.

C. P. S. DEFEATS LUTHERAN TEAM BY 25-17 VICTORY

Maroon and White Five Gets Revenge on Team from Parkland

Reversing the style of play from that of a week ago the C. P. S. Hoopsters came out on the long end of 25 to 17 score against Pacific Lutheran College at Parkland Saturday night.

Stone, with 14 points to his credit was high point man for the Maroon and White team. Chowning also played a good game, Stensland was the outstanding star for the Lutherans, making 13 points.

Summary:
C. P. S. (25) Pacific Lutherans (17)
Daniels(7) F Lane(2)
Chowning(2) F Stensland(13)
Stone(14) C Samuelson(2)
McArthur G Krielder
Blevins C Blasso
Substitutions: Brooks(2) for Chowning.
Referee: Deal.

FROSH DEBATERS WIN UNANIMOUSLY

Both Teams Get Decision Over Stevens Club Men

The two Freshman debate teams of C. P. S., were given unanimous decision of 3 to 0 over the Freshman debaters from the Stevens Club of the University of Washington, in a double-headed debate held Friday, January 12.

The question was: Resolved: that the United States should cancel the Allied war debt.

The affirmative was upheld at the C. P. S. chapel by Ralph Brown and Allison Wetmore, whose opponents were Mr. Arnold and Mr. Arneson of the U. of W.

The negative was represented at Seattle by Harold Nelson and Howard Roben, whose opponents were Mr. Williamson and Mr. Nixon of the U. of W.

The debaters faced a good-sized crowd at C. P. S. and the audience was not disappointed in hearing a splendid debate. The College of Puget Sound can be justly proud of her Freshmen.

AMERICANIZATION WORK CLAIMS FORMER MEMBER

Miss Florence Schwartz Writes Interesting Letter From California

Miss Florence Schwartz, formerly a teacher of art at C. P. S., gives an interesting account of her Americanization work in and around Long Beach, California, in a letter received recently by Mrs. Lynette Hovious.

Miss Schwartz is teaching English, Citizenship and Home Economics to foreign adults, and in one class fourteen nationalities are represented.

At Christmas time, she played Santa Claus on a tour to the homes of "every nation's poor" with baskets of good things.

She gives a fascinating and whimsical characterization of Long Beach as she sees it, mentioning the fact that many celebrities, among them Theda Bara, are 'hiding' there in their "million dollar cottages by the sea."

California she characterizes as a whole as a "great big playground for the rich."

Miss Schwartz finds her Americanization work fascinating, and is planning to go to Columbia this summer to study these people as they land, and later to study them in their homes abroad, if possible.

PROF. HANAWALT URGES NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS

In an interesting chapel talk last week, Prof. Hanawalt urged the college students to make and keep their New Year resolutions, or "determinations" as he preferred to call them.

Prof. Hanawalt pointed out that resolutions should be made, not only at the New Year, but whenever they are necessary, and said that we should not hesitate to throw aside our old resolutions if we have a better one to take its place.

"QUIT YOUR MEANNESS"

Dr. Innis, who spoke to the students in chapel, Friday morning, says they have heard about enough lecturing. Its time for the students to quit their meanness.

A student is responsible for what he is and what he does. He is responsible for getting his own lesson. He must learn self-control or otherwise his book learning won't do him much good. The only way to get something done, is to have a strong purpose and stand on your own feet.

TUBERCULAR CHILDREN MADE HAPPY BY GIFTS

The generous donation of toys made by C. P. S. students just before Christmas, was more than appreciated by the little tots at the sanatorium for tubercular children, according to Miss Crapser, who wishes to thank all those who contributed.

FOOTBALL LETTERS ARE AWARDED TO 12 C. P. S. MEN

Very Few Substitutes Made During Season

Twelve football players won their letter "P" this year. This is an exceptionally low number which is due to the fact that very few substitutions were necessary.

One of the outstanding features of the football season was that there were no substitutions made as a result of accidents. The team was in the best physical condition it has been for years. This was the result of the work done by the Training Department, which was established this year.

Those who won their letters were: Wasson (Capt.), Stone, Brooks, Christine, Blevens, Brown, Daniels, Schwartz, Parker, Kelley, Revelle, Brown and Olene.

Paul Rule and Eddie Rambaugh deserve special mention as they have played in three halves of football and have turned out faithfully. McArthur holds the record for turning out regularly. Although he did not get to play in any games he turned out every night and worked steadily. It is this spirit on the part of the second string men that makes a winning university team.

CAMP LEWIS GAME POSTPONED

The basket ball game with Camp Lewis Sixth Engineers which was to have been played Jan. 20 in the college gym, has been postponed as a result of faculty ruling, that no students are to take part in college activities two weeks previous to final exams.

EFFORTS MADE TO SEND BASKET BALL TEAM SOUTH

Every effort is being made to secure a schedule of basket ball games that will take the Varsity Five southward on a "barnstorming" tour after the opening of the second semester.

The basket ball turnout has been fine the past week, and it is the belief that the team will make a creditable showing against almost any team.

The trip south will probably include a game with Pacific U.

All Is Ready for Football Banquet

The banquet that is going to be given in honor of the football team Friday evening in the Home Economics Room, is expected to be the most lively affair of the season.

Besides the Faculty members and Football team attending, many business men are expected to be present.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY CELEBRATES

Pacific University celebrated its 74th birthday on January 10, with an address by Bishop Sumner of Portland as a feature of the day.

COLLEGE NICKNAMES ARE COMING IN

As a result of the call for nicknames for the College, the following college nicknames have been submitted: Clamdiggers, Whales, Seals, Sock-Eyes, Steelheads, Skippers, Sky Pilots, Pilots, and Loggers.

How are the above suggestions? Have you anything better to offer? If so turn it in to the Athletic Manager before next Friday noon. In the next issue of the Trail, space will be reserved for anyone wanting to put in special reasons why their choice of name should be adopted.

DON'T FORGET

It has been handed down as a tradition in C. P. S. that the Junior class should take it as its particular responsibility to edit the annual publication. The class of 1924, realizing its duty to old C. P. S. and wishing to keep the tradition alive, has set out to publish the Tamanawas. No class, regardless of how good its intentions, can put out an annual with the complete support of the whole school.

The book will contain 248 pages which will be divided into 14 parts, such as: Administration, Seniors, Juniors, Clubs, Campaign, etc.

We should, in order to make the annual a success, have a subscription list of 100%. As a matter of fact there have not been more than 21% who have subscribed. Now this is YOUR magazine and let us all make it a success by subscribing.

DON'T FORGET—To have your picture taken at Rhodes Bros. Studio, 6th floor.

DON'T FORGET—To return the proofs promptly.

DON'T FORGET—That there will not be any extra copies when the annual is published.

Only enough will be ordered to supply the subscribers who have given their subscriptions in advance.

Thank you,
Tamanawas.

Wanted—1,000 Men

To be ambassadors, consuls, and envoys of the greatest Power the world has known—to be representatives and messengers of that Power in all nations, and to all races and peoples of the world.

Men are wanted to live and to preach the message of the King of Kings—men who are willing to face any kind of danger and even death itself. They will not go out in their own strength alone, but they will go under the protection and guidance of the Divine Ruler.

Those who go must be willing to give full time, and to go wherever sent. Who is ready to go? Who will be an ambassador of the Kingdom of God?

Islam Has No Professional Missionaries; yet many parts of Asia and Africa, Mohammedanism is spreading faster than Christianity.

Islam's missionaries are laymen. Her merchants, travelers, traders and business men are her missionaries.

The non-Christian peoples are calling on the western world for leaders, for teachers, scientists, engineers, sanity experts and specialists on every line. Shall we give them Christians or educated pagans?

"God has not called me to become a missionary," you say. What will you be then? A doctor? lawyer? merchant? educator? Has God called you to be a lawyer? or a doctor?

When Christ said: "Ye shall be my witnesses", did he mean you? God calls us all to the work by which we can do the world the most good. When we have found the calling which will help the world the most, then we have found God's will for us.

COLLEGES PLEDGE MONEY FOR RESTORATION OF LOUVAIN UNIVERSITY

New York City, Dec. 18.—Hunter College, with a pledge of $2,500, is the first institution of higher education in the United States to announce a contribution to the campaign for completion of the $1,000,000 fund for restoration of Louvain Library.

New York State College, Albany, also has made a pledge to the fund: $1,000 for one of the fifty bells which will form the carillon in the tower of the restored library.

Renewal of the campaign for America's war memorial in Belgium was begun in New York State December 3. Since that date both the College of the City and of New York and New York University have been making canvasses for the fund which have not yet been completed.

The campaign in New York extends not only into the universities and colleges, but into all the public schools of the state. An estimate made from reports already received indicates the public schools of New York City alone will contribute $25,000 toward restoring the famous library.

Universities and colleges in other states will participate in the campaign during the early months of 1923.

The national committee is headed by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and has as members many of the best known educators of the United States.

AMPHICTYON

The Amphictyon meeting, January 8, was opened with roll call to which each member responded with a New Year's resolution.

The society hopes that none of them will be broken.

A program "The New Leaf", was presented. It was as follows:

Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here..
..... Ruth Bitney, Harold Wade.

Senator Davis, not being able to be with us, sent his paper from Olympia. The Society was very glad to hear from him and enjoyed his paper very much.

SIGMA ZETA EPSILON

"Setting a Man at His Work" sounds a worn out topic. Speakers of all kinds and varieties throughout the ages have delivered orations upon this weighty subject. However an entirely new light was thrown upon the subject by Dr. E. A. Rich at our recent meeting on Monday night.

Dr. Rich is a well known orthopedic surgeon of national reputation. During the war Major Rich's methods for foot correction were used in all camps. He established the Tacoma Clinic upon his return. He has done much successful work in correcting deformities.

The doctor spoke at length on methods of scientific study for determining a man's calling. He illustrated his talk by telling of the many current changes in modern medicine and surgery.

This address has been promised for sometime and it was with very keen interest that the fraternity listened to the doctor. "Method of remedying the square peg in the round hole."

SORORITIES AGAIN ESTABLISHED AT OHIO WESLEYAN

After a period of forty years during which sororities at Ohio Wesleyan alternately appeared or disappeared according to official dictum, thirteen local organizations have received the permanent recognition of the University officials.

Announcement to this effect was made to the 193 members just before the Christmas holidays. The Women's Pan Hellenic, acting with a committee from the faculty will be the governing body. The rules prohibit freshmen women from being pledges and also stipulate that no girl may be initiated unless she has a point average of 1.00. All the sororities admitted to the Pan Hellenic Council hope to become national organizations, but petitions will not be sent before October of 1923.

This is the third time in the history of Ohio Wesleyan that these organizations have been started, but never before have they been put on such a substantial basis. In 1884 there were two sororities, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta, but those two died a natural death and were replaced by local organizations. These locals existed until 1912 when they too were abolished. The following year the officials issued a decree forbidding sororities. Since then the co-eds have been waging a fight that has turned into a lasting victory for them.

SENATOR DAVIS SENDS NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE TO AMPHICS

Senate Chamber,

Jan. 8, 1923, 9:30 a. m.

Fellow Amphictyons and Friends:

Not being able to be present in person at the Amphictyon New Year's program, I am following the example of President Jefferson in March, 1801, and am sending a written message to take the place of a message in person.

Since the topic assigned to me is that of "New Year's Resolutions", let me, instead of mentioning quite a number, name only one—one which I deem worth of the attention of not only every "Amphictyon and Friend" but of every student and faculty member of our college.

The resolution is to strive for better scholarship. I have in mind each day's recitation.

We live in an age of many demands on our time—Home, School, Church, Government, our Occupation, Social Life—all demand their pound of flesh—Shylock fashion.

Naturally, it grows more and more difficult for a student to be a 100% scholar. The prime aim of a college—that of preparation for life through scholarship, suffers. It has at least to struggle for existence.

Those outside elements come with such force that it may well be seen why the students of one of our eastern colleges once took as their motto: "Never let your studies interfere with your college work."

But my message to you is, be animated, guided, inspired and led upward and onward by a love of Learning.

In the Book of Acts we are told the Athenians either were always telling something new or listening to something new. This showed their love of learning.

When a student enters college and becomes a member of a class, it should be with the understanding that he thereby incurs a social obligation to make the best possible preparation for daily work. That in so far as his power lies, the day's work of that class will be 100%.

Each student might well consider whether each day he should not do better than merely to master the assigned lesson. When Jesus said that if a man compel you to go with him a mile, go with him twain, he aptly expressed what I have in mind.

Pres. Garfield expresses the same idea when he said, "If you are not too big for the place you fill, you are too small for it."

Students may be interested to know that President Garfield, one of our most scholarly presidents, spent at least fifteen minutes on a lesson after he had "gotten it." This margin of fifteen minutes in carefully going over again each lesson placed him at the front of his class and placed upon him the mark of "scholar".

Nature and human life are so full of interest that the pursuit of knowledge should be a perennial source of pleasure and happiness.

So, then, with the dawning of this New Year let us highly resolve in the realm of Scholarship to build yet more stately mansions, to make the foundations for life preparation more deep, broad and thorough.

Walter S. Davis.

GIFT TO UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A gift of $12,000 for the immediate purchase of books has just been made to the department of philosophy of the University of Southern California, by a man who is a member of another denomination and a trustee of another university. For this Methodist institution, this unknown donor is raising an additional $50,000 among his business associates.

GARRETT BIBLICAL INSTITUTE FIRST IN FIELD SUPERVISION

Commenting on a report of the Council of Church Boards of Education therein it was stated that in the supervision of field work, Garrett Biblical Institute stands first among United States and Canadian theological schools, President Charles H. Stuart says:

"The reason for Garrett's supremacy in this field, is that Evanston has a most strategic location to carry on this work. The city of Evanston, itself, whose early development was shaped by the members of the Board of Trustees of Northwestern University and Garrett Biblical Institute, gives the advantage to the students living in a community of great churches, of fine schools and of excellent civic spirit. Chicago is now known as the Nation's greatest center of commercial and industrial activity and in its development it has become the home of foreigners who come from all parts of the world.

It, therefore, furnishes laboratory facilities right at our door for first hand study of industrial and social problems, opportunities which are unsurpassed by any city in the country.

"Nor has it been generally realized that Garrett Biblical Institute is also within easy access of the great rural communities of the West. Hundreds of such communities are located within an hour's ride of the city and they give Garrett an unlimited opportunity for the practical study of the rural church which is fast becoming one of the most significant fields for competent religious and social leadership. The laboratory and clerical work in city, town and rural communities is under the direct supervision of men of the Garrett faculty who are experts in those various types of community work."

JOKES

Student (in Geol.)—"Doc. have you ever been caught by the undertow?"

Prof. Harvey—"No, but I've been caught by the mistletoe".

Speaking of mistletoe, Carol Hovious says that getting caught under it is worse than capital punishment.

Insane Man—"Give me a piece of toast."

Attendant—"What do you want a piece of toast for?"

Insane Man—"Ah, I'm a poached egg, and I want to sit down."

Varsity Basket Ball Turnout Roll Call: Juliette Palmer, Inez Micki.

We hear rumors of a Free Love Colony beginning in school. The rate of exchange on love must be below par to cause such a movement. There are always some people who think the world owes them a living and in this case, they think the world owes them a loving. Remember, however, beggars cannot be choosers.

Dill—"What do you think of Doc. Harvey?"

Pickle—"Why, I like him. I just think he's immense."

Celebrated Canvasses "Sir Galahad," posed by Dick Wasson, leaning fondly against his steed of tin.

Visitor to C. P. S.—"You look awfully young to be married."

Juliette Palmer—"Oh, I'm not married. I got this black eye playing basket ball with Carol Hovious."

No matter what you say, Juliette we will still believe that Gym gave you that black eye.

Good Riddance "Well, Gladys is engaged." "Who's the happy man?" "Her father."

Whatever trouble Adam had, No man in days of yore Could say when he had told a joke; I've head that joke before.

Insult "Th' noive of that guy," complained Jimmie, the office boy, "offerin' me six dollars a week! Wot does he think I am—a college graduate?"

Stude—"Is your Prof. satisfied with you?"

Fresh—"He certainly must be. Today he said, 'If all my pupils were lik you, I'd resign tomorrow!' That shows he thinks I know enough."

There are some people so dumb that they think that:

Oliver Twist is a dance.

I. W. W. is a broadcasting station.

Celluloid is Harold Lloyd's brother.

Sing sing is the Chinese national anthem.

Babe Ruth is a chorus girl.

Valley Forge is a blacksmith shop.

Pedro is a Mexican inn keeper.

Battle of Brandywine was fought by prohibitionists.

A football coach is a new style of closed cars.

What chance has modesty if big feet, knock-knees or bow-legs will not make a girl wear long skirts?

Ed—"I answered an ad for a tall and handsome young man yesterday."

Anne—"Well, did you get the position?"

Ed—"No, I wasn't tall enough."

A prominent divine says that jazz is killing the religious soul of America.

Slay it with music!

Only a very low sort of person would be mean enough to refer to the evaporated milk of human kindness.

Margaret Libby—"Isn't affection objective?"

Prof. Schilpp—"Maybe yours is."

Several Sophomores (nee Freshmen) were called to order in chapel Monday.

Nip says that if Tuck hadn't grinned out loud no one would have ever noticed them being in the balcony.

Prof.—"When you blush is it a pleasant or unpleasant feeling?"

Bob W.—"That all depends upon the circumstances."

New Acquaintance—"Oh, Miss Graham, what did you say was the name of your finance?"

Formerly the cry was 54,40 or fight; now it's 75,80 or flunk!

Teacher—"If you are behind in anything, now is the time to catch up."

Bill Rockwell—"I'm behind in my sleep. Good night!"

Broken Hearted—"I feel like taking poison."

Business Student—"Take accounting. It's surer."

Cheer up the Less
You have the More
There is to Get.

The unexpected has happened. We have seen Rip Revelle actually fussed, fussed beyond words. Thursday afternoon, after conversing with some of his intelligent(?) friends in the hall, he suddenly threw open the door of the library and said in a high falsetto, "Oh, Gosh, I thought I'd pass away." He came out much quicker than he had entered because he did not feel himself qualified to make excuses to Miss Mills.

Clothes should be seen and not heard, the same principle that applies to juveniles.

An almanac tells us that a goose has been known to live fifty years. Merrill Ginn, who lives in a boarding house, verifies this and tells us that he ate it.

Visitor—"I gits up earlier at home 'an any man in 'is heah town."

Native—"Yoh words don't mean nothin' niggah. I gits up every mawnin' at one o'clock. What time does you git up?"

Visitor—"If'n I told yuh, yuh wouldn't onderstan.' They don't have no time in 'is heah town as early as what I gets up."

—The Target.

STATISTICS COMPILED BY STUDENT

Figures compiled from the directory of the College of the Pacific by Miss Elsie Jopson, a student, show that 18 per cent of the graduates have become teachers. Six per cent enter the ministry and 4 per cent become lawyers. Out of 1015 graduates turned out of the institution since its founding in 1858, 189 have become teachers, 68 have entered the ministry, and ten have entered the journalistic field. An equal number are writers and judges, while nine are trustees or executive heads of various colleges.
