The Theme of the Play

The theme of the play "Come Out of the Kitchen" is built on old-time aristocratic prejudices of the South and makes possible a charming plot with amusing scenes and a delightful love story denouement. The scene is laid about an old Southern mansion in which a pretty Southern girl voluntarily assumes the role of cook in her father's house, which has been leased to a rich young New York bachelor with his lawyer and friends. The action is keen throughout the play and each dramatic situation as it arises is handled in a way to keep an audience highly interested and amused to the end.

COLLEGE PICNIC IS SUCCESS

Old Man Pluvius was much in evidence last Friday afternoon when the student body left on board the steamer Vashona, for Burton on the big college picnic. Coach McNeal and Harold Fretz, his henchman, had charge of affairs, and at 2.00 p. m. the boat pulled out from the Municipal Dock amid the wind and rain, with a merry and lighthearted crew on board.

When the party arrived at Burton the town hall was thrown open for their use, and the party began. Sports were enjoyed until mess call, a dog fight between some of the big huskies being one of the features, besides a boxing match between Willabelle Hoage and Teddy Van Horn, Jess Mathis and Joe McArthur acting as seconds. George Hoyer and Dick Yost also staged a boxing match, much to the enjoyment of the crowd, and as Mutt and Jeff they certainly "took the cake." A baseball game was the next thing on the program, and the girls waited somewhat impatiently on the surrounding hillside at the old Baptist college while the boys took the field. Chow was served at the hall at 6.00, and Oh! how those clams and hot dogs did disappear, not to speak of coffee and doughnuts.

At 8.00 o'clock the crowd assembled at the Burton High School for the Glee Club concert which our men put on. The program was enthusiastically greeted by both the islanders and the student body. C. P. S. has some real talent and the Men's Glee Club were there to prove it. Immediately after the concert the crowd made tracks for the Vashona again, and they arrived back in the fair city of Tacoma shortly after midnight, the moonless ride being enjoyed by all.

BANNERETTES HO!

We're proud of our team, we are! Why shouldn't we be? Here we are at the tip top of the list and still going strong for old C. P. S. We've got pep in our team, we're out to win! BUT, we crave competition. What's the matter with you other folks, that you are not working? Isn't C. P. S. your school? Don't you want to see this play put over with a BANG? Well then, get to WORK! We'll be perfectly satisfied to be beaten if you work hard, but if you don't—well, watch the Bannerettes!

ALL-COLLEGE PLAY WILL BE THE BIG EVENT OF THE COLLEGE YEAR

COMEDY AT TACOMA THEATRE EXPECTED TO GIVE PLAY-GOING PUBLIC TREAT OF AMATEUR SEASON

Play-going folk of Tacoma will be offered next week Thomas' delightfully clever drama, "Come Out of the Kitchen," by girls and men of the College of Puget Sound. The play is a comedy and has been chosen as the all-college dramatic production of the year, with a carefully chosen cast and expert direction under the skilled coaching of Mrs. Lynette Hovious, head of the college department of public speaking.

The date is Tuesday, May 1, and to give the play the proper setting and to accommodate the record audience almost certain to be out, the committee is announcing it as a Tacoma Theater production.

To put the all-college event over in a big way is the aim of the student body. Lester Ellis is manager of associated student dramatic activities and has as assistants Miss Evelyn Ahnquist and Eldon Chuinard, both prominent in campus affairs.

Adequate settings are assured under the direction of Mrs. Herbert Cochran, head of the college department of art, and Miss Florence Todd, daughter of the C. P. S. president, both noted at the school for artistry in interior decorating and color effects.

A booster committee has been named to promote college spirit and create the degree of enthusiasm which means success, and its activities will be conducted by teams under the leadership of 10 captains. In this group are well known girls and men of the school with a reputation for doing things well, and they are predicting that a sold-out house will greet the players when the curtain goes up.

The team captains are Messrs. Everett Buckley, Cleo Osborn, Harold Fretz, Percy James, Guy McWilliams, Ed Amende and the Misses Erma Eagan, Thelma Bestler, Edith Thomas and Mary Donahue.

On the list of patrons and patronesses are President and Mrs. Todd, Gen. and Mrs. Robert Alexander, Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Baker, Dr. and Mrs. Christian Quevli and Dr. and Mrs. Horace J. Whitacre.

WOMEN DEBATERS SCORE VICTORY

The women's freshmen debating team from the College of Puget Sound was given a verdict of two to one over the Athena Club at the University of Washington last Wednesday evening when they debated them on the question, Resolved: That the ship subsidy be forbidden American merchant marine engaged in foreign commerce.

Carol Hovious and Betty Reynolds upheld the negative for the C. P. S., and Miss Colbert and Miss Badgley represented the Athena Club.

The affirmative began by showing that the ship subsidy had failed in many countries which would be given as evidence for its value by the negative. However, Miss Hovious as first speaker for the negative showed that the worth of the ship subsidy in other countries had nothing to do with the proposed ship subsidy for the United States and that we were not concerned with its application in other nations. She then produced evidence that the ship subsidy was necessary commercially, politically, and financially.

The second speaker for the affirmative, Miss Badgley, had quite a pleasing attitude on the platform and endeavored to show that the ship subsidy would not be for the best interests of the United States while Miss Reynolds then argued that it was practicable and desirable as the preceding speaker had even requested that they should do.

In the rebuttal, the C. P. S. girls displayed a better knowledge of the subject and refuted many of their opponents' arguments as well as upholding their own.

Miss Margaret Grimes, president of the Athena Club, presided as chairman in a very capable manner.

Miss Dorothy Wallace accompanied the girls to Seattle. They were all entertained at the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house.

STUDENTS ENJOY PLAY SKETCHES

Part of Second Act Is Given In Chapel on Monday

Selections from the second act of "Come Out of the Kitchen," which is to be presented by the College of Puget Sound at the Tacoma Theatre on the evening of May 1st, were enjoyed by the students during the chapel hour Monday morning.

Judging from the number of dishes that were broken during the performance the play will be a "smashing" success.

"Come Out of the Kitchen" is the most refreshing comedy and with a well chosen cast and an enthusiastic student body backing it promises to be a wonderful success.

ON WITH THE PLAY!

The parts of "Come Out of the Kitchen" which were presented in chapel Monday shows definitely that the play will be a success from a dramatic point of view. Whether or not it will be so in a financial regard remains to be demonstrated by the students of the institution which is presenting the play.

With her usual determination, Mrs. Hovious declared she would put on the play—if the students fulfilled her faith in them. Central Board could not vote money to back the play for there was none to give. We could not expect the faculty to take the responsibility, for it is an ALL COLLEGE play. The Drama Class alone could not put across such a campaign, for it is an ALL-COLLEGE job. Consequently, the student body was asked to manifest its interest in the play; and—the students pledged themselves to sell enough tickets to cover the amount necessary to make the play a success financially.

The amount is $600.00 at the very lowest, which means six hundred tickets must be sold. The play referred to is to be presented at the Tacoma theatre six days from today. The students who so gladly pledged themselves must now awaken that spirit again and throw their persistent efforts into the selling of five hundred tickets in six days!

It is not a question of being able to do it; we only need to realize the necessity, and to get busy! This enterprise is not the first this college has engaged in in this field of student activity and loyalty. Neither should it be the last. The trust that the coach and the cast is placing in the students is shown by the way the play is rapidly approaching perfection.

The students should also "talk play" to every friend. Make the people of this city feel that we have a college here, sell them a ticket to the play, and—then they'll know it. Let everyone know that this is a COLLEGE—with a college caliber cast and production. Until we assume confidence and a worthy attitude toward ourselves, we cannot win. To get rid of tickets you must SELL them. Teams, captains, cast coach, faculty—all must co-operate to make this All-College play a dominating success, dramatically and financially. Just tribute shall come from just effort invested.

"Rise up, for the work is here!"

COLLEGE OBSERVES CAP AND GOWN DAY

Following the Cap and Gown Day tradition, the Seniors made their first appearance in caps and gowns, Friday, April 17th.

Under the direction of Prof. Kelly, who acted as marshal, the Seniors and Faculty assembled in the administration building where they formed in line for the procession to the chapel where they remained during the address of the morning, after which the students remained standing until the procession had left the building.

MUST DEVELOP RACE INTEGRITY SAYS PROF. SLATER

"We must learn to distinguish between the right of other nations to live and the right of other nations to mix their blood with ours," said Prof. Slater in chapel address on "Race Integrity", Wednesday morning.

Mr. Slater says that history has shown that race crosses generally result in a strengthening of weaknesses; for instance, the figure of tuberculosis is greatest among people who are the result of race crossings.

MR. MILLIGAN DELIVERS CAP AND GOWN DAY ADDRESS

The first Cap and Gown Day address was delivered by Reverend James Milligan, an alumnus of the institution and prominent minister in the city, to the Seniors and students of the college, Friday, April 17th.

Education is to have learned what has taken place in the past and present plus the common sense to apply this knowledge. The biggest problem which the student must face is the problem of applying this knowledge which he has gained, to the problems of the present and future.

A student has not finished the learning when he gets through college. There are many things in this world which we must see and hear and understand. It is a world of a great many opportunities but the same world which ready to offer opportunities is ready to bury you if you don't obey its laws.

Speaking to the Seniors, Mr. Milligan said, "It is to learn these laws that you have gone to college. The world is waiting for you but it is not going to put opportunity in your hands. If you fail, don't lay the blame on the other fellow. Some may succeed through luck, but cases of luck are exceptions. The world is what you make it."

At the opening of his address, Mr. Milligan stated that he had tried to find out where Cap and Gown Day originated, but was unsuccessful. He said that in early days the students wore gowns because everybody else did and they had to wear something. In one of the European countries the students were compelled to wear the gowns in order to facilitate the work of the police in identifying wrong doers.

THREE IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE AT Y. W. C. A.

First:

Next Tuesday at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Hazel Turtle from the University will speak to all the girls of the college. Her subject is "What the Student Expects from the church." From all reports Miss Turtle promises to be very good and we urge all girls of the college to be sure and be out. We want to be able to make a good impression on the University.

Second:

Thursday, May 3rd, is the date set aside for a Silver Tea, given at the home of Mrs. D. H. Bell on the corner of North Answorth and 7th, between the hours of 2 and 5. The program will consist of music and recitations, many numbers of which are to be given by the girls of our own Y. W. C. A.

The proceeds of the tea are to go towards swelling the Seabeck fund. Anyone ever having been at Seabeck knows the joy coming from the Seabeck fund, so let us all go and get as many others to go as possible.

Third:

On the days Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 4, 5 and 6 of May in Seattle is to be held a conference of the Y. M. C. A. girls from the three Northwestern Colleges, Bellingham, University of Washington and College of Puget Sound. The purpose of this conference is to give a brief training course for the newly elected cabinet members of the different schools.

On Friday evening will be given a banquet in the down town Y. W. C. A. Building, followed by speeches, which will be helpful for our future Y. W. C. A. work.

On Saturday a luncheon will be given after which speeches will be given by the various representatives from the three colleges.

If this goes through a success it is planned it will become an annual affair, so let's all get in and have all go that can.

SIGMA ZETA'S LAUNCH RIDE ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Saturday evening bright and fair, the Sigma Zeta Epsilon fraternity sailed off on the waters of Puget Sound with their fair sisters of the Kappa Sigma Theta sorority with Coach and Mrs. McNeal, the Misses Crasper and Balche as chaperones. The launch had no sooner left the harbor than a menacing black cloud of cial smoke issued from the smoke stack, driving the occupants to regions below. Several took to the lifeboats but it was not necessary to hoist them into the watery waves at that time. After passing many interesting places along the way such as the Tacoma Smelter (Vas and Horse seemed to know quite a bit about the scenery hereabouts), McNeil's Island, which the Coach said he would pass up this time, and Steilacoom, about which many were non-committant, the frigate finally arrived at the Sand Bar on Fox Island. Charlie Brady, as chief firebuilder, succeeded in building a "scorcher", and then the "eats" were served. Ev Buckley and Star Warburton were "some" hash slingers, and everyone did justice to the fine repast. After this, several exuberant members of the younger generation joined in such games as "flying Dutchman", "three deep" and "Last Couple Out." About 10:30 the boatswain drew nigh and the crew proceeded to board the launch once more. Most everyone enjoyed a quiet snooze in the light of a silvery moon on the return trip, and as the boat drew in at the municipal Dock, the vote was unanimous that "a good time was had by all."

The Faculty Club met at Miss Olive Brown's home at Parkland on Monday evening. Miss Mills took the members out in her car. (We should have mentioned long before this that Miss Mills is parading a new Ford Sedan.)
Mrs. Hovious motored to Green River Gorge on Sunday.

IN OTHER COLLEGES

The University of Oregon reports that the Men's Glee Club tour in Eastern Oregon was very successful, and that they cleared about $200. The Women's Glee Club of the U. of O. was also warmly received in Southern Oregon.

On Tuesday, April 24th, "Come Out of the Kitchen," was presented at the Ellensburg theatre by the students of Ellensburg Normal. We hope they were as successful as we hope to be.

Montana State College has a gym costing $250,000. It has a seating capacity of 3,000.—Spokane College Echo.

Two eastern universities have held a debate by radio. The judges submitted their decisions by mail.—Spokane College Echo.

Linfield College defeated Pacific College in a dual debate on April 6. The subject debated on was the ship subsidy.

Union buildings for the students of colleges seem to be very popular now. The University of Oregon is attempting to establish one on its campus and gives us in the "Emerald" the following account of progress made in this line on the coast:

Pacific institutions of learning are particularly progressive in this regard. Stanford has had a large and well equipped union building for several years. California students have just moved into the new $400,000 structure completed on the campus at Berkeley. The student body of Oregon Agriculture College has had the movement under way for the past two years, each student paying $3 per term upon registration to go toward a fund for this purpose. It is expected that the O. A. C. union building will become a reality within a few years. University of Washington students have drafted plans for a building which will be started when the debt on the recently completed stadium is paid and a new basketball pavilion built. Washington students expect to have a student union building before many years. W. S. C. and Idaho students are discussing the project on their respective campuses.

ORATORICAL TRYOUTS AT UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Winner of Event to Be Given $40 Prize; Will Also Represent University in Northwest Contest

University of Oregon—Oct. 12. An award of $40, known as the Mrs. Wilson Jewett prize, will be given to the winner in the tryouts for the Northwest Oratorical Contest to be held Wednesday, April 25th. The tryouts will be held in Villard Hall, and faculty members will act as judges. The final contest will be held May 20.

The Universities of Oregon, Washington and Idaho are the three institutions which conduct this contest. A prize of $100 is given to the winning orator. Last year, Ralph Bailey, a member of the varsity debating squad represented the university at the contest which is an annual event.

On April 27 the Peace orations will be given at Salem. George Owen will go as the University orator as a result of tryouts held the latter part of the winter term.

BOUQUETS

A reason Frank Brooks didn't take Erma Eagan to the clam bake is, so he tells us, he doesn't want to take her too many places because she will mistake his friendly attitude for love.

The freshmen want to know if Reverend Milligan meant Dr. Harvey when he spoke about platitudinous ponderosities?

Another good Woman gone wrong. Bernice Olson just bobbed her hair.

It is said Peg Moore loves to hear the "Russell" of the leaves.

He says bobbed hair is coming back.

We asked Ralph if he allowed himself any dissipation over the vacation. "Well," quoth the Y. M., "I only took a Nip row and then."

After a hotly contested election the following members of the T. S. F. P. O. C. T. M. H.'s familiarly known as the P. C. H.'s, were chosen as presiding officers:
Her Excellency, Grand Exhauled Ruller Mary Juliette Palmer
The Master Mind, Most Worthy Keeper of the Keys
. . . . Mary Camp Lewis Donahue

At the same meeting the following were pledged:
Janitor. Inez Marie Thersa Micki
Initiation and the degree of intelligence will take place next week in the spacious club at Havana, Cuba.
P. S.—Local initiation Friday.

Reverend Milligan said that the students were backward as expressed by Cap and Gown. We noticed that the Faculty wore them too. Did Mr. Milligan?

Schilpp—When does the age of bashfulness cease?
Mrs. Meyers—I know a woman who is seventy and she is over it.

Villafuerte says bashfulness only lasts one week; he must have seen "One Week of Love."

Carol Hovious says that if her mother is the hub in her classes then she's the hubbub.

We would love to hear a serenade by Mary Anderson and Margaret Lemon.

Play tennis with music! The latest form of exercise.

About three weeks ago we hear Mrs. Hovious says something in Drama Class of "When Henry Proposes to Me." Now we know that she wasn't blushing in vain.

Mrs. Gulick—Have any of you ever read Jeanette Mark's "The Sun Chaser?"
Mary Donahue—S-o-n?

Fretz—Some people are still shy from the opposite sex.
Schilpp—That must be yourself.

The P. C. H.'s feel that Amy Van Horn is going to the dogs. She has been seen twice at Hoyt's with Gris Crosby.

Schilpp in Psych. class—Mention a social habit.
Mr. Norris reaches over, pulls a hair from Buckley's coat and says it is a social habit.

Carol Hovious—Hey, there, you are losing your dignity!
Stan McKee (madly looking around)—Where?

The leading lady in "Come Out of the Kitchen" may not have very much pride but anyway she took a fall in the gallery in chapel.

Dr. Weir—If a man went into a butcher shop and asked for a yard of pork, what would he get?
Ella Purkey—Three pig's feet.

Edith Thomas made a success of her last hunting trip. She got a Partridge.

Famous Poses
The Irish Cavalier—Dean Henry.
The Headless Horseman—Roy Norris.

Have you noticed that John Minsch brings his bottle to school?

We were watching a gambling game. In the midst of the curses in walked Matt Thompson. Upon being asked to "sit in" he replied negatively. Ah! The influence of a good woman!

Max Vaughn says he is not lucky that way.

Notice.—If you're name wasn't in the paper last week it was because Vas Olene wrote the jokes.

Prospective debutantes take notice! Ed was seen taking a walk on the campus with Anne.

There was only one complaint lodged on the Burton picnic. Willabelle Hoage and a few others didn't get enough to eat and had to go to a chop suicide joint and gurgle noodles after the party.

Ed Newell says he thinks he will be President of the U. S. some day.

We asked Bernadine Wilson if she was any relation to Woodrow and she said no but that she had hopes for the White House.

Everett Buckley's past unveiled! He was a hash manipulator at the Ritz.

MAY DAY TEA IS PLANNED BY COLLEGE GIRLS

Mrs. D. H. Bell will open her home at 1515 North 7th street for a silver tea May 3rd, given by the advisory board of the C. P. S. Young Women's Christian Association. It is arranged in the interest of Seabeck and funds raised will be used for the girls going to represent the college. It has been the custom of the board to send each year one delegate to Seabeck, and this plan has been broadened to include a loan fund from which other girls desiring to have the advantages offered Seabeck delegates, may borrow. The first to give personal donations to this fund were Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser and the Women of Rotary.

The May Day tea will have calling hours from 2 to 5 and the board invites the attendance of all women interested in girls' work and welfare.

The board membership includes Mrs. R. Lester Kelly, president; Mrs. Raymond Beil, Mrs. J. S. Steele, Mrs. Edward H. Todd, Mrs. Albert Thompson, Mrs. Carl G. Hallen, Mrs. Eleanor Brooks Gulick, Mrs. Samuel Weir, Mrs. Winifred Taylor and Mrs. Olive Baalke.

Patronesses are Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Mrs. D. H. Bell, Mrs. Francis J. Van Horn, Mrs. A. E. Hillis, Mrs. James L. Garvin, and Mrs. James I. Muffley.
