Junior Hi School Grows Rapidly

The new Junior High school being erected on the old campus of the College of Puget Sound, is the first of six similar structures that will be built in Tacoma within the next two or three years. Bonds to the amount of $2,400,000 were voted by the people last fall for the purpose of financing the undertaking.

When completed, these schools will relieve the overcrowded conditions that have existed for several years in the Lincoln and Stadium High Schools. These two high schools have been forced to accommodate approximately one thousand students each in excess of the number that was originally intended for them.

The new Junior High Schools will absorb the large freshmen classes that every year floor the Lincoln and Stadium schools. Besides the ninth grade, all seventh and eighth grade pupils will be transferred from the present grade schools to these new Junior High schools, thus relieving their overcrowded conditions also.

The school that is being erected on the old C. P. S. site is to be a two story structure, two hundred and sixty feet wide and three hundred feet long. Cost of the structure when completed, together with the cost of the ground will be in the neighborhood of half a million dollars. The building will be of American design and strictly modern in every respect. Its capacity will be twelve hundred students taken from the surrounding grade schools, Bryant, Grant and Franklin, and according to the builders' contract will be ready for occupancy in September.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE LEAGUE PLANS A NEW DORMITORY

The Women's College League of the College of Puget Sound will hold its regular monthly meeting in the parlors of the First M. E. Church Tuesday, January 29. The gathering will honor the women of the faculty and is given to introduce the Dean of women, Miss Ellenora B. Wesner to the members of the league.

The League is now conducting a membership campaign and hopes to enroll 5,000 women of this state who are interested in its work. Those admitted to membership in the organization will be asked to pay as their membership fee, one dollar a year for a term of five years. In this manner the women hope to raise the $25,000 they have pledged to the fund for the women's building on the new campus.

The Women's College League has done much in the past for the women of the college, and the plans for the future include many benefits for the women on the new campus. The league originated with the idea of caring for an English professorship and since then it has been continually widening its scope. It next began the work of establishing a domestic science department, and it continued to support this department until the college felt it could take care of it. The women then turned their attention to the women's dormitory. Through their efforts this building materialized. They have furnished and have given many showers for it. Each year they have tended to repairs and refurbishings.

Three years ago the League began to plan for the women's building on the new campus. Since then plans have matured and today this building is almost an established fact. The form of architecture will be Tudor Gothic conforming with that of the other buildings.

The building will be constructed in units, the first unit to accommodate approximately forty girls. In time the other units to be constructed at a later date will be connected with this first unit by the reception and dining halls.

Sen. Davis Introduces Stefansson

Senator Walter S. Davis, who introduced Vilhjalmur Stefansson before his lecture in the First Methodist Church Tuesday evening, January 22, is an old acquaintance of the noted explorer. Much to the surprise of the audience and Mr. Lester M. Ellis, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who had asked the Senator to make the introduction, Senator Davis commenced by saying that he already knew Stefansson.

One afternoon in 1903, Professor Davis who was taking a course in the Harvard summer school was walking along the Charles River to study different monuments erected in places where Prof. Horseford of the Chemistry Department of Harvard believed the Norseman, Lief Ericson, had located his house, mill, and fort. The Senator happened to meet with a young man who was interested in the same subject and they spent a very pleasant afternoon together, but without finding out each other's names.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS ARE MAKING PLANS

Both the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs at C. P. S. are working hard in preparation for the extensive programs being outlined for each club by its respective manager for the coming semester.

Last year the Girls gave several programs at different affairs in the city and put on their annual home concert in the chapel, May 9. The club was under the direction of Mr. Frederick Kloepper with Miss Ella Miller as accompanist.

This year under Mr. Kloepper's direction the club expects to do great things. Miss Willabelle Hoage is the manager and accompanist, and Miss Welhemina van den Steen is president. Work is progressing well with two practices each week. The Girls expect to go on a tour this year and are trying to get dates with Sumner, Puyallup, Wilkeson, Auburn, Orting, Kent, Olympia and several other places.

The club's work is more finished and polished than it was at the same time last year, according to Miss Willabelle Hoage, the manager. There will be a variety of musical numbers, with trios, duets, a soloist, and reader. Miss Ruth Hoage is soloist and the trio consists of Miss Wilhemina Van den Steen, Miss Ruth Bitney, and Miss Shirley Pannell. Selections for the other parts have not as yet been made.

Last year the Boys' Glee Club was under the direction of Professor Paul A. Schilpp. Every one knows the remarkable record which the club made. There were sixteen members in the club and a quartet, reader, and violinist helped with the programs. Besides putting on complete programs outside the city, the club gave special numbers at business men's clubs, churches, and other organizations in the city. The home concert given May 6 at the First Christian Church was a complete success.

This year the club is under the direction of Mr. Clayton Johnson, with Clinton Hart as manager and Ed Amende, president. The boys are planning to take a trip during Easter vacation and will probably give concerts in Longview, Toledo, Mossy Rock, Morton, Randal, and Chehalis. Definite preparations will be made at a later date. The annual home concert will be given probably some time in May.

The college students are as proud of the glee clubs, who represent them in a musical way, as they are of the athletic teams who represent them in an athletic way. The glee clubs give good advertising to C. P. S. Within a few years C. P. S. Glee Clubs ought to be able to take trips to Portland, Pullman, and some of the other larger cities in Washington and Oregon.

ty-one years ago, has presented Senator Davis with one of his books, "The Northward Course of Empire," on the flyleaf of which he has written the following:
"To Senator Walter S. Davis to remind him of an afternoon in 1903 and an evening in 1924, both pleasant to Vilhjalmur Stefansson
Tacoma
January 22, 1924."

There will be no issue of the Trail next week.

LOGGERS PLAY TWO GAMES WITH SPECIAL TROOPS

Basketball Team Will Play at Camp Lewis Friday and in Gym Saturday

Much work is being done on the shooting end of basketball every night at practice by the Logger tossers. The team has been showing some good form at the other departments of the game, but they have never shown well at dropping the sphere thru the basket.

A two-weeks lay-off, because of exams, has given the team a chance to get in fairly good shape, and, it is the opinion around the college, that the Loggers will show to advantage against the Special Troop team of Camp Lewis this week end. Friday our aggregation will journey to the camp and play the soldiers on their home floor. Saturday the same teams will meet on the college floor.

The games are being well advertised at the college and it is expected that a large crowd will be present. The Loggers' backers will have a chance to get an idea of how their team will stack up against strong competition since their two weeks of hard practice.

February 6 there will be a game in the local gym between the fast-going Ellensburg Normal School five and the Logger quintet. It is the general opinion that the C. P. S. team can take the long end of the score from the soldier team, but the Ellensburg outfit is a harder team, according to dope around the college.

NOISE AND CLASSES

According to novelists and short story writers, the proper noise from a school room should be a dull hum. But little has been said about what the noise outside of a school room should be.

For the last few weeks, the students of the College of Puget Sound have been having, or rather enduring, a demonstration of the sounds that can be produced just outside of a classroom window. For instance, take Professor Hanawalt's first period mathematics class. In the first place a dull hum is not the proper noise in that class. The professor says so. That disqualifies the axiom laid down at the beginning of this article.

But let us return to the noises outside of a classroom. That first period class has degenerated into a contest between the professor and those same noises. The contest is begun by a tractor which, after a few gurgles and coughs, manages to strike its gait with a steady roar, much to the professor's discomfiture.

The man in the class room is at a disadvantage, as he has no resources in the way of noise. Not so with the tractor, which almost immediately brings up reinforcements of gravel trucks, cement mixers, a small cut-off saw, and various other instruments of torture.

So the unequal battle rages throughout the day.

DRAMA CLASS WILL PRESENT PLAYS ON FEB. 7

The Four One-Act Plays "Rain," "White Dresses," "Jezebel" and "Triumph of Instinct" Will Be Staged

The Drama Class of the College will present four one-act plays on the evening of Thursday, February seventh, at eight o'clock, in the chapel. These plays are under the directorship of Professor Havius of the Dramatic Department of the College.

The plays to be presented are, "Rain," by Dana Burnett; characters being "Allie," Carolyn Somers; "Jim," Wendell Brown; "Worthy," Archie O'Heiser; "Dr. Harmon," Grisdale Crosby; "Jed Porter," Richard Weir; "A Native," and "The Ghost of Hartley Taylor." This is a gripping one-act tragedy of life in a Maine fishing town.

"White Dresses," by Paul Greene will appeal to you as a one-act play of interest, spiced with humor, yet having enough tragedy to impress you deeply. Characters, "Mary," Katherine Fuller; "Jim," Archie O'Heiser; "Mr. Morgan," Pat Turrell; "Cadace," Mrs. Emma Richards.

"Jezebel," by Dorothy Stockbridge is a one-act play based on the Bible-story of Jezebel included in the last chapters of I Kings. Characters, "Jezebel," Florence Witenberg; "Malchia," Gladys Anderson; "Jehu," Pat Turrell; "Messenger," Wendell Brown.

"The Triumph of Instinct" by Rufus Laearsi is a one-act comedy. You will certainly be amused when you see how man's instincts to protect woman are perfect until a burglar happens into the room and interrupts a love affair. In the end the woman's instincts are more perfect. The characters in this comedy are, "Augustus," Grisdale Crosby; "Violet," Joyce Hazelton; "Violet's Mother," Katherine Fuller; "The Burglar," Hilda Rasmussen; "Belinda," Ruth Hoage; "Two Policemen," Dick Weir and Boris Dakserhoff.

The staging, lighting, costumes and general arrangements for this program will be worked out entirely by the Drama Class, as class work. The students take the various parts without respect to naturalness of character. In fact, one of the class problems is to adapt one's self to the characterization of a person very unlike one's self; this draws out the best efforts of the students and often, to the surprise of the student, extraordinary ability is discovered in him. The professor encourages the students to develop originality.

Students of the Class who are not characters in this group of plays will take part in the group to be presented in April. Those of the class who do not represent characters have charge of curtains, stage-settings, costumes, etc.

The Knights of the Log will act as ushers.

We ask the students of the College and faculty, especially, to contribute their attendance and best efforts in helping to advertise these plays.

A small admission is charged to defray the expenses incurred in printing posters, renting costumes, curtains, stage scenery, and in buying make-up and other necessities. We urge the loyal support of all interested and we want all to be interested.

NOTICE
All you voracious readers who patronize the college library. Books are due one week from date of withdrawal. Don't wait to be notified about when they were due. Exercise your memory and your eyes. And if you forget tin spite of all, bring your pennies for fines when you come.
E. WESNER.

THE ELECTION

The elections for next year's student body officers take place Feb. 7, and all nominations must be in the hands of the secretary not later than Jan. 31. This means that some interest in this matter must be shown immediately, but may we not suggest that the interest ought to be intelligent and not partisan. A man is not a good officer merely because he is an entertaining talker or is a member of this society or fraternity. We want the officers that we elect on Feb. 7 to be the people who can best do the work that they will be required to do. Among the qualities all need are ability to bear responsibility, perseverance, initiative, ability to work with others and many others. When we vote let us use our common sense and thus show that students can be intelligent voters.

The days that are full of anxiety and work are with us, but like every thing else they cannot last forever. This is the only consolation we have to offer in the strenuous hours of exams. Of course there must be something good about exams but as yet we have been unable to think of any good reason for their existence for they only make more work for everybody. But they will soon be over so our advice to you and to ourselves is just this: Buck up and wade right into them and get them out of the way, for they really can't be as bad as we imagined them.

While we are speaking of voters, have you registered yet for the city elections? If you are a voter, why haven't you registered? There is only a short time left before the books close for this election. Register as soon as possible and avoid the rush.

ORGANIZATIONS

LAMBDA SIGMA CHI

Last Wednesday afternoon Lambda Sigma Chi held an informal meeting in the Amphic room. An impromptu program entitled "Leap Year" was received with much surprise on the part of the performers; while the rest of us were very well entertained. The following girls enlightened us on said subject:
 My First Leap Year Proposal ..... Mary Lou Bechaud
 What Leap Year Means to Me ..... Thelma Bestler
 An Old Maid Tingles the Ivories ..... Eleanore Kenrick
 An Old Maid's Lament ..... Shirley Pannell
 The Rustle of Silk ..... Norma Huseby
 Leap Year Stunt (by the maimed and rejected) ..... Stephen Lunzer
 Maude Hague, Grace Eddy, Alice Olsen, Sylvia Smaby.

Grand Finale—"Good-night, Ladies" ..... by the whole Sorority
 At the conclusion of our program Betty Reynolds and Mary Ellen Painter served hot chocolate and sugared doughnuts.

After a snappy business meeting, we adjourned to our respective homes where we spent the evening "cramming" for "ye ole exams."

AMPHICTYON

This will be a great life if we don't weaken under the strenuous strain of "finals," won't it?

Owing to the fact that the greater majority of our members felt the urgent call of their old friend "cramming" this week, our regular meeting was called off for last Monday evening.

Everything we do in this life has

Percy James: Say, Alice, will you do me a big favor?
 Alice Morgan: Maybe. What is it?

Harry Enochs may not be a jail bird, but he's an old hand at the cage game.

The Logger athletic team should have a mascot. We suggested a donkey engine. However, Buckley says it should be a hot dog. But Willabelle Hoage has declared herself in favor of a social lion.

Every so often we hear some of the fashionable co-ed's squeaking, "Oh! Harold, Oh! Harold." C. P. S. certainly has a popular bunch of Harolds.

PRESIDENT TODD RETURNS HOME

President E. H. Todd returned Tuesday, January 22 from a four weeks business trip thru a number of eastern states in the interests of the College of Puget Sound and has brought back with him an enthusiastic report. Men of means and influence in large eastern institutions are showing a keen interest in the progress of expansion that is being carried on at the local college.

While in the east, Dr. Todd attended educational gatherings and visited the Carnegie Foundations and Rockefeller Foundation, and also the Music Foundation at Philadelphia.

Two distinct academic movements were noticed by Dr. Todd in different parts of the east. One is the revival of the study of Latin in the public schools. In a paper read by Dr. Hearst of the Carnegie Foundation, the need of the knowledge of Latin was stressed as a solid basis for a college education.

The other movement noticed is an attempt to put Music and Fine Arts into such recognition throughout the colleges of the United States. The intention is that these courses will be put into the regular curriculum so that students may major in the same way as that can be done now in Education, Science, Business Administration or other studies. In this way a student graduating from piano or voice will not say he "studied under Professor So and So" but that he was graduated from such and such a college.

Regarding the new C. P. S. buildings, Dr. Todd stated that sketches were being made for the new Science Hall and that construction would begin upon completion of the plans. It is also possible, according to the president, that the Color-Post Canopy will be completed by next fall. This structure will have a roof of tile or slate and the corner stones and pillars will be reinforced concrete. Two sides of the square will have an iron grating connecting the two pillars and the other two sides will have iron gates. A new additional feature will be the putting in of a small safe into each pillar where it is intended that each class will keep its history or other valuable records. These are to be placed in a small copper tube that will be provided. "The estimated cost of this canopy when completed will be between $4,000 and $5,000," said Dr. Todd, "but will be built strong enough to stand for a thousand years."

Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York has appointed Dean Franklin F. Moon of the State College of Forestry, Syracuse University, as delegate to represent New York State at the national convention of forest reclamation and home making.

The purpose of the meeting is to consider ways and means by which the government can give more assistance to owners of unprofitable farm woodlands. Leading men in the forestry movement and high government officials will attend the meeting. Among the speakers will be Henry C. Wallace, secretary of Agriculture; Governor John M. Parker of Louisiana; Senator Joseph E. Ransdell of the United States Senate Committee on Agricultural Forestry; William B. Greeley, chief of the United States Forest Service; President C. H. Markham of the Illinois railroad and many others.

The National Child Welfare Association announces the appointment of Dr. John H. Finley, formerly of the College of the City of New York now associate editor of the New York Times as president of their organization which is located at 70 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Dr. Finley has played a significant part in the educational, philanthropic and literary world. The National Child Welfare Association is well known in educational circles as the earliest and most extensive producer of educational posters on all phases of child welfare, physical, mental and moral.

STUDENT BODY WILL SELECT HEADS ON FEB. 7

New Officers Elected Now Will Take Office in May

The annual student body election will be held Feb. 7, 1924, the first assembly day of the new semester. All associated student officers will be elected for the following school year.

Names of nominees for office must be handed to the secretary of the Associated students seven days before the election takes place.

The student body president must be a senior in the College of Liberal Arts at the beginning of the college year following his election. He must have first grades in at least one fourth of his completed work.

The vice president must have the same qualifications as the president. The secretary must be a member of one of the three upper classes and must have first grades in at least one fourth of his completed work. He must show unquestionable clerical ability.

The faculty will choose the nominees for editor of the school publication and they will be voted on by the student body. The editor must be a senior the year following his election and must have first grades in at least one fourth of his completed work.

The Manager of Athletics must be a member of one of the three upper classes and must have an interest in all College athletics.

Managers of Forensics, Dramatics and Music, and the Yell King must be members of one of the three upper classes.

The Honor system as worked out by the judiciary council will be voted upon at this election.

All officers will be installed on the election.

second assembly in May after their

Three judges for the election one of whom must be a faculty member will be chosen by the student body president. They will prepare the ballots and act as an election board.

All officers will be elected by the Australian ballot.

The general manager is not elected but is chosen by the Central board.

A special election was held last Thursday, January 24, electing Harold Nelson to fill the place as for-ensic manager left open by the resignation of Allison Wetmore. The student body also approved the student point system.

Instruction in the repair of orchestral instruments is to be introduced at the Lawrence College Conservatory soon by Earle Baker, professor of public school music, as part of his plan of raising the quality of musical instruction in Wisconsin communities.

Every student who hereafter receives a diploma in public school music must be able to conduct an orchestra, play all the instruments of the orchestra and be able to repair these instruments when they are broken, according to Professor Baker.

"The public schools can raise the public taste in music," he declares. "If teachers expect to bring music to everybody, they must be able to conduct community orchestras as well as community sings. Hereafter no graduate leaves Lawrence who is unable to take part in all these community enterprises."

Bob: "I'm sure one of my teachers is German."

Helen: "How's that?"

Bob: "Because his marks are so low."

She: "I suppose you know the Barber of Seville."

He: "Nope. I do my own shaving."

The annual prize offered by Mr. Alfred A. Knopf, New York publisher for the best novel written by an undergraduate of Columbia University was captured this year by James Warner eBlah, who submitted a collection of stories taken from impressions gained while he was a student at Wesleyan University.

Bellah started in just nineteen hours before the contest closed, and with the aid of his roommate, who kept him supplied with refreshments while he ground out his copy at night, completed eleven stories within the prescribed limit.

This is the first time a prose work has won the Knopf prize since its inception three years ago. The other two prize winners were books of verse.

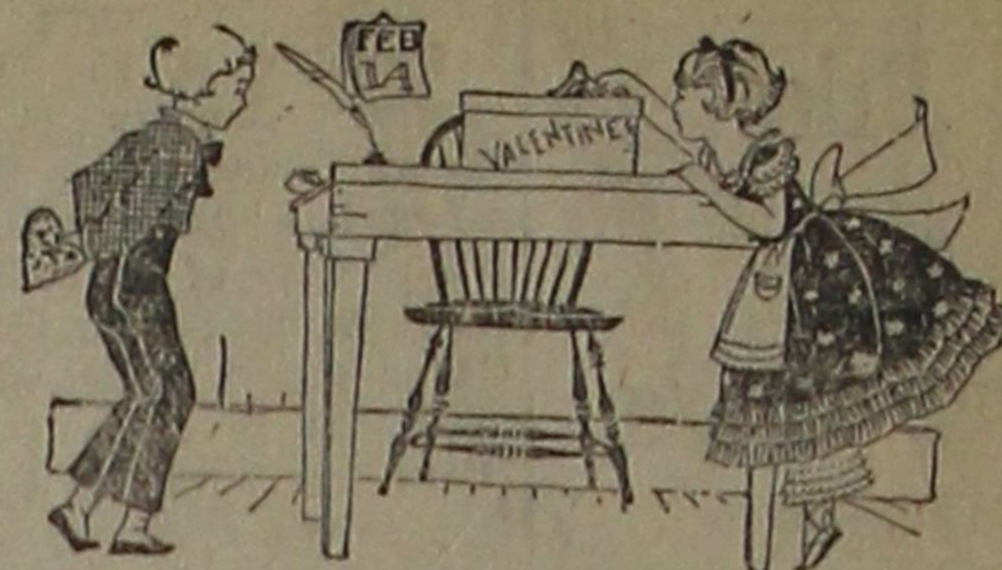

Mr. Knopf was himself a student at Columbia about eleven years ago. The realization then of the little encouragement offered young student writers inspired the resolve to help.

Several years later, when he found himself financially able to carry out his plan, he inaugurated the Knopf prize. It has proved to be a big feature for English students, most of whom are quick to try for it.

Professor John Erskine, English professor at Columbia University, decides along with Mr. Knopf on the winning manuscript.
