PUGET SOUND ANNUAL WILL SOON BE READY FOR PUBLICATION; TAMANAWAS NOW ON PRESS

BOOK TO BE DISTRIBUTED IN THE NEAR FUTURE; STAFF HAS WORKED HARD ON PUBLICATION, WHICH IS LARGER THAN USUAL

The Tamanawas has gone to press and will be ready for distribution sometime in the near future. The engraver has finished all of his work on the cuts, and the magazine has been assembled.

The staff, headed by Winifred Longstreth and Ernest Goulder has been working strenuously and the results of their labors will soon be revealed.

A Tudor motif is being used throughout the book. The magazine as a whole, will be much larger than in previous years. There are 216 pages—26 pages larger than last year.

The year book will feature the college campus, showing different views and beauty spots near the buildings. There are many snapshots of students and college activities which will add to the personal interest of the Tamanawas.

The announcement of the winners in the Service contest will be made in the annual. The names of the senior man and woman, elected by the students several weeks ago, have been kept secret and are unknown by the students. This contest will be an annual feature. The dedication has also been kept secret and will not be made known until the distribution of the Tamanawas.

Strawberry Festival Given by YM and YW

Money Is Raised for Student Friendship Fund

To raise twenty dollars for the Student Friendship Fund, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. held a strawberry festival, yesterday from ten thirty to one o'clock. Strawberry shortcake, strawberry sandwiches and sandwiches were served. The whole affair was ably managed by Dorothy Henry of the Y. W. C. A. and Harold Huseby for the Y. M. C. A.

Fifty dollars had been the sum set as the goal earlier in the year. However, only thirty dollars of this was raised, this left a sum of twenty dollars, which was easily made on the sale Thursday.

EVANS HEADS SCIENCE CLUB

The science club held their last meeting of the year Wednesday evening at six o'clock in the college Commons.

After dinner a paper was read by Pordyce Johnson on the History of Chemistry. A lively discussion followed which proved of great interest to the members who are searching for knowledge along scientific lines.

Officers were elected for the following year. They are: President, Ted Evans; vice president, Russell Peterson; Sec.-Treas., Donald Searing. This meeting has completed the most important and successful year of the organization.

PRES. TODD SPEAKS AT SEVERAL PLACES

Last Sunday, May 16, Pres. Todd was the dedication speaker at the new Raymond, Washington, Methodist Church. During the course of the day, Pres. Todd helped to raise $11,000 for the building fund for the church.

On Monday "Americans for America" was the topic of Pres. Todd's address which he gave before the Sumner Commercial Club.

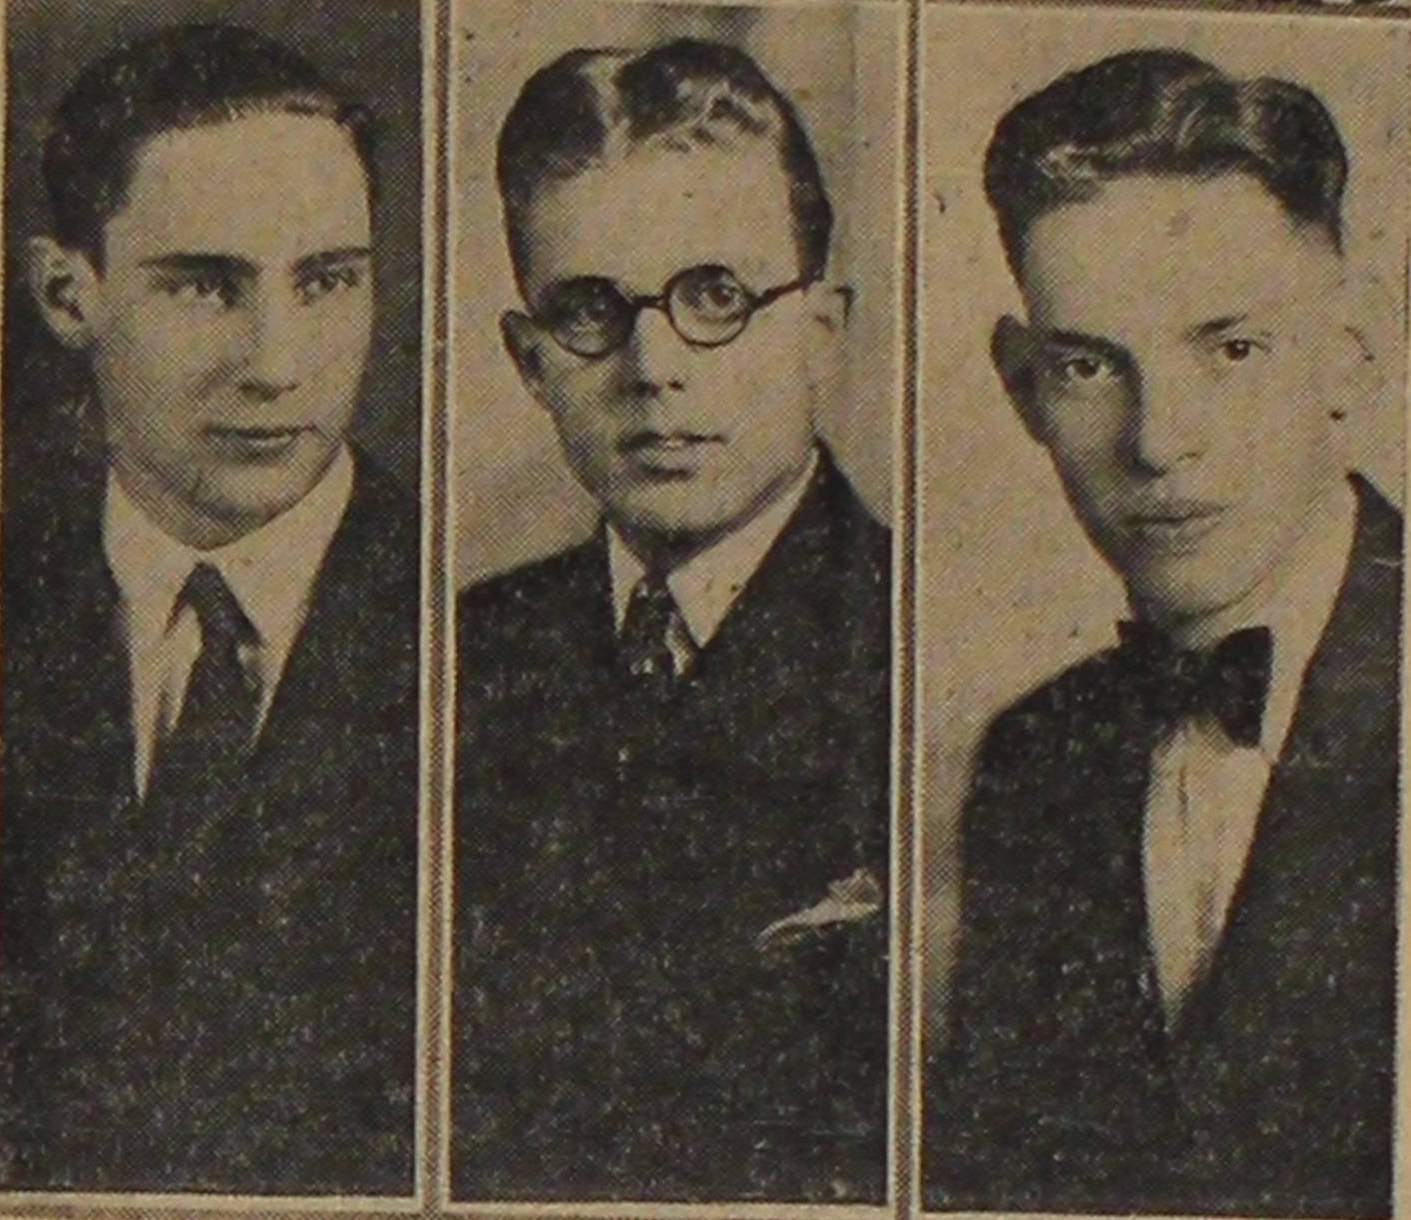

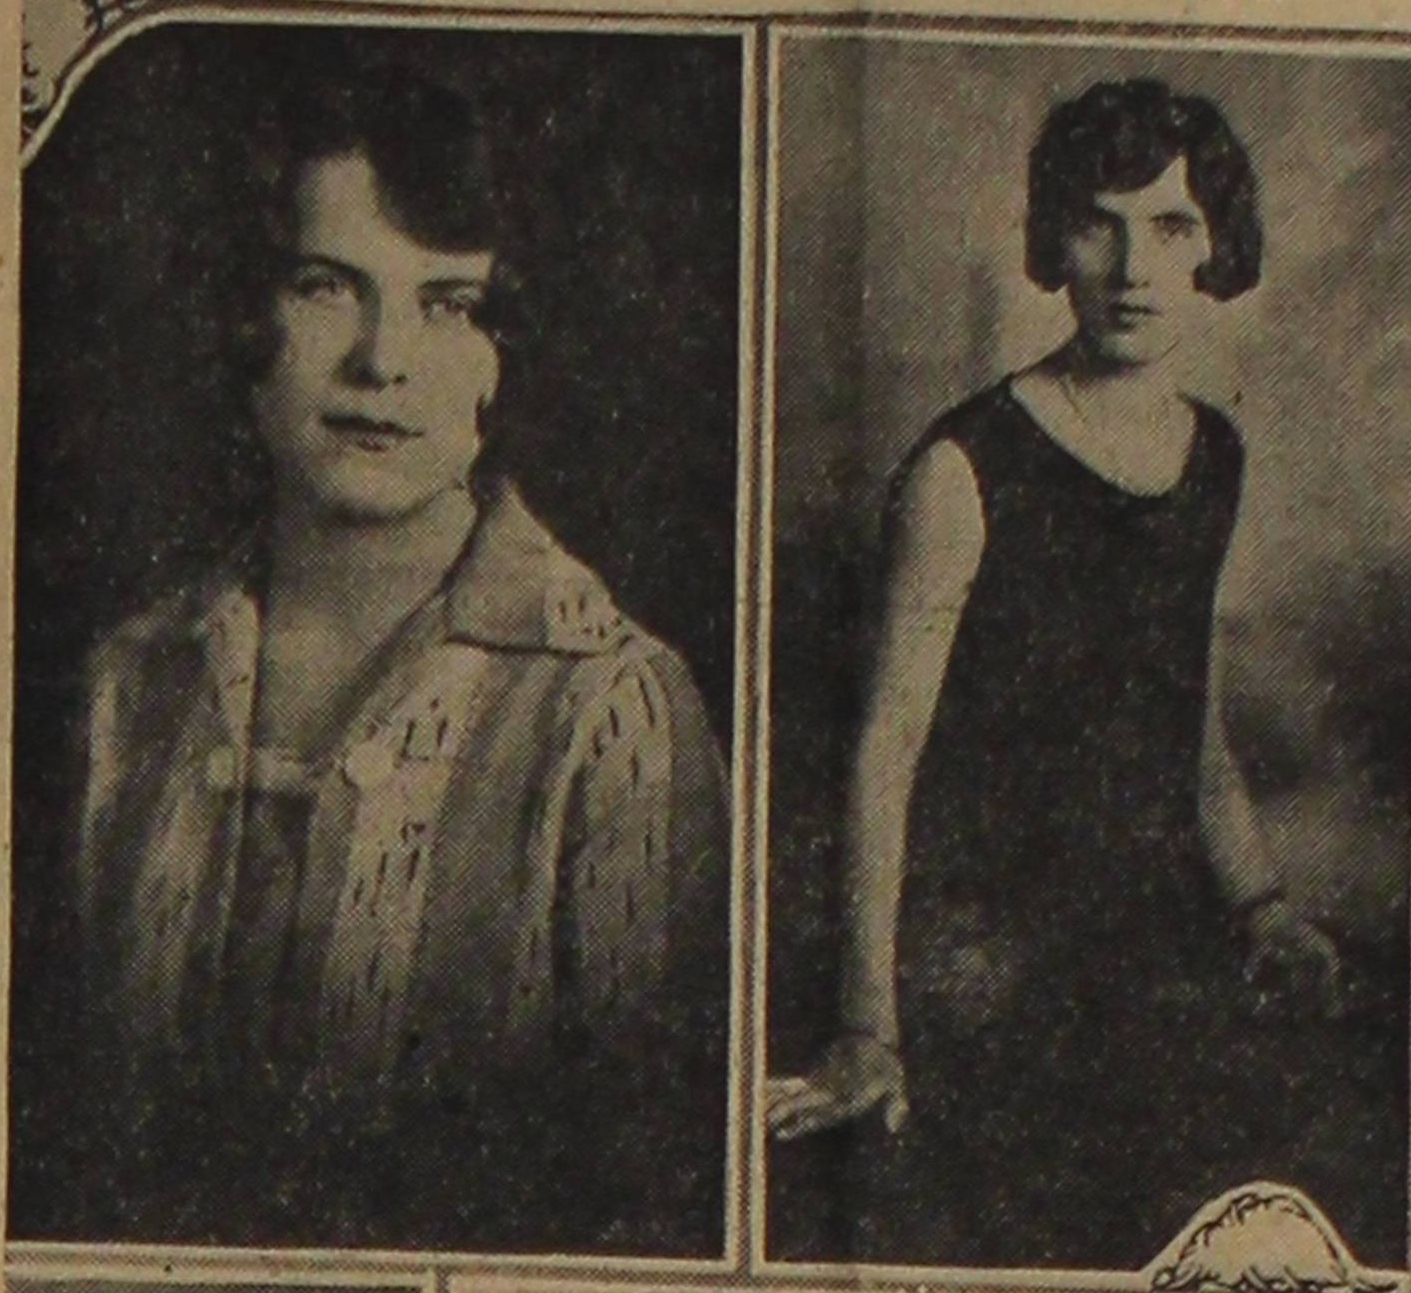

On the 26th of May, Pres. Todd will be the commencement speaker at the Lewiston, Idaho High School.

Prof. Hedley Gives Final Talk in Series

Last Wednesday Professor Hedley concluded his series of chapel talks on the Bible. These have been very interesting. He has discussed the languages, forms, sources and translations of the books of the Bible and the foundation of the Canon.

The last of the series was on the translations of the testaments. This included a resume of the different translations which has been made through the ages. He closed with a description of modern versions and their significances.

PRINCIPALS IN CAST OF PLAY

'YOU NEVER CAN TELL' PROMISES TO BE WORTH WHILE

Cast Is Being Coached by Professors Reneau and Hedley, and Is Well Prepared; Play Is Comedy by Bernard Shaw

In spite of the fact that work on the all-college play was begun rather late in the semester, its progress indicates that when the curtain closes on the last scene of "You Never Can Tell," tonight and Saturday, the audience will be convinced of its success. The play is being presented in the Jones Hall auditorium at 8:00 p. m.

Under the able coaching of Professors Reneau and Hedley, those taking part are filling their roles capably. The entire plan of coaching has been that of self-interpretation on the part of the actors.

"You Never Can Tell" is entirely different from "Captain Applejack," the all-college play last year. This season's play is one of George Bernard Shaw's dramas and has little action, but much interesting and humorous conversation.

Seabeck Campaign Is Started on the Campus

Y. M. MEN CONFIDENT THAT QUOTA WILL BE RAISED; DATE IS JUNE 12-20

The college chapter of the Y. M. C. A. has started its annual campaign to enlist students for the convention at Seabeck this summer.

Two captains have been appointed by President Manning, and these men are active in their efforts to raise the quota of delegates. The quota for this school is fifteen, and the Y. M. men are confident that there will be no difficulty in raising this number.

Each day, the men who are prospective delegates meet at luncheon in the Commons, and talk over their plans. The men who have been to the convention are all enthusiastic in their praise of the conference. One man said that it was the best investment of his college days, and another—"Seabeck is worth a semester of college life."

The date is June 12-20, and will be held at Seabeck on Hoods Canal. Some of the interesting topics to be discussed are: Basis for and Respect for Law; Race Relations and World Peace; Vital Campus Moral Issues; and Relations Between Men and Women.

If any man is interested in attending Seabeck, he should get in touch with Eldon Chuinard or Franklin Mannin, who are furnishing registration blanks.

'Morning Watch' Is Well Attended

SERVICES ARE DISCONTINUED UNTIL NEXT SEMESTER

By Bernice Sprinkle

No less than fifty people, students and members of the faculty have availed themselves of the privilege of attending the early morning worship service which has been held in the little Chapel every school day for the past two years, and which has been more successful this semester than ever before. Many of those attending have been faithful boosters for the meeting, and they say that it has meant a great deal to them.

Every morning at seven forty-five, or shortly after, strains of music have issued from the second floor of Jones Hall. Some intelligent students on their way to eight o'clocks have recognized it as religious music, and soon voices have been heard in melodious song. The hymns have been carefully selected, attention being given to appropriate words and music, such as would fit a college "morning watch" service.

After the singing, the remainder of the time until the first period bell rings, has been spent in informal public prayer. Professor Topping, Professor Register, Miss McIntosh and others have visited our service and they no doubt commend the earnestness of our College young people who not only are interested in their pursuit of studies, and all school activities, but who are deeply interested in maintaining a dynamic and worthwhile religious life for themselves and their fellow students.

The "Morning Watch" will be discontinued for the remainder of this year. It is thought advisable to allow the students who have been faithful in attendance to have these particular few minutes for study,

Willabelle Hoage as Dolly, and Paul Soper as Phil, supply the witty speeches. Both are doing exceptionally well. Wendel Brown who takes the part of Valentine and Rosemary Widman, otherwise, Gloria, are the principals in the love scenes. Others in the cast are Constance Clark, the mother; Arnot Hendel, Crampton; Allison Wetmore, the lawyer; Ronald Boyles, McCamas; and Audrey-Dean Albert, the maid.

Townsend Moore is again in charge of the lighting, and Clinton Hart is stage manager.

The story is that of a progressive family. Difficulty arises in case of non-compatibility of tastes. An old friend of the family tries to arrange a reconciliation between the father and the rest of the family. Finally the reconciliation is brought about, but on very odd terms.

Act one occurs in the dentist's office, act two, on the veranda of the hotel, act three, a room in a hotel; and act four, again on the veranda of the hotel.

Puget Sound Alumni Banquet Announced

Affair to Be Held on June 5, Alumni Day, in Library

Mr. Sprague, secretary of the College of Puget Sound Alumni Association, is announcing for Saturday evening, June 5, at 6:30, the annual Alumni Banquet, which will be held in the library of C. H. Jones Hall.

Saturday, June 5 will be "Alumni Day at the college and many "alums" are expected back on that day. A business meeting will be held at four P. M. and at five o'clock the alumni will hold a reception for the seniors in the faculty reception room. Seniors and graduating normal students will be among those attending the banquet.

Track Team Begins Intensive Training CINDER MEN TO COMPLETE AT SALEM SOON

With but a week and a half left before the conference meet at Salem the Logger track squad is at last settling down to real training. The weather has been bad and has seriously hindered working but now, rain or shine, the cinder aggregation is going thru its stuff.

Tryouts were held last Wednesday evening to determine those who should go but their results only muddled the situation worse than ever.

Fred Carruthers had not been turning out but in his 120 yard dash over the high hurdles he pulled a surprise when he beat Hannus by five yards. This will make a race necessary between Fred and Amos Booth, the king of Logger hurdlers.

In the 440 race Weisel and Norton mixed the dope when they beat Mark White to come in second and third. White had been runner up to Tatum in the quarter mile stretch. Tatum added new laurels to his brow when he established himself as the fastest 220 man in the school. He made new time for the season in his sprint.

While this is the first attempt by the Maroon and White to work out an extensive track program it has been quite a successful one. Logger chances at Salem seem to be good, for reports from the other schools do not indicate that they have anything remarkable. The dope indicates that the other outfits will develop their greatest fight among themselves in those events that Puget Sound is not entered in. These facts give the Puget Sounders quite an edge.

ARE YOU GOING TO SEABECK?

As we are approaching the end of this college year many of the college men are looking forward to another experience, which is also thoroughly worthwhile. That is the annual Y. M. C. A. conference, held at Seabeck, on Hoods Canal. Through Mr. Gale Seaman's talk in chapel recently and through the medium of students who have already been there the nature and value of the conference has been made known.

Every year thousands of college men gather at these conferences such as Seabeck, where they broaden their views by contact with other college students, where they face campus problems frankly and squarely, and where they find solutions for many of these difficulties with which a college student is ever confronted. For years the Seabeck Conference has been a source of inspiration and renewed strength for a great many thinking students of the northwest, and has also been attended by students from foreign countries. Here college men are privileged to hear such speakers as Bromley Oxnam, Walter W. Van Kirk, Frank Bayley of Seattle, and others, all of whom have a worthwhile message for the students of today.

This is what Eldon Chuinard, chairman of the Seabeck committee on the campus, says about that conference: "Last year Puget Sound was the leader among the smaller college delegations at Seabeck. This year we want to go back with added enthusiasm and spirit. A live bunch of fellows have already signed to go.

"Seabeck offers to every man an ideal atmosphere for spiritual and recreational gain. Every activity and organization on the campus should be represented there.

"The great opportunities of Seabeck and the spirit of Puget Sound make an ideal combination for the happy fellowship we will have at Seabeck."

Women's Tennis Matches Scheduled

First and Second Rounds to Be Finished Soon

The Puget Sound Women's tennis matches are being played off now. Owing to the bad weather it has been rather delayed but the women are requested to play their matches soon as possible. The first round must be played this week and all those which have not been played will be defaulted. The second round also is to be played this week. The schedule is now as follows:

The second round players are: Mary Glenn vs. Lucille Phillips; Leonora Bloomquist vs. Marjorie Burrows; Kathleen Green, default, vs. Madonna Haubner; Elva Belfoy vs. Not played; Mildred Martin vs. Mildred Hawksworth.

The only ones who have gone into the third round are Fritzi Goff and Alberta Edli who won their matches in love sets. Both are players of long tennis experience and should be among the finalists. Miss Edli is ranking woman player of the city and is at present city champion. She has been managing the tennis tournament and its success is due to her efforts.

Logger Men Play With City League Baseball Teams

SHOWERS HALT FRESHMAN TENNIS TRIPS

Owing to the persistence of May showers the dates of the Frosh Tennis Team's meets with other schools have been changed. Thursday, May 20th, the team will journey to Lacey to meet with the fast team of St. Martin's College. Since the last edition of the Trail the manager visited St. Martin's and is optimistic over the prospects of our Frosh making a good showing.

On Wednesday, May 26th, they will tangle with the Puyallup "Hi" team, at Puyallup, and from all reports this will be one of the hardest matches. The next day the team crosses requets with Pacific Lutheran at Parkland, and this promises to be the most interesting meet scheduled so far. The Frosh team's line-up is still the same, with Castillo and Boze in the doubles, and Miller and Todd in the singles.

Student Presidents' Convention Held in Seattle

HUSEBY IS REPRESENTING PUGET SOUND AT THE UNIVERSITY OF WN.

Harold Huseby, new student body prexy, is representing the College of Puget Sound this year at the meeting of the Pacific Student Presidents' Association. This conference is being held at the University of Washington, May 20th to 22nd. It is an annual meeting and is always anticipated with a great deal of interest by the delegates.

The business of the conference concerns all subjects of vital importance to student-body presidents. The topics being discussed are: Awards, freshman numerals, rally committees, campus week-end or junior week-end, method of paying managers of student body publications, honor systems (honor spirit), organization of departments of athletics, campus publications, musical and dramatic productions, student body finances and financial systems, building program, traditions, student court, the alumni association, the athletic managerial system, campus politics.

Other interesting features have been arranged by the committee. The men attending the conference will be entertained at the fraternity houses on the campus and will be shown around the various buildings and interesting places at the "U."

Another Sorority Now on the Campus

NAME IS "ALPHA BETA UPSILON"; EIGHTEEN MEMBERS

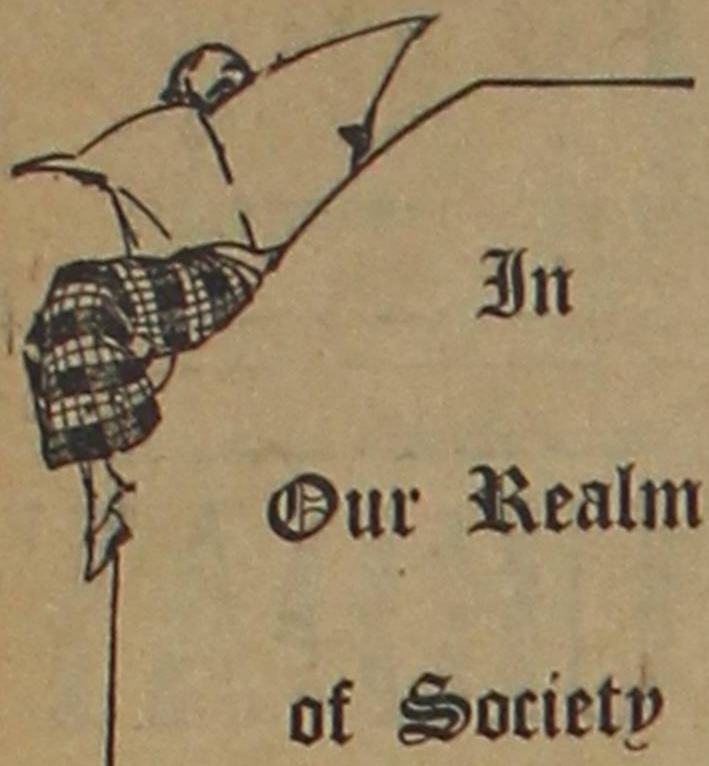

Because of the growth of the school and to the general feeling that there was need of another sorority, the Alpha Beta Upsilon sorority, composed of eighteen charter members has been organized. The girls will be known as the Betas. The organization of the new society has been in progress for the last two months and is now completely formed. Miss Olive Brown is the faculty advisor.

The charter members are: Audrey-Dean Albert, Hildur Berglund, Edith Bowers, Erma Coffman, Ina Coffman, Ina Hagedorn, Amelia Hermon, Doris Jones, Viola Jordan, Mary Kizer, Alice Okness, Margaret Patterson, Helen Saunders, Cora Tolles, Mary Van Sickle, Betty Walton, May Williams and Wilma Zimmerman.

The officers of Beta are: president, Ina Hagedorn; vice president, Viola Jordan; secretary, Mary Kizer; treasurer and editor, Audrey-Dean Albert; chaplain, Mary Van Sickle; sergeant-at-arms, Betty Walton; historian, Wilma Zimmerman and inter-sorority representative, Erma Coffman.

The meeting Wednesday was held at the V. J. Hedberg residence, 611 North Sheridan street. After a short program and business meeting, refreshments were served by the social committee.

The first number of the program consisted of a short talk by Cora Tolles on "The Forward Look of the Sorority." A group of piano solos, "The Rosary" by Nevin and MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" played by Audrey-Dean Albert followed, and the last number was a short talk by each Beta member on "What I Intend to Do This Summer."

Approximately seventy-five Philos and Amphis enjoyed a picnic supper and launch party given by the two societies last Friday evening, May 14. The group met at Point Defiance for supper at 6:30, and at 7:30 embarked on the steamer, Vashona, for a few hour's cruise.

The route was up the West passage of the Sound, through the Seattle harbor and back to the Point.

During the trip music and singing were enjoyed.

LAMBDA CHI ENTERTAINS AT DAY ISLAND

The new members of Lambda Sigma Chi delightfully entertained on Wednesday afternoon for the older members at the home of Elizabeth Tillotson at Day Island. The affair was in the form of a beach party. A large bonfire around which a delicious supper was served was greatly enjoyed.

After supper the older members presented an impromptu stunt program.

Miss Budd and Miss Collins, patronesses of the sorority were guests.

SORORITY HAS FAREWELL PARTY FOR SENIORS

The regular meeting of the Delta Alpha Gamma Sorority was dispensed with Wednesday afternoon, and an affair was held Thursday at the home of Miss Marylou Bechaud, complimenting an alumni member, Miss Helen Small, and held as a farewell party to the Seniors.

Miss Dorothy Knight, Alice Raymond and Marvel Wandell had charge of decorations, entertainment and refreshments. The shower gifts were presented to Miss Helen Small in a most novel manner and the pledges afforded some unique entertainment for the occasion.

United States Civil Service Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission announces the following open competitive examination:

JUNIOR CHEMIST

Receipt of applications for junior chemist will close May 1. The date for assembling of competitors will be stated on the admission cards sent applicants after the close of receipt of applications.

The examination is to fill vacancies in the Federal classified service throughout the United States, including the Departmental Service, Washington, D. C., and the Forest Products Laboratory of the Forest Service, Madison, Wis.

The entrance salary in the District of Columbia is $1,860 a year. After the probational period required by the civil service act and rules advancement in pay without material change in duties may be made to higher rates within the pay range for the grade, up to a maximum of $2,400 a year. Promotion to higher grades may be made in accordance with the civil service rules as vacancies occur.

Examination will be given in the optional subjects of advanced inorganic chemistry, analytical chemistry, organic chemistry, and physical chemistry. Competitors will be rated on general chemistry, elementary physics, and the optional subject chosen.

The work of the chemical bureaus in Washington, D. C., covers a wide field embracing chemistry, chemical engineering, and industrial technology, and many problems arise in connection with the work of standardization, regulation, and investigative research, offering splendid opportunity for valuable experience in the lines referred to.

The chemical work of the Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis., includes investigations and research of all kinds connected with the technology of wood products, including wood preservation and hydrolysis. The chances for advancement in the Forest Products Laboratory are good for those who prove capable, and here also experience is considered excellent training for scientific work in industrial research.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or the secretary of the board of U. S. civil-service examiners at the post office or custom house in any city.

Meeting This Year

MUFFLEY SPEAKS TO MEN; PAID SECY NEXT YEAR

The Y. M. C. A. of the College held its last meeting of the year Tuesday morning. Mr. James I. Muffley, the secretary of the city "Y" led the discussion. Mr. Muffley's talk was preceded by a discussion of Seabeck. All the men are interested in this subject at present, and the talks served to enthuse some of the members who have never been to the camp on Hood's Canal.

Mr. Muffley told the men that next year the College will have a paid secretary who will spend a great deal of his time with Y. M. work. Douglas Hendel has been named for the position, and it will be his duty to come in touch with all prospective Freshmen and welcome them to the school.

The year's budget has also been arranged by the advisory board. The arrangement of this money is one of the important duties of this board.

THE PUGET SOUND TRAIL

The Axe--

Whatever may be said, the appearance of the school's athletic teams determines to a large degree the impression created upon by the college prospective students. Wherever the team goes it is on trial and if it pleases, the results show in the number of students the next fall.

Ability alone isn't reckoned with. The lack of uniforms or having suits that are merely a hodge-podge gives birth to the idea that the college can't be much, or it would outfit its men better. This was brought to mind by one who saw the Bellingham track meet. This person had been working upon high school men in the vicinity and he said that the lack of equipment on the part of the Loggers did not help the Puget Sound chances for new students.

Last week we predicted that Wes Aldrich would do something with his bat at Forest Grove. He did. He got four hits out of four times at bat and then the fifth time up with two men on, he fanned out. When asked why he did it, he replied that the pitcher was not putting the ball where he was striking.

Jimmy Boze says that some men turn out for track. Others chase the last street car.

Again Eddie Schwarz is a hero. He had not been hitting any too good at Forest Grove and the crowd was razzing him when he came to bat with two men on. He fooled them, for his twobagger socked in both runs.

In the first game at Pacific the Badgers had made five runs in the first inning with only one out and the bases were loaded when Votaw was put in cold to save the day. He walked the first man but after that during the whole nine innings he allowed but two hits. With experience and a little more control Vern may make another Blevins.

Frank Wilson, former high school track captain, is turning his attention to the cinder sport and will be of much use at Salem. Frank has the ideal build for a pole vaulter. If he can get into form he will be good for points.

The College of Puget Sound is fortunate. This spring she has a track squad that ranks with any in the Conference. Most of these men are Freshmen and Sophomores who are just beginning to give promise of what they will do later. Two years from now the Logger squad ought to bring fame to the Maroon and White.

Agitation for a girl's track meet has been started. Evidently the girls want to show that they are just as fast as the boys.

We speak of iron men on the campus, but if anyone asks you to show them a real iron man, point to Gillette from Montana who broke two records in the same

LOGGERS WIN FROM PACIFIC; SCORE IS 6 TO 2

PUGET SOUND TEAM LOSES PRACTICE GAME WITH BADGER NINE

Proving again that the last few innings are always the best part of the game for the Loggers the College of Puget Sound nine came up from behind in the game with Pacific last Friday, and drove in five runs in the seventh inning. The real fun started when, with two men on bases, Vern Votaw picked one to his liking and "socked" it for two bags. The resultant pair of tallies put the Maroon and White in the lead. Again two men were able to get on bases when Eddie Schwarz walked up with murder in his eye. His double base blow put the game on ice for both men came in. The final count was six to two.

Blevins was pitching the kind of ball for which he is famous, that of becoming invincible in the pinches, and the team gave him air-tight support. Only one error was chalked up the whole nine stanzas and that was when Pete Carl over-threw third base.

When the Logger apple knockers have something to play for they become unbeatable and their performance last Friday places them among the premier ball club of the Northwest.

On Thursday however, they dropped a practice game to the Pacific outfit. Les Wahlers started on the mound, but after five runs had crossed the plate with only one out he was "jerked," in favor of Votaw, who held them to two hits during the remainder of the contest. Vern pitched fine ball and with control and experience will be an asset to the hurling corps of the college. In that game Wes Aldrich collected four hits out of five times at bat. Frank Wilson also found his batting eye and garnered a three-bagger in each of the frays.

CINDER MEET CALLED OFF

Owing to the nearness of their meet with O. A. C. the University of Washington yearling cinder squad was forced to cancel its meet with the College of Puget Sound. Coach Seward expected the meet in the nature of a tryout for the Salem trip.

Mabel Swanson, former Puget Sound student, has been pledged to the National Honorary Scholastic Fraternity, Pi Beta Kappa, at the University of Washington.

afternoon, at the coast conference meet. One was in the mile, the other in the two mile. In the latter jog he defeated the national intercollegiate champion.

Another seventh-inning rally has been chalked up to the credit of the Logger ball tossers this time in the Pacific game. Four runs in the lucky inning put the game on ice for the locals.

WILL THE TEAM MAKE THE TRIP?

The College of Puget Sound baseball nine has won the championship of the western division of the Northwest Conference. The squad is one of the classiest in these parts and has merited all the praise that it has received. The Loggers are within striking distance of the Conference pennant.

This year the Maroon and White has good baseball material. However, four members of this outfit leave in June, never to return as students of the college. Bruce Blevins, the best hurler in the conference, and one whose like will not be seen often at Puget Sound is a member of the graduating class. Eddie Schwarz, former Fern Hill manager, is also lost by the cap-and-gown route. Pete Carl, "short patcher," is another member of the dignified class whose brainy playing will be missed. Gard Shuler goes East next fall to study music. From these facts it can clearly be seen that now is the time to strike, and to garner the first conference pennant offered.

The athletic department is shy on funds, but if a guarantee can be obtained from Whitman, the eastern title holders, there ought to be enough school spirit in the College of Puget Sound, to raise by popular subscription the remainder of the amount necessary to send the team. The track squad has a good chance to cop the cinder meet and two conference championships, would definitely place the home institution in the lead in athletics.

PUGET SOUND TENNIS SQUAD IN TOURNAMENT

LOGGERS REPRESENTED BY FRANKLIN AND MORTON JOHNSON IN MEET

The College of Puget Sound two-man tennis squad left yesterday morning for Walla Walla, where they play today the first round of the Northwest Conference racquet tournament. The six schools of the conference will be represented. They are: The College of Puget Sound, The College of Idaho, Whitman College, upon whose courts the meet is being held, Pacific University, Linfield College, and Puget Sound's old rivals, Willamette University.

While nothing is known of the relative strength of the several schools it is an acknowledged fact that the Logger net squad of this year is not up to the standard set in previous seasons. Last year the Logger racquet wielders lost the singles but took the doubles from the Oregon Agricultural College. This spring most of the material is new and the men are so taken up by student affairs that time for proper practice has not been available. The rains that have been interfering with the other sports have also hindered the tennis men.

This morning at eight o'clock the first round will be played and at ten thirty the second. The doubles will be run off on Saturday.

Those representing the Maroon and White are Morton Johnson and Franklin Johnson. "Mort" is a letterman and a player of some experience, while Frank is playing his first intercollegiate tennis.

When summer comes, the local ball fans will find several Logger men in the City League. All will be playing for the Sixth Avenue team.

Eddie Schwarz is the field captain of Sixth's. Horse Blevins will pitch for the Avenuers in vacation time. Wes Aldrich, Vern Votaw and Frank Wilson will appear in suits under field-captain Schwarz.

It is expected that with the advent of these men, the Sixth Avenue squad will make a strong bid for the League title.

Strokes From The Racquet

Served by Boze

We still have some courts in this country where everyone is on equal footing.

Out at Parkland the girls of Pacific Lutheran College are loudly calling for a tennis meet with the women from some other school. It would certainly be great for Puget Sound to answer their wants.

We men "holler" about growing up but by the looks of some around here they are in their second childhood.

What next? Reformers are talking about prohibiting one arm driving on tennis courts.

A "cut" is not very popular with a tennis player.

I think someone is trying to throw cold water on the Freshman Tennis Team's meets. Twice they have been postponed on account of rain.

Professor Kelly is so used to serving doubles in both courts that he automatically passes out 4's.

Anyway the girls' tournament was a reducing success for some.

After watching "Hub" Huseby and "Ed" Sizer struggling on the courts the other day I gave up trying to decide who the girl was, at whom they were waving their racquets.

Ima Racquet says that their butcher doesn't sell those "tennis chops" she has heard so much about.

Some people are doubtful if "Big" Tilden will reign as the World's champion this coming year on account of the brilliant showing of the French Stars, La Coste and Barota, this season.

LOCAL RACQUET WIELDERS EASILY DEFEATED BY REED TENNIS MEN

The College of Puget Sound tennis team were defeated last Saturday when they met the Reed College racquet squad at the Point Defiance courts. The Oregon team won the three matches easily without the loss of a set.

Shapiro and Atkinson represented Reed against Morton Johnson and Franklin Johnson, first and second men respectively. Shapiro took his match 7-5, 6-0 and Atkinson won from Franklin Johnson 6-4, 6-4.

The doubles were won by Reed by the score of 6-4, 7-5. The southern team showed a well planned system of play and proved to be better than the Loggers in every way.

The Loggers were handicapped by a lack of practice caused by the incessant rains of the past two weeks. The games of both Johnsons were ragged and both showed up poorly in their service.

The showing of the Loggers does not speak well for their prospects for the conference meet in Walla Walla on May 21 and 22. Unless they show much better games than they have this season, they will scarcely survive the first rounds of the singles and doubles.

OUR FIRST ATTEMPT

With this issue of the "Puget Sound Trail" the new staff dons the harness, preparatory to next year's work. The remaining few issues will give them a taste of the pleasant tasks that are in store for them when they return after summer vacation. However, all of the members of the staff have gained enough experience on the "Trail" this semester or before to know what the work is like.

Morton Johnson, the editor for the past college year, has done his work well. Those who are not connected with the paper do not realize the many hours of labor his position has called for, each week of publication. The new editor realizes that it will be hard to fill his place next year, and that it will require continued efforts to keep the "Trail" improving as it has in the past.

Nor has the business manager an easy task before him. The business department of a newspaper is fully as important as the editorial end, for without the support of sufficient advertising the paper could never be published, and it is to a large extent the amount of available advertising that determines the size of the paper. Thus Russell Eierman is stepping into a real job when he undertakes the business department, so ably managed in the past year by Fordyce Johnson.

The tasks of the editor and business manager next year will be lightened considerably by very capable staffs, who have already proven their ability, and the prospects for another successful year are encouraging.

By the co-operation of the editorial and business staffs of the paper and with the support and interest of the student-body as a whole, the "Puget Sound Trail" will continue advancing along with our student-body organization and our college.

"YOU NEVER CAN TELL"

Tonight and tomorrow night those students having dramatic talent are presenting the culmination of their efforts in the All-College play, "You Never Can Tell."

The production of this play has meant a great deal of tedious rehearsing on the part of the cast and just as much work by all others connected with its presentation.

The greatest appreciation that can be shown for their efforts is a packed house both nights.

A play is also being put on tonight at one of the high schools. This should not affect the attendance of our own play by Puget Sound students, for it deserves the support of everyone on the campus, regardless of other attractions in the city.

At the one-act plays which were given a short time ago the attendance was very poor—a rather pitiful expression of "school spirit."

"You Never Can Tell" promises to be really worth seeing. Last year the plays, "Beau Brummel" and "Captain Applejack" were unusually fine productions, as all who witnessed them will testify. This year's dramatic presentation looks better yet.

There has been some complaint concerning the admission prices being charged, since they are somewhat higher than the admission to high-school plays. The greater admission prices are surely justified by the fact that college plays are backed by more experience, and consequently are superior to high school productions. Regardless of the fact that the play tonight and tomorrow night needs student support, it will be good entertainment, and from this standpoint alone no student will want to miss seeing "You Never Can Tell."

Students Touring Abroad With European Students as Hosts

Undergraduates who contemplate a trip abroad next summer will for the first time be offered the opportunity to travel in parties for which European students will act as hosts and guides; under a new system of tours, conducted under the joint auspices of the undergraduate organizations of America and Europe.

American arrangements for the direction of the National Student tours are going forward under the Federation of America and an advisory committee headed by Dr. Stephen Duggan, president of the International Institute of Education, and including a number of college president and internationally known figures. In Europe the tours will be in the hands of the Confederation Internationale des Etudiants, while John Rothschild, president of the "Open Road," will act as the agent of all three bodies in caring for accommodations and determining itineraries.

Parties of twelve or fourteen students will travel under the direction of a leader carefully picked by the administration. A choice of twelve routes is offered, each to consume roughly three months and to cost between $500 and $700. Trips will cover England, France, Germany, northern Italy, Austria, and the Balkans, having as a universal feature a stay of some time at the student camp in Geneva, to give the members of the tours an opportunity to watch the workings of the League of Nations at close range.

The radical departure from the time-worn method of "doing Europe" lies in the fact that almost without exception European students will accompany parties throughout their trip, providing the connecting link between the traveler and the country through which he goes, heretofore so conspicuously lacking. The plan of accommodations in Europe follows the same general scheme of keeping the undergraduate more closely in touch with the life around him than is possible if he stops at the more frequented hotels run for the benefit of Americans. As a consequence quarters in college dormi-

FORMER STUDENT PAYS PROLONGED VISIT

Whatever is the attraction, we will not investigate, but the fact remains that an alumnus of the College of Puget Sound has recently been spending much of his time around these halls.

The party in question is "Van" Van Devanter, an old letterman of the basketball and baseball squads. He has been teaching up at the Ferndale High School this year and has held the position of general athletic coach. He captained the Ferndale Athletic Club basketball five which played the Logger quintet last winter.

His high school teams have had a successful season and he has built up a good "prep" school athletic squad.

The vacation up there has begun and "Van" is now able to "loaf" in peace. He may attend summer school.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY

The able editors of the Cornell Sun are hard at work on a critique of the curriculum after the manner of the Harvard Crimson's famous criticisms. The Sun explains that the criticisms "pretend to be, and will be, nothing more than the mere personal reaction of a supposedly normal undergraduate to a course which he has taken."

"Every effort will be made to avoid carping criticism and cheap smartness. The articles will be the thoughtful, honest, and sincere opinions of undergraduates. Where the course is considered to be conducted in an admirable manner, the article will say so. When certain weaknesses or fallacies are seen by undergraduates, the articles will likewise say so."

Rastus: Goin' to have a garden dis year?
Rufus: Yes indeed; mah wife's back's gettin' better.

ories, private homes, pensions, and the like have been provided, making possible the low cost of the tours.

Full details of the tours will shortly be in the hands of the representatives of the National Student Federation in the various colleges. The tours will be open to both men and women, in separate parties, adequate provision being made in each case for chaperoning the feminine contingent. Application to enroll as a member of one of the parties must be made before June 1st, to permit necessary adjustments in personnel to be completed before the date of sailing.

Vacation to the Rescue

By Wilma Zimmerman
Just as April showers bring May flowers, (maybe), so do worried, meek expressions, and much cramming bring a passing grade, (maybe). At least that is what these worried expressions would have us believe.

Vacation days, like the beautiful maiden of fairy stories is waiting for the hero of the tale, our nifty college student, to appear and rescue her from her bonds of work and study. Feature the fair lady in despair, anxiously awaiting the appearance of her knight, wearying of her irksome bonds, nay, even starving, while she lies tied just out of reach of a date tree full of luscious fruit. Can't you just see the luncheons, parties, mountain and seashore trips hanging from that date tree?

Sh! listen, do we hear the timely approach of our knight errant? Ah! here he appears with a large "P" on his manly chest. See how he smiles when he sees vacation in the distance. Surely he'll loose her from those bonds of school and work, and together they'll feast on that wonderful date tree. But, wait, what is this we see? Lo and behold, ye villain approacheth.

What an ugly looking fellow he is, a regular giant, and extremely black. He is dressed in a uniform of worn, erased, and blackened papers. Heavens! his sleeve looks like a paper we wrote for English. In his ears are glittering earrings, no, not rings, but tiny brilliant 4-s. Now we recognize him, don't you? He is the bane of every college student's life. He is Final Exams.

But what is he doing here? The villain is going to keep our hero from Vacation! Will our knight conquer the ugly fellow? Oh for some aid for our Logger. Vacation languishes. Someone is coming! It's the knight's white winged horse, Time. A few shots of those white hoofs and the days will fly from under old Final Exams. There he goes! At last, with a final swing of hoofs, Time has downed old Final Exams. Now our Knight of
