Reballot Necessary in Class Meeting to Elect President and Vice President of Fourth Year Group; Others Also Select Officers; Freshmen Nominated for Second Semester Voting

Senior Day May 24
May 24 was selected as the date for Senior Day, a newly formed tradition which the Class of 1929 is inaugurating. There will be a whole days given over to the seniors with a Senior chapel, and a Senior play to be given in the evening.

No other details as to Senior Day were given out by the committee in charge of the event. The treasurer also urged all seniors to pay their dues before the semester is over so that the caps and gowns may be procured as soon as possible.

Juniors Also Elect
Gordon Alcorn will be the head officer of the Junior class next semester. The other officers elected were the following: vice president, David Ferguson; secretary, Norma Judd; treasurer, Al Hotchkins; and sergeant at arms, John Garner.

Those nominated were: President, John Cochran; Victor Ranta and Leonard O'Keefe; vice president, Marie Helmer and Harold Bergeson; secretary, Alice Berry and John O'Connor; treasurer, Carl Eshelman, Harold Brown and Clayton Ferry; sergeant at arms, Robert Hurworth.

Franklyn Nyhart, the present sophomore president appointed a committee composed of Floyd Sommers, chairman, Helen Ritchie, Beth Latham and John O'Connor, to take care of the decorations for the all-college banquet which will be held next semester.

Freshmen Do Not Nominate
On account of the fact that there is expected to be a considerable change in the personnel of the freshman class next semester, no officers were nominated or elected by the first year class. The only action taken was that of appointing the committee to take care of the decoration of the freshman table at the all-college banquet.

GRID SQUAD UNBEATEN FOR THREE YEARS

Albion, Mich.: For the first time in thirty-six years, an Albion College football team has completed a season without a tie or a defeat. Besides winning the M. I. A. A. championship for the first time since 1922, Albion beat Valparaiso University by a score of 12-0, the Detroit Institute of Technology 25-0, and M. S. C. 3-0.

Chloroform Odor, Plus Lost Cat Means Big Mystery for Fraternity to Solve

When a man bites a dog, that is news, and when a certain fraternity lost its mouser, well, it was sad news to the members concerned.

Tabby was acquired with the fraternity house. A more loving, affectionate, well-mannered Maltese could scarcely be imagined. Curled upon a student's knee, his melodious purring helped in the digestion of Chaucer or Ibanez, sociology or physics.
But kitty strayed from the narrow path of rectitude and brought down the fire of vengeance upon his head. Seized with a spirit of mischief, he mounted to the presidential suite,

$5000 OFFERED FOR ORATIONS BY SOCIETY

National Oratorical Contest Offers Cash Prizes to Speakers

The National intercollegiate oratorical contest on the Constitution, which has been conducted for the past four years by the Better America federation of California, will be continued this year, according to an announcement from contest headquarters, 1217 National Press building, Washington.

The prizes will be the same as in previous years, namely $5,000 in cash, divided among the seven national finalists in the following amounts: First place, $1500; second, $1,000; third, $750; fourth, $550; fifth, $450; sixth, $400 and seventh, $350. The national finals will be held in Los Angeles on June 20.

Any bona fide undergraduate student in any university or college in the United States is eligible. The orations, which must not require more than ten minutes for delivery, must be on one of the following subjects: The Constitution, Washington and the Constitution, Hamilton and the Constitution, Jefferson and the Constitution, Marshall and the Constitution, Franklin and the Constitution, Madison and the Constitution, Webster and the Constitution, and Lincoln and the Constitution.

The nation is divided into seven regions for the purposes of the contest. The colleges in each region compete among themselves, generally by states, to determine the finalists for each region. The regional finalists compete late in May to determine the one speaker from each region who is to have a place in the National finals. A place in the national finals automatically carries with it an award ranging from $350 to $1500, according to the ratings given the different national finalists.

Colleges may be enrolled in the contest by action of either a college official or a student. Entries close March 15. The spokesman for each college must be designated by April 15. Regional semi-finals will be held April 27.

The national finalists of 1928 were Carl Albert, University of Oklahoma, winner of first place; Herbert Wenig, Stanford university, winner of second place; Allan Frew, Davidson college, North Carolina, winner of third place; Lee F. Lybarger, Jr., Bucknell university, winner of fourth place; William H. Conley, Loyola university, Chicago, winner of fifth place; Philip H. Glatfelter, Princeton university, winner of sixth place, and Paul V. Keyser, Jr. Massachusetts Institute of Technology, winner of seventh place.

PICTURES MUST BE FINISHED AT ONCE

All Seniors who have not had their pictures taken for The Tamanaw must do so this week. We are very glad to announce that most of the senior class have attended to this matter but the few who have not must get down to the Studio by Saturday at the latest.

Mr. Lee prefers that all students make appointments by phone before going down for the picture. By doing this you will not have to spend extra time waiting for someone else.

For those students who work, the studio will be open on Sundays from 11 o'clock until 4. Pictures will be taken on Sundays by appointment.

Remember that the studio is in the California building on Pacific avenue, two doors south of Eleventh street.

All Juniors are urged to make appointments now for their pictures, also all underclassmen.

J. RADEMAKER AND S. CRIPPEN DEBATE U. S. C. MARCH 18

Men's Debate Teams Selected After Elimination Contests Held Here After Tryouts

On March 26 Shigeo Tanabe and Merrill Dennett will meet the team from the University of Baylor; Phillip Berg and Arthur Martin are to debate the Montana State College; and John Rademaker and Shigeo Tanabe will oppose the University of Wyoming team. The question for these last three debates is: "Resolved, that there should be a substitute for trial by jury."

Experienced Men Out
Rademaker, Law and Tanabe are all experienced lettermen. Martin and Tanabe, both sophomores, are both showing excellent debating ability. Dennett, and Crippen are the only freshmen on the squad.

The varsity reserve men are Lester Seinfeld, freshman; Hughey Arnett, junior; and James Owens, freshman.

The freshman team that is to meet the University of Washington in Seattle is composed of Carlton Wood and Merrill Dennett. The team that meets the University men here at the college is composed of Samuel Crippen and Lester Seinfeld.

CLOSED PERIOD NEXT WEEK

It has become customary for colleges with high grade standards to provide a closed week before semester examinations. This period is in some colleges, fourteen days in length and in others about ten days, starting the Monday before examination week.

At the College of Puget Sound this is being followed out and no plans are made for college social functions during the closed period. The literary societies and fraternities and sororities are also not meeting until after examinations.

The purpose of the closed period is two-fold. First it gives the student a chance to put all his time on his school work and not be taken up with activities. There is time for make up work, to finish term papers and prepare for the examinations. Second the student has time to catch up on sleep and get well rested before the mental strain which comes with examinations.

HUSKIES' 5 DEFEAT LOGGER SQUAD IN SEATTLE BY 46-19

Maroon Team Outplayed From Start by Purple Tornado; Show Flashes of Fight Near End

Washington Used 13 Men In Puget Sound Games Swanson High Point

Puget Sound basketballers took a sweet trimming at the hands of the University of Washington Monday night in Seattle when the Huskies became voracious and chewed all local basketball aspirations to pieces. The score was 46 to 19.

The Loggers were outplayed from start to finish, although towards the end of the game they showed a flash of form and scored several baskets from the field, much to the surprise of everyone present.

LOGGERS PRIMED FOR MAROON VICTORY OVER PURPLE QUINTET

Home Team Will Attempt Comeback After Overwhelming Defeat in Seattle; Hope to Repeat 1928 Win Over Husky Squad Here; Experts Hold But Little Hope

Monday night the College of Puget Sound basketball team will play host to the University of Washington quintet in a return engagement, the second of a home and home series. The game to be played at the college gymnasium is to start at 8 o'clock.

With their defeat at the hands of the Husky players last Monday evening fresh in their minds the Loggers have put in a strenuous week of practice. It is the players desire to even the series or at least give the invaders an interesting evening.

NEWBEGIN CUP GOES TO PHILO DEBATE TEAM

Mildred Martin and Lillian Burklund Debate Frat Question

The Philomathean debate team composed of Mildred Martin and Lillian Burklund defeated the Amphictyon team of Iverson Stark and John Rademaker and won the James G. Newbegin inter-society debate trophy last Monday evening in the college auditorium before a large audience.

The Philomatheans upheld the negative side of the question: Resolved, that college fraternities should be abolished.

The winning team, in upholding its side of the question based its argument on four well defined points:

1. That there is a definite need for fraternities and sororities.
2. That these organizations are beneficial to the individual.
3. That these organizations are also beneficial to the college.
4. That the fraternities are not as bad as their enemies make them out to be.

The Amphictyon team based its arguments on the following points:

1. That fraternities no longer fulfill their original functions.
2. Fraternities have developed certain characteristics exceedingly harmful to the individual.
3. The fraternity system is attacking the institution of colleges.
4. The system of interest-groups as used at Stanford, is an improvement over the present fraternity system.

The chairman of the debate was Prof. Alfred Mathews. Judges were: C. T. Miller, supervisor of vocational educational work in the Tacoma schools; J. R. Lautzenhiser, superintendent of the Yelm schools; Fredrick A. Roadway, a teacher in the Tacoma school system.

FLOOR BLAMED

The poor showing that the Maroon made in Seattle last Monday was due in part to the fact of the massive construction of the university field house. Having been used to playing in a small gymnasium, in comparison to the state schools, the Loggers were lost on the floor of the university. With this handicap overcome and the fact that the game will be played on the local floor, it is expected a close and exciting game will be played.

Just who the two coaches will start is not certain but it is expected that the same lineups that started in the previous engagements will start next Monday.

Coach Hubbard will likely have Frank Gillihan and Ray Croxell in at forward. In Croxell, the mentor has developed a scoring ace, who can be depended upon. He led the offensive attack last week and although he played center against a team who would shoot and shoot above him he played a credible game. Gillihan is a mighty smart basketballer. He is the pivot man in the Logger attack and has developed into a good floor general of the percentage system of play.

At center, Eddie Bassett, the lanky freshman has been in suit the past week and has been getting into a little scrimmage. Eddie is wearing a knee brace that slows him up some but his height will mean much to the Loggers in getting an even break at the tip-off.

Coach Hubbard has a number of guards that he can depend upon. Onie Hannus, a three-year veteran and the one who was responsible for the low score of Washington's shooting ace last year has been going strong. Dave Ferguson, who plays center when Bassett is not in the game, will be one of the starting lineup. Lees and Schwen, both freshmen, are both strong offensive as well as defensive players. Hendry has been playing either forward or guard and his height and speed are two of his advantages.

ANENT SCHOOL SPIRIT

Just walk down Puget Sound's halls any day of the week. On all sides of you, you can hear, complaints and more complaints on what! Someone says "This town of Tacoma is surely the poorest town to support any college that I have ever seen;" or something like this, "I have never seen such a dead listless town, they don't even know we have a college up here."

Well some of you complaining students just stop to consider, yourself what you are doing for your town or your College.

Just by way of illustration.
Last Wednesday and Thursday the Loggers played a fast going and really high class basketball team from Oregon. The games were a success from all angles except from the attendance. The students did not turn out at all. In fact there were fewer persons from school out to those games than there are persons at the daily fraternity and sorority games. Those that did attend proved themselves to be somewhat of a weary, listless crowd. Little in their actions would have inspired any player to give his all for dear old "Siwash."

The varsity has played six games to date and the total attendance of students at these games does not total more than three hundred. And it is always the same old standbys who come out for each game, they root and turn out for everything and you can just bet anything you wish, that these are not the students who are complaining, yea continually complaining of the school, town and spirit.

It can be said without exception that the school spirit at the College of Puget Sound is the poorest and lowest of any college in the Northwest conference. With school spirit so weak kneed and listless, how can anyone expect a town of Tacoma's size to back the College whole heartedly in its quest for recognition?

This lack of school spirit is not only a problem of this year but has been with us through this past football season, and also last year basketball, and spring sport season. This listlessness is not only shown in sports but is shown in everything that the students have attempted to be interested in.

A prominent member of one of Tacoma's greatest service clubs once said to the writer: "How can your students expect our organization to help them put their games and programs across for them, when they will not support their own affairs, or work for their own interests." This man incidentally has been the best friend of the college through the past grad season and he has given unselfishly of his time and money and has used his youthful energy to make Puget Sound a better college. So he is not a knocker, but a real booster but he is beginning to get discouraged in his work for the institution.

The only thing left for the students to do is to either, put their whole heart and soul into working for greater attendance at games, and working to make the games go over in a big style, or else, get rid of the sham and make no pretense that they possess school spirit and stop their complaining.

Unless you can boost and work you have no right to knock.
It would be a revelation to the writer and all persons interested in the school to see the students pack the gym at all games this season and show your team what a real peppy bunch you "can" be. Your teams are of such calibre that they deserve your support, by better attendance.—F. J. L.

"If I Were a Man" Answers a Girl to Suggestions of Mere Man on Girls Act

In Answer to "If I Were a Girl."

If I were a man, I would dress with an air of careless masculinity. I would always wear my shirt nonchalantly open at the throat, and smoke a long stemmed pipe. (Cigarettes have become too effeminate!) My hair would have a slightly tousled and informal appearance.

If a girl convinced me that I was clever enough to kiss her, I would do it with passionate perfection, as though I had kissed a thousand girls before, but she was the only one that really mattered—or I would kiss her with the air of an amateur, as though this were my first and most sacred kiss.

Once in a long while I would be very, very blue, and desperately in need of sympathy. I would stare moodily and hopelessly at some far distant object (No one need know that in reality I was mentally debating whether to buy the green tie to match my socks, or the orange one that would go so admirably with my hair), and my eyes would express the emptiness and futility of life. Then The Girl would come and cheer me up, and—oh boy! were the blues worth while?

I don't believe I would spend much time reading, if I were a man—there are too many interesting things a man can do. I would, however, wise myself up on a few fundamentals, in case I went out with a girl of literary inclinations. I would know that do it with passionate perfection, as though I had kissed a thousand girls before, but she was the only one that really mattered—or I would kiss her with the air of an amateur, as though this were my first and most sacred kiss.

When I fell in love (I would avert the calamity as long as possible, but no man, I hear, is immune) I would let The Girl know it. I wouldn't be discouraged if she treated me like dirt, because I would know she had read the article in last week's Trail entitled "If I Were a Girl" by Eric Hatch, and was merely acting on his suggestion that a girl should simply ignore the object of her dreams. I would pursue relentlessly and with cave-man tactics; I would try a good line and technique that bespoke wide experience, and when that failed I would resort to being my sincere, simple self, and I would probably get her.

He reviewed some queer and even comical decisions as handed down by the courts. He said of the system, "Our courts may be responsible for the increase in the crime in this country."

Mr. Johnson was introduced to the assembly by Prof. C. Shelton Holcom of the public speaking department who is well acquainted with the speaker.

PASTOR SPEAKS ON OTHER RELIGIONS

The Rev. Robert H. Lynn, pastor of the Sixth Avenue Baptist Church, was the speaker of the Wednesday chapel services. Lynn in his brief survey.

WHITMAN GLEE CLUB PLANS COAST TRIP

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. N. I. P.—The Whitman College Glee Club has now started its year's work in preparation for its annual spring tour. The selection of students for membership was based mainly on versatility and as a result there is an orchestra of eighteen pieces and a brass band of fourteen pieces which will accompany the Glee Club. A one-act opera which promises to be the funniest ever will be the special feature of the program presented. Helen Graham, manager, left Monday, January 14, for a ten day trip through Portland, Seattle, Yakima, and intermediate points to arrange a coast trip if possible.

TODD ATTENDS TWO MEETINGS

Dr. E. H. Sodd, president of the College of Puget Sound, has been busy for the past week in the assemblies of the Association of American colleges, and also in the annual convention of the Methodist Educational Association. Both meetings are being held at Chattanooga, Tennessee, it being a custom to hold them jointly, in order that the same delegates may attend both.

Dr. Todd will go from Chattanooga to Chicago, and from there on to Spokane, where he will speak on January 20. He will spend a few days in that city before returning to Tacoma.

Dr. Todd's purpose in making the long journey east was to attend the two conventions, but he also had other ideas in mind. He will stop to have a conference with the Rockefeller Foundation board. He also will pay fleeting visits to various teams from the college who are working on the drive for increased endowment.

MAY REVISE ASCPS CONSTITUTION SOON

Revising and making the constitution up to date by Lillian Burkland was decided upon by the Central board at last Monday's meeting.

Miss Burkland was appointed because of her work with the constitution during the past two years and her intimate knowledge of the changes adopted by the Central board at various times.

"From time to time amendments have been made to the constitution that vary in many details from the present form at printed in the Log Book," said Miss Burkland. "For example that section on page 118, which states that sweaters, when granted, shall be only to players who pass in twelve hours work during the semester in which they become eligible, and who complete two semesters work at C. P. S., has never been officially incorporated into the by laws."

"As there are several such discrepancies to be found it is obvious to see the need of a revision."

AD MEN TALK TO B. A. CLASS

Present Many Sides of Advertising

Members of Prof. Charles Battin's class in advertising were given first hand instruction in the art of advertising by several prominent members of the profession when six persons connected with local concerns gave short talks to the class during the past week.

The first talk was given Tuesday when Mr. John Condon of the Condon Company, Incorporated, spoke to the class on the economic aspects of advertising.

Mr. Condon brought out the point that advertising is selling because it is through the printed ads and descriptions of the product that there is built up a definite contact between the buyer and salesman. If a salesman were sent out on the road without some preparations made to tell the buyers of his product, the money spent by him would be more or less of an economic waste.

"Advertising," he declared, "makes selling more productive. Advertising is selling rather than just advertising."

He then showed that in advertising, a person must study the economic conditions of the country so that he will know where it will be best to put his advertising so that he can reach the majority of people that he will be able to buy.

"Los Angeles and New York," he stated, "are the two places in the country where the people are more relieved from economic pressure and are better able to buy luxuries."

On Thursday, persons connected with other branches of advertising gave the students talks on the highlights of their particular branches of work.

Mr. Roscoe Smith, of the Condon Engraving Company, Mr. J. Steadman Wood, told how the different illustrations were made, photographed and the engravings made. He showed some examples of this class of work in connection with his talk.

Mr. Robert E. Burman, of the Johnson-Cox Printing Company then told how the printer set up the type used in the advertising and later printed the ads.

How electrotypes are made was explained by Mr. Harold Bethel of the Tacoma Electrotyping Company. This work is a particular branch of advertising because it is through this type of printing that the advertiser is able to get a large distribution of his advertising.

Mrs. Mildred Dayton, art director of the Foster-Kleiser Advertising Company explained the work of planning and painting the signs for out-door advertising.

The talks were all concentrated on the part that each speaker had in planning and working out of the advertising campaign now being carried out by the city of Chehalis.

The class period on next Tuesday will be taken up in visiting the various agencies employed by the Condon Company in their work.

TRAIL HAS NEW "STYLE SHEET"

Adopted to Help Make Paper Better

While making intensive plans for a better student publication, the Trail editorial staff has adopted a "style sheet" compiled for them by the members of the advanced news writing class under Mr. Leonard Coatsworth, instructor in Journalism.

For the benefit of the uninitiated it might be well to explain what a "style sheet" is the policy of the editorial staff in regard to certain capitalization, spelling, punctuation, abbreviations and other miscellaneous items that often come up and some decision must be made.

A style sheet does not necessarily follow any set rules or standards made by text books on English composition but is rather a set of rules adopted because of the fact that there must be standards by which an editorial staff governs itself in writing the news.

A style sheet is a very important document in every newspaper office since it is the only means by which uniformity of writing can be accomplished.

THETA SORORITY CHAMPS

Mrs. Wainwright Selects All-Star Co-Ed Basketball Team Following Series

After an hour's painful and careful thought, and after wearing down three erasers, Mrs. Wainwright has chosen the women's all-college basketball team. There was enough material for three all-star teams. In many cases, the decisions were made on very fine distinctions.

Team Named

The team is as follows: forwards—Viola Van Patter, Vera Weller; side center—Betty Martin; jumping center—Lucile Phillips; guards—Mildred Martin and Ruth Seaton.

Those receiving honorable mention are: Margaret Hill, forward; Margaret Swanson, side center; Georgia Johnson, jumping center; and Lillian Boyd, guard.

With respect to classes, the seniors place two, the juniors one, the sophomores three, and the freshman four. It was one of the freshman teams that won the class championship.

Of the sororities, Kappa Sigma Theta team received one place, that of jumping center, and an honorable mention for forward. The Lambda Sigma Chis, the second on the list, have three on the team. They are forward, side center and guard. The Independents, ranking next, place two on the team and one honorable mention, forward, guard and side center.

The Gamma jumping center has honorable mention, and the Betas have honorable mention for the position of guard.

The standings of the sorority and Independent teams at the end of the series was:

	W	L	Pct.
Kappa Sigma Theta	3	0	1.000
Lambda Sigma Chi	3	1	.750
Independents	2	2	.500
Delta Alpha Gamma	1	3	.200
Alpha Beta Upsilon	0	3	.000

The Betas and Thetas did not compete against each other.

CO-ED SPORTS ARE PLANNED

Intercollegiate Tennis Is Scheduled for Tacoma

The schedule of the events to be run off in women's sports has been revised for the second semester. The competitive events will be baseball, archery, tennis and track. Class teams will be chosen for each.

All those wishing to turn out for any or all of these sports should sign up January 31. This is the official baseball turnout. Mrs. Wainwright wishes it stressed that all events are to be signed up for.

Intercollegiate Tennis

An interesting tennis tournament is expected as there is much new material, and because it is planned to have the intercollegiate tournament in Tacoma. Archery will also be prominent. If it is possible there will be an intercollegiate meet between the women of the colleges of the Northwest Conference here as a feature of the May Festival, May 2.

SIGMA ZETAS DEFEAT DPO'S

Take Game By 27-18 Score Wednesday

In the first game of the playoff of the series for the interfraternity championship, Sigma Zeta Epsilon won from Delta Pi Omicron by a score of 27 to 18 on Wednesday noon.

The Omicrons, who had previously defeated the Sigma Zetas, did not look as good as they had in other games. On the other hand, the Sigma Zetas were working together and made a good percentage of their shots.

Sigma Zetas Take Lead

From the start the Sigma Zetas took the lead and were never headed. In the first half Kepka was hitting the hoop with regularity. The losers took many shots from all angles but

MU CHI'S TRIM DELTA KAPPA FIVE BY 27-16

Playing a listless game the Sigma Mu Chi quint beat the Delta Kappa Phi team by a 27 to 16 score. The game was slow with but a little rough and tumble play injected in the second half to liven things up.

Fassett was high point man for the winners with 14 points, while Hotchkin with 9 led for the Delta Kappa Phi team.

could not connect. McKenney was high point man with 8 points while Kepka with 7 counts was next for the winners. For the losers Hostetter played a good game and made 7 counts. The work of Bowler kept the winners from scoring more than they did.

One of the largest crowds to witness an inter-mural contest was out to see the Sigma Zeta-Pi Omicron game.

WEAK SEX WEAKENING?

Where is civilization leading us? To continued and evergrowing softness of life and disposition, until even experts advocate the tender rearing, the easy way of doing things, for fear, perhaps that the more strenuous path might occasionally injure someone?

Not long ago a resolution was passed by a leading body of women against allowing the weaker sex to train for participation in the Olympic games, on the pretext that such training possibly would prove injurious.

We just wonder what those pioneer grandmothers of ours who battled their way across the plains, side by side with their husbands, who fought off Indian attacks that threatened newly made homes, who plowed frontier farms from sun to sun, think of the degeneration of their granddaughters, so that training for a short footrace is considered too much of a strain.

One of the most thrilling tales of heroic women that we have ever heard occurred at an unknown fort on the plains somewhere east of the Rockies. The time was about that of the Civil war. A farm house was in the state of siege by a tribe of Indians who just recently had taken to the path of war. Caught suddenly the men had little time to take provisions or ammunitions into the house with them. They soon began to run short of bullets and powder. Practically the whole supply was in an outhouse about a hundred yards away. Who would volunteer to risk the dash?

A young girl, claiming that the loss of her life would be felt less than that of a man, insisted on making the attempt. She came back unscathed.

This little tale, a true story, has been used as the basis of much fiction, but we can vouch for its authenticity as our grandfather was one of those that came to the rescue.

Now we wonder what this girl would think of a race of women that was too weak to be allowed to train for a little health giving sport? We doubt if she would consider such a race possible.

Nor do we. We feel that a girl of today is stronger, healthier, more able to stand the gaff than ever her mothers were, and we condemn as foolish any resolution that brands modern play as too strenuous for her.

PUGET SOUND HUMOR

Humor has many sundry and varying levels. The particular brand of humor displayed by some of the so-called "sterner" sex around this college is of a very low and crude type, that particularly adopted by children long before they enter grade schools.

The "humor" of these certain few seems to consist of a game, the object of which is to see which of the players can make the most noise in the halls and disarrange the hair of the greatest number of women students.

Another delightful game that is sure to get a "large hand" from the surrounding admiring playmates, is that of seeing who can make the most noise when he hits locker doors. This bit of diversion helps one to increase his appreciation of a first class boiler factory.

It has long been the custom of high school student to ape the actions and dress of college students, but this is the first time that we have ever seen college students ape the actions and games of grade school kids.—NMJ

CONSIDERATION, PLEASE

The Trail office is in a public place. It is used as a general meeting place for half the school, who seem to think that work can be done in spite of their presence. Students use the typewriters, property of the Trail staff, for private business and feel hurt if asked to give them up.

Now we are not objecting to the general use of the publication room so much as we are objecting to its abuse, first as a place for rough house; secondly as a place for study when all the room is needed to put out a paper; thirdly the use of the desks and typewriters, scissors and paste without leaving them in the condition in which they are found or giving them up during Trail editorial hours.

We think that the carelessness regarding these things has just been lack of due thought and we feel that more care will be taken now that the matter has been called to attention. We Thank You.

Unique Suggestions Offered For Enforcement of Prohibition Law

Education and propaganda, especially the latter, formed the most popular suggestion for enforcing the Eighteenth Amendment, receiving over 16,000 votes out of the 23,230 plans submitted in the Durant Prize Contest which closed in December of last year. Everything from capital punishment for offenders to denying liquor privileges to foreign ambassadors found a place in the plans proposed, which attacked the situation from innumerable angles.

The second proposal in number of people suggesting it was a more severe set of penalties and a more careful enforcement of them. This idea was considered important by 15,520. Of this number 2,690 felt that the consumer should have been selected for greater punishment, while the other 12,830 felt that violators in general should be more violently punished.

Penalties Suggested

Among the penalties suggested were capital punishment, convict gangs, torture (including whipping, branding, tattooing and making them go to church every Sunday) and publicity.

The third most important part of the situation, according to plan submitters, was the procedure for enforcement of the present statutes. Larger appropriations and forces and the somewhat anomolous suggestion "better type of enforcement officials" were the most popular here. Others suggested that the president of the United States select all enforcement officials, that World War veterans be used, that the officials "discontinue snooping methods," and that the men be selected by the W. C. T. U.

Physical Training for Officials

Some felt that it would be wise to have a special training school for enforcement officials. Others favored non-drinkers, and others wanted the officials bonded.

Modification of the existing statutes, especially of the Volstead Act, came fourth in the listing, with 7,856 supporters. Government manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor vied with general revision, government control of almost everything in sight from soup to nuts (referring, of course, to the kind at the Western State Hospital) and doing away with all permits, both pharmaceutical and sacramental.

Would Permit Home Brew

Others suggested permitting home brew, making bootlegging a crime, unlimited druggist prescriptions, forbidding the sale of jugs, glasses, shakers, stills, etc, and treating Volstead violators as counterfeiters are treated. Some also felt it wise to put poison in all industrial alcohols.

Next in importance came suggestions for enforcement organizations. Using the army and navy, the cabinet, the civil service, governors, the president and a committee of citizens, whatever that may or might be. Almost 7,000 people thought this phase important enough to be included in their plans.

Using state and local organizations found 2,569 advocates. Among the plans suggested in this heading were: closing night clubs, allowing wives to testify against husbands, taxing towns wherein are the most offenders and registering drinkers.

Some Blame Foreigners

Some 1,392 people were included to blame the situation here upon the inhabitants of other countries, and wished to take steps against them. And 904 people gave indirect and general suggestions for enforcement. Among these latter were many of interest. Some felt that drinking fountains on the streets would help. Others believed that drinkers should not be allowed to marry. Some favored rest rooms for the physically tired as an aid. Others thought much could be accomplished by establishing pensions for all people reaching the age of 45 and being non-drinkers.

Advocate Liquor Fountain

Some thought wets should be excluded from churches. Some advocated a public liquor fountain, to be turned off at night. Some one (presumably a woman) would not allow men to have pockets in their pants and only one in a coat, the latter to be two inches deep and no more. Ardent socialists felt that the abolition of capitalism would accomplish wonders.

But the prize suggestion of all was that every bootlegger should be required to wear red pants and that when caught without them they should be imprisoned.

CUB REPORTER HAS OWN IDEAS ABOUT THE TRUTH

By Myrtle Faulkner

Such phrases as the "adorable bride was beautifully attired in white satin," or "Harry Chest proved himself the hero of the hour by making the winning score for the Quitters Quintet" are familiar in newspapers.

Too bad the reporter couldn't give his honest opinion on events occasionally. Odd, isn't it, but most brides are labeled "adorable" and their dresses never fail to be "beautiful." However, I've seen brides that looked like Satan in their "white satin." Also, the said Harry Chest probably made the score as the one out of his fifty tries for the basket.

If the truth could be known, some of this superficial flattery would soon be eliminated. In some cases it would probably be "just too bad" for the reporter, but at least the readers would know they were getting the unhidden facts.

If the reporter in writing a story on an uninteresting meeting, say so; next time the meeting will probably be peppy. If the food was rotten at a banquet, say so; they will probably have turkey at the next feed. If the hostess at a social event wore an unbecoming dress, say so; it will be a spur to her to increase her feminine beauty.

In fact, since this is a period of freedom of speech and thought, let the newspaper be a pioneer in the movement and print nothing but the naked truth.

GYM JUBILEE A SUCCESS

fast basketball when the Alpha Chi Nu and Sigma Mu Chi clashed. The Alpha Chi Nu's winning by a 33 to 24 score.

The gym class of Mildred Martin, assistant to Mrs. Ruth Wainwright, showed very good training in their "marching tactics." This is Miss Martin's first year as assistant and her work showed up well in the marching.

Between halves of the girl's game, two teams of girls chosen from the gym classes had a relay race which consisted of running, jumping over a bench and crawling through a barrel then backing thru the barrel and over the bench. Many girls seemed to have a great deal of difficulty backing through the barrel.

Crowd Plays Game

For the final stunt, joy ball, a free for all was had, Walter Anderson taking charge.

The Gym Jubilee, as a whole was a great success this year.

"I want my tooth pulled. What do you charge?"

Dentist: "One dollar by gas and two by ether."

"Can you pull mine by kerosene for fifty cents?"

McClary regular Washington center and Jaloff regular forward, were not in the lineup Monday night. Both were forced to see the game from the sideline because of injuries received in previous encounters.

The starting lineup for Washington saw Snider, Gritsch at the forwards, Swanson at center and Bolstad and Berenson at guard. Others who saw action in the tilt were Galbraith, Peterson, Hack, Schlichting, Berlin, Danenbauer, Gaw.

Ferguson at Center

Ferguson started at center for Puget Sound, but was later shifted to guard and Croxell fanned the breeze for the rest of the game, getting the jump only once when Swanson, worn and tired from successive jumps, decided on resting. Schwen and Hendry were the only substitutes used by Hubbard.

To Schwen goes the honors of scoring the first field goal for Puget Sound. With but a few minutes to go in the first quarter, Schwen rushed upon the scene. After going hither and thither for a while he sank one from the right side of the court. Yes, the fans gave him a hand.

HUSKIES DUE MONDAY NITE

Coach "Hec" Edmundson, the congenial leader of the Washington Huskies, has a large number of men to choose from for Monday's game. His favorite team this year has been "Monty" Snider and "Jiggs" Jaloff at the forward positions. Last week McClary and Jaloff were on the hospital list and did not see action. But if one man is missing, Edmundson does not worry very long for he has men aplenty for each end every place on the five man team. Long, short and medium, he has just about what he wants or needs.

Swanson, a six and half footer, was high point last week and played full time at center. Hack, Peterson, Berlin, Davenbauer, and Galbraith are good guards and Schlichting, Gaw or Gritsch can work at forward.

The Huskies are playing Oregon tomorrow night in what promises to be a close contest. The team that wins has an excellent chance for the Northern division championship of the coast. After a game of this type there is usually a let up which is in the Loggers favor.

The management has announced ticket sale of reserved seats at $1.00 and general admission of $.75. College students must present their student body cards or have a paid admission ticket.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB DISCUSSES RACES

The program of the Cosmopolitan Club at their last meeting was a discussion on International race problems. Social problems resulting from race contracts were the chief concern. Understanding of each other's religion, education, and culture was brought out as the greatest factor toward a more friendly attitude between nations.

Since these problems are quite difficult and hard to solve, there is a continuous effort of the members to investigate possible solutions. The next meeting will be on February 5.

Following the Sigma Zeta victory over the Chi Nu quintet yesterday Coach Clyde W. Hubbard, College of Puget Sound basketball coach selected two all-star quints from among the 40 or more players that were entered in the Greek letter tournament during the last two weeks and a half.

Out of the first five the Sigma Zeta squad placed two, the Alpha Chi Nu one, the Sigma Mu Chi one, and the Delta Pi Omicron, one, Sigma Zeta Epsilon also had two on the second selection as did Sigma Mu Chi. Alpha Chi Nu landed one on this election.

The fraternity series found dope upset to some degree inasmuch as the Delta Pi Omicron quint, not given much of a chance by the experts forced its way into the finals with wins over the Zetas and the Cows, while the Mu Chi five, on paper a powerful aggregation, could not get together and dropped some heart-breaking games.

In an interview Thursday evening Hubbard gave reasons for his all-star selection. Purvis, he said, won the opening encounter from the Mu Chi squad with his long shots when his team had to come from behind in the last minutes to win. His consistent scoring made him a threat

CHI NU'S WIN FROM PI OMICRON QUINT

Playing the final scheduled game of the closest and most interesting inter mural basketball series the Alpha Chi Nu quintet won from the Delta Pi Omicron team 36 to 17, Tuesday afternoon. As a result the Alpha Chi Nu, Sigma Zeta Epsilon and Delta Pi Omicron teams were tied and a play off series was necessary to decide the winner of the W. C. Bell trophy.

In Tuesday's game, the Alpha Chi Nu team had things their own way. During the first half, Lees made most of the winners points while in the second half LePenske located the basket on four different occasions. LePenske was high point man with 12 while Lees collected 9 points for runner up.

The Omicrons were not the team that had previously defeated all oppositions. The long distance shooting of this team that had been the threat of the Pi Omicrons was not effective. Spencer led the losers in scoring with 7 points.

and his play was above the average. Spencer was the mainstay of the Omicron squad which forced its way into the playoff, his accurate eye for the basket making him a dangerous opponent at all times.

Glennwood Platt, at center, is the mainstay of his squad in the Tacoma city league, and in the fraternity league proved to be the chief point getter for his team. He is fast and has a nice eye.

John Garnero, according to Hubbard, was the best guard in action. He broke up many opposing plays and scored in practically every game. Whit Lees was the mainspring of the Alpha Chi Nu attack. A nice long-shot, Lees combined this shooting ability with exceptional floor play and was one of the individual stars of the series.

The second selection, in some cases contains the names of men who very nearly rated the first call but because deficiencies in one department or because of an off day did not quite rank up to the other standard.
