ALL COLLEGE BANQUET TO HAVE LARGEST ATTENDANCE ON RECORD

Social Hall in Scottish Rite Cathedral to Be Scene Of Colorful Event; Interclass Competition for Honors in Decoration Is Keen; Hotel Winthrop Trio to Play

Stupendous in size, and delightful in anticipation will be the annual All-College Banquet, to be held February 21, in the large social hall of the Scottish Rite Cathedral at 6:30 p. m., where all will gather about the festive table for refreshment of the body and mind.

Admission is by student body card only or a dollar plate charge for the alumni, faculty, and night school students as well as for those who have failed to bring their student body cards. The price of the banquet is included in the regular associated students fee.

INFORMAL AFFAIR

It is to be an informal, no-date affair, and reservations of all those planning to attend must be handed to the class presidents if they have not already signed up for it in chapel.

Competition between the classes is going to be extremely keen for the prize—an immense box of candy, which is to be presented to the winning table during the banquet.

To be sure of no partisanship a judging committee will be selected from the faculty.

"Our Country," is to be the theme or motif of the whole banquet, decorations and program.

Seniors Are "North"

In table decorations the seniors will portray the North, Juniors the East; sophomores, the South, and Freshmen the West. Class committee chairmen for this are: Audrey-Dean Albert, senior; Lucille Veatch, junior; Floyd Sommers, Sophomores, and Betty Robbins, Freshmen.

Juniors and Seniors will be surrounded on either side by the frosh and sophs, while the faculty, alumni and the night school students will sit at the head of the gathering. Speakers of the evening will have a special table on the stage.

Credit for the success of the banquet is to go to the general committee: Martha Ann Wilson, chairman and senior representative; Elmer Austin, senior, and associate chairman; Lucille Veatch, junior; Leonard Unkefer, sophomore; Ida Bowlin, Freshmen.

"Our Country" Is Theme

The program, carrying out the motif, "Our Country," is as follows:

- Sail on, Thou Ships of State — Amos Booth
- Crown Thy Good With Brotherhood — Dr. Todd
- Snowbound — Minard Fassett
- (Music) Solo — Mary Milone
- Waiting for the Sunrise — Betty Gilbert
- Carry Me Back to Old Virginia — Olive Rees
- Where the World is in Making — Harry Brown
- Sweet Land of Liberty — Dean Lemon

SKIT PRESENTED IN STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Combining business and entertainment, student assembly yesterday proved both amusing and instructive. A clever skit advertising the All-College banquet to be held next Thursday evening, was sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity.

Those participating were: Reitha Gehri, Ina Ruth Coffman, Elizabeth Jones, Van McKenny, Philip Berg, Bob Young, Wilbur Goss, Alice Johnson, Mary McNeerthney, James Owens, Elmer Austin, Audrey Dean Albert, Wilma Zimmerman, Betty Pugh and Phyllis Culver, Elsie Anderson, accompanied by Audrey Dean Albert, gave a vocal solo.

A proposed amendment to the Constitution was read for the second time by Evelyn Bjorkman. William Law offered a suggestion to change the By-Laws in such a way that the Athletic Manager be appointed instead of elected.

DR. MAGEE WILL SPEAK IN SPECIAL CHAPEL TUESDAY

Dr. J. Ralph Magee, Pastor of the First Methodist Church of Seattle, and one of our College Trustees, will address the student body Tuesday morning in the auditorium at the regular chapel period. The Trustees of the College will be present at the service.

On account of chapel on Tuesday, there will be none on Wednesday.

LAPPENBUSCH AND GILLIHAN SHARE HONORS

Football Awards Given To Both Squads In Chapel Monday

Frank Gillihan, third year man, and Charles Lappenbusch, second year man on the varsity football squad, were awarded highest honors by Coach Hubbard at the annual football assembly held Monday, February 11, in the auditorium during chapel period. Frank Gillihan received the Johnson-Cox cup which is given each year to the man who has been the greatest inspiration to the football team. Those who won the trophy for the last two years are Amos Booth and Gordon Tatum.

With a total average of B, Charles Lappenbusch has the honor of being the first to have his name on the new Mahneke cup which will go each year to the varsity football man standing highest in scholarship, while Harry Brown of the reserve team held the highest average of the entire squad.

19 Get Varsity Awards

After a short talk expressing the appreciation and esteem of the student body and faculty, football sweaters and certificates were awarded by Professor Robbins to the following varsity men: Amos Booth, Bert Kepka, Ralph Brear, Dave Ferguson, John Garner, Frank Gillihan, John Gardner, Charles Lappenbusch, Fred LePenske, George Tibbits, and Harold Brotman. Absent members of the team receiving sweaters were Theodore Bankhead, Onnie Hannus, Bob Hurworth, Spence Purvis, Lee Graves, Victor Ranta, Chester Rhodes, and Donald Shotwell.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB RETURNS AFTER A SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Puget Sound Singers Give Fifteen Concerts In Seven Day Tour

To Be at Stellagoom This Evening; Home Program In March

The Men's Glee Club of the College of Puget Sound returned to the campus Thursday morning after a trip into the northern part of the state. The club left a week ago Wednesday, making fifteen appearances and giving a varied program of classical and semi-classical numbers, with several specialty acts.

On the whole, according to Charles Anderson, glee club manager, the concert tour was quite successful. In the majority of the programs the singers were greeted by well-filled auditoriums and enthusiastic audiences. In spite of the inclement weather, the trip of some five hundred miles was made with only minor mishaps, and a few colds and sore throats are the only reminders of the eight days' absence.

The club left in a caravan of four cars Wednesday morning, February 6. Their first appearance was a matinee concert at Bothell, which was received with much enthusiasm. Then the singers got under way once more, stopping in Issaquah in time for dinner. The concert in the evening, which was very well received, was given to a full house at the Community Church. Following this, the club members were taken to various homes of the community for the night.

Thursday morning the cars left for La Connor. Here an advertising program was given in the afternoon. In the evening an enthusiastic crowd gave the glee clubbers an ovation. Following the concert, the high school student body were hosts at an informal party for members of the club. The members again stayed at nearby homes for the night.

Friday the Puget Sound men drove to Burlington where they gave an advertising program in the afternoon. In the evening the singers gave the worst program of the trip before a slim audience in the Burlington High School.

Go to Nooksack

Saturday morning found the four cars, now augmented by a coupe picked up in Burlington, passing through the beautiful stretch of road south of Bellingham, known as Chuckanut Drive. In the evening a full gymnasium at Nooksack listened with enthusiasm to the numbers. The night was spent at a hotel in Everson.

STUDENT CHAPEL PROGRAM TO BE PATRIOTIC IN IDEA

The next student chapel program will be given on Monday morning. The theme will be linked up with the spirit of the month, hence, will be more or less patriotic in nature.

The programs heretofore have been really worthwhile, and much credit is due to the following people, who comprise the committee: chairman, Bernice Sprinkle, Dorothy Ruth Scott, John Rademaker, Leonard Unkefer, Louis Peby, Martha Ann Wilson, Bob Evans, and the adviser, Professor Frederick.

WOMEN WILL DEBATE HERE

To Meet Team Wednesday From Bellingham Normal

The first women's home debate will be held next Wednesday afternoon, at two o'clock in the auditorium where the negative team for the College of Puget Sound will argue with the Bellingham Normal affirmative team.

Cloma Norton and Inez Brandt will represent Puget Sound on the question, Resolved: That the plea of temporary insanity in defense of crime should be abolished. The same question will be debated at Bellingham, where Lillian Burkland and Georgia Johnson will defend the college on the affirmative side.

A debate with Pacific Lutheran College will be held here on February 28, Marion James and Georgia Johnson arguing for the College of Puget Sound.

TRYOUTS HELD FOR ALL-COLLEGE PLAY

The All-College play tryouts were held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium. They were not entirely completed and the remaining parts will be tried out this afternoon.

Prof. C. S. Holcomb, dramatic director, was unable last night to make any definite statement about the cast.

Those who tried out for the parts are: Mrs. Fair, Elizabeth Jones, Audrey-Dean Albert, Margaret A. Miller, Mrs. Brynat, Jeffrey Fair (father), Bob Evans, Elmer Austin, Ed Burroughs, Angelica Brice, the attractive young widow, Alice Johnson, Margaret Alleman, Elizabeth Little, Reitha Gehri, Maritta Hunt, Ada Anabel; Sylvia, Pauline Voelker, Mary Frances LePenske; Peggy, Bonnie Reeder, Beth Latham, Betty Pugh, Minabel Stephens, Theo Barwick, Phyllis Culver.

Allen, Wilbur Goss, Bill Gellerman, Bob Young, Guy Hughes, E. Dudley Gillette, James Skewis, Bill Kellogg; Nora, the maid, Madge Miller.

No one has tried out yet for the part of Mrs. Hillel Brown; Mrs. Stewart Perrin, Mrs. Leslie Converse, Mrs. Norman Wynne and Mrs. Gilbert Wells.

PUGET SOUND BASKETEERS LOSE TO WHITMAN BY LARGE SCORE

Loggers Start Strong in First Half But Missionaries Overcome Lead in Northwest Conference Game at Walla Walla

Whitman swamped the College of Puget Sound basketball team 55 to 20. The score at half time was 24 to 7. Loggers seem tired after long trip. Gillihan was high point man for his team with nine points.

LOSE GONZAGA GAME

Meeting the Gonzaga Bulldogs in the first game of the eastern Washington tour the Puget Sound Loggers were defeated 50 to 37 last Wednesday night at Spokane.

The Bulldogs got off to a fast start and near the end of the first half with but two minutes to play, had a score of 21 to 4. At this time the Logger team got together and started an offensive drive that brought the score at mid time to 24 to 12.

Loggers Start Playing

After the rest period the Maroon continued the scoring attack and brought the count to 24 to 22 before the Bulldog outfit could get going again.

From this time on the game became faster with the Spokane team keeping a couple of jumps ahead of the Tacomans.

Gillihan and Croxell were about the only Loggers that could find the basket, each collecting 12 points. For the Gonzagans, Schoenecker, Leveaux, and Murphy did the most scoring, netting 15, 14 and 11 points in the order given.

SCHOLARSHIP VS. GREEKS

When the faculty of the College of Puget Sound recently made an iron bound ruling on who fraternities could and could not pledge, they took away from the organized Greek letter men and women the greatest power any organization ever had; that of having the exclusive rights of determining the standards by which the future members of the organization may be chosen.

The principal bone of contention is that of scholarship. As the rule stands, an organization will have to look at a prospect's record before there is any thought or mention of pledging. This man or woman may be a very desirable type to get into a fraternity and one whose talents may be lost to the school if the proper impetus is not given. According to the ruling, the fraternities will have to pass up this person should his grades not measure up to faculty standards.

The big job of the fraternity is to make the best possible men and women out of its members. To get the best possible material, it must have the right to set its own standards of membership. Any attempt to curtail this right will necessarily curtail the possibilities of fraternal development. There is no other organization that can do for a man what the fraternity is capable of doing, providing its work is carried on without interference.

It would have been much better had the faculty offered a cup or other trophy to be competed for by the different Greek Letter organizations. This would serve as a stimulus for watching scholarship among the members. If a man was pledged that was not capable of making good grades, but who was an asset to the fraternity, it would be possible to get one who could make up the deficiency, or by a combined effort on the part of all members, the grades of the fraternity could be raised.

As it stands, the desirable man with the low grades is forced to remain outside of the fraternity and lose a pleasant part of college life.

If the proper stimulus is given, the fraternities and sororities will pledge as they see fit, and from their membership will come the best students, all without an order to do so from the faculty.—N. M. J.

Altrurians Give The Melting Pot

Altrurians enjoyed a program Monday evening entitled "The Melting Pot." It was made up of numbers representing literature of some of the nations that pour their people into New York's melting pot. The first number was "Russian Poetry" by Dorothy Bowen; Margaret Patterson followed with a piano solo, "Hungarian Melodies"; "Irish Humor" was a group of stories about Pat and Mike by Milan Michener. "Lady of the Lake" was an extempo by Katherine Hoffman. "Scotch" was also an extempo given by Marlan Johnson. During the business meeting the president, John O'Connor appointed Wilma Zimmerman and Gordon Alcorn as Inter-Society representatives.

STUDENTS HAVING STIFF BIBLE COURSE

Willamette University, Feb. 7 (NIP) In what language was the Bible written? Who were the twelve disciples? These and many other questions on Bible history must be answered or dodged by all Willamette students, usually during the freshman year, in the course in Bible history, one hour each week, which is a requirement for graduation at Willamette University.

During the semester just completed 15 students failed in the course in Old Testament history presented, and will be required to repeat next year. Most of the students are only average or below in Bible knowledge, for 39 D's, 39 C's, and 38 B's were given; only five made the high mark of A.

The course is given by Dr. John D. McCormack, of Kimball School of Theology, and the text used is Dr. McCormack's "Thinking Through the Bible," which is a result of his many years of teaching the Bible to college students.

HEBREW LETTER SOCIETY STARTED AT WILLAMETTE

Willamette University, Feb. 7 (NIP) The newest organization on the Willamette campus, the Independent Women's Association, has been accepted as the third chapter of Daleth Teth Gimel, Hebrew letter society now being organized, according to word received here recently by Bernice Jackson, president of the local group.

All women not living in organized group houses, whether they are members of sororities or not, are eligible for membership in this association if they are able to fulfill certain requirements as to scholarship and character.

Forty-two charter members comprise the present membership at Willamette. Pledging of new members will take place within a few weeks.

Washington State College at Pullman and the University of Idaho at Moscow have the first two chapters. Representatives from these two chapters plan to be on the campus sometime this spring to install the Willamette chapter.

CO-EDS RELIEVED AS RUSHING ENDS

Whitman College, Walla Walla, N. I. P.—Whitman co-eds breathe a sigh of relief that the cares and worries of sorority rush and pledging are over again. The semester rush, enduring thru the whole first semester, was substituted this year for the first time in place of former two weeks' rush at the beginning of the school year. Open rush and deferred pledging, besides affording more opportunities for forming deeper friendships between sororities and new girls, gave the freshman girls a better chance at choosing the most promising group. Formal banquets were held Saturday evening, Feb. 9, and ribbon pledging took place Sunday afternoon, Feb. 10.

ROBBINS TALKS ON RECOMMENDATIONS

"Getting good recommendations" was the topic for the speech of Prof. Chas. A. Robbins, who led chapel last Friday. "The best way to get these good recommendations," stated Prof. Robbins, "is to make good grades in college and pay up the fees as soon as possible, because it is not fair to the employer for the college to send out good recommendations for bad records on the books at school. It also gives the college a bad reputation if some previous student of the college does not live up to his recommendation," he said.

WILLAMETTE IS REPRESENTED IN LEGISLATURE

Willamette University (NIP) Willamette University is represented by seven former students in the present session of the Oregon Legislature. Three senators and four members of the lower house claim Willamette as their Alma Mater. The senators are Colon R. Eberhard of LaGrande, L. L. Mann of Pendleton, and Lloyd T. Reynolds of Salem. Allen A. Bynon of Portland, Lee McAllister of Salem, John B. McCourt of Portland and George P. Winslow are in the lower house. Senator Eberhard and Representative Bynon are graduates of Willamette Law School, and the others are of the College of Liberal Arts.

PHILO OBSERVES ALL SAINTS' DAY

In keeping with Valentine week, the theme for last Monday's meeting of Philo was entitled "Saints' Day." Maretta Hunt spoke on "New Years" in various lands. "St. Valentine Day" was the title of the talk given by Julia Haugland. The musical number of the evening was a piano solo given by Martha DuBois. Olive Bartlett gave an excellent impromptu on "All Saints' Day." Miriam Cleveland described the festival of "Le Mardi Gras" in Europe and in the United States. A humorous number "Saint Patricks" was given by Homer McCollum. Thomas Dodgson completed the program with a history of "Saint Genevieve."

NOTED ACTOR TO SHOW AT WHITMAN

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Feb. N. I. P.—J. W. Zellner, noted character portrayal artist and lightning change artist, will appear in his unique characterization in a matinee performance in the college chapel on February 14. Mr. Zellner who is from Madison, Wisconsin, is making an extended trip in the west appearing at the University of Idaho and W. S. C. The unusualness of his performance is said to be unrivaled on the American stage today—a single man presenting an entire program of more than 16 roles in tabloid form. Mr. Zellner portrays dramatic, historic and humorist personages, ranging from Moses to Huckleberry Finn. He brings his own stage setting and lighting effect which are marvels of artistic completeness. His average change time is 30 seconds, from which speed he has gained the name of the "Protean Artist."

PROHIBITION THEME OF WHITMAN CHAPEL

Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., N. I. P.—Whitman College students were entertained in chapel Friday morning, Feb. 8, by Mr. F. A. Hazeltine, U. S. prohibition investigator, formerly of South Bend, Wn., and father of Ellen Hazeltine, a Senior at Whitman. Mr. Hazeltine spoke on the evils of drink and the necessity of prohibition enforcement. He voiced the opinion that prohibition is in no immediate danger of being discarded.

INCREASE SHOWN IN STUDENT BODY

College of Idaho (NIP): Enrollment for the second semester at the College of Idaho has increased the total roll of students by 23, making the complete number 408. New students from high schools, students making a transfer of schools, and old students returning to the College of Idaho are included in this number. Only 14 students were added to the enrollment at the beginning of the second semester last year and the total enrollment was only 401 last year as compared to 408 this year.

WILLAMETTE FROSH HOLD GLEE CONTEST

Willamette University (NIP) The president of the freshman class today issued the formal challenge to the other three classes to participate in the annual song contest known at Willamette as Freshman Glee. Original songs of a type designated each year are composed by members of each class, and are sung by all of the members of each class. Loyalty songs are to be given this year. Songs are judged on merit of words and of music, originality, adaptation, and rendition. Winning songs are printed in the official school song book, thus keeping alive and enlarging the collection of songs already rich in tradition.

BASEBALL TURNOUT SMALL THIS YEAR

Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores were out to practice baseball for the first time this year, and although there were not enough to make more than two teams, more are expected next week. The Sophomores will have a team and the Juniors and Seniors will combine to make the second team. It is also very probable that this year there will only be one freshman team instead of two, as there has been in previous seasons.

Although those who turn out for this sport are enthusiastic, the general interest is smaller for this than for any other game.

Tuesday the Freshman turnout was held, and the practice started. As yet, however, no positions have been assigned on this, or any other team, but some are showing unexpected ability along particular lines.

Logger Athletes

Last year there enrolled at the college a man who has proven to be one of the biggest assets to the varsity football team. His name is Chester Rhodes but to most everybody he is known as Chet.

Chet spent his high school days at Hermiston, Oregon, where he was one of the mainstays on the athletic teams. Football was the sport he liked best and quite naturally was a good player. He played the pigskin sport for three years.

For two years Chet played basketball and was a good guard. In the dashes and weight events Rhodes made a good record in high school track meets. He was on the track team for three years.

At Puget Sound football is the only sport that Chet has made a letter. Playing either guard or tackle Rhodes was one of the most consistent men on the 1928 varsity team.

RICH HIDY HEADS LOGS NEXT TERM

Richmond Hidy is to head the Knights of the Log for the next year as the result of the elections held last week. Norem Ottenson was chosen vice-president. Other officers were: Secretary, Carlton Wood; treasurer, Ross Mace; Sergeant at arms, Jack Worden.

The "Logs" are the school's only official mens' service club and have to do all the necessary policing at games and to help the athletic managers in the care of the athletic equipment.

One of the most important projects that is to be pushed this semester, is to obtain signatures for the petition to change the name of Lawrence street to College avenue.

TENNIS CLASS NEW SPORTS FEATURE

As a new feature of women's sports Mildred Martin is conducting a class in tennis for beginners. These classes are held on Friday at 12:05 and will continue until the last of the semester. They are not given so much for those who want to turn out for tennis to make points, but for any who want to learn. However, as preliminary instruction in detail is given, it is advised, by Mrs. Wainwright, that those who want to enter the amateur tournament, also attend this class. This is the first time that an attempt has been made to give any instruction in this sport, and it is being received with apparent enthusiasm, judging from the size of the class. As is the case with the other sports, it is not too late to join this class.

WILLAMETTE GETS MORE ENDOWMENT

Willamette University, Feb. 7, (NIP) At the trustee meeting in Portland last Tuesday, Dr. Carl Gregg Doney announced the legacy of $100,000 left to Willamette University by Eric Hauser of Portland, former contractor and owner of the Multnomah Hotel.

He also reported the offer of E. S. Collins to add 15 cents to every dollar paid in toward the present campaign to raise $300,000 to complete the endowment of Willamette University.

Six years ago, Mr. Hauser made his first gift to education when approached in the endowment campaign at that time, and since then he has helped several other colleges.

According to the contract, legacies may not be counted toward the Rockefeller fund.

WILLAMETTE GRADES SHOW NORMAL AVERAGE

Willamette University (NIP) The grades at Willamette University for the semester of 1928-29 are practically normal as judged by the statistics of educational measurement, according to R. A. McCully, registrar. In the College of Liberal Arts 2370 grades were given to 496 students. Ten per cent of this number were A's, 35% were B's, 36% C's, 14% D's and 5% F's. Comparison of grades of Freshman courses with those of the whole school show that higher grades are given to the upper-classes. Freshman mortality was 14% of the number which entered in September. According to statistics from the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, the average is 20.59%. The difference between the two figures is 6.59% in favor of Willamette freshmen.

LOGGERS DEFEAT LINFIELD IN FIRST CONFERENCE GAME

Visitors Beaten by 47 to 33 Score as Local Team Is on Game

Gillihan and Croxall Star; Linfield Handicapped By Lose of Center

Looping the basket from just about any place they wanted to, the Puget Sound varsity defeated the Linfield College Wildcats last Friday evening by a 47 to 33 score. The win marked the first for the Loggers in Northwest Conference play.

Coach Hubbard's cohorts were on their game against the Oregon invaders and were practically unstoppable. After a few minutes of passing and dribbling the Loggers hit the pace that brought the score 30 to 9 in favor of the Tacoma college. The large lead that the Loggers had at half time was largely due to the shooting of Croxall and Gillihan. Croxall put the ball through the hoop seven times in the first half and Gillihan sank five shots.

Changes Lineup
After the start of the second half Coach Hubbard changed the lineup and Linfield began to score but the lead was too much for the invaders to overcome. Hollinshead, Wildcat forward found the loop and led his team in scoring with 11 points for the evening. Cook, lanky frosh center, was next scoring for the visiting team with 10 counters to his credit. The Linfield team was at a decided disadvantage throughout the game due to the fact that Druse, star center and scoring ace was forced to sit on the bench with a sprained ankle. Druse hurt his ankle early in the season and injured it again at Centralia Junior College Thursday night.

The whole Maroon squad was working against Linfield, a team that had beaten the Loggers in Oregon. Ferguson and Fassett were keeping the Wildcats away from the basket in the first half while in the second half the team was disrupted so many times that outstanding play was impossible.

After the stiff four game schedule the Loggers are playing this week, it is hard to predict how the Maroon will work. If they are hot, the games should be plenty close.

URGE MORE STUDENTS TO JOIN ORCHESTRA
More students are needed to turn out for the orchestra, according to John Paul Bennett, head of the music department. As it is, the orchestra director, Mrs. Walden, comes from Seattle for the rehearsals each Friday noon and finds a very small turnout.

"This is a very discouraging condition," stated Prof. Bennett just before he left on the glee club trip. "I urge that all students interested in playing in the orchestra should make the necessary arrangements as soon as possible."

LOGGERS MEET TOUGH TEAMS

Three Games on Schedule for Next Week

Three games are on the basket ball schedule for the Loggers next week. The assignment includes a non-conference game with Columbia University on Thursday evening and a two game series with Willamette on Friday and Saturday nights.

The Columbia-Puget Sound game will be the second meeting of the two schools this year. On the Portland university's floor the Loggers barely emerged with a win, the score being 25 to 24. The game between the Loggers and Cliff-Dwellers was one of the best that had been played in Portland for some time and in commenting on the fracas sports writers described it as a "real basketball classic that thrilled the spectators every moment."

The Irish lads have a fast working combination that gave the Loggers all the work they wanted. Thursday's game will have plenty of thrills and should bring out a good crowd.

Meeting the Willamette University team will renew the age-old competition between the two Methodist schools. Just how the Loggers will fare in the two contests is a big question, for the Oregon team has beaten Whitman College and split a series of games with Oregon State.

When the Willamette team beat Whitman by a 55-26 score, the Bearcats were said to be in poor condition due to injuries and colds, and were not able to display their full strength.

Cardinal is the big gun of the visiting Bearcats. In all the games that the Salem team has played, Cardinal, formerly of St. Martin's College, has been high point man. As a center he has practically cinched the all-conference pivot position.

Large Squad
Coach "Spec" Keene has a large squad to pick his team from this year and just who will be on the invading team is unknown. One man who has been started at forward by Keene in most games is "Fish" Seales, and he will probably start against the Loggers. Hawk is a veteran guard and has been playing a bang-up game this year. Other Willamette players are: Litchfield, Adams, and Harmon, forwards; Englebretsen and Benjamin, centers; Ledbetter, Flesher, Gibson and Baldere, guards.

After the stiff four game schedule the Loggers are playing this week, it is hard to predict how the Maroon will work. If they are hot, the games should be plenty close.

NIGHT FOOTBALL WILL COME INTO PROMINENCE IN '29

Night football will come into national prominence in 1929, according to an article in the March College Humor. Several schools have played football at night as an experiment, and so satisfactory were the results that it is believed that night football has come to stay.

It will be brought into the national spotlight next November when Coach Knute K. Rockne's Notre Dame eleven meets Drake University, Missouri Valley eleven at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, the scene of the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Just imagine the team on defense trying to solve the mysteries of the hidden ball at night. It is hard enough to follow the ball in bright daylight, so Chicago is expected to turn out to the tune of one hundred thousand spectators to view this battle.

It won't be long now until night football will become popular.

TWO GAME SERIES HALVED AT SALEM

Willamette University (NIP) The two game series of hoop games played by Willamette University and Whitman College here on Thursday and Friday was split between the contestants with one game each. On Thursday night Whitman's strong second period rally after the first half had been led by the Bearcats gave them a 38 to 27 victory over Willamette.

Friday night was a Willamette landslide. The keyed-up Bearcats took the lead after the first basket, and at half time had piled up a 25 to 5 score. Whitman staged an attempt at a rally early in the second half with a barrage of long shots, but this soon died out, and Willamette continued to pile up the score until it was 55 to 26 when the game ended.

Cardinal, Bearcat center, was high-point man of the second game and of the series with a total of 25 points taken from all sorts of angles and positions. Willamette has four remaining games in the conference: two with the College of Puget Sound, and one each with Pacific and Linfield. Victory in these four contests will mean a probable conference championship.

LET'S GET OUR PICTURES TAKEN!

Why is it that every year the struggle is renewed? The position of photograph editor of the Tamanawas instead of being an ordinary interesting position, is a constant plea to the students to get their pictures taken. If any one should discover when the annual is printed, that his or her picture has been left out, that person would probably criticize the staff rather severely. But how can an editor make up the Tamanawas, which consists of pictures of so many organizations, when only one fifth of the school has complied with the requests that everyone go down before the last of this month. To date there are 115 students who have been to the studio for sittings, and out of this number only about 60 have returned their proofs. The photographer's hands are tied when so many take their proofs and fail to return them.

We are asking the cooperation of the entire student body in this matter, as it is no easy task to sort out the pictures and see that everyone has the right number. Added to this it is impossible to personally conduct the remaining 385 students to the studio. And after you have gone down, please return your proofs as soon as you have chosen the best.

May we expect to see the prints of at least three fourths of the student body down there in two weeks, or less.—M. M.

ON ATTENDANCE AT ASSEMBLY

There has been a noticeable decrease in the attendance at the Thursday student body assemblies. The same students who always show up at games, and are always on hand at every college function, are the only ones who go to assembly, it seems. The rest evidently prefer hanging around the lower hall, and the Trail office.

As a matter of fact, these assemblies are generally the best of the week. Programs are well arranged, one-act plays are often presented and good entertainment provided.

Not only should this be an incentive, but general assemblies make for a more united student body and is a boon to the much talked of "school spirit."—E. R. M.

COLLEGIANA

Our Oregon sister, Willamette University, is a little ahead of us in second semester registration. The last report in the Trail gave us a total of 487, while Willamette could claim 502 on February 7. In the school of liberal arts they have 258 women and 204 men. The 38 men and two women in the law school complete the total.

The Junior Jollies managing committee of the College of Idaho has chosen "Harold Teen" as the movie to be presented at the American theatre, along with the vaudeville stunts for their pep show. This is an annual affair staged by the Junior Class.

According to the Willamette Collegian: Freshmen look forward to attainment, Sophomores feel that they are attaining, Junior wish to attain, and Seniors only wish they could attain.

In the "language of the people" we take it to mean that "the older one grows, the dumber he gets," or perhaps we only begin to realize when we are seniors, that we don't know so much after all.

Being dramatic manager does train a person for some things, but how it can be a recommendation for the editorship of a college paper is more than is possible to understand; but some people must think so anyway, judging by the following statement from the College of Idaho Coyote.

"George Judd, of Caldwell, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Robert Traxell, as Coyote Manager. Mr. Judd has had experience along this line through managing of several dramatic productions put on by the Scarlet Masque, local dramatic fraternity."

Campus Crier, Ellensburg Normal.—A silver loving cup is being offered to the reporter who hands in the most inches of original copy between now and vacation. He must be a regular member of the staff.

1st man—"Say do you know the lazy man's song?"
2nd man—"Sure, it's 'Moonbeams Kiss Her for Me.'"

Instructor (to girl learning to drive): "Now when you want to stop you put on the brake."
"Oh, I thought the brake came with the car!"

"How do you expect to get anywhere having a date before a final?"
"But it was with an instructor."

"Are they using the same history text this quarter?"
"Why, I think so; I saw a girl looking everywhere for a Beard."

STUDENT PERSONALITIES

There is nothing so important as getting a good start in life, and Elizabeth Jones, popular senior, chose January 9, 1908 as her birthday, and Wilkeson as her birthplace.

Among the many interesting events which occurred when she was very young, one is worthy of special mention. It so happened that she was imbued with the spirit of adventure one day, and wandered away from home. She returned after some time, but being tired, and fearing the consequences of her folly, Elizabeth went down into the basement, curled up in the corner of a box, and slept blissfully for some time. She finally awakened only to discover that everyone for miles around was in a state of extreme excitement because of her untimely disappearance. But Elizabeth was frightened, and doubtless fully aware of the punishment that would be expended, so she remained in her hiding place and enjoyed the excitement she was causing. Such things end, however, and at last she was discovered and a fitting punishment administered all too effectively.

Elizabeth attended the Washington grade school in Tacoma. She went to Stadium, and was active in dramatics, taking part in many of the plays.

Entered Puget Sound

When she came to Puget Sound she was made a charter member of Ladies of the Splinter, now known as Spurs. In her sophomore year she was secretary of the class, and in her junior year she was business manager of the Glee Club, and has been active in that organization for four years.

Elizabeth Jones is modest, and reluctantly admitted that she was in the All-College-play of "39 East," last year, and also had important parts in the Three Act plays and those presented during Homecoming. This year she is on the play reading committee.

Sorority President

Lambda Sigma Chi is her sorority, and she is now president of the organization. Elizabeth took the Normal Course which was formerly offered at the college, then she returned to complete her college career.

Elizabeth Jones was recently pledged to Theta Alpha Phi, national dramatic fraternity. Everyone knows her as a friendly, good-natured young woman, with a smile for everyone. It is not out of the question to presume that some day her name may shine on Broadway, New York, as one of the worth-while dramatists of modern times.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB TOUR SUCCESS

Sunday morning the men gave a short religious program at the Community Church in Nooksack. In the evening they drove to Lynden for a second sacred concert, and were entertained afterwards at the homes of the townspeople. The following morning a matinee program was given at Lynden High School.

Play at Ferndale

Monday evening the club was in Ferndale, where its numbers were given before a partly-filled auditorium. Immediately after the concluding song, the cars left for Bellingham, where they spent the night at the Leopold Hotel. Tuesday morning an advertising program was presented at Whatcom High School, and the full program was given there in the evening.

Wednesday morning the club received the most enthusiastic welcome of the trip when they presented a matinee program at Edmonds. The students apparently had not had the opportunity of hearing many such programs, and colic craving, but were as peculiarly an undergraduate affection as the insistence upon weirdly distinctive headgear and apparel, or the hocus-pocus of Greek letter society mysticism.

Phi Beta First Fraternity

Phi Beta Kappa was preparatory to the modern fraternity movement. Secrecy was abandoned in 1830 and since that time membership has been an honorary distinction.

"The most dangerous of the class secret societies was Theta Nu Epsilon, known as T. N. E. and now abandoned almost everywhere. It perpetuated all sorts of excesses and violence with the utmost impunity, encouraging drunkenness, dissipation, immorality. It worked much as the present Ku Klux Klan. Good fellowship, sporty proclivities, liberal spending, and an unusual capacity for holding hard liquor became the determining qualification for membership. No T. N. E. ever allowed a girl to wear his pin except in tacit commemoration of her moral frailty. The Greek letters of the society's name were popularly alleged to signify "Thirst Never Endeth."

"Kappa Beta Phi, directly burlesquing Phi Beta Kappa, was another sophomore secret society but this flourished only for a decade or so until the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment and the largely prohibitive prices of liquor contributed to its extinction."

BUNK HOUSE

According to our mature observations there is but one difference between a lowbrow and a highbrow. The lowbrow says "I seen" and the highbrow says "I have saw."

According to a St. Louis paper, a man was recently arrested for slapping a strange woman on the back. He was probably a chiropractor student catching up on his back work.

AND ANOTHER THING

A pessimist, in case you didn't know it, is a man who has to live with an optimist.

A news dispatch from Russia informs us that there are buildings in the capital city which are four hundred years old. Evidently there is no bomb in Leningrad.

Stick around, in the next one we break his arm.

...SLASHINGS...

"Gladys, have you a stick of gum in your mouth?"
"No, Muriel has half of it."

"Have you heard the four-wheel brake song?"
"No."
"For we'll break the news to mother."

"Yes, sir. I bought this hat two years ago. Had it cleaned twice, exchanged it in a restaurant once, and still it looks as good as new!"

Economy Hint

"Do you know the difference between taxis and trolleys?"
"No."
"Good. Then we'll take a trolley."

One Mrs.: "I have a room all fixed up for my husband's den. Has your husband a den?"
Another: "No, he grows all over the house."

He: "A penny for your thoughts."
She: "What do you think I am, a slot machine?"

"What is The Light That Failed?"
"A cigarette lighter."

Campus Shiek: "My girl eats like a bird."
Another: "How's that?"
Shiek: "A peck at a time."

And there there was the Scotchman who told his children that Christmas was on December 28, so he could take advantage of the after-Christmas clearance sales.

"A salesman at the door? Did you tell him I was out?"
Maid: "Yes, sir, but he didn't believe me."
"Well, then, I shall have to go and tell him myself."

"Helen!"
(from downstairs): "Yes, mother!"
"The clock has struck twelve three times now. Let it practice on one for a while."

"Hey, why aren't you at the compulsory junior meeting?"
"The posters don't say you have to be there."

"That girl tells every thing she knows."
"It wouldn't be so bad if she'd stop at that, but she doesn't."

Professor: "It was so sad. Poor Harry was killed by a revolving crane."
English Scholar: "Deah me, yes. They do have such fierce birds in America."

Co-ed (at baseball game): "Where do they keep the extra bases?"
Him: "Why?"
Her: "That man just stole third base."

Teacher: "What became of the swine that had the evil spirit cast into them?"
Senior: "They made them into deviled ham."

Patron: "I came in last week for a steak."
Waiter: "Will you have the same today?"
"Yes, I may as well. That is, if nobody is using it."

"How fast does your Ford pick up?"
"Oh, on some nights I pick up as many as four in fifteen minutes."

"What causes the flight of time?"
Stude: "It must be the spur of the moment."

"I can't accept this verse; why it's merely an escape of gas."
"Oh, I see, something wrong with the meter?"

Learned one: "Edison says we sleep too much."
Tired one: "Well, it's his own fault; he invented enough to keep us awake."

every number was given on ovation. Leaving Edmonds, the club drove to Auburn, the last stop on the trip, where they presented their final concert.

Personnel Given

Twenty-two men made the tour, including Carlton Wood, John Lamb, Elverson Stark, Harry Tillotson, Ross Cory, Carl Eshelman, Floyd Somers, Charles Green, Elmore Patterson, Ralph Matson, Charles Hall.

William Kellogg, Walter Anderson, Charles Anderson, Edward Burrough, Harold Bergerson, Herbert Phenecle, Wendell Jones, Leonard Unkefer, Fred Henry, Douglas Babcock and Prof. John Paul Bennett. The two latter are accompanists and director respectively, of the organization.

Program Varied

The program of the club was varied, although stress was laid upon the better grade of music. The club ensemble, in five groups of numbers, presented eleven numbers. These included "Alma Mater," "Go Loggers," "College of Dreams," from the songs of the college, and "Invictus," "The Soldiers' Chorus" from the opera "Faust," an arrangement of Strauss' "Beautiful Blue Danube Waltzes," a vocal waltz titled "The Stars Are Brightly Shining," "The Bells of St. Mary's," "Strumming," "Neopolitan Nights" and "The Winter Song."

Other numbers included vocal solos by Harold Bergerson, Charles Green and Prof. Bennett; a novelty combination of piano, marimba, xylophone and violin presented by Carlton Wood, Charles Hall and Edward Burrough; piano solos by Douglas Babcock; novelty solos by Ralph Matson on the banjo and Elmore Patterson on the saxophone; and a clever and humorous skit whose cast included Charles Anderson, Ralph Matson, Charles Elmore Patterson.

Double Quartet Popular

Still another popular part of the concerts was the double quartet. This group included Ross Cory and Harry Tillotson, first tenors; Charles Green and Carl Eshelman, second tenors; Walter Anderson and Harold Bergerson, baritones; and Wendell Jones and Fred Henry, basses. They chanted, with very well-blended harmony, the twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastes of the Bible.

Robert Evans, who did not make the entire trip, joined the club at Auburn and contributed a group of readings from the poems of Robert W. Service.

A single quartet which appeared in a few concerts included Elverson Stark, Charles Green, Walter Anderson and Fred Henry.

At Stellacoom

The singers are appearing tonight in a concert at Stellacoom High School. The home concert, to be presented in Jones Hall auditorium, scheduled for some time in March.
