DR. TODD RETURNS LATE NEXT WEEK VIA PANAMA ROUTE

Will Arrive in California This Week End; Exact Date For Arrival in Ta- coma Not Received

That President Edward H. Todd is expected to arrive in California by the 14th or 16th of November on the "California" is the latest report that has been received. He is expected here late next week. It is not known whether his boat was held up by the storms and slides in the vicinity of the Panama Canal.

"We are expecting word momentarily," said Miss Olive Brown, his secretary. "I have sent word to California for him to wire us immediately upon his arrival here."

Due to conflicting information, the exact date of the president's arrival in California cannot be ascertained. According to Dr. Todd's last letter he will arrive on the fourteenth; the steamship company, however, said that the "California" could not get to California until November 16.

Freshman Class Elects Officer

From four candidates the Freshman Class elected their representative to Central Board this morning during a class meeting. The candidates were Jack Evans, Vendella Sterling, Gertrude Davis and Gerald Hanson. The representative elected will take office immediately.

Nominations were made by petitions which had to be signed by at least ten per cent of the class. According to the Constitution of A. S. C. P. S. this election could not take place until the Freshman Class has been matriculated into the student body by the Color Post ceremonial. The freshman have only one representative, whereas, the upper classes have two, one elected by the class itself and the other by A. S. C. P. S.

HOMECOMING CUP SUDDENLY ARRIVES BACK AT SCHOOL

"As long as you're leaving, you might as well take your bucket with you."

These words, coming from the dean of men, fell on the ears of our student body president, and were followed by a look of amazement that slowly spread over his map.

"Huh?" he managed to gasp out. The dean pointed, and following the direction with his eyes, Wilbur Goss saw what?

(The editor decided that the Trail was short of news this week, so the story continues.)

Following the pointing finger, Wilbur Goss saw the long-lost Mierow Homecoming Trophy! And so all the little Mu Chis went down to the fraternity house and killed the fatted calf. (Rumor has it that it was pork, but the fact remains that the trophy now reposes in its proper place.)

Note: Before the cup got down to the house Mr. Goss let it in the Student Council office, carefully covered it with his overcoat, then forgot where he put it.

Policemen and Firemen Will Have Game Bill Nerbonne Will Show to Advantage

Ready—63-92-5-80—hike! And the mighty forces of the law sprang into motion. Bill Nerbonne had the ball—and did he go? You'd think he smelled beer, or a college boy doing 45 on Division Avenue. Downed at last. But did he give up? No! He sprang up, brushed himself off, and calmly handed his tackler a ticket for resisting an officer.

There they were, lined up again! By some accident, the ball was fumbled around until it finally reached the hands of Dave Penn, the midget guard. Midget? Sure he's a midget. He weighs only 230 pounds. And when Dave got both feet in motion, nothing could stop him. After crossing the line, he tore out one goal-post and two sections of fence before he finally brought himself to a halt.

Aha! One of the opponents finally got a chance, and broke through to the cops' 10-yard line. Here the blue-coats gathered their forces, and held their enemies on

Economics and Business Ad. Are Popular Majors

Chemistry Is Second; English and Home Economics Also Are Favorites

That 64 per cent of the C. P. S. students are earning all or part of their way through college was the statement issued by the registrar's office this week. Of these, nearly 18 per cent are entirely self-supporting and 46 per cent are partially so.

Seventeen women and 92 men, a total of 109, are attending C. P. S. entirely "on their own." Ninety-six women and 183 men earn a fraction of their own way, while those students who do not earn any of their way number 197, or over 32 per cent. About four per cent of the students made no answer to the question asked on the registration blanks.

According to statistics compiled by the registrar, economics and business administration are the most popular majors here, with 94 students in this department. Since freshmen and sophomores are not required to state their majors, the list cannot be fully determined for the whole school.

Chemistry Second
Chemistry is second in popularity, 53 students having declared it to be their major, English and home economics come next, with 34 and 31 student majors, respectively.

The remaining courses with the number of students majoring in each is as follows:
Physical education, 22; speech, 18; history and political science, 17; religious education, 16; art, 14; journalism, 14; mathematics, 14; French, 12; music, 12; biology, 11; education, 7; pre-engineering, 7; philosophy, 6; pre-medicine, 5; psychology, 4; physics, 3; sociology, 3; Spanish, 3; geology, 3; library, 2; and forestry, German, pre-law and pre-nursing, 1 each.

PROF. MARIS ILL

Homer T. Maris, professor of German, was absent last week, suffering from an infected throat. Miss Helen Galbraith has been helping with his classes. Herr Fischer took charge of one class Monday morning during his visit to the College.

Senators Davis Suggests Acts

The act prescribing the observance of November 11, or the Friday preceding it, as Victory and Admission Day, was written by Senator Walter S. Davis of the history department of the College of Puget Sound.

It is this act which establishes the custom, among the grade and high schools in the State of Washington, of presenting an hour's program of exercises on Armistice Day or near it, containing the deeds of Americans in the World War and the principles for which it was fought. Events in the history of our state and of Washington Territory are also celebrated on that day.

DR. J. S. BELL VISITS C. P. S.

Field Secretary Stops Here Thursday

Dr. John S. Bell, field secretary for the College of Puget Sound, visited on the local campus yesterday, bringing congratulations from friends of the college in other parts of the state on the success of the endowment drive.

"The success of the recent drive gives the college a prestige which is instrumental in obtaining further financial aid in the future," said Dr. Bell in discussing the value of the endowment and the Howarth fund.

"During the last two weeks Dr. Bell has been traveling through eastern Washington, preaching at churches and giving talks at high schools. In his talks he has emphasized the advantages of the privately endowed educational institutions in comparison with the state schools."

"Privately endowed colleges," says Dr. Bell, are particularly free from any political influence. This is not true of the tax-supported schools."

Peter Pugets, Sigma Zetas Are Still Undeclared

Six Games Scheduled Next Week; Final Encounter November 24

This week's play in the intramural baseball league saw the Peter Pugets and the Sigma Zeta Epsilon fraternities still undefeated and was also marked by the fact that the Delta Pi Omicrons still remained in the running for the championship due to their win over the Sigma Mu Chis.

Omicron vs. Mu Chis
Coming back from their defeat of the previous week the Delta Pi Omicron fraternity won over the Sigma Mu Chi fraternity by the score of 18 to 5. The Omicrons had two big innings, in which they scored all their runs. Raleigh lead the scoring for the losers, while Johnson and Martin scored three times for the Omicrons. The pitching of Elwell and the fielding and base running of Clifford stood out for the winners.

Score by innings:
Sigma Mu Chi 11 0 0 12 0 - 5
Delta Pi Omicron 0 0 10 0 8 x - 18
Batteries—Sigma Mu Chi: Perdue, Evans and Raleigh; Delta Pi Omicron: Elwell and Farmer.
Umpire—Ross Cauk.

Independents vs. Delta Kappa Phi
In the first shutout game of the year the Delta Kappa Phi fraternity trounced the independents by the score of 18 to 0. Ollar and Heuston each scored three runs for the fraternity men while Williams held the independents well in hand at all times.

Score by innings:
Delta Kappa Phi 1 0 10 7 x - 18
Batteries—Independents: Tripp, Bennett and Zittel; Delta Kappa Phi: Williams and Ollar. Umpire, Paul Smith.

Herr Fischer Tells Students Of Railroads

Lecturer Received Enthusias- tically in Two Talks; Shows Collection of Slides

International organization of railroads, which results in understanding between the various countries of Europe, was the subject of Herr M. Fischer, lecturer for the Carnegie Foundation, in Monday's chapel period.

"There is in Europe a growing desire for a larger economic unit," he said in part. "Much has been accomplished in this direction. There are now no customs on the frontiers. The organization of the railroad directors is international. This makes better understanding and cooperation between the various countries through which the railroad runs."

Herr Fischer predicted that in time the Sahara desert, the English channel, and the Suez canal would cease to be barriers to railroad traffic. A railroad from London to Cape Town would then be a possibility.

The Hungarian lecturer was brought here under the auspices of the International Relations Club, of which Miss Dilley is advisor.

Shows Slides
Another lecture, illustrated by slides, was given by Herr Fischer in Science Hall at 2:00 o'clock. Starting with the ninth century, Herr Fischer brought the history of Hungary through her many rises and falls up to the present date.

The slides showed the beautiful bridges spanning the Danube River, which divides Budapest into the two original cities of Buda and Pest. The mountains of Buda, government buildings, music conservatories, and churches were also shown.

When questioned on the religion of Hungary Herr Fischer replied that 60 per cent of the people are Roman Catholic, 35 per cent Protestant and five per cent of the Hebrew faith.

"Tradition," he said, "plays an important part in the life of the Hungarian. Each Sunday the girls dress up in their beautiful embroidered gowns to be admired by the populace."

A sample of this was shown in a slide picturing a half-dozen pretty girls in their costumes of quaint bodices and gaily embroidered skirts.

In conclusion Herr Fischer extended an invitation to the audience to visit Hungary and to call on him at the office of the National Railways.

Decorated with autumn leaves and orange tapers, the Modern Inn was the setting of the mother's tea, given by the Lambda Sigma Chi sorority, Tuesday, November 10, with hours from 3 to 5.

Program numbers were: Vocal selections by Welsa Nell Locke and a reading by Charlotte Cook; Grace Johnson played a piano solo, "Impromptu" by Reinhold, and Georgia Gilbert closed the program with a vocal solo.

Louise Montgomery, chairman, Ann Perner and Ann Bashford made the arrangements.

The guest list included: Mesdames C. L. May, C. E. Carlson, S. L. Frank, T. B. Hanson, H. Holm, Alice Johnson, Lee Kirby, I. M. Larson, J. D. Lewellyn, Joseph E. McCasky, J. F. Montgomery, O. O. FRESHMEN FORMALLY ACCEPTED WITH COLOR POST CEREMONY

Professor Frederick MacMillan Related the History of the Past in Short Assembly Held in Auditorium Before Outdoor Exercises; Classes Represented by Their Various Presidents

With the Freshman Class fully matriculated, the impressive ceremony of formal acceptance into the student body was completed yesterday. Wilbur Goss, president of A. S. C. P. S., was master of ceremonies, while Ed Rich represented the seniors, Rex Weick, the juniors, Robert Raleigh, the sophomores and Bernard Brotman, the freshmen. First keeper of the gate was Harry Brown, and the second was Rex West.

At a short assembly held in the auditorium before the ceremony took place, Frederick A. MacMillan gave a brief address on the tradition of the Color Post, especially stressing the history of the post in relation to the college.

That the idea of a Color Post was conceived by President Edward H. Todd about 16 years ago, and was placed on the campus on June 5, 1915 by the class of '20, was the statement of Prof. MacMillan. The ceremony was copyrighted by President Todd.

"It is our college totem," said Professor MacMillan, in part. "Its mark is upon us. Freshmen, as you pass its portals you will pause and change your step as you march, symbolic of the fact that the Spirit of Puget Sound has touched your lives and you have lived under the shadow of its traditions. You no longer live for yourselves but you are a part of a much greater personality, the personality of the College of Puget Sound."

For the purpose of rejuvenating the post from its former dilapidated condition, Wilbur Goss and Bob Strobel appropriated money from a Student Body fund to repaint the post and bring the records up to date.

Special tribute was paid to Dr. Todd and his work for the college by Mr. MacMillan.

"Upon his return next week receive him not merely as your president," but as the hero who has been so instrumental in shaping and molding of destiny of your Alma Mater."

LOGGER SQUAD DOWNS VIKINGS

Puget Sound Successful in Northern Invasion

Continuing their success against non-conference elevens, Coach Roy Sandberg's men added the Bellingham Normal Vikings to their list of victims when they trounced the Normals 21 to 7 last Saturday on the Bellingham field. The win gives the Loggers a perfect slate of victories against opponents other than those in conference play.

C. P. S. was a little slow in getting started and as a result were trailing the Vikings when the first half ended. The third quarter saw the score knotted and then in the final period two more scores were pushed over by the Loggers to clinch the victory. Puget Sound's first score came as a result of a 30-yard run by quarterback Sterling which put the oval on the Bellingham 11-yard stripe. Johnson plunged through the line the remaining distance to cross the goal for a touchdown. Ennis was successful in the attempt at conversion.

Early in the final canto, Ennis and Sterling began a series of off-tackle lunges and dazzling end runs to bring the ball in the shadow of the Viking's goal from where Johnson again ripped through the line for the second Logger score. Ennis again converted.

Jimmy Ennis continued his masterful exhibition of broken field running following the score and climaxed it with the Logger's final counter. His conversion gave him a perfect day at kicking goal after touchdowns, with three successful attempts.

Bellingham scored in the initial period as a result of a steady march from their 40-yard line to the goal line, Flowers going over from the 11-yard stripe. Shelton converted. The Loggers thwarted a second attempt of the Vikings to score when they stopped them on the 1-foot line.

Slatter, Gagnon, Ennis and Sterling showed up well for Puget Sound while the biggest threat of the Vikings was Flowers.

Score by periods:
Puget Sound 0 0 0 14 - 21
Bellingham 7 0 0 0 - 7

NOTICE
All women interested in a tumbling class which is to be formed next week, are asked to meet in the women's gymnasium at 9:50 A. M. Tuesday during chapel period for organization.

Again the editorial staff of the Trail has been forced to issue a two page paper. The reason is quite obvious—the advertising staff has not been able to secure a sufficient number of ads to warrant the usual four page college publication. What is to be done? The editorial staff from now on will refuse to put forth their efforts towards producing a newspaper for the associated students until that day when the advertising will pay for it. We grant that this is a depression, but other student bodies in Tacoma are able to make their advertising pay.

A POINT OF COURTESY

That this year's chapel programs do not measure up to the standard set last year is conceded. Yet this grants to the student body no excuse for the noise and poor conduct which has prevailed at every chapel during the last few weeks.

If the talks given so far have not been of general interest to the students they at least provide a test of courtesy and conduct. In meeting the test we have failed miserably, to the embarrassment of the speakers, the faculty and the rest of the students.

Criticisms of chapels should be carried to the office of the dean or to Professor Arthur L. Frederick, who is in charge of the programs. Disorderly conduct serves only to shower criticism on the college by outsiders.

Visitors to C. P. S. must not leave here with the false impression that we are rowdies. A respectful attitude towards speakers and a few suggestions applied to those who plan the programs will bring us chapels which we can enjoy and appreciate.

Although discourtesy to speakers is often met in prep schools and at mass meetings it is hardly expected in college, where men and women are being trained to behave like orderly citizens and not as children or rabble.

TO THE STANDARD OIL CO.

Perhaps this is somewhat tardy but the appreciation is none the less genuine.

The student body of the College of Puget Sound thanks Mr. George Austin of the Standard Oil Company of California for his services and generous loan of the Standard Oil Company's sound wagon. This automobile was the one in use during the Whitman and Willamette games in the Stadium Bowl.

Introducing The Campus Playcrafters

"Seven Keys to Baldpate," presented in the Jones Hall Auditorium last Friday evening, starts C. P. S. dramatics on another successful season. The local dramatists under Miss Martha Pearl Jones are known this year as the Campus Playcrafters.

This first production demanded of the dramatic department a high standard of directing and acting, because of its extremely rapid action and the reputation which it has gained as a novel by Earl Derr Biggers and as a play by George Cohan on the stage and on the screen. The Campus Playcrafters met the challenge and presented the "Seven Keys to Baldpate" in a manner far from amateur.

There is no need to review the plot here, as nearly everyone who did not see the play on Friday night has either read the book or seen the play before. Those who did not come to see the Puget Sound students do the play certainly missed an outstanding evening's entertainment.

Careful selection of actors to fit the characters was apparent in the manner in which the roles were portrayed. The outstanding portrayal was by Charles Gullford who was in the lead as a young author. He carried a heavy role which demanded acting and dialogue throughout the entire prologue, three acts and the epilogue. Gladys Neff easily stole the women's lead in her portrayal of Myra Thornhill, an adventuress. In the characterization of Peters, the hermit, Marvin Carter scored a success and kept the audience in laughter. The work of Dick Zehnder as Thomas Hayden, a prominent railway president, and Norman Gilbert as Jiggs Kennedy, a blustering police chief, was very commendable. Other parts were well taken.

The dramatization was good throughout, but in certain scenes particularly fine. Acting was probably displayed to the best advantage in the second act when William Magee, the author, held the entire bunch of crooks in their seats. Each member of the cast here responded to the situation in such an individual and unique way that the scene would have been interesting even without the dialogue.

Better stage effects could have been secured if the doors had not continually swung open at the wrong times, and if the storm off stage had been more continuous. But these minor points will surely be checked in future productions.

We are eagerly awaiting the production of Channing Pollock's "The Enemy" to be given next spring. This should provide an opportunity for a repetition of such splendid interpretation as was given in "The Fool" last year.

Delta Alpha Gamma Sorority Will Entertain at Broadmoor

In keeping with the date of Friday the thirteenth, Delta Alpha Gamma sorority will use an "unlucky" idea for their first informal of the year to be given this evening at the Broadmoor. This motif will be carried out in programs and favors with chrysanthemums and other fall flowers being used in decorations.
