Schumann-Heink Lectures At CPS On Music Career

Famous Singer Will Appear in Auditorium Today at 3 P. M.

Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink has consented to lecture to the students of the college this afternoon at 3 p. m. in the auditorium. At that time she will give some reminiscences of her musical career.

The engagement of Mme. Schumann-Heink, world famous contralto who made three appearances daily at the Roxy Theater on Saturday and Sunday, was procured through the efforts of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music and by the invitation of Dr. Edward H. Todd. The Adelphian Choral Society is making the arrangements for her appearance here.

Mme. Schumann-Heink was born in Lieben near Prague in Austria, and was educated in the Ursuline Convent at Prague. She was the principal contralto in the Dresden Court Opera when seventeen years of age. Her first appearance as a soloist was in October, 1878.

Mme. Schumann-Heink has made several personal appearances in Tacoma while on her concert tours and has a host of friends in the city. Her home is now located in Coronado, California.

Students, their parents, and members of the faculty are invited by the Conservatory of Music to share in this privilege which has been extended to the student body and faculty.

Board Prepares New Constitution

Since Central Board proposed a new constitution instead of amending the old one at its special meeting last Friday noon, another meeting will be held today to discuss and vote upon it. If the board passes upon the new constitution it will be presented to the student body Thursday for reading and discussion, and will then be voted upon by the students in chapel, Friday.

The new constitution, simplified, provides the organization framework of the ASCPS, and gives Central Board centralizing authority and the right to amend. A code of by-laws which will be adopted later will codify all the old and lengthy details of the present constitution.

Choral Society Closes Season

Closing a year of unusual activity and success, the Adelphian Choral Society appeared in a sacred and secular concert in the First Methodist Church of Seattle on Sunday under the direction of John Paul Bennett.

The organization will make two more appearances this year, the first at the baccalaureate services, and the second at the commencement ceremonies.

Included in their program of the year was a tour of a number of Eastern Washington and Idaho cities, a home concert, concerts at the First Christian Church of Tacoma, The First Methodist Church of Kent, in both houses of the legislature at Olympia, at the banquet in honor of Governor Clarence D. Martin at the Epworth Methodist Church in Tacoma and at the First Methodist Church of Seattle.

McMillin Shows Panning Methods

To give the students, who attended Professor Frederick A. McMillin's placer mining classes last Tuesday and Thursday evenings, an opportunity to put into practice what they learned, the panning equipment in the geology room has been placed at the disposal of students free.

More than 40 attended the classes with students of CPS comprising the larger proportion. Slides were shown to illustrate the lectures. Professor McMillin demonstrated panning and explained the process of staking claims, selecting gold ground, and the use of rockers and sluice boxes.

FIELD TRIPS PLENTIFUL

Field trips are becoming common events in the science department. The geology classes will go to Green River Wednesday to hunt for fossils. The biology 12 class went to Day Island last Thursday and took advantage of the low tide to study many salt water specimens. The Biology Club visited a frog and fur farm last Friday.

UNCALLED-FOR DIVIDENDS

There exists in the minds of some students a doubt as to the value of what they receive for the $7.50 paid as a student body fee each semester. Some express their dubiousness very reluctantly while others assert very confidently that they receive no returns for their investment.

To those who desire to take advantage of their opportunities, plenty is offered for the $7.50. To point out one concrete example that substantiates this opinion, each week enough Trails are ordered to supply the student body and others as exactly as can be mathematically determined. Each week approximately 150 Trails remain in the office after those students who desire their copy have taken one. In other words, about 150 students do not care to take what they are entitled to as a result of paying the $7.50. Even if, perchance, the paper is not what some desire it to be, students should be interested enough to take one as part of their just due for paying the fee.

Undoubtedly much of the dissatisfaction for paying the fee comes from this group, the group that does not take what it is entitled to. It is very likely that the same attitude is being displayed toward the other school publication, the Tamanawas, athletic contests, plays, and concerts which are offered free or at a reduced price. If we only realize that much of this $7.50 is needed for carrying out student body work that is absolutely necessary and then take advantage of the opportunities offered us, we will see clearly that the fee is a just and proper assessment and that the investment pays dividends if we merely accept them. —A. L.

WORTHWHILE UNDERTAKINGS

Several events have taken place during the year that deserve a word of commendation because of their aim of interesting all high school students, but especially seniors, in selecting CPS for their college education. Students from Sumner High were guests of the college one day last semester, and a tea was given for Stadium and Lincoln High girls last Thursday.

There is no question but that some of the students who had a glimpse of the school and its life on those occasions will enroll here next fall and the impression received then will play a large part in the making of their decision. The plan carried out this year should not only be continued but should be enlarged upon so as to include more schools during the course of the year.

Along this line mention should also be made of the value of the associations made by the Adelphian Choral Society on its tour and by the athletic department as a result of sponsoring meets for high schools. Several other programs with the same aim in mind have been given in the past and should be continued in the future. —A. L.

By J. Herman Mattson

The topics today go from bad to worse, being a kind of a punitive expedition. Mussolini and Italy under consideration, "even as the day goes that dons the black shirts of darkness." (A Dante quotation.)

The boot-like shape of Italy expresses the teleological aspect of Nature. She'll have to foot the bill and stand for Mussolini to boot!

No children—Dago Red is not an Italian Bolshevik!

Dante's Divine Comedy is not supposed to be funny and Mussolini is no joke either.

Il Duce (pronounced: 'I, the Duce!) abolished government by blocs because he couldn't be bothered with bloc-heads.

Mussolini's much-criticized statement that a woman is just a "pleasant parenthesis" has been universally misunderstood. What he really meant was that a parenthesis is something that comes in curves.

Unlike our politicians, Mussolini has ruthlessly suppressed petition with himself in crime.

Benito is planning a nation-wide gas mask practice for a national defense against gas attacks. In our Democracy no defence is provided against the sessions of Congress.

Mussolini's theme song: Dago wild, simply wild over me! American taxpayers' new anthem: Why don't you take all of me? (Our politicians have no refrain!)

Recent critics of Il Duce say the reign of Mussolini is all wet.

Mussolini's abolition in Italy of the free-for-all political campaigns, such as we have here, has drastically

Italy joins France and England in a continued pean (pronounced pain) of admiration and appreciation for U. S. They are agreed that they owe us more than they will ever repay!

The only real difference between Dictatorship and a Democracy is that in a Dictatorship at least one person has freedom of speech, liberty, and the pursuit of being assassinated.

You can't get those sister nations of Europe to disarm. It's only natural that the ladies should want to be surrounded by adequate arms.

For econ students only: the single tax, Mussolini's tax on bachelors.

The Fascists—named after the Roman fasces, a bundle of sticks, and refers to the way the Black Shirts stick up the country.

American tourists from Chicago report that nothing unusual was noticed in Italy. That confirms the report that the reign of terror still continues!

The science department's placer lessons in gold digging for men only, provoked no anxiety in the mind of the co-ed as her natural abilities in this art placer at no disadvantage whatsoever!

The "Oxford Movement" is at least consistent! "Sharing," or "confessions" are made at "house parties" because these are just the places where modern youth get the stuff which confessions are made out of!

The initial undertaking of F. D. prove his name to be Frankly De- laynomore Roosevelt!

The Republicanned party killed prosperity and now the Democrats are passing around the Bier!

It is our fervent hope that prosperity's silver lining will be more than just the foam on a Democratic mug!

Yes! dear freshmen! the rock pile by the Color Post is a concrete example of the task awaiting you after graduation.

Musicians Give Varied Recitals

Conservatory Students Present Three Performances

Three recitals were features at the college last week, with the Conservatory of Music presenting its pupils, under the direction of John Paul Bennett, Leonard Jacobsen and John I. Chickanzeff.

Delwin B. Jones, trumpet soloist, gave a graduation recital Thursday evening. Kenneth Fanning, baritone, was soloist of the evening, with Carol Ausve accompanying. Douglas Babcock accompanied Mr. Jones, whose trumpet numbers included: "Song of the Sun" by Barroll; "Hazel" by Del Staigers; "Gypsy Baron" by Strauss and "Les Filles de Cadiz" by Strauss, and two Polkas.

Friday afternoon there were two numbers by a string trio: Tschalkowsky's "Andante Cantabile," and Offenbach's "Barcarolle," played by Virginia Gardner, violin, Wilton Vincent, cello and Margaret Bradfield, piano. Vocal soloists were Wilton Vincent, Maxine Baickley, and Robert Winden. Margaret Bradfield rendered two Russian numbers as solos. Miss Kisducak played four movements of Mozart's Sonata in B flat major for her first group and her other group featured Chopin's "Valse in B minor," "May Night" by Palmgren and "Polichinelle" by Rachmaninoff.

Miss Zigler sang "Rose Softly Blooming" by Spohr, "The Lotus Flower" by Schumann and "Villanelle" by Dell 'Acqua.
