Musical Tips

Leaving for New York City on May 29th are Professor Karl Bratton, familiar head of the music department, and his family. Mr. Bratton plans to enter Teachers College at Columbia University, where he will finish his master's degree in music and begin work on his Ph.D. While in New York, he will live with his advisor, and Mrs. Bratton and the children will remain in White Plains, N. Y., thirty minutes commuting distance from New York. The Brattons will return to Tacoma on Sept. 1, to prepare for the fall semester.

The Campus Trio has gone inactive for the remaining weeks of the school year, but will appear in the two programs honoring graduating seniors. At the baccalaureate services which will be held next Sunday in the First Methodist Church, they will participate by singing "The Heavens Are Telling," by Haydn. On the following Saturday they will sing two numbers during the commencement exercises. They will be Debussy's "Clair de Lune," and "My Heart's Prayer" by Leighton. The members of the trio are Betty Heidinger Smith, Marian Clendenon, and Virginia Kilde, and their accompanist, Jeanne Thurber.

Professor Erich J. F. Koker was initiated last week into Delta Phi Alpha, the foreign language honorary at the University of Washington, his alma mater. This is his third honor, as he has previously been tapped for membership in the music and education honoraries.

The String Trio, organized this year, made one of their final appearances last Thursday when they played for the Panhellenic Style Show in Great Hall at Annie Wright's Seminary. The girls are Betty Armstrong, Ruth Gustafson, and Vileta Rowe. Fourteen other CPS co-eds took part in the program, acting as models, pianist, and commentator.

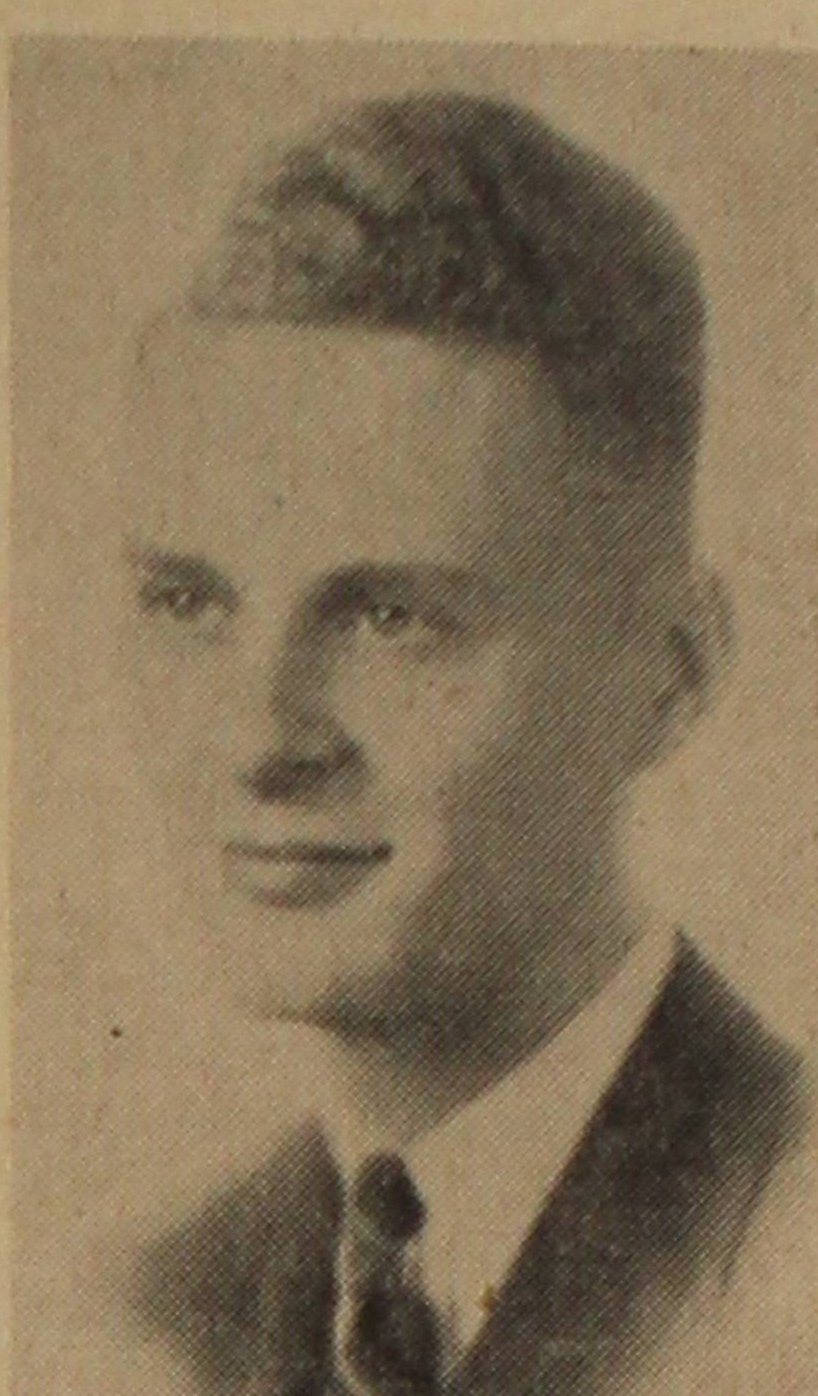

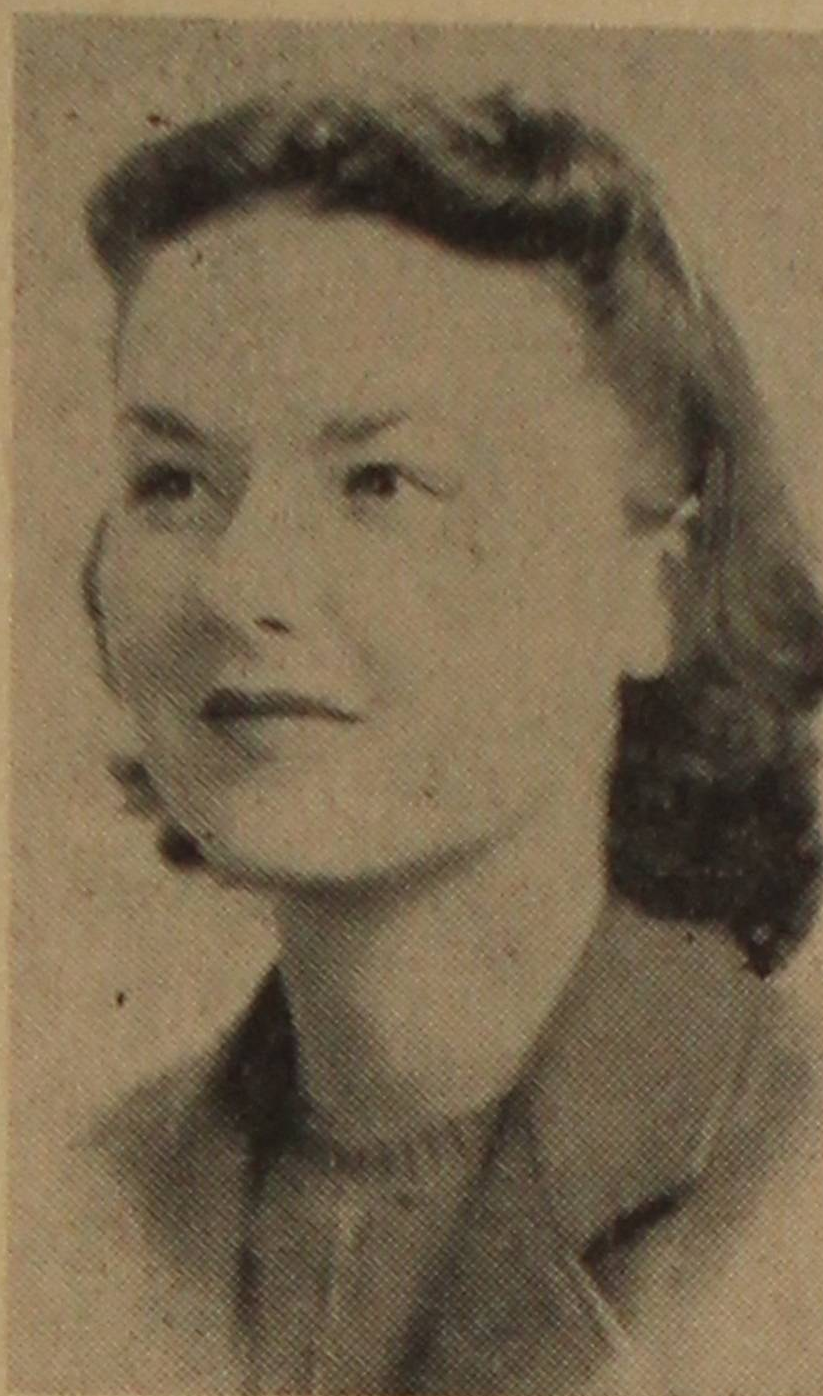

June 3rd has been set as the date for the last concert of the year by the CPS Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Koker announces. Whereas the earlier concert was informal, this will be popular. Novelty numbers will be South American and Hungarian music. The soloist will be Miss Mary Machle, vocalist and violinist, who has been with the group for five years. She will render an exceedingly difficult number, "Lo, Hear the Gentle Lark."

Miss Ruth Pauline Todd, a former member of the symphony and a graduate of CPS, now affiliated with the faculty of Syracuse University, N. Y., has arranged to play with the orchestra during the concert while she is visiting her home in Tacoma.

NOTICE

Students are reminded that all fees must be paid in full before final examinations. Any questions concerning accounts, fees, etc., should be made to the Bursar's office.

1945-46 PUBLICATIONS EDITORS

Shown above are the two students who will hold down the post of Editor of the Trail and the Tamanawas for next year. Elizabeth Anderberg will be a junior next year, and will hold down the top post on the Trail. Bob Winkskill, who will also be a junior next year, will head up the Tamanawas.

New Heads Of Publications Are Chosen

Editors and Business Managers for the Trail and Tamanawas for 1945-46 were recently appointed by the Publications Committee, and approved by Central Board. Chosen to fill the position of Trail editor will be Elizabeth Anderberg, sophomore. She has been a Spur during her sophomore year, active in dramatics and in the music department. Taking over the job of Business Manager will be Anna Marie Vaughn, also a sophomore. Anna Marie has been active on the campus in many activities including the music department. She has recently been elected to the position of Program Chairman of Kappa Phi for the coming year.

Filling positions on the Tamanawas will be Bob Winkskill as editor and Marie Eckstrom as Business Manager. Bob will be a junior next year, and has been active this year in helping put the 1944-45 Tamanawas out. Marie was also the business manager this year, but said that "because I know the ropes better now I'd like to try again."

Members of the Publications Committee are the Editors and Business managers of both publications, Mr. Capen, and Dr. Jaeger. The members this year were Marden Woods, as Trail editor, Betty Jane Cappa, Trail business manager; Beverly Berlie, Tamanawas editor, and Marie Eckstrom, Tamanawas business manager.

Tamanawas Given Out At SUB

This year the Tamanawas will be distributed at the Bookstore from 12:00 noon to 1:00 as many days as are necessary to give out the entire number. The exact date of distribution is not known yet, but it is expected that they will be out before the end of school. Announcement will be made in chapel as soon as the date is known.

Those students who have paid their ASCPS fees both semesters will be given an annual by presenting their student card. However, (Continued on Page Four)

ATTENTION SENIORS!

Seniors are asked to return their caps and gowns by noon on Saturday, June 2.

Top Eight For Otlah Honorary

Against the background of a large gold acorn, symbol of Otlah, eight new pledges to this senior women's scholastic honorary were announced in the Otlah spring chapel Friday. Those selected were: Barbara Engberg and Jean Erhart, Theta; Ruby Smith, Ursella Watts, Virginia Mekkes, Gamma; Betty H. Smith, Beta; Jeanne Thurber, Norma James, Independents.

Patricia Hildebrandt, presiding president, introduced Mrs. Raymond Seward, advisor, who described the aims and requirements of Otlah, which are respectively, scholarship, service and womanliness and not less than B average.

The new pledges were then named one at a time and their honors and activities during their three college years given as a page escorted them to the stage. The members, all wearing white with red carnation, corsages, presented the pledges with their own corsages.

Present members include: Patricia Hildebrandt, president; Betty Armour, secretary; Sue Hendrickson, treasurer; Helen Pat Beem, vice president and Sally Ellington. The initiation tea at the home of Mrs. Raymond Seward will be Sunday May 27, where they will be election of officers.

Preceding the Otlah ceremony was an organ prelude of college songs by Jane Kohler, a duet by Marian Clendenon and Paul Raymond singing "Because You Are You," by Victor Herbert, and a cornet solo by Frank Price. The chapel program was closed by the student body singing the college song.

NOTICE

Students are reminded that their locks must be turned in at the Bookstore if they want their refund on the deposit made.

Commencement Program Planned Dr. Wilson Compton Speaker

Only 11 of Original Class to Graduate. More Than Ninety Now in Armed Services

Out of 227 students registered as freshmen during the fall of 1941, only 11 of the original number will be graduating on June 2. Ninety-three men from the class are now serving with the armed forces and two have made the supreme sacrifice. These two are Pfc. Tom Beer and 2nd Lieut. Steven Leckenby.

Commencement exercises will begin on Saturday, June 2, at 10 a. m. President Emeritus Edward H. Todd will give the Invocation, after the singing of the hymn "The Church's One Foundation." Following the Invocation, the Campus Trio, composed of Virginia Kilde, Marion Clendenon and Betty Heidinger Smith, and accompanied by Jeanne Thurber, will sing "Clair de Lune" by Debussy.

Dean John D. Register is to read the honor roll and again the Trio will sing, this time presenting "My Heart's Prayer" by Leighton. The commencement address is to be given by Dr. Wilson M. Compton, president of Washington State College, who has chosen as his topic, "We Are Laborers Together." Following his address will come the awarding of degrees by Dr. Franklin R. Thompson. Dr. Milton A. Marcy of the First Methodist Church will then give the benediction. Miss Doris Helen Smith at the organ will play the prelude, the processional and the recessional for the exercises. Spurs are to usher.

At the end of the exercise in the Jones Hall auditorium, the seniors will take part in the color-post ceremony, whereby they are taken into the Alumni Association of the College. At the close of the ceremony, there will be a luncheon at Kittredge Hall for the graduating students, special guests, the faculty and their wives, and the trustees and their wives. Spurs will serve.

The First Methodist Church will be the setting for the Baccalaureate service on Sunday, May 27th. President Emeritus Todd is to read the scripture lesson and Dean Register is to lead in the responsive reading. Dr. Milton A. Marcy, pastor of First Methodist, is in general charge of the program and will offer the prayer.

Dr. Thompson's Baccalaureate sermon will be on the subject, "Called To a Great Age." The Campus Trio is to sing "The Heavens Are Telling," by Haydn. Church decorations for the service are in (Continued on Page Four)

V-E Day Program Held On May 8

At 6:00 a. m. (Pacific Coast Time) on Monday, May 8, 1945, many students and faculty members were up and awake listening to the official reports of President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill of the unconditional surrender of the German forces in Europe. Several hours later, at 8 o'clock, these same students and faculty members gathered in the Jones hall auditorium for a special chapel to give thanks and pay tribute to those of this student body who are now serving in the armed forces. Under the direction of "Teach," Chuck Nee and Bob Cronander arrived at the college a good time before six in order to make a transcription of the historic broadcast. This recording was played back to the group that gathered for the special program.

As part of the program the Campus Trio, composed of Virginia Kilde, Marian Clendenon, Betty Heidinger Smith, and with Jeanne Thurber as pianist, sang several numbers. After singing "My America" they led the student body in the singing of "America the Beautiful." Completing their part of the hour they sang Alfred Hay Malotte's "The Lord's Prayer."

Expressing in words the thoughts and feelings of those in the audience, Ruth Ann Dodsworth, 1945-46 ASCPS President, led the group in a moment of prayer. Following this, Dean Register presented Captain Robert (Bob) Elliott to the students. Bob is a CPS Alum and graduate of the class of 1943. He entered the Army Air Corps a month or two before graduation and his mother received his degree which was presented to him "in absentia." Just recently he has completed his fiftieth mission as pilot of a B-24 Liberator. He has been stationed in Italy for almost two years.

Captain Elliott spoke primarily of the newly organized Veterans' group which is made up of those veterans who have a distinct interest in the rebuilding and rehabilitation of the war-torn countries. He emphasized the fact that the youth of today must begin to build the world that they wish to live in tomorrow.

Following this talk, Dr. R. Franklin Thompson spoke, and reaffirmed the belief of the former CPS student. He also stressed that none should forget that the half-way mark is all that has been reached.

Completing the program, Dean John D. Register, a veteran of the last war, spoke of the differences between this day and that November day in 1918.

After the hour-long program planned by the War Co-ordination Committee under the direction of Helen Pat Beem, the students returned to their classes and attended shortened periods.

Thanks To Students Who Helped Keep Trail Going

It has been two years since I first took over the responsibility of being Editor of the Trail. During this time I have made an attempt to build it up to the place where you, the students, will find it a helpful as well as enjoyable part of your college life. It has been my hope that in some way I may have helped to make your college memories more vivid through the pages of the paper.

At times we have had a tough pull. In fact there were times when the staff dwindled to a mere handful of interested workers. To these students you owe your "thanks" for keeping your college paper alive at a time when it might have died altogether. To such people as Jeanne McDougall, who has played a big part as both Feature and Society Editor; to Mary Ann Schenck who has also been a grand help on the society page; to Betty Jane Cappa, Margaret Lindeman, and Anna Marie Vaughn for their uniting efforts in the business field, that has been rewarded with the knowledge that all the outstanding bills are now paid to date . . . the first time this has happened in more than three years.

There have been many on the editorial staff who have stuck it out through thick and thin. To these I wish to add my personal thanks as well as to those above. Some of these include: Bob Winskill, Elizabeth Anderberg, Lois Lynch, Jolly Torgerson, Janice Lindeman, Frank Price, Gwen Simmons and Helen Pat Beem. Also to two freshmen who responded to the urgent plea some weeks ago, Helen Caputo and Jean Mickens, goes many thanks.

During the past two years we have been sending, free of charge, copies of the Trail to all the former students who are in the Armed services. Appreciation from these many former students from all parts of the globe have been expressed in letters to the Editor and to other friends on the campus. Trails have been at almost every battlefront from the Anzio beachhead to the shores of Saipan. Much of this gratitude should go to the very able circulation manager, Ruby Smith.

Again to those of you who have helped during these past two years I wish to express my sincere thanks. Together we have put out a paper that received the Associated Collegiate Press First Class Honour rating last year, as well as for last semester of which we have just received notification. It has been through your efforts that we have kept a paper going so that students will have a permanent diary of their life at the College of Puget Sound. To your next year's Editor, Elizabeth Anderberg, and Business Manager, Anna Marie Vaughn, I wish to extend my hearty congratulations, and the hope that they will put out an increasingly better and better Trail through the coming year.

MURDEN WOODS, Editor,
1943-44, 1944-45.

Dr. Martin Is Beloved Prof. On Campus

Who was the Chinese coolie that was seen shuffling around the campus on Clean-up Day, and in that chapel period a few weeks ago? Was it the gardener? Can it be that with the gas shortage, one of the faculty is using a rickshaw to get around? To those who may still be wondering about his identity—relax—it was Dr. Arthur W. Martin, professor of Mathematics.

Dr. Martin lived for 20 years in China, where he served as District Supervisor of the Methodist Church in central China, and taught at Nanking University. He arrived at CPS at the time of the transfer from the old school at 6th and Grant streets, and was one of the first Ph. D's on the faculty. He has taught mathematics here for 19 years.

Of Dr. Martin's "five husky sons, four of whom turned out to be daughters," four graduated from the College of Puget Sound. They are Francis, now Mrs. Franklin E. Johnson; Mildred, who is now married and living in Berkeley, Calif.; Arthur Jr.; and Betty, now Mrs. Frank Erickson. Arthur Jr. is now an assistant professor of Physiology at the University of Washington.

An ardent player of volleyball, Dr. Martin says that he is happy when it rains, for "Then the fellows can't play golf or tennis, and I can get some competition."

Coeditors Fulfill Jobs Admiralty

The year comes to a close for the student publications. This is the last Trail for 1944-45, and this year's Tamanawas is about to come off the press. For both it has been a good year, thanks largely to the coeditors and their respective business managers. As editor of Trail Murden Woods has been enterprising, industrious, and faithful. Despite heavy class-room loads, she and her co-workers have brought out a paper that has reported the campus and college life well, and that has won first-class honor rating by the Associated Collegiate Press two years. Betty Jane Cappa, business manager (lately helped by Anna Marie Vaughn) and her advertisers have brought the paper through to a very satisfactory financial state.

Beverly Berlie, editor of Tamanawas, though burdened with the cares of a senior, marshalled a corps of loyal and capable department editors, and thus has been the guiding genius in the production of what promises to be one of the best annuals in our year-book history. But someone's got to pay the fiddler and so, Marie Eckstrom, business manager, has almost broken a record in underwriting the bill with advertising.

Awards Made To Many CPS Students

Once again as the end of the school year draws near the annual award assembly was held Monday, May 21. Each year students look forward to this event which pays tribute to the many students who have been outstanding while attending CPS.

Two seniors have been awarded graduate scholarships. Pat Hildebrandt one in art at Mills College, and Doris Nelson one at the University of Pittsburgh.

Some years ago when Dr. Edward H. Todd was President of the college he presented a cup in recognition of the senior who had been the highest ranking student while at CPS. Last year's winner is Virginia Lantz, who was valedictorian of both her high school and her college graduating class.

Howarth appointments for next year include: Art, Peggy Doubeck; Chemistry, Rosa Mae Monger and Evelyn Coubrough; Physics, Ken Hoggart, and Speech, Ruth Ann Dodsworth. Pearl Jameson will fill the Howarth position in English. Additional elections will be made next fall.

Each year the Richard Summers award is presented by the Music department to the student who they feel has rendered the greatest service to the college in the field of music. This year the award was made to Jane Kohler.

Drama Awards Made

To the senior man who has had outstanding participation in dramatics is awarded the Robert Brandt award. This year the award was given to LeRoy (Foozy) Vaughn. The dramatics department also presents an award to the senior woman most outstanding in that field. Noreen Inveen was given that award this year.

The Junior Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemistry Society makes an award to the senior major with the highest scholastic standing in chemistry. This award was presented to Betty Armour.

Special recognition is made by the AAUW chapter here in Tacoma. They have previously made their award to Helen Pat Beem. The Women of Rotary also make an award to the junior woman on the basis of high achievements and general accomplishments. This award was made to Mary Ann Truitt.

In recognition of their character, service and scholarship the Kappa Alpha Theta trophy is awarded to a senior woman. This year's award was made to Betty Armour.

To the senior student who has unselfishly served both the college and this community the Sixth Avenue Business Men's Club makes an award of the Chimes Memorial Cup. This year that award was presented to senior class president Frank Price.

This year the Spurs received the Oxholm Trophy award as the outstanding service group on the campus. The senior class each year chooses the one member who they feel has been most useful and valuable as a member of their class. This award was made to LeRoy Vaughn.

Elected to membership in Pi Kappa Delta, National Forensics honorary were: Don Bennett, Barent Johnson for their degree of proficiency and Lyle Lindelen and Walter Loewenstein for the degree of fraternity. Also mentioned for their activity in assisting the High School debate tournament was Don Bennett and Alvirna Amundsen.

Men's Athletic awards were made to those who were members of the

Juniors Slow On Sneak But Capture Hatchet Prize

As always, the truth will finally out. But the pages of time must be turned back to view the full events from the proper angle.

It all began one dark, dark night . . . figures were running to and from the huge brick building. These figures appeared clad in (at times) nothing more than a pair of jamas. However, their every movement was being carefully watched (that is almost every movement . . . until they somehow gave the faithful watchers the slip).

Not far away, in the same neighborhood, there was another house, and another group of watchers. The hour being late (or very early as the case may be, seeing that it was in the wee small hours) the watchers began to drowse. In fitful jerks they kept one (or anyway half of one) eye on the proceedings.

"Jiggers. Here comes a car. Duck." And with this whispered shout those weary cohorts in the car would slide to the floor and peer over the edge of the seats.

"Ah, ho. What could that car be doing in that alley over there? Hum . . . it's backing out now. Wonder if . . . oh, hum, but I can hardly keep my eyes open zzzzzzz."

Some time later the telephone jangled the quiet air in a home not far distant . . . "Can you come, we think we've got them cornered. O. K." And in another part of town a deeply sleeping junior was peacefully dreaming of . . . rattle, bang, click, crack "What in the name of sense. Is it that electric cord going to blow up? No it's something on the window. Must be rain or hail. Guess I'll just go back to sle . . . crack, bang, click. That laugh. Hey, it's the kids. Wonder what's up?"

And so they began to gather one by one until the small house was virtually surrounded. But at 8 o'clock they learned the awful truth. THE SENIORS HAD SNUCK RIGHT UNDER THE WATCHFUL NOSES OF THE JUNIORS.

Well, even if the unquenchable juniors didn't catch the mighty seniors in time to make their sneak unsuccessful, they did find the hideout. Through the hot, sultry hours of that day the juniors trailed this direction and that until they finally hit on THE TRAIL. Then the fun began . . . would Mr.

Former Student Pays Tribute To His Mother

From one of the former CPS fellows who was on the campus several years ago comes this tribute to his mother. Dick entered CPS with the class of '46 and is now somewhere in France. They've written songs and poems and stuff, and Mrs. Mann guess that they were being followed? Not yet. On the highway, stop here, turn there . . . oops they've stopped too suddenly, must go on by so as not to arouse their suspicion. Now after them. So it went until they finally sensed something amiss and started on a wild goose chase to throw their pursuers off the trail. Here the juniors showed a streak of 'near genius . . . they retraced their steps and asked directions the same man where the Manns had stopped. Then they were on their way. This time in the proper direction.

Hatchet Passed

Even if their sleuthing on the sneak was not too successful the juniors redeemed themselves Monday when the traditional 'hatchet' was passed. This is the first time in a number of years (in fact some of the seniors say they have never seen it, and some of the graduates of one or two years back can only remember the chase, but not the hatchet) that the actual hatchet has been passed in chapel. There it was all its glory . . . and a sophomore and a junior (or rather a number of both) hot on the trail. Under the leadership of junior class president, Barbara Engberg, member of said class followed up clue after clue. The seniors keeping close watch soon discovered that the hatchet was not in the temporary place where they had left it. Now what?

But the story came out when a junior, Don Carstens, was found and the hatchet safe with him. How the how's, why's and wherefore's he found the precious object and are now safely hidden with it in the vault until next year's juniors are hot on the trail.

But can they ever say enough about the one who waits at home. For your return no more to roam. Now poets use exuberant phrases. You know the kind that always dazes

But as for me I'll try to start And tell you what is in my heart I send this letter of good cheer. With all my love to mother dear. For no one else can quite compare. To the one with silvery hair.

Four Sororities Choose Officers For Guidance During Next Year

As second semester draws to a close, the four sororities held their election of officers for the coming year. Presidents of the groups will be Alpha Beta Upsilon, Mrs. Betty Heiding-Smith; Delta Alpha Gamma, Miss Elverna Amundsen; Kappa Sigma Theta, Miss Margaret Lindeman; and Lambda Sigma Chi, Miss Dorcas Eggesbo.

On Alpha Beta Upsilon's cabinet are Misses Peggy Doubec, vice president; Virginia Barker, recording secretary; Gwen Simmons, corresponding secretary; Lucille Randall, treasurer; Francis Quinn, historian; sergeant-at-arms, Geraldine Foxwell; pledge mother, Polly Packard, and athletic manager, Jane Larson.

Working with Miss Amundsen on the Delta Alpha Gamma cabinet will be Misses Lois Lynch, vice president; Helen Jean Darling and Maryann Bailey, pledge mother and father, respectively; Lujean Logan, inter-sorority council representative; Shirley Gibbs, recording secretary; Wanda Smith, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Schweinler, treasurer, and Lois Fasset, sergeant-at-arms.

Officers of Lambda Sigma Chi are Misses Helen Miller, vice president; Marie Eckstrom, recording secretary; Joy Adams, corresponding secretary; Evelyn Coubrough, treasurer, and Catherine Bellinger, historian. Miss Evelyn Coubrough will also fill the position of pledge mother.

Kappa Sigma Theta officers are Miss Barbara Engberg, vice president; Jane Parker, recording secretary; Sheila Lamar, corresponding secretary; Mary Agnes Gallagher, treasurer, and Janice Planchard, sergeant-at-arms.

Gammas-Thetas Hold Annual Teas Honoring Mothers

Members and pledges of Kappa Sigma Theta and Delta Alpha Gamma sororities each held a tea last Wednesday honoring the mothers of the groups. Co-chairmen for the Gamma affair were Misses Marion Tregoning and Darcia Dayton. Held at the home of Mrs. D. M. Dayton, the affair was to have been a garden party, but was changed, due to adverse weather.

Carrying out a floral theme, flowers were placed throughout the house and a large centerpiece flanked by lighted tapers adorned the tea table. Pouring were Mesdames E. Paul Todd, I. H. Nelson and D. M. Dayton.

Under the chairmanship of Miss Marie Opsata, assisted by Miss Janice Planchard, the Theta affair was held in the lounge and sorority room in the Student Union Building. Miss Irene Fearn sang "Mother 'O Mine" and "My Mom," and Miss Sheila Lamar gave a reading entitled "Mother." Following this Miss Priscilla Newwander led the singing of sorority songs. Refreshments of cake, coffee, nuts and candies were served.

The tea green and white table had a centerpiece of lilacs and calla lilies. As each mother arrives she was presented with a small purple and green favor bearing her name.

Delta Alpha Gamma Sorority Has Annual Spring Informal Dance

Gaiety prevailed over the Student Union Building recently when Delta Alpha Gamma held its annual spring informal dance, under the chairmanship of Miss Elsie Hansen. The affair carried out a springtime theme with decorations consisting of blue and silver streamers looped around the balcony, and a sorority crest done in gold and black on the main wall.

Dancing was from 8:30 until 12:00. Special guests for the affair were a group of servicemen from Fort Lewis. Assisting the chairman were Misses Margaret DeVoto, Patricia Hildebrandt, Lujean Logan and Ursella Watts. Faculty guests were Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Seward and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bratton. Members and pledges attending the affair included Misses Elverna

Amundsen, Elizabeth Anderberg, Maryann Bailey, Marian Clendenon, Eloise Cruver, Helen Darling, Margaret DeVoto, Ruth Ann Dodsworth, Carol Hamilton, Elsie Hansen, Sus Hendrickson, Patricia Hildebrandt, Lujean Logan, Lucille Ludwick, Lois Yynch, Almira Marchesini, Virginia Mekkes, Mary Ann Munro, Doris Nelson, Jayne Shaffer, Ruby Smith, and Dorothy Schweinler.

Also Misses Mary Ann Truitt, Genevieve Verone, Ursella Watts, Margaret Dooley, Mary Elliott Viole, Hesse, Evelyn Jensen, Phyllis Lawson, Jesse Lee Mock, Jeanne Neagle, Viletta Rowe, Bonnie Steele, Wanda Smith, Carol Todd, Marian Tregoning, Jayne Votaw, Delores Walker, Merrilat Betz, Doris Maxwell, Lois Fasset, Darcia Dayton and Shirley Gobbs.

Miss Donna Cohoon, daughter of Mrs. Pauline Cohoon of Longview, was an attractive bride recently when she and Lt. O. J. Wangsness took their nuptial vows in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hadley, also of that city. Lt. Wangsness is from Underwood, Minnesota, and is with the army air forces stationed at Sacramento, Calif., where the couple will make their home for the present.

A Longview minister read the evening service for the couple with family members and close friends attending. Flowers in soft pastel shades were arranged on either side of the mantel before which the wedding party stood. The soft light of flickering candles in a branched candelabra in the center of the mantel was reflected in a wall mirror.

Six friends of the bride, wearing soft pastel dresses, held white satin ribbons and nosegays in spring flowers to form an aisle for the wedding party. The ribbon holders were Misses Merrilat Betz, Maryann Monroe, Helen Pat Beem, Katheryn Siegmund, Helen Krigsman and Mrs. Art Tice.

The bride wore a petal white afternoon frock and carried a nosegay of narcissi, baby gladioli, small roses and sweet peas in white and pale pink shades. Her cousin, Miss Marilyn Hadley, was maid of honor and Miss Joan Kincaid lighted the candles.

For the reception following the ceremony, white tulips, white snapdragons and pale pink sweetpeas were used in the centerpiece on the refreshment table. The centerpiece was flanked by white tapers. Miss Maryann Bailey cut the cake and Miss Ruth Ann Dodsworth was in charge of the guest book.

When the couple left for Sacramento the bride topped her petal white frock with a soft green coat, wore a white hat and had black accessories. She wore a corsage of a soft pink orchid and white stephanotis.

At the College of Puget Sound the bride was a member of Delta Alpha Gamma sorority and of Spurs. The bridegroom attended Moorehead State College in North Dakota.

BOND TOTAL TOPS LAST YEAR'S FIGURE

Bouquets to Lambda Sigma Chi, and Queen, Mary Louise Gutherie for outstanding bond selling. Lambdas contributed better than $82,000 to the total of better than $141,000.

Mary Louise hails from Wenatchee, Washington, and has been participating in many of the activities on the campus.

POPULAR JUNIOR GIRL REVEALS ENGAGEMENT

Highlight of Kappa Sigma Theta's mother's tea last week was the announcement by Miss Irene Fearn of her engagement to Morton O. Cluster of Denver. The news was revealed by the passing of the traditional box of candy, which was topped by two small red candy hearts bearing the names "Irene and Morton."

Daughter of Mrs. Hazel Fearn of Puyallup, Miss Fearn is a junior at the College of Puget Sound. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cluster of Denver. At present he is attending telephone repeaterman's school at Camp Crowder, Missouri. Formerly he attended the University of Wyoming.

More than ever before in the history of North America educational institutions, the United States colleges are giving attention to the study of the Portuguese language and culture.

Dorm Girls Have Cruise

The girls of Anderson Hall recently spent a Saturday afternoon cruising around the various harbors, islands and points of Puget Sound aboard the Gallant Lady II. Leaving the Tacoma Boat Mart at noon, a brief stopover was made at Redondo Beach, following which the boat went around Vashon and Morey Islands and in through Quartermaster Harbor. A mid-afternoon picnic supper was served en route. In charge of the affair was Miss Mary-Anna Schenck, social chairman of the group.

Girls making the trip included Misses Jeanne McDougall, Jean Schart, Lucille Ludwick, Marie Switzer and guest, Mary Lou Elliot and guest, Thelma Hardy, Francis Quinn, Juanita Baumgartner, Betty Winn, Jacqueline Kilbourne, Virginia Mekkes, Margaret Van Amberg, Janice Rea, Dortha Smockans, Laurine Wiegardt.

Also Misses Beatrice Young and guest, Gerri Foxwell, Jane Hill, Gwen Simmons, Marion Robinson, Bonnie Jean Steele, Viletta Rowe, Phyllis Lawson, Helen Mahoney, Marie Opsata, Merrilat Betz, Helen Pat Beem, Darcia Dayton, Lorraine Hansen, Peggy Hume and Janice Planchard.

Men's Athletics Promise Increase Next Year

It seems likely that next year will bring a great deal more in the way of men's athletics than this past year has produced. If sufficient manpower is at hand such things as basketball, golf, tennis, track and football teams will be in the offering. Schools, such as the University of Oregon are announcing that they will resume a full time intercollegiate athletic schedule and so it is that a larger enrollment of men students is expected next year at this institution. There will definitely be more in the way of an intramural program and sports equipment will generously be supplied.

This school year is ending with the men using some new baseball and tennis equipment. Also, the faculty volleyball team is still looking for some student competition, which has definitely been lacking.

Senior Chapel Held Interest

An announcement of the presentation of a memorial to be given to the school by the senior class was made in the senior assembly, May 14, by Frank Price. The gift, which will be completed sometime during the summer and hung in the lower hall before the fall semester, is to be a polished log of light wood bearing the name "Loggers" in large letters, with an axe driven into the top. It will be suspended from a beam by iron chains.

Wearing their caps and gowns, the senior class opened the assembly with a procession under an arch formed by red and white streamers held by members of the junior class. Helen Pat Beem gave a review of the noteworthy actions of the class of '45, among which, were the initiation of the song fest, the introduction of the Junior-Senior breakfast, and the organization of a war activities committee.

Foozey Vaughn then proclaimed the fact that the seniors had a number of individual bequests to make before leaving. A few of these were, a bottle of hair tonic which Barent Johnson was willing to Bob McCullough; Gunnar Larson's bequest of his solo position in the choral reading group to any male who could stand all the women; and Marion Clendenen's leaving her place in the Campus Trio to Bob Alexander.

An idea of what college life has meant to himself, as a representative of the whole class of '45, was given by Frank Price, and then "My Friend" was sung by Marion Clendenen, accompanied by Jean Thurber on the piano.

Bachelor of Science: Betty Agnes Armour (with honors), Robert Drylie Rowan (with honors), Sherman William Day, Joseph Sidney Sands, LeRoy Rowland Vaughn, James Edward York and John George Vandenberg.

Four of the men receiving the Bachelor of Science Degree are at present attending medical school. These four are Robert Rowan, Shnerman Day, Joseph Sands and John Vandenberg.

Woman Hater Would Change Tune Now

When John Knox blew "The First Blast of the Trumpet against the Monstrous Regiment of Women" he may have had his reasons. That was in the day of Mary Stuart and Elizabeth Tudor. But if he were in college today he would delight to subject himself to the benign, but efficient rule of women. He would be glad even to yield for the time being his traditional prerogative of rule. What with all there is to do today, he would say that the college man who can be a member of ASCPS, 1945-46, under the rule of Ruth Ann, Jean, and Polly will be lucky.

War Time Varsity. Those who received these awards were: George Addison, Robert Hentze, Charles Brown, Robert Oquist, Bill Campbell, Charles Morris, Carl Arness, Charles Reid, Kenneth Hoggart, Robert Minnitti, Frederick Holm, Clair Candler, and Don Carstens.

Women's Athletic Association made awards of the Intramural Championship Trophy and the Basketball Trophy to the Delta Alpha Gamma sorority. This year two senior women received the coveted 'white sweater' for the Women's senior Athletic Honorary awards. They were Sue Hendrickson and Almira Marchesini.

The cup awarded to the group on the campus who sold the most bonds during the annual bond Queen drive was presented to the Lambda Sigma Chi sorority.

This year the much coveted sorority scholastic cup was awarded to Alpha Beta Upsilon.

IRC Has Chinese Dinner

The final meeting for this year of the International Relations club was held May 7 at the Rice Bowl Cafe where 26 members and friends gathered for the annual Chinese dinner. Special guests of the club were personnel from Ft. Lewis, Madigan General Hospital and McChord Field.

The menu included a variety of popular Chinese food, such as Chop Suey, Chow Mein, Fried Rice, Sweet and Sour Spare Ribs, Fried Chinese Greens, Steamed Rice, Egg Foo Young and Tea. Members enjoyed juggling their food on chop sticks, and looked with envious eyes at the way Kay Hiroke managed them in true Oriental style.

Election of officers for the ensuing year will await the beginning of the fall term in September, according to Dr. Tomlinson, club advisor.

Chapel Committee Makes Plans For 1945-46

At a recent meeting of the chapel committee, wonderful plans have been set for the coming year. It has been decided that the program shall commence in the following manner: Mondays, educational; Wednesdays, religion; Friday, talent to be taken from outside, the student body.

The new committee consists of Mary Ann Truitt, chairman; Evelyn Marshall, secretary; Ruth Ann Dodsworth, student body president; Jean Erhart, student body vice president; Margaret Lindeman, Theta; Marla Clark, Beta; Lu Logan, Gamma; Bob McCullough, fraternity; Bob Winskill, Independent; and from the faculty, M. Bratton, Mr. Frederick and Thompson.

to perfection. With the expert guidance of Editor, Beverlie Berley, Assistant Editor, Bob Winskill, and the Business Manager, Marie Ekstrom this year's book promises to be one of the remembered events of the student year.
