Freshmen And Juniors Give Dance

Bond Drive Losers Sponsor Sport Dance in SUB Following Tonite's Game with Bellingham.

To conform to the conditions imposed upon the losers of the Victory Bond Drive on the campus, the freshmen and juniors are sponsoring an all-college dance to be held in the SUB after the game with Bellingham tonight.

Over ten thousand dollars' worth of bonds were sold by the classes, making an average of over 20 dollars a student. The final scores are: Sophomores and seniors—$6,349.60; freshmen and juniors—$4,022.25. The grand total amounted to $10,371.85.

The dance will be a sports affair open to both stags and those with dates. The junior class is arranging for the nicleodeon and is in charge of refreshments, while the freshman class is handling the advertising and planning the intermission program.

Dickens' 'Christmas Carol' To Be Given Three Times

Under the direction of Clyde Keutzer, head of the music department, and Miss Martha Pearl Jones, drama department head, three performances of Dickens' Christmas Carol will take place.

The first presentation will be on Friday, Dec. 14, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with Tacoma high school students as guests. On Sunday, Dec. 16, at 4 o'clock, CPS will have its annual vesper service for friends and patrons of the college. Wednesday morning, Dec. 19, the play will be given the third time for the students just before they leave for Christmas vacation.

Approximately 125 students are taking part in the music supporting the drama. The Adelphian Choir, the women's chorus and the Campus Trio all sing during the play and organ music will be supplied by Jane Kohler. The Choral Readers, robed in white, will present several Christmas numbers, including "Christmas Bells," by Longfellow, and the Bible story from Luke.

Taking the leading role of Scrooge, the villain, is Marshall Campbell, who handled the part in last year's production of the same play. Scrooge's former sweetheart is played by Kerttu Kahn. The ghost of Marley, Scrooge's only friend, now dead, is portrayed by Dale Nelson, while the part of his nephew, Fred, is taken by Jerry Baker. The three spirits—Past, Present and Future—which haunt Scrooge are played by Marie Opasata, Inez Doherty, and Carol Todd. Kelly Hamilton takes the part of Bob Cratchit, while his son, Tiny Tim, is played by Steve Keutzer, Professor Keutzer's son. Bill Smith is a solicitor in the play. Other members of the cast have not yet been selected.

With Shella Lamar as reader, the first part of the play will consist mostly of tableaux accompanied by the singing of Christmas carols by the trio and choruses. The Adelphians will be on stage representing a choir in a church. They will sing "A Virgin Unspotted," by William Billings, "Joy to the World," "Adeste Fideles" and "Silent Night" which will slowly fade into the Campus Trio singing it, followed by "Adeste Fideles." Their third number, "Joy to the World," will be taken up by the women's chorus seated in the balcony. The chorus will repeat "Adeste Fideles" and sing "The First Noel" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Most of these tableaux will portray Scrooge's dreams.

The production class will provide properties with Mark Kennell as chairman of that committee. Chuck Nee and Bob Lyon are in charge of lights.

Skating Party Planned For Next Friday

According to Buster Arness, Ski Club president, and also according to the many clever signs now being exhibited in the halls, there will be an ice skating party at Lakewood Ice Arena this coming Friday, Dec. 14.

Transportation to and from the arena will be provided and skating will be from 10:15 to 12:15. Admission price, which includes the transportation and admission to the arena but does not include the price of renting skates, is 45 cents for Ski Club members and 55 cents for non-members.

Skaters are to meet at the SUB, from which the bus will leave at 9:30.

Queen, Duke And Duchess Are Elected

Chosen to be Yell Queen for the year is Neva Iverson, freshman. Assisting her will be Jeanne Miles, as Duchess, and Kelly Hamilton, as Duke, also freshmen. Neva is a member of the Adelphian Choir and a pledge of Alpha Beta Upsilon.

Kelly, already firmly established in the dramatics department, having been in both the freshman plays and the Homecoming play, is also an Adelphian Choir member. Jeanne is secretary of her class, and a pledge of Kappa Sigma Theta.

All seven contestants in the special pep chapel held Thursday morning were freshmen. The other candidates were: Buster Arness, who finished the race only a few votes behind the winners, Gretchen Swayze, Bob Holland and Ray Cason.

The new yell leaders will be seen in action for the first time tonight when the Logger basketball team plays the Bellingham team in its first home game. For further details of the game see page 4.

Jane Parker and Harold Simonson To Fill Offices

Elected last Friday evening to head the Tacoma Youth organization as president was Jane Parker, sophomore. This new organization is sponsored by the Tacoma Council of Churches.

Another CPS student, Harold Simonson, who is Freshman Class president, was elected to the vice presidency.

Approximately 100 Tacoma high school and college students were present at this first meeting, which was held in the First Christian church.

Inter-Frat Council Formed; Walter Seabloom President

Rush Plans Postponed in Hopes that Spring Semester Will Bring More Fraternity Men Back

Due to the approach of the new semester and the release of CPS men from the Armed Forces, a meeting was called Tuesday by Dean Register to form an inter-fraternity council.

Representatives from the five former fraternities were on hand to elect officers for the current year. Walter Seabloom, member of Delta Kappa Phi and recently released from the U. S. Navy was elected Inter-Fraternity president. Chosen to serve as Secretary was Dennis Walker, of Sigma Mu Chi, who has been discharged from the U. S. Army.

The council decided unanimously to make no definite plans for rush affairs, with the hope that by Spring more fraternity men would be back. Voting procedure was discussed. The council also decided to hold bi-weekly meetings.

Representing Sigma Mu Chi were Robert Starkey, Robert Oquist, Ed Webb and Dennis Walker; Alpha Chi Nu—Marshall Riconischuto and Richard Jacobson; Delta Pi Omicron—Clarence Schore; Sigma Zeta Epsilon—James Van Camp; Delta Kappa Phi—Walter Seabloom.

Faculty representatives present were Dean Register, Dr. Charles T. Battin and Dr. Warren E. Tomlinson.

Junior Awarded New Scholarship At Monday Chapel

Anna-Marie Vaughn, second student on the campus to receive a National Methodist scholarship, was presented with $200 out of a total maximum of $400 for the year, at Monday chapel on November 26th. The other scholarship holder is Keith Chase, freshman, who won his upon graduation from high school.

Anna-Marie, a junior, has been very active in the music and dramatic departments of the college. She is a member of Alpha Beta Upsilon, and an officer of Kappa Phi.

To be eligible for one of these scholarships, a student must rank in the upper 15 per cent of his class in college in the preceding year, or of his high school class. He must have at least a "B" average and must meet other high requirements in character and service.

National scholarships are available to a limited number of students in each of the 84 colleges accredited by the University Senate, which is the accrediting agency of Methodist educational institutions. The plan, authorized by the 1944 General Conference, went into effect for the first time this fall. Up to 250 young persons in all parts of the country may be recipients of the scholarship this year.

A percentage of the proceeds of the offering in all Methodist churches on Methodist Student Day, the second Sunday in June, was designated for the establishment of the Scholarship Fund.

The Scholarships are designed to cover cost of tuition and all fees for the year, and are worth up to a maximum of $400.

History Award To Be Given

A scholarship of one hundred dollars will be awarded to a CPS student of history for the school year 1946-47. This award comes from the Washington branch of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and is to encourage the study of American history. Each year the award goes in rotation to one of the State of Washington's main institutions of higher learning: the University of Washington, Washington State College, Whitman College and the College of Puget Sound.

Students interested should make written application for this scholarship, giving their record of history and related courses in high school and college, special interests in American history and suggestions for a topic for special study.

On the basis of these applications and the students' personal records and abilities the History Department will select the winner of the award. This student will undertake a special project of study or research in American history. By early spring of 1946 this study should be completed and a report made. The student may then be asked to appear before a few groups and organizations to present short talks on the subject investigated.

Applicants must be upper division students at CPS next school year, therefore Sophomores or Juniors this year. They do not have to be either majors or minors in History. The applications should be handed in to the History Department before the beginning of Christmas vacation. The winner will be notified in January, and the award presented in the spring.

Attendance At Game Tonight Will Be Indication of True College Spirit

For the first time in almost a student generation CPS will witness a real college basketball game tonight when our Loggers meet Bellingham.

School spirit, like anything else that is well worth doing or having, must begin at the beginning to be the thing that it sets out to be.

No doubt we'll all be there at the game. This editorial, however, is for those of us who weren't planning on going—a little reminder that our school is what we make it, and that our school spirit needs a little "airing out" if we have to be urged to go.

OFF BEAT

By the EmCee

This afternoon is the third in the series of student recitals at the music building. These recitals were originally scheduled for every two weeks, and so Dr. Eves and his math department better not look now, because fourteen days have supposedly flitted by since last Friday.

These student recitals have proven very popular so far. The participants are getting as much out of them as are the listeners. At the first program three weeks ago all the seats were filled. Yes, sir, all fourteen of them. Better come early today to get your seat.

A terrific number of requests have come to the music department for Christmas entertainment. Between now and vacation time, the Harmonaires and the Campus Trio, among others, will be losing more and more sleep until they won't know whether they're in tune or not. Everyone expects to live through the holiday season, however.

Music by our departmental representatives will be heard at the First Congregational Church, at an A. A. U. W. meeting, and at the U. S. O., to mention only three places. Within the next week, too, our future Pons' and Adlers will entertain in the wards at Madigan hospital. I could make several remarks about that trip.

You may recall that the Puget Sound Symphony concert was originally scheduled for last Sunday, December 2. For various and sundry reasons that concert has been put off, and the tentative date now is February 10. It's worth waiting for, though, as Rossini's spirited "Barber of Seville" overture is one of the numbers on the program.

One of the busiest groups on the campus now is the Adelphian concert choir. They are holding extra rehearsals in preparation for their activities, the most important of which will be a combined music and drama department production of Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

Basketball Buildup

I'll be down to get you in a taxi, honey; Better be ready, 'cause the game starts at eight!

There's something in the air at night That gives one quite an appetight. It seems to make us feel so sporty That I've finally come to the conclusion that life must begin at 18 and not 40.

Football's over; it can't be that, Which makes us want to holler, "Hooray" and do a back flip at the drop of a megaphone or hat. It's "Dribble down the maples! Shute! Shute!" And "Look at Van Camp's legs; aren't they cute!"

Yes, basket-ball's here and here to stay; Both men's and women's variety. There's Gamma and Theta and Alpha Beta U. And Lambda and Indes and the Varsity too.

Speaking of Varsity, they're really on the beam, And well we might be proud of our team. Tonight we play Bellingham, rumored a whiz, But we're out to lick 'em—lick 'em, that is.

There's Scott and Chase and Van Camp that we mentioned, And Billet and Fincham who deserve your best attention. Neva, Jeanne and Kelly will be there too, But they only lead the yells, the rest is up to you. So let's see you there, one and all, AT THE FIRST HOME GAME OF BASKETBALL!

IN LOVE AGAIN

I was taking a walk on one of those bright, warm, Indian summer days. The sun splashed brilliantly over the sidewalk and I paused to soak up some of its rays. Shielding my eyes, I noticed that I was in front of a grocery store of some kind, and sitting on a bench in front of this store was one of the prettiest girls I had seen in a long time.

Scrooge doubling as a basso-profundo in the final scene. The eighty-five-voice women's glee club will also sing in this version of a famous Christmas story.

This year the Adelphian Choir will again sing at the Union Depot. Two things will make the performance different, though. First, the group will wear their red and white robes which have been with the moth balls for the last few years. Second, there will be a public address system so arranged that the music will carry to the tracks below the station.

Some service lady at Fort Lewis accidentally heard the college's radio broadcast before Thanksgiving and thought the Adelphians were good enough for the Army. So on Sunday, the ninth, the chorus will put on two programs at one of the recreation halls at the Fort. Between programs the chorus will get a free meal. Oh boy, Army chow! Seriously, all the basses and tenors and altos and sopranos are pleased that the radio program went so well.

Prof. Keutzer wasn't very pleased, though, when he asked the chorus last week if anyone had seen one of the Tregoning girls. It seems he had a message for one of the Tregonings to give to Virginia Kilde, who happened to be absent. At any rate, punster Alexander (the tenors don't claim him) had a ready answer. "I haven't," he said, "but there's a Tregoning in Brooklyn."

Watch this column next week for the announcement of an important concert coming up in January. Someone new and someone old will be entertaining Tacomans next month.

before we had even spoken I knew I was in love with her. I caught her eye, and smiled; and glory of glories, she smiled right back at me! Thus encouraged, I sidled along the length of the bench until I could almost touch her curly blonde hair. But, as I didn't want her to think me too forward, I just sat; I didn't say anything, but I looked into her clear blue eyes, and smiled and smiled and smiled!

Finally she said, "Well, what's your name? We might just as well become acquainted if we have to wait here."

"My name is Dick," I said, "and what, pray tell, is thine?" (And I was falling more in love with her as every moment and instant went by.)

"My name is Phyllis," she informed me, with a slight lisp that made my heart beat, oh, ever so fast. She sat very still, with that inscrutable feminine smile on her lips—whilst she dangled me over the stream of uncertainty, tantalizing me with the bait of further meetings. . . . But even as I recognized the maneuver, I didn't mind, it just made me more sure that she was what I had been looking for, for such a long time.

Just as I was going to tell Phyllis how beautiful I thought her, a very striking lady walked out of the store, bent over my heart's flame, and said, "Have you been a good girl, my little dear, while mother

Five foot two, eyes of blue, oh my—what that gal can do. Has anybody not seen Margie?

Margaret Lindeman is listed in "Who's Who in American colleges and universities," among its annals of young leaders, and we here at CPS list her as one who will go out and do things. Among the things she has accomplished are being worship chairman of SCA, a member of Women's Federation, on the chapel committee, and in Girls' Chorus. During her sophomore year she was business manager of The Trail. Otlah, senior girls' honorary, selected her, WAA named her their leader, and Kappa Sigma Theta chose her as president.

As for food, she advocates spaghetti cooked with tomatoes and large olives, as tasty. "You know

The weekly pattern of events in Anderson Hall has been favorably spiced this week by the news that the faculty has set the week-end hours from 1:30 to 2:00 a. m. When Mrs. "S" announced it to some of us, there were screams, laughs, and shouts for joy from many a resident.

Have I told you about the dance it will be in the SUB, 8:30 to 11:00 on Saturday, December 8. O. K. you dorm girls; polish up your dancing shoes and come on over.

There was a surprise party on November 30 for Shirley Opsata. There was cake and coffee, lots of gifts for Shirley; and was she surprised to walk in and find a cake complete with candles, and more than that—her mother standing there. Everyone had a very good time, including Shirley.

The Kappa Phi members disappointed the pledges Wednesday night so they came in with revenge in their eyes and attempted to put three of the members in the shower. Bee Young and Marie Switzer escaped the bath, but Maisie Harold was persuaded by some fourteen pledges that she wanted a shower at 11:45 Wednesday night. It ended in quite a lot of noise and Bobbee Evans finally put the flood light gleam out of her eyes and went to bed.

Jo Gormley has a new part-time job singing at the Olympus Supper Club—Gwen Simmons is having quite a bit of trouble with the Navy—Marion Newman is recovering from a sock in the jaw—Natalie Hyndman got a dozen roses the other day from "Jackson"—Jean McDougall (who was one of us last year) is on her way from Florida to marry Alvin Danielson—Janis Planchard is planning how to be a doctor's wife—I'm going to the CPS-Bellingham game tonight. Phyllis winked at me, but nodded a casual "yes" to her mother. "Well then, let's go home, your daddy is waiting for his dinner." Phyllis again looked up, and said (so I thought) sadly, "Goodbye Dickie," then her mother lifted her up, placed her in the perambulator, and off they wheeled. . . . and my poor heart was broken.

those hot fudge sundaes served the sub—well, I like them too," a direct quote.

The man of her life must have eyes that crinkle, a low voice that emotes wit and wisdom, be not too tall, and like children, because Margie's favorite form of people are children. That is why she majors in sociology and aspires to do social group work with children after graduation next June.

During spare hours, which our gatherings are limited, Margie enjoys playing bridge and chatting. Slow dreamy music should be available if the card table, candy and nuts and partners are not. But if a swimming pool, bowling alley, saddle horse or mountain is around such a time, the music and cards are definitely demoted in preference.

Many were the tales that were told of what lay behind the small locked door at the top of four long flights of stairs. Some said 'twas shades of departed seniors holding kangaroo court for unwary freshmen who perchance had trespassed on hallowed custom. Others thought that therein might dwell the evil spirit which gave rise to Prof. Slater's surprise tests, or the formless thief who left one with nothing but a paucity of words while class AND Prof. Tomlinson awaited the answer to an unanticipated question.

None dared disturb the mysteries within until eleven years ago, when the CPS Art Club ventured there. They found the nameless terrors had fled, leaving their shrouds behind, piled high in corners, draped on boxes among paints, ladders and strange ghostly trivia. Hoping to dispel forever the haunts of yore, the students cleaned, sorted and discarded, discovering a collection of knives and various miscellany. Now, every artist, would-be or accomplished, dreams of an exhibit. Here was a gallery, and here were articles for display. Soon other collections succeeded the exhibit of knives. Then the Northwest show was brought from Seattle. Even the city folk became interested. Thus was formed the Tacoma Art Association, "to promote an interest in art in the community by opportunity for self-expression in creative art." And so, the Art Galleries in Jones Hall came into being.

Here have been exhibited the works of masters modern and old; artists of local, national, and international fame, Picasso, Van Gogh, Cezanne, Renoir among the best known.

The spirits to be found there today are fixed in paint, like the wonderful Green Dragon of Lynn Linares; or the Oriental dervishes and dancers of Scofield Handforth, shown in the first exhibit of this season. Some you'll like; others you may not. Tis true, many are a little difficult to understand. However, one thing is sure, CPS is extremely fortunate that are which others must travel miles to see, may be seen within our own walls.

There will be no exhibit this month, but it is hinted that January's showing will be well worth waiting for. Our own Dr. and Mrs. Tomlinson were instrumental in making the necessary arrangements while on their summer sojourn in Canada. Be sure to watch for announcement of the next showing.

Two Annual Pledge Dances Held At Lakewood and Sub

A Ski Lodge in the midst of a snowy wonderland was the setting for the pledge dance of Alpha Beta Upsilon sorority which was held in the Student Union Building, Saturday evening, December 1. Music was provided by Bob Columbini and his orchestra. The scene outside of the Lodge gave a view of mountains in the distance with a starry sky behind them, and a "snowstorm" overhead. The Ski Lodge was typical with its fireplace, skis, poles, mittens and other things that go with this winter sport. During intermission the Campus Trio sang several numbers and Kyle Smith played a medley of songs on the piano.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair were Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Seward, Mrs. Lyle Ford Drushel, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gibbs and Dr. and Mrs. John D. Register.

The dance was under the direction of Aleatha Mae Dieatrick, pledge president; and Betty Robinson, general chairman. The other committees were: Music, Sue Ritchey, Neva Iverson, Anita Stebbins; refreshments, Marilyn Dunlap, Harriet Warne; decorations, Frances Swenson, Lois Phillips; programs, Shirley Ann Sandin, Joyce Taylor; patrons and patronesses, Madge Spears and Phyllis Blazer.

Gamma Dance
On Friday evening, November 30, Lakewood Center was the scene of the annual dance given by the pledges of Delta Alpha Gamma. Using the sorority colors, pink and silver, the decorations carried out the theme of "Stardust Fantasy." Members, pledges and guests danced to the music of a popular orchestra and piano selections were played by Kyle Smith, during intermission.

Joan McIver was general chairman for the dance with the following committee chairmen: Refreshments, Donna June Bennett; decorations, Dorothy Schut; program, Natalie Nicholson; entertainment, June Hyatt; cleanup, Gretchen Ernst.

Patrons and patronesses for the dance were Prof. and Mrs.

Short Story and Article Contest Open To Pupils

A $1500 prize contest open to all officially enrolled college students throughout the United States has been announced by TOMORROW magazine, which has consistently sponsored the work of new and young writers.

The best short story and the best article will each receive a first prize of $500, while second prize in both of these categories will be $250.

The choice of subject matter for both stories and articles is left to the discretion of the contestants, although no theme is actually prohibited. Manuscripts will be judged solely on the basis of literary merit and clarity of expression.

The board of judges include Allen Tate of the University of the South; Professor William Blackburn of Duke University; Stringfellow Barr, President of St. John's College; and Dr. Elizabeth Manwaring of Wellesley College.

TOMORROW, a magazine interested chiefly in public affairs, literature, philosophy, education and science, with emphasis on their development in the future, will publish both the prize-winning story and article in its December, 1946, issue. However, all manuscripts, whether or not they receive awards, will be considered for publication.

Length of manuscripts may range from 2500 to 5000 words. The notation "Entry for College Contest" along with the name and address of the contestant must appear on the envelope and also the first page of each manuscript. Return postage must also be included.

This contest closes on May 1, 1946. All entries should be mailed to College Contest, TOMORROW, 11 East 44th St., New York 17, New York.

Junior hostesses and senior volunteers are needed at the U. S. O. at 13th and Pacific Avenue. Anyone with time to spend and who wishes to help with this work should call MA. 3159 and ask for Miss Vourlis.

WSSF Secretary Addresses Student Christian Group

Student Christian Association members who attended the regular Tuesday meeting received the chance to listen to Francis N. Magliozzi, traveling secretary for the World Student Service Fund.

Mr. Magliozzi, though limited as to time, attempted to explain the functioning of the fund in Europe, China and the United States. The fund, he explained, is not expected to save anyone's life, but is expected to and does save people as students.

He called this help for students, which is extended regardless of faith or race, the "most humanitarian work there is."

Mr. Magliozzi graduated magna cum laude from Harvard University in 1936 after majoring in Romance languages. As an undergraduate, he was a member of the Alpha Phi Delta and Phi Beta Kappa and was very active in the Circolo Italiano, serving as its president for two years. In the years 1936-37, he studied Italian literature and history at the University of Rome under the auspices of the Institute of International Education. Returning to the United States he received his M. A. degree in teaching from Harvard in 1938.

During the next three and a half years, Mr. Magliozzi served on the faculty of the Williamstown (Mass.) High School, where he taught history, French and Latin. Entering the Army in 1942, he was made an intelligence sergeant in the 4th Armored Division and served in England and France until he was wounded and returned to this country for hospital treatment. He was awarded the Purple Heart and received his honorable discharge in August, 1945.

FACULTY NOTES

Miss Bell had her occupational therapy students make figurines and vases out of paper towels and paste plus ingenuity to demonstrate to Teach, who wouldn't be convinced otherwise, that her people could make "paper mache" novelties. Incidentally, Miss Bell has put up on her bulletin board timely, illustrated pamphlets on rehabilitation work showing its far-reaching aspects.

Miss Stevens has been tacking up on her bulletin board articles for passersby interested in home economics. She has also been pinning up choice pieces of poetry. The appetizing display of canned fruit and vegetables in the showcase shows what Miss Stevens' beginning foods class can do.

Three former CPS professors are now in Tacoma on terminal leave. They are: Dr. Raymond L. Powell, head of the educational department, who was a captain in the army, Warren L. Perry, a major in the army, who is College librarian, and Leonard Jacobsen, head of the piano department. It is not yet definite as to when they will return to teaching at the College.
