Class Schedule To Be Changed On Wednesday

Because of a special Christmas Chapel at which Dickens' "Christmas Carol" will be presented, tomorrow's schedule of classes will be as follows:

- First Period, 8:00-8:35.
- Second Period, 8:40-9:15.
- Third Period, 9:20-10:00.
- Fourth Period, 10:05-10:40.
- Special Chapel, 10:45-12:05.

The afternoon schedule will proceed as usual, announces the registrar's office. Vacation begins after the afternoon classes. Classes after vacation will begin again on Thursday, January 3.

Christmas Season Depicted In Halls With Decorations

Two little choir girls and a little choir boy look down on the first floor of Jones Hall from their place in the snow on the windowseat just at the head of the stairs. Pale blue sky showing through the windows creates a soft, warm light in contrast to the fallen snow on the window ledges which it seems one could almost touch if the windows were opened. The old-fashioned lantern sheds its golden light on the children's serene faces as they sing their favorite carols, and the star of Bethlehem watches over the peaceful scene.

In a corner of the first floor hall stands a huge, beautiful Christmas tree, and a smaller one is in the Chapel near the organ. Ribbon beaded firs are hung on either side of the stage, and more of the sweet smelling boughs line the balcony railing.

To complete the Christmas atmosphere, the door of each classroom is adorned with a wreath or spray of the cheery greens, with bright red bows or sprigs of holly to brighten them up.

Dr. Thompson Is Speaker

With the coming of the Christmas season, President R. Franklin Thompson has delivered five Christmas speeches, with one still remaining on his schedule, besides giving a prayer at the end of each performance of the Christmas Carol.

Tomorrow night at the Gowman hotel in Seattle he will address the Office Managers' Organization, which will be his last Christmas speech for this year.

Last week, on Monday, he spoke to the Methodist preachers of Spokane and on Tuesday to the Tuesday Study Club here in Tacoma. On Saturday President Thompson gave a speech entitled "Christmas Customs and Legends" to the Tacoma branch of the Associated American University Women.

This morning, with "Nativity and Destiny" as his subject, he talked to the ministers of Tacoma at a breakfast sponsored by the Council of Churches.

Merry Christmas!

International Relations Club Holds Party

Christmas festivity prevailed at the last meeting of the International Relations Club Monday, Dec. 10. The meeting, in the form of a party, was held at the home of Mrs. Lela Shiffbauer.

After a short preliminary business meeting the program was presented by a number of people. With the help of these, the members were taken on a imaginary journey through several countries of the world to view the people and customs there at the holiday season.

Taking the group, via word pictures, to England, Christmas pudding, Yule log, and long lasting traditions, was Wilma Reed from Canada. Next the group was taken to the north and across the English Channel to Sweden where Shirley Sandin outlined a typical Yuletide season. This last was complete with description of luscious meals, gay parties, and merry customs.

The group next moved south to France where Virginia Mekkes described their customs. Maurice Goldenhar sped the group up to Belgium into the city of Brussels for a sight of Christmas in that country. Here all present were introduced to Father Christmas who arrives in that city by train.

Dr. Tomlinson, advisor of the group, next took them to Germany and Austria where a great many of the United States customs originate, especially many traditions concerning the Christmas tree. According to Dr. Schafer, the Chinese do not have any unusual Christmas celebration, but they do have a Festival to celebrate the New Year which is comparable to the Christmas traditions and customs. At that time they have several feast days, beginning with a

Christmas Carol To Be Given Wednesday

Third Performance of Dickens' Play to Be Presented in Special Chapel at 10:45 Wednesday Morning.

Amid Christmas greenery accented with shining red bows, the time-honored Christmas story, "The Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, has been presented twice in the Jones Hall auditorium, with the third performance scheduled for a special chapel period tomorrow at 10:45.

On Friday afternoon the play was given the first time for an audience of over 500 high school students from Tacoma and surrounding towns. It was presented again as the annual Christmas vesper service of CPS for friends of the college.

All the richness of Christmas in music and pageantry is included in the performances, with over 125 students participating in the many musical selections, which consist mostly of the familiar carols.

Christmas Carol Cast

Members of the cast are Scrooge, portrayed by Marshall Campbell; his former sweetheart, Kerttu Kahn; Fred, his nephew, Jerry Baker; Fred's wife, Lorraine Hason; Bob Cratchit, Kelly Hamilton; Mrs. Cratchit, Irene Fearn; Tiny Tim, Steve Keutzer; other Cratchit children, Carolyn Keutzer, Marylou Lamar and Elizabeth Anderberg as Martha; Fezziwig, Scrooge's former employer, Mark Kennell; the ghost of Marley, his deceased business partner, Dale Nelson and Bill Smith, a solicitor.

Tying the various scenes together is Sheila Lamar as reader. Marie Opsata, Inez Doherty and Carol Todd represent the Past, Present and Future in Scrooge's visions. The unusual lighting creates an amazingly supernatural effect for their appearances, while Leonard Raver strikes weird chords on the organ. Chuck Nee and Bob Lyon are in charge of the lighting.

The Adelphian Choir, the Women's Chorus and the Campus Trio provide music for the drama, while the Choral Readers present four Christmas readings.

Women's Chorus Members

Members of the women's chorus are Janice Allen, Katherine Alm, Elverna Amundsen, Marilyn Andrews, Betty Angel, Jeane Baitinger, Virginia Barker, Vernace Barton, Elizabeth Bean, Marie Beck, Ruth Behrens, Audrey Boucher, Lorraine Brown, Helen Caputo, Patricia Coffman, Lorraine Dahl, Darcia Dayton, Aleatha Dietrick, Peggy Doubek, Mary Elliott, Gretchen Ernst, Anne Evans, Roberta Evans, Mary Agnes Gallagher, Jacqueline Gibson, Mary Gilbert, Pat Gordon, Emily Harold, Vernetta Harvie, Barbara Hodges, Trudy James, Vera Jensen, Beverly Johnson, Cleona Kahler, Jane Koehler, Phyllis Lawson, Zelda Lay, Clara Lewis, Margaret Lindeman, Doreen Lockstone, Helen Mahoney, Marjorie Mann, Lillian Martin, Sara Mather, Lois McLorinan, Jeanne Mickens, Marian Newman, Phyllis Newman, Virginia Norton, Polly Packard, Lois Phillips, Lucile Randall, Peggy Rough, and Barbara Rowe.

Margaret Van Amburg is the accompanist and the rest of the chorus members are Viletta Rowe, Irma Russell, Marthajean Sandin, Mary Silvermaster, Margaret Smith, Marjorie Smith, Dotha Smock, Jacqueline Spearman, Joan Stapleton, Bonny Steele, Helen Thomas, Muriel Thompson, Betty

Music Head In Concert January 7

Opening the new year with a song will be Clyde Keutzer, director of the music department at CPS, who will present his first Tacoma concert at the First Congregational Church on the evening of January 7. The performance is open to the public and will begin at 8:15. Accompanist for Mr. Keutzer will be Leonard Jacobsen, head of the college's piano department, who is now on terminal leave from the army.

Prof. Keutzer, a tenor, received his Ph. B. from the University of Chicago, and his M. A. in music from Columbia University. He studied voice with Mme. Schoen-Rene of the Julliard Graduate School and with Arthur Burton in Chicago. He coached opera and song repertoire with Arpad Sandor, famous accompanist and coach, and Felix Wolfes, assistant conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Co.

For several years he was under contract with a prominent concert management company. He was a soloist with the Philadelphia Civic Opera Co. and has been soloist at St. James Episcopal church, Chicago; Second Presbyterian church, New York City, and Fairmont Presbyterian church, Cleveland, Ohio. For two summers he had leading roles with a Broadway stock company on Cape Cod, Mass.

Prof. Keutzer's program is as follows:

- I
  - O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me? (from "Semele")...Handel
  - Sweet Was the Song...Attey
  - Love Is a Bauble...Leveridge
- II
  - Aria from "Die Walkure"...Wagner
- III
  - Ruhe, Meine Seele...R. Strauss
  - Die Post...Schubert
  - Du Bist Wie Eine Blume...Schumann
  - Widmung...Schumann
- IV
  - None But the Lonely Heart...Tschalkowsky
  - Jenny Kissed Me (MS)...Nan Cooke-Smith
  - Into the Night...Edwards
  - The Sleigh...Kountz
- V
  - Old Mother Hubbard (in the style of Handel)...Burlow
  - When I Have Sung My Songs...Charles
  - Tankerton Inn...Fisher

SCA Features Chapel Services

Christmas spirit has pervaded the halls of CPS during the last week, but it was centered and expressed in a religious way on Monday and Tuesday in the Little Chapel when students dropped in for a few minutes of inspirational worship. Favorite Christmas Carols and stories of Jesus were featured in the services.

The program was under the chairmanship of Viola Warner. The chapel was decorated by Cathy Tillman, chairman; Irene Kilduff, Eileen Boyd and Gladys Jones.

The Christmas Cynic

Someone once said that a cynic is a man who found out when he was about ten that there wasn't any Santa Claus, and he's still upset.

There are many cynics in the world today; some are habitual cynics, some are only cynics on occasion. The worst of them all, however, is the Christmas cynic, for the Christmas cynic not only does not believe in Santa Claus, but he does not believe even in the spirit of Christmas.

It is love for our fellowmen that predominates at Christmas time, that is shown through our exchanging of gifts and merry greetings; it is love of our fellowmen that is taught in the Christmas services of worship.

This all-pervading sense of love is the essential of Christmas spirit, but the cynic cannot see the connection. The cynic, who discovered that there is no Santa Claus (in actual human form), heartily endorses old Scrooge's exclamation of "humbug."

OFF BEAT

By the EmCee . . .

Vacation is almost here and everyone connected with the music department is mighty tired, but happy. One final production of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" tomorrow at 10:45, and the Adelpian Choir, to mention one group, can breathe more easily.

As soon as vacation is over, however, the Adelpians will be back at work. They get another free meal for their singing, this time in January at Seattle. On the evening of January 8, the choir will journey north 30 miles to sing at the Civic Auditorium. The occasion is a meeting sponsored by the State Council of Churches.

On the evening of January 7, at 8:15, Prof. Keutzer makes his formal vocal debut in Tacoma. For those of you who didn't hear him on Wainwright Day, our music director is a tenor. His concert will be held at First Congregational Church, and it is open to the public. This time there will be no microphone to slip in its groove on a high "A".

Mr. Keutzer's accompanist will be none other than Leonard Jacobson. Piano students of CPS will remember him as a former teacher here. He has been discharged from special service in the army and will be back to teach piano again at the start of the second semester, we hope.

And that is the "someone new" and "someone old" of last issue's Off Beat. Incidentally, Mr. Keutzer had a birthday on December 6, and he thought the "someone old" applied to him.

Last Saturday and Sunday the Adelpian choir and assisting artists had a very hilarious time at Ft. Lewis and Madigan Hospital. Everyone made a great hit, and a Red Cross girl was surprised that no one walked out during what she called "the highbrow stuff." Either some punk shows have been put on at Madigan, or the music from CPS was super. Prof. Keutzer, who has done a lot of last week's type of work, prefers to believe that his stooges are extra good.

If the trip to Madigan is any indication of next spring's tour by the Adelpians, those who are lucky enough to go are in for a hi-ho time. Someone will have to separate Kelly Hamilton and Keith Chase in the bus, though. And ten to one Mr. Keutzer will want to play "itchy-coo." And then Flash Raver will have to work extra hard on all types of pianos between now and then in order to be in top form. Seriously, anyone who goes on that trip is going to have to work hard.

Wednesday and Thursday last week were dress rehearsals for the "Christmas Carol," and with 125

We of Anderson Hall are very busy cramming the last few pairs of shoes, Spanish, Anatomy, and Math books into our suitcases, getting ready to leave for Home Sweet Home this afternoon. We go all directions, far and near. Perhaps you would like to know a few of the places we hail from. Merillat Betz travels the greatest distance, as she comes from Glendale, California. Next comes Helen Hewett from Great Falls, Montana, and Gloria Clapp, Anne Evans, and Wilma Reed greet us from various parts of our northern neighbor, Canada.

Vera Jensen, Marion Newman, and Marie Opsata will take the Bremerton bus, while Mary Lou Henry, and Shirley Opsata leave for Renton this afternoon. Then, of course, there are the Olympia girls—much too numerous and famous to mention here.

The dorm dance was a huge success. A setting of Candle-light and coke gave the "Campus Club" just the right atmosphere for a delightful evening of dancing. Luella Jackson and "Tommy" were there; also Lucille Ludwick and Bob Causen. Bobbee Evans came with her Jimmie, Harold Murphy escorted Peggy Doubeck, and Darcia Dayton spent her evening with Dennis Walker. At intermission, deep-voiced Jo Gormley sang for us.

The Lambdas and the Thetas in the dorm were quite worried about the pledge dances coming up. Everything seems to have turned out all right though.

The girls of Anderson Hall had a Christmas party last night. June Larson and Marie Opsata were in charge; popcorn, fudge, and punch were served and gifts exchanged. We all join in wishing each and every one of you a Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year! See you after Christmas.

people running around, a lot of surprising things could and did happen. One of the most perplexed persons during the afternoon was Mark Kennel. All he had to do was pull the curtain, sing in the chorus, double as two characters in the play, and be shouted at by Chuck Nee.

"How-to-Blow-the-Pitchpipe" lessons were taken by Betty Smith, Elizabeth Anderberg, and Anita Stebbins, and they all blow quite well. Three members of the Choral Readers competed with the organ chimes for awhile, and the readers finally won out by decision of Teach Jones. All in all, they were very spirited rehearsals—very spirited, that is.

Those "angels" voices that you all heard in chapel last Wednesday represented none other than the Women's Collegiate Singers. It was their first public sounding, although you may have heard them practicing in the auditorium while you were trying to study in the library some Tuesday noon. You'll hear them again in the Christmas play, and they'll be roosting in the same southeast loft in the balcony.

That's all from the music department for 1945. Merry Christmas, everyone.

Senior Spotlight

Betty H. Smith . . .

The occult powers of the Campus Trio are well known here at CPS and throughout the state. Last spring the group traveled on a concert tour giving performances in high schools, army hospitals and even on improvised stages for men on bivouac. Active in the group, since it was formed in the spring of 1943, we choose Betty H. Smith as our outstanding senior.

This girl with the apple-honey voice is a member of Otlah, senior womens' honorary, president of Alpha Beta Upsilon, in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," on chapel committee and a member of Central Board. She will receive her degree in Business Administration this January, but plans to continue during spring semester to wear the cap and gown in June.

"Kyle" is a word that crops up often when speaking to Betty. It's not an obsession, however, but simply Mr. Smith's first name. In case you're curious, he has brown curly hair, plays the piano expertly, is from Akron, Ohio, and was recently discharged from the army after being overseas 33 months. His taste in good music is up there with Betty's, so it is plain to see that life for the Smiths is a melody.

As for ambition, right at this moment Betty's is to find an apartment. Just for the time being of course, for soon she hopes to have a white brick home with a large yard, fireplaces and perhaps a Hammond Electric organ. Naturally, a piano is a prime requisite even if they find only two rooms.

Food is something edible that resembles squash in no way, according to the Smiths. For something special they choose fried chicken, spaghetti, cokes, coffee and hamburgers.

Betty and Kyle have hopes of traveling extensively. She wants to visit South America and he hopes to return to Italy. "So we'll probably tour the U. S. and Canada," she said. But right now her travels lead predominately to trio concerts—she usually has a sheaf of music under her arm and is somewhere near Midge and Ginny.

If further information is desired, just drop up to the Beta room and you'll find their pleasant, happy prexy, Betty Smith.

HISTORY OF A BELL

For many years the big bell sitting outside the library tolled its warning of danger to marines as a fog signal on the promontory in the straits of Juan de Fuca. Weighing 1100 pounds, it was cast for the U. S. Government in 1855 in the musical tone of "A". Making the perilous trip around the Horn the bell came to rest for some years in a lighthouse far out toward the ocean off the Washington coast, it's tolling—

"By the twanging
And the clanging,
How the danger ebbs and flows;"

—ever guarding the lives of men on ships at sea.

Subsequently moved to Point No Point on an island in Puget Sound and thence to Brown's Point, north of Commencement Bay, it came to be under the care of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Brown, lighthouse keepers. Here, for 30 years, it served faithfully and well. But, with the changes of time, the government supplanted all fog bells with horns.

Dr. Todd, hearing of its release from service, thought it would be a fine thing for CPS to have, to Don Carsten . . .

The mystery of the campus currently—"what is concealed in the locked chambers of the brown satchel Don Carsten carries?" And, a-ha, now it can be told! It's simply documents, Dr. Tomlinson's wisdom, and names on many deep subjects, mingled with a picture of a lovely brunette, a sheet of music, and a couple of tickets to the concert series.

Don, student body vice president, is active in many campus organizations. He is a Knight of the Log, a member of SCA, sings tenor in the Campus Harmonaires, is assistant editor of the Tamamawac, and a former sports editor of The Trail. He was finance chairman of the Northwest Regional conference of the Y. M. C. A. in '44 and is gym instructor at CPS.

He is also a member of the Student and International Relations club. And, when varsity tennis was on CPS's athletic schedule, he played varsity tennis. You'll find him listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and if you're curious about who has received a Howarth Scholarship in physical education, it's Don.

He's tall, with just enough brains, an interesting talker, and likes "about everything." He decidedly dislikes fried oysters and pastry. People, music and "stuff and nonsense" rate high in that "about everything" survey, but besides mentioned foods, he can't stand egoists and chauvinists (individuals consumed with exaggerated patriotism).

Don has a major in history, and expanded minors in music, education, biology and political science. After graduation he plans to continue studying along with teaching. Right now he is a cadet teacher at Stadium High School.

During summer vacations "majors" in tennis and swimming works and studies. Music and athletics are his favorite forms of entertainment and recreation. His ultimate ambition is to do something worthwhile in this world.

gather those in search of learning. A request that the government appropriate the money necessary for its purchase was refused. However, a state representative donated $25 towards the price, Pres. Todd $24, and a private citizen one dollar.

On Feb. 20, 1934, presentation ceremonies were held which dedicated the bell to be used as an "invitation to learning." It is planned to be installed in the tower in Jones Hall where it is to be synchronized with the automatic class bells.

Total of Ten Seniors Named for 'Who's Who'

Ten senior students have had the distinction of being chosen to have their biographies in "Who's Who in Colleges and Universities" during the last two years. Eight were named for this year's edition. The other two, Elverna Amundsen and Jeane Thurber, were chosen during their junior year. Students to be listed in this year's edition are: Ruth Ann Dodsworth, Betty Heidinger Smith, Dorcas Eggesbo, Mary Ann Truitt, Margaret Lindeman, Murden Woods, Don Carsten and Charles Nee.

This annual publication is put out to list the names of the outstanding students throughout the United States from over 600 educational institutions. When the first issue came out a little over ten years ago only 250 colleges were listed.

Basis of the honor bestowed upon these students is character, scholarship and leadership. They are chosen by a committee under the chairmanship of the college president. This group is composed of members of the faculty, and student officials. The publication is primarily for listing senior students and a small percentage of outstanding juniors.

Vernie Amundsen is national president of Spurs, president of Delta Alpha Gamma, and a member of the Women's Collegiate Singers. Jeane Thurber is president of Kappa Phi and accompanist for the Campus Trio.

Ruth Ann Dodsworth, ASCPS president, is also a member of Kappa Phi and Delta Alpha Gamma. She holds a Howarth Scholarship in dramatics and was a Spur during her sophomore year.

Don Carsten, vice president of ASCPS, is a member of the Adelpian Concert Choir, Knights of the Log, and holds a Howarth Scholarship in physical education.

Dorcas Eggesbo is president of her sorority, Lambda Sigma Chi, and was chairman of homecoming festivities for this year. Margaret Lindeman, besides being president of Kappa Sigma Theta, is also president of the Women's Athletic Association and a member of Women's Collegiate Singers.

Betty H. Smith is president of Alpha Beta Upsilon and a member of the Campus Trio. The president of Murden and the International Relations club, Murden Woods, is a past editor of The Trail, and a former member of the Spurs.

Chuck Nee is president of the Knights of the Log and also student dramatics manager. Mary Ann Truitt, chairman of the chapel committee, is also a member of the Adelpian Concert Choir, Delta Alpha Gamma and a former Spur.

CPS Traveling Over Holidays

Travel-bound for the Christmas holidays are many CPS students who will celebrate in the Christmas spirit in their own homes or in those of friends and relatives. Anderson Hall and Kittredge Hall will be closed until January 2nd.

To Montana Zelda Lay and Helen Hewett are heading home, while Gloria Beckerman, leaves for Las Vegas, Nevada. Canada calls to its representatives Wilma Reed, Gloria Clapp, and Anne Evans and Lois Pettit hopes for a trip to far off Virginia.

To Chehalls will go Gretchen Ernst as guest of Eleanor Roundtree, who is returning home. Jean Williams plans to go east to Wenatchee and Kathleen Baird and Lucille Ludwick will be off to Seattle when the last bell rings. Headed for sunny California will be Merrill Betz, Janis Planchar, Nan Wilson and Lois Lynch.

before he would have graduated, in 1944.

Another would-be graduate of the class of '45 is Ens. George Miller, who is now in Pearl Harbor and just back from Japan. Prior to the last two and one-half years he has spent in the navy, George was a member of the football team here and also a member of Delta Kappa Phi.

Gene F. Webber, U. S. N., and a member of Sigma Mu Chi, is now in Gulfport, Mississippi, attending a radio material school.

Another navy lieutenant who has been discharged recently is Phil Walesby, who was president of the Senior Class here in 1941-42. Phil was voted the most valuable man in that graduating class.

SERVICE NEWS

It seems that every day someone around school gets a letter from some former CPS student who is now in the service. Many of the fellows, recently in the services, have been discharged, and some are still on duty in various branches of the service and in various parts of the world. So, we bring you some of the things we've heard about "our service men."

Ex-Navy Lieutenant Jim Paulson, president of the student body 1941-42, and a member of Delta Kappa Phi, has recently been discharged.

Ensign Jack Helms, Alpha Chi Nu, has been with a destroyer escort which just returned from Okinawa. He was a member of the Class of '45.

Al Middlesworth, stationed with the Coast Guard in Alaska, expects to be home early in the spring.

On his way to Japan is Ens. Robert Seabloom, member of the class of '46 and also of Delta Kappa Phi. While here at CPS, Bob was a member of the basketball team.

Lt. James Walters, U. S. Army, and a member of Sigma Zeta Epsilon, is home on furlough. He was called into the army just the spring

Keeping Christmas

It is a good thing to observe Christmas Day. But there is a better thing than the observance of Christmas Day, and that is keeping Christmas.

Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; to see that your fellowmen are just as real as you are, and try to look behind their faces to their hearts, hungry for joy; to own that probably the only good reason for your existence is not what you are going to get out of life, but what you are going to give to life; to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and to look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas. And if you can keep it for a day, why not always.

—Henry Van Dyke.

'Twas the Week Before Christmas

By JANE PARKER

'Twas the week before Christmas, when all through the college,
Not a creature was studying; each had enough knowledge.
The fir boughs were hung in the chapel with care,
In hopes that the profs would like seeing them there.
The students were huddled in snug chapel chairs,
With visions of pleasures soon to be theirs.
The girls in their kerchiefs and the lads in their caps,
Had just settled their brains for a long winter's nap.
When out on the campus there arose such a clatter,
We sprang from our seats to see what was the matter.
Away to the windows we flew like a flash,
Tore open the curtains and threw up the sash.
The rain on the cloisters 'tween Howarth and Jones,
Sounded like pre-medics, rattling the bones.
When what to our wondering eyes should appear,
But a broken-down Chev, and eight profs looking queer.
With a good-looking driver, of world renown fame.
I knew in a moment—"Doc" Thompson had come.
More rapid than finals these pedogogues hied,
As he whistled and shouted to come to his side.
"Now Jaeger, now Teach, now Drushel, and Battin.
On Shifty, on Schafer, on McDonald, and Chapman."
From the top of the SUB, from the top of the Dorm,
Students dash to the classrooms, with their notes in good form.

As flunk slips before a wild hurricane fly,
Each Logger meets obstacle with rage in his eye.
Then up to his classes each prof how he tore,
With a book full of tests and quizzes galore.
And then in a twinkling we saw on the board
Questions and figures all in a hord.
As we closed up our notebooks with chin to the ground,
Down the corridor "Doc" Thompson came with a bound.
He was dressed in his best, from top to his toe,
With his head combed and shined, all ready to go,
With a bundle of papers under each arm,
He winked as he whispered, "I'll keep you from harm."
A wink of his eye, and a shake of his head,
Soon gave us to know, we had nothing to dread.
He spoke many words while doing his work,
And gave all the answers to each little jerk.
Then dropping his books on the arm of the chair,
He gazed all about him with caution and care.
And sprang to the window, to the profs gave a whistle,
And away they all flew, like the down of a thistle.

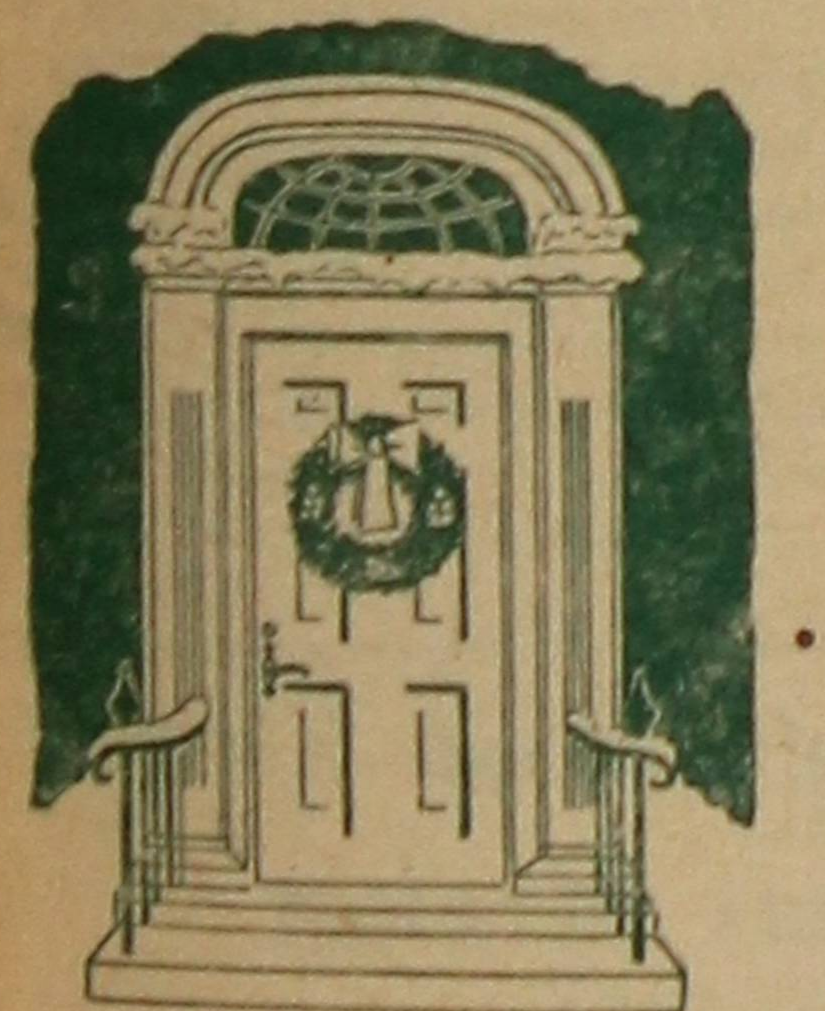

As he drove out of sight came the familiar old yell,
"Wake up! Chapel's over—There goes the bell!"

Graduates of CPS Excel In Scholarly Activities

Have you ever wondered how you'll ever manage to graduate, when the work keeps piling up in heaps? And have you ever said, "Oh, well I won't mind making my career that of digging ditches, I might just as well chuck school and all this work."

Well, to spur you on I'm going to tell you about just a few of the graduates from CPS and what they're doing today:

Marcia Edwards, graduated in 1925 from CPS, took her Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Minnesota, where she is now assistant to the Dean of the School of Education. Her brother, Herbert Edwards, 1936, has been with the housing authority in Seattle during the war.

Dr. Martin E. Nelson, graduated in 1937 with a Bachelor of Science Degree, Magna Cum Laude, has been doing ordnance research work with the Navy Department in Washington, D. C. He took his Master's Degree from the University of Hawaii, and his Ph. D., from Ohio State College. Previous to doing research work with the Navy, Dr. Nelson taught Physics at the University of Illinois.

A physicist doing research work on aerodynamics, airplane structure, velocity, etc., in Washington, D. C., is Dr. Harold K. Skramstad, a College of Puget Sound Graduate receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in 1930. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Washington.

College Life

By BOB WINSKILL

As always, when the Christmas season rolls around, the whole student body has become a little restless, and the professors a little harder to please. For the past two weeks, everyone on the campus has been busily doing their shopping, studying for quarter exams, and trying to recapture a little of that awe they once felt for the holiday season when they were much younger, and on the whole much happier without College worries and cares.

No exception, I too, have been trying to enter into the festive season with a gay and carefree heart. To show you what I mean, let me show you what a typical day has been like for the average student by reviewing my week's activities.

For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with the fact, I work in a drugstore here in town. A delightful occupation shared with one of our beautiful co-eds, Miss Betty Barkost. She, by the way, is the adopted mother of fifty boys. But that is neither here nor there.

Getting back to the story, when Christmas comes not only do I have to sell the latest remedies for aches and pains, sing the radio commercials for drug supplies, and jerk sodas, but also I have to sell the latest perfumes, nail polish, soap supplies, toilet waters, colognes, powder mitts, hair brushes, hair nets, shampoos, and bunion and callous pads to those members of the female sex who wish to appear lovely and divine toward their friends and relations for all time to come. Without doubt, it takes the average female today more time to put herself into condition to be seen, "without a thing done" than it took the Egyptians to build the great pyramid of Cheops.

All of this paraphernalia is used to make the lady of your heart look more alluring, and at the same time, incidentally, to make her look as though she had been a fearsome wreck, with bloody mouth and bruised fingernails. However, this

Larry Penberthy, graduate of '36, has been working for the Eastman Company, at the Rochester Plant, developing rapid ways of grinding lenses and also, during the war, more rapid ways of making lenses for sites on airplane guns.

Wilbur H. Goss, upon his graduation in '32 with a Bachelor of Science Degree, Magna Cum Laude, attended the University of Washington where he received his Doctor of Philosophy degree. While in Seattle he did considerable work on high-powered X-Ray machines at the Swedish Hospital. Dr. Goss taught at the University of British Columbia and also at the University of New Mexico, but he is now at a research institute in Baltimore, Maryland.

Now working on a navy project at the University of Washington is Robert Becker, who received his Bachelor of Science degree, Magna Cum Laude, from CPS in '35. He received his Ph. D. from California Institute of Technology.

Now, doesn't it make you really want to keep up the work so that we can keep up the good record of prominent alums? Who knows, maybe someday you'll read on these very pages your own history!

rousing fire of firecrackers to start them off to a good start.

Concluding the travels around the world, Kyle Smith told the group of a Christmas spent in North Africa and in Italy. Earlier in the evening the entire group sang Christmas carols in German, French, and Spanish.

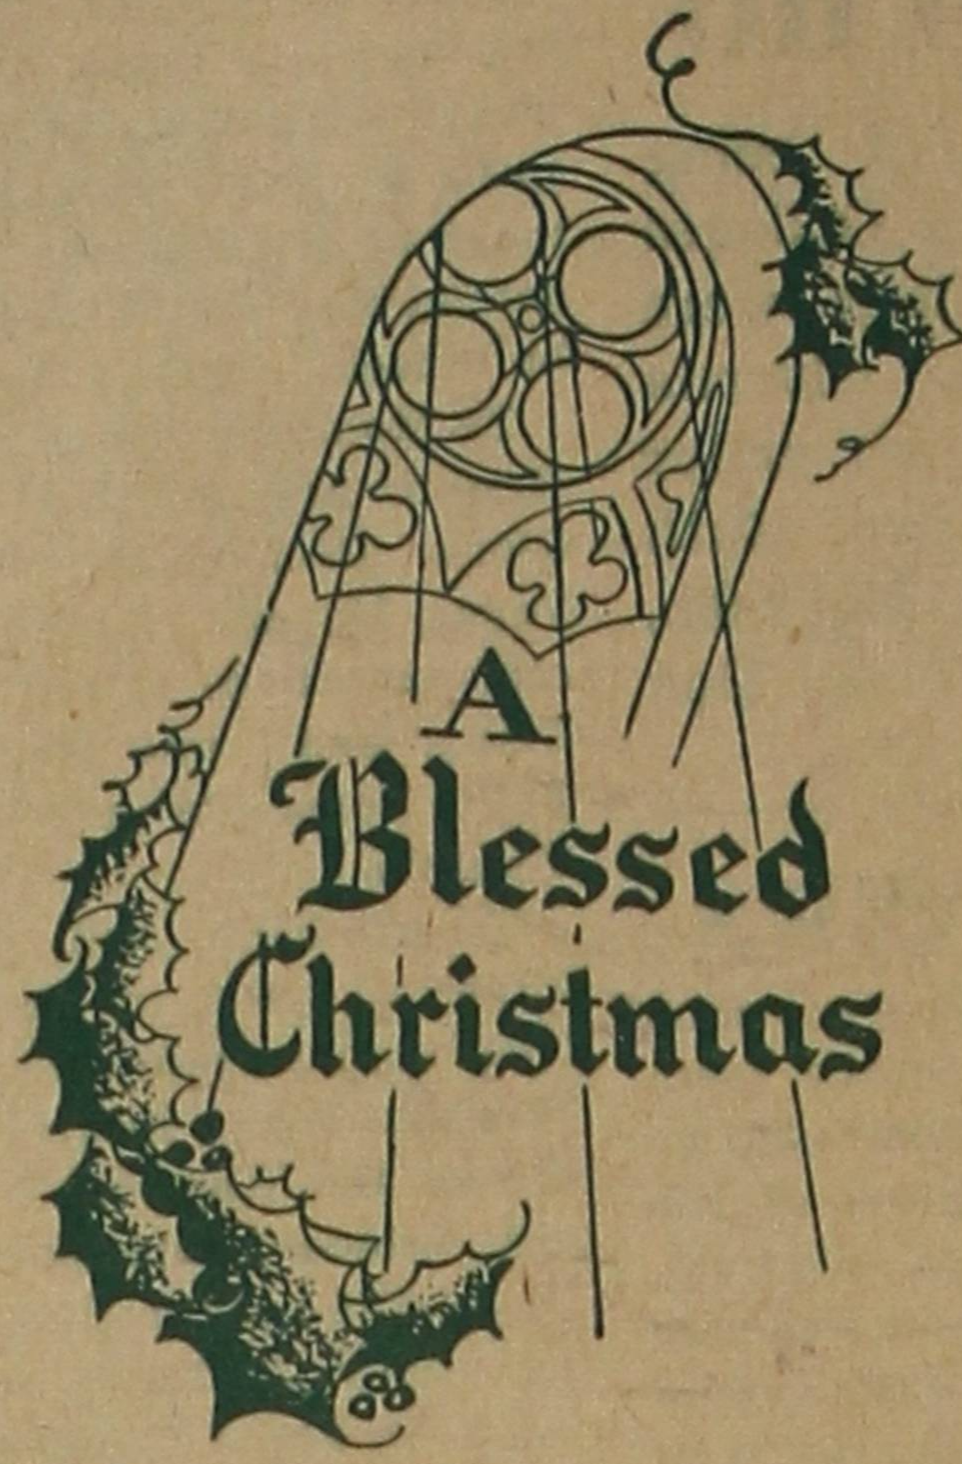

is what she wants to get for Christmas and that is what she gets. Men by the score, wander in and gaze about at the mass of beautifiers to pick at random, one for his beloved.

To enter a store in this season is to try to commit Hara-Kiri. The people of this town all make pilgrimages to their favorite department store, and the one who gets the goods is he who has had Ranger training in the army or the one who has played football on the all-American team. Even these choice bundles of brawn are thrown bodily out of the way when the veteran woman shopper, who wears the ribbon for gallant action in Rhodes Annex, plows through the line, and scores a touchdown at the counter of her choice.

Yes, Christmas is a choice time of the year, but most College men this year are perfectly willing to go to the furniture department and pick out a nice chair to doze in until the scramble is over. And when the stockings are looked into, and the presents are opened he'll make his trips to the store to exchange his usual lot of Christmas ties.

Beverly Johnson To Head Local Methodist Group

By MARY ANN TRUITT

CPS Methodist students hit their mark at last! On Sunday, December 2, Methodist students of our Alma Mater met together at Epworth Methodist church. During the past years, three churches here have held Firesides for college students—First, Epworth and Mason. We have felt that there should be some unity between the three rather than having three separate groups. The purpose of the December 2 meeting was to see what could be done about the situation.

There were between 70 to 75 students of college age present. Not only were First, Epworth and Mason represented, but also Bethany, St. Paul's, and Asbury. There were even a few servicemen there who represented Ohio, California and Iowa.

It was suggested that we meet together upon the first Sunday of every two months. The plan is to rotate the meeting places among the various churches. The next meeting will be on the first Sunday in February and Mason Church is to be the host.

Another purpose of organizing in this way is to tie us in with all Methodist students throughout the nation. All student groups of a certain state make up a State Student Movement. For instance, all student groups of the various colleges and universities in Washington and the pan-handle of Idaho make up the Pacific Northwest Methodist Student Movement. Thirty-four states or conferences movements make up the National Student Commission. All groups, state and local, have the same purpose.

At our meeting at Epworth on December 2 we elected a representative from our group to represent CPS in the council of the Conference M. S. M. Beverly Johnson is the delegate. She will attend council meetings for the conference and will preside over all meetings of our local group. Beverly is also going to Urbana, Illinois, the National Student Conference which is being held from Dec. 10 to Jan. 1.

Another election was held. Beverly had been asked by the National organization to turn in the names of one adult and one student to represent all Methodist students in a World Student Christian Federation in Europe in August. Ruth Ann Dodsworth was elected as student and J. Henry Ernst from Mason Methodist church was chosen also. Their names were presented along with others at the conference. Ruth Ann came out on top and now her name will be in with the other 34 from the student organizations in the U. S. One student and one adult will be elected from that group to represent all Methodist students in Europe.

Yuletide Spirit Fostered In Many Christmas Parties

With gaily wrapped packages, a sparkling Christmas tree and view and tables of food, Kappa Sigma Theta and Delta Alpha Gamma sororities took part in Christmas festivities by having a party for over sixty members and pledges of both groups. Held in the Mason Methodist church last Wednesday night, the party was from 6:30 to 10:00.

P. M. Sherley Balsinger and Jean Logan served as chairmen of the affair.

A colorful dinner with Christmas decorations of candles and lights was enjoyed, after which a program as presented. An original play was given by Natalie Nicholson and June Hyatt; while Beverly Farrell and Dolores Klaiber read "The Night Before Christmas." Everyone joined in the singing of new and old Christmas songs. Presents were passed out by Mary Agnes Gallagher and Mary Opsata.

LAMBDA PARTY

Lambda Sigma Chi held its regular Wednesday meeting in the form of a Christmas party Dec. 12 at the home of Vernace Barton at Island. Christmas carols, exchange of gifts, and refreshments in an old-fashioned motive were included in the evening's gaiety. Also attending were Mrs. Paul Fossum, faculty advisor for the group, Miss Myliss Swanson, alumna advisor, and the Misses Beverly Berlie, Peg O'Connell and Beverly Hofstetter.

KAPPA PHI ENTERTAINS

Under the co-chairmanship of Helen Miller and Mary Ann Truitt, Kappa Phi held its annual Christmas party in the reception room at CPS. Decorations were in the Christmas motif and an impressive candlelighting service was held during the evening.

Marian Clendenen In Home Wedding; Announcement of Lentz Engagement

At a quiet wedding in her home in North Bellingham Marian Clendenen, graduate of last year, was married to Lieut. Leonard Davis at which only the immediate families were present. The bride, affiliated with Delta Alpha Gamma sorority, wore a brown crepe dress of street length with strands of half pearls. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Arnold Washke, and the groom's brother Norman Davis was best man. The couple left for a honeymoon trip to the southern and western part of the state. Lieut. Davis is on terminal leave from the army.

An engagement recently announced at a sorority meeting of Alpha Beta Upsilon was that of Marian Lentz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lentz of No. 45th St. to Stanley H. Ladzinski, Jr., USNR, son of Mrs. Stanley Ladzinski of No. Fife St. Marian, sophomore at CPS last year, presented her sorority with the traditional box of candy. No date has been set for the wedding.

Fashionettes

By Thelma K. Smith

It's a sure sign of the Christmas season when Jane Koehler puts on her miniature bells. This year they tinkle from her shoes. Quite gay is her red knitted cap which sports two pendant, fluffy balls.

MIGHTY FETCHIN' — Luella Jackson one day this week in a fitted frock of brown butcher-linen sprayed with diminutive white flowerets — another day another dress, this time of large block checks in oyster-white and a woody green with the popular softly gathered skirt. Betty Smith's tailored green jacket offers a Christmasy contrast to her red dress. Another attractive woolen check in blue and white with a smart collarless neckline was worn by Lois Lynch. Janet La Pore has topped a red-white-green plaid skirt and red sweater with a green corduroy jacket piped in red. Seen at the SUB recently was a grey skirt-red jacket combination refreshingly ensembled with a white shirt and black tie. Very, very.

IT'S THE FASHION these days to carry your knitting — sweaters for brothers, fathers, self, or der Mann. Mary Agnes Gallagher and Charlotte Coors were busily knitting and purling at a recent Christmas party. We saw Dorothy Schweinler the other day making a reconnaissance tour of the library searching for hands willing to hold skeins of white wool while she wound it into balls.

Sororities Plan New Year's Dance

Welcoming the New Year in with gay balloons and noisemakers will be the members of Alpha Beta Upsilon and Delta Alpha Gamma in a joint dance to be held on New Year's Eve from 9:00 to 12:30 at the Student Union Building. Couples will dance to the music of all the name bands of the country and refreshments in a unique style will be served during the intermission program. Dance programs are being planned in connection with the New Year's theme.

Co-chairmen for the affair are Virginia Barker for the Betas and Elouise Cruver for the Gammas. Working with them as the heads of various committees are Peggy Rough, Mollie Schlegel, Lois Lynch and Shirley Gibbs.

'Mistletoe Magic' Xmas Theme For Annual Theta Pledge Dance

Following a Christmas theme, decorations of winter berries, crisp greens, mistletoe, red satin ribbon and silver stars will set the atmosphere for "Mistletoe Magic," the annual pledge dance of Kappa Sigma Theta sorority. Couples will dance from nine to twelve o'clock in Lakewood Hall to the music of Bob Columbini and his orchestra. Wednesday, Dec. 19, is the date, and the Misses Kathryn Hultgren and Twylla Jones are co-chairmen.

Colorful refreshments of green popcorn balls and red punch will be served during intermission. A trio composed of Dolores Klaiber, Jo Anne Stevens and Netta Harbke will sing at this time, accompanied by Bob Columbini.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening are Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Schafer, Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Jones and Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Coulter.

Assisting the co-chairmen are these committees: Decorations — Helen Hewett, Martha Wright, Jeanne Miles, Jane Hagen, Jo Anne Stevens; orchestra—Janet LaPore, Dolores Klaiber; entertainment — Mary Lou Henry, Eileen Boyd; programs, Barbara Haslam, Doris

'Winter Magic' Is Theme For Lambda Pledges

Lambda Sigma Chi pledges held their annual dance at Lakewood Center, Saturday evening, December 15. The theme, "Winter Magic," was carried out in the decorations with a large silvered Christmas tree and appropriate ornaments.

Bob Columbine and his orchestra provided the music. During intermission Alice Shocke danced and Jo Gormley sang.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair were Dr. and Mrs. Tomlinson and Dr. and Mrs. Coulter.

Co-chairmen for the dance were Joanne Boedecker and Mary Lou Lindstrom. The committees were: Refreshments — Jeanne Taylor, Daphne Hilton, and Aileen Wood; decorations—Ruth Potter, Irma Russell, Shirley Opsata, Lois Pettit, and Margaret Flannagan; programs — Ann Winters and Elenor Roundtree; entertainment—Betty Barkost and Mary Alice Dyer; publicity — Muriel Thompson and Sarah Lou Miller; clean-up—Nan Wilson and Doris Rutherford.

Stirrups Honored By Spur Party

Monday evening the Spurs and Stirrups gathered at Carol Todd's home for their annual Christmas party. The Spurs and Miss Martha Pearl Jones, faculty advisor for the organization, were the hostesses of the gathering, with last year's Spurs, the Stirrups, as their guests.

There were games, singing, food and refreshments, and abundant hearty laughter with everyone entering into the gay festive mood of the evening.

The Stirrups received their Stirrup emblems from the Spurs. Now officially Stirrups, last year's Spurs will wear these in place of the emblems they formerly wore, the latter being worn by the present Spurs. This traditional presentation of the awards comprised the business part of the Christmas party.

Loggers Win Victory From Everett Team

CPS, Defeated by Bellingham, Wins Over Everett Junior College and Seattle College in Practice Games Held Last Tuesday and Thursday.

After their heart-breaking 50 to 37 defeat from the hands of Bellingham's Vikings Dec. 7, the College of Puget Sound Loggers staged a brilliant comeback by rampaging over the Seattle College quintet last Tuesday night on the Seattle courts by a 41 to 25 count, and submerging the Everett Junior College aggregation last Thursday night on the home maples, 51-24. Both these latter tilts were practice games and, therefore, have no significance in the conference standings.

Pitted against a zone defense for the first time of the season, the CPS basketballers were a bit bewildered for the opening six minutes of play in Thursday's battle against Everett. However, this obstacle was soon overcome and by the half, the Loggers had forged ahead to hold the long end of an 18 to 12 tally.

The second period saw the locals drive on, totaling 39 points to the opposition's paltry six. With Jim Van Camp dumping in the last bucket, the game ended with the scoreboard showing a 51 to 24 victory for CPS.

Bob Fincham, stellar Logger center, carried away the individual scoring honors with 21, while Cooper and Gilpen led the visitors with seven apiece.

CPS DUMPS SEATTLE COLLEGE

With Fincham leading all scorers with 13 points, and his teammate,

Forward Van Camp closely following with 12, the CPS hoopsters swept over Seattle College last Tuesday with an easy win, 41 to 25. The Loggers went out in front at the outset and were never threatened as they raced down the floor to pour points through the hoop. The Seattle quintet tried hard to keep up with the Logger bunch and managed to hold them to a five-point 18-13 halftime lead, only to be completely dumped in the second canto.

VIKINGS BEAT LOGGERS

Before a capacity crowd which jammed the CPS gymnasium to near overflowing, the Logger cagers fell to the Western Washington College of Education Vikings from Bellingham here Dec. 7, 50-37, in the Maroon and White's first conference tussle. Although holding a 20-14 halftime advantage, the Logger defense crumpled in the second period and the Bellingham quint chugged out in front and completely dominated the action during the closing eight minutes of play.

First Round of Basketball Ends for Sorority Teams

Manager of basketball, Murden Woods, has a job on her hands keeping count of the scores this year. For interclass basketball the freshmen came out in the lead followed by the sophomores and then the juniors.

First round basketball ended Friday, Dec. 7, with Inter-organization teams standing as follows:

- 1st Beta—won 4, tied 0, lost 0.
- 2nd Gamma—won 3, tied 0, lost 1.
- 3rd Theta—won 1, tied 1, lost 2.
- 4th Independents—won 1, tied 0, lost 3.
- 5th Lambda—won 0, tied 1, lost 3.

Then came Monday's games which were the beginning of the second round where the Gammas beat the Betas 11-4 and the Lambdas beat the Thetas 7-6. These games tied the Gammas with the Betas and the Lambdas with the Thetas.

Wednesday the Betas played the Lambdas with the score—Beta, 10, and Lambdas, 3. The Gammas played the Independents; the Gammas having 10 and the Indes 8.

Those girls who are eligible to play on the teams are as follows: Beta: Phyllis Blaser, Helen Caputo, Marilyn Dunlap, June Larson, Evelyn Marshall, Betty Robinson, Peggy Rough and Harriet Warne. Gamma: Donna June Bennett, Elouise Cruver, Gretchen Ernst, Lois Fassett, Shirley Gibbs, Carol Hamilton, Joyce Hegg, Vi Hessey, June Hyatt, Natalie Nicholson, Viletta Rowe, Dorothy Schutt, Ruby Smith, Wanda Smith and Carol Todd.

Indes: Betty Jane Cappa, Kimi Fujimoto, Vernetta Harvelle, Patsy Highfill, Doreen Lockstone, Pearl Moberg, Phyllis Newman, Barbara Prechek, Marie Switzer, Jeanne Thurber, Marilyn Wagnild, Viola Warner, Murden Woods and Bea Young.

Lambda: Evelyn Coubrough, Dorothy Kostenbader, Mary Lou Lindstrom, Helen Miller, Sara Lou Miller, Ruth Potter, Elenor Roundtree, Dixie Simons and Muriel Thompson.

Theta: Sherley Baisinger, Janette Blake, Charlotte Coors, Carolyn Cummings, Mary Agnes Gallagher, Jane Hagen, Barbara Haslam, Kathryn Hultgren, Sheila Lamar,

SPORTS SPLINTERS

By Harold and Nick

Even though the initial hoop clash of Dec. 7 against the northern forces from Bellingham shoved the College of Puget Sound quintet into the defeat column, every fan present, CPS student or not, agreed that the Logger stalwarts compose a squad of which this city and this college can well be proud.

Under the experienced and watchful direction of veteran Coach John Heinrick, the hoopsters displayed close teamwork typical of all Heinrick-coached squads.

As this game was the team's first conference tussle of the season, a well-knit offensive attack was not polished, and the ball-handling and shooting, especially of the free tosses, lacked that anticipated dead-eye accuracy. Nevertheless, the quint's continual ball-hawking tactics, coupled with their never-faltering, hustling enthusiasm, gave positive proof that the cagers will mold into a potentially powerful team. With more experience gained as the season progresses, CPS boosters need have no fear but that this Logger bunch will be among the tops.

Yell Leaders Show Well

Here's orchids to our peppy trio of yell leaders, led by vivacious Neva Iverson, queen. Their determined, down-to-earth school spirit really produces results from the student rooters as was viewed during the Bellingham fray. The walls of the gymnasium resounded again and again with spirited and synchronized yells. Let's get behind their efforts with all the support we can muster.

Sportrait in the Spotlight

Single, 25 years old, 170 pounds, and six feet one inch in height add up to a good description of this week's sportrait, Jim Van Camp, whose fast ball handling and go-getting determination have made him one of the mainstays of the Logger basket five.

Before Jim entered the service, he played two years of varsity basketball for CPS, and now, after his recent discharge, is back in the fold. He served three years and seven months as a captain in the Eighth Air Force in England and completed 30 combat missions over the Reich.

Pertaining to food Jim says, "I'll eat anything—steak well-done, mashed potatoes with gravy, peas, corn, and the works. For dessert I'll take apple pie a la mode every time."

Asked for a comment on the team he responded with "We have better prospects for more material, and we should do all right as soon as the conditioning of the team members is improved." As an added thought Jim hastened to comment that the cheering section "is the best I've ever heard. Hope they keep it up."

New Member Adds Strength to Squad

Keep your eyes on Don Heselwood, a brilliant new addition to the CPS basketball squad, who turned in an impressive first performance at the forward slot last Tuesday in a practice tilt with Seattle College. Don, an army dischargee, and a former Lincoln High and Pacific Lutheran College cager, has tagged himself as a serious contender for a starting post on the Logger five.
