Frosh Jubilee Starts Friday

Work on Boys Dorm Begun; To House 122

Director Gives Final Coaching Freshman in Play Game, Dance Are Features

Work has now begun on the new men's dormitory, with the contract let, the ground surveyed and the excavation actually started, states Dr. Franklin R. Thompson, CPS president. The dorm, which will be located between the gym and Howarth Hall, will house 122 boys and will be ready for its occupants next fall, he added.

The building will be of reinforced concrete and similar in architecture to the girls' dormitory. The contract has been awarded to MacDonald Contracting Company which also built the women's residence. E. T. Mock, N. J. Morrison and E. N. Dugan, the Associated Architects of CPS designed the building.

A jeep driven by Phil Garland, ASCPS president, pulled a plow to break the ground this summer for the dorm. This building will comprise the first unit of the men's quadrangle.

A considerable amount of money for the new dorm is on hand now. The proceeds from a coming musical concert sponsored by the Women's College League will be used to help build the new structure.

At present the third floor of the gym is being used to house men and the boys' dorm — the little green and yellow house near the gym — is the residence for eleven boys.

New Fight Song Will Be Initiated At Saturday Game

Fight, Fight, Fight for CPS boys! These words, not yet familiar to CPS'ers, are the first line of the new CPS fight song, written by Mr. J. A. O'Conner, band director. First heard at the Friday night rally the song is to inspire many a football victory (we hope) during the coming season.

So that all students may really give the team their support here are the rest of the words:
 Fight, Fight, Fight for CPS boys,
 Fight, Fight, Fight for Puget Sound;
 Pull together, courage over
 On to Victory bound.
 Fight, Fight, Fight for CPS boys,
 Watch our colors fly;
 Rah Rah! you are the best
 Triumphant to the test
 CPS Let's do or die!
 So remember, kids, learn these words and get your tonsils behind YOUR team!

While Maisie Herald, junior, directs, Howard Hitchcock, freshman class president, practices his yawn as the Bored Kong in "Persia Presents," one of the freshman plays to be presented this Friday night. He and Lorna Loucks, the princess, are being fanned by their Egyptian slave, Don Mack. Observers at rehearsals of the play predict that half of the audience will leave the performance with dislocated jaws because of the contagious yawn which Howard has perfected.

900 Students Pass Color Post In Matriculation

Approximately 900 students passed through the color post quadrangle signifying their official enrollment in the student body of the College of Puget Sound this morning. The tradition of the college is that of the color post ceremony in which each new class participates. Four years from now, when the class graduates, they will again pause at the color post and become a part of the family of alumni.

Since the beginning of the middle ages it has been traditional at the opening of each academic year to hold a matriculation day ceremony. The faculty donned full academic dress, signifying their various ranks and degrees. Due cognizance is taken of the achievements of the past, the part that heritage and tradition plays, the strength of the college, and at the same time the future is mapped for the individual student as well as for the college.

"It is usually a time when the traditions and that part of the school which grows in the heart of one, and in his mind and soul as well, is brought out and presented to the student body in order that they may learn to love their alma mater as have all those who have gone before," comments Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, president of the college.

"It is fitting and right that this year especially we should observe Matriculation Day at the College of Puget Sound because we have returning to our halls a good many men who went into the service. A hundred out of a thousand of our students that went into the service did not return. This year, as we go into an era of peace, it is likewise fitting and right that we should observe our privileges as individuals and at the same time our responsibilities as individuals, both to the student body, the faculty, and the administration of the College of Puget Sound."

Loggers Play First Home Game Here Saturday Since '42

In their first home game of the season next Saturday afternoon in the Stadium, the Loggers will be out to duplicate their one-sided victory over the Pacific University eleven in their last home game, that of the Homecoming weekend in 1942; four long, war-torn, football-hungry years ago.

To some of the Lumberjacks, notably Vic Martineau, Ralph Lundvall, Jack Spencer, Jim Rice and Darrell Swenson, who were in on that 34-6 walkaway in '42, the Badgers are an old foe.

Here is what a couple of the veterans of that game think about their chances in the coming encounter: Vic Martineau, left half, "It wasn't a very tough game that year and I don't know much about their ball club yet this year, but I think and hope we'll beat them again"; Darrell Swenson, right half, "I know we'll beat them — we have a better team than we had that year and should stack up against them pretty well."

Coach Patrick emphasizes the fact that the Badgers, too, have a stronger team than they had that year, as witnessed by their 6-0 upset over Whitman last week-end, but is hoping for a victory in this, their first conference game.

CPS, come on through.
 We are rooting hard for you!
 We've got the team, we've got the pep!
 Come on Loggers, let's get hep!

The long anticipated Freshmen Jubilee will start with a bang Friday night, when future "Barrymores" present five Frosh plays in the auditorium of Jones Hall at eight o'clock p. m., according to Martha Pearl Jones, play director.

Plays under production now are: Spot Cash, Night Club, Persia Presents, Long Distance, and Evening Dress.

Freshman amateur night will intervene between plays, with hopes of new talent among the green-beanie class sprouting up. Those on schedule for Friday night performances are: Marimba, Jay Ball; tap dance, Richard Fechko; song, Mary Lou Fyke; tap dance, William Giannelli; song, Harmon Weston; accordion solo, Ruthella Raver.

First Home Game

Saturday afternoon CPS students will watch the first home football game against Pacific University. Highlighting the game will be the first performances of CPS's new band.

Climaxing the week-end of fun will be the frosh dance Saturday night from 9:00 p. m. to 12:00 p. m.

Freshmen Chairmen

Chairman for the dance is frosh president, Howard Hitchcock, with the following committee chairmen: publicity, Jo Krouse; music, Jo Ann Kirkabo; clean-up, Frank Peterson; door, Beth De Mille; refreshments, Wayne Seaman, and business, Jim Luzzi. Music will be furnished by the juke-box.

Parts unassigned last week and now filled are: Night Club, Mary Lou Cooper, Barbara Lotto, Betty Sorenson; Persia Presents, Lorna Loucks; Long Distance, Warren Brown; Evening Dress, Betty Kornmesser, Gwen Jones; Spot Cash, Bob Wray, Blain Wisdman, Art Campbell, Chuck Greenwals, William Thompsons, and Yale Weed.

Assisting with the plays are: Barbara Hager, Emma Louise Nelson, Diane Carson, Patty Schaller, Phyllis Kurrell, Charlotte Johnson, Beth Davies, Ila Jane Hauge, Thursa Hall, Betty Sorenson, Shirlee Kinnane, Marian Erickson and Don Crabs.

Band-Spur Group Will Make Debut

Presenting both a pre-game and half-time show, the first Band-Spur drill team to be seen in four years will make its debut next Saturday afternoon at the CPS-Pacific University game in the Stadium bowl, according to Prof. John A. O'Connor, band director.

A large welcoming "Hi" will be the first formation before the game, followed by a bell maneuver. Preceded by a trumpet fanfare, the drill team will form the letter "P," in honor of the Pacific University team, at the half period. The concluding number will be a "CPS" and the alma mater song.

Are We Red?

Well, this ruddy glow on our cheeks wasn't acquired through eating apples.

We got this healthy look (disregard the bags under the eyes, please) by listening to people point out the mistakes made in last week's Trail. They have been asking embarrassing questions all week, e.g., "How can a 16-month-old baby be two years old in November?" (We refer you to the feature on Phil Garland.) We have not quite figured out this little mathematical problem ourselves yet, but we are working on it.

A few things complicated last week's production of the Trail, such as the transit strike which required some fancy track work on our part. However, we're not trying to alibi and we are trying to do better this week.

We want to assure you that all suggestions and constructive criticism which will help to make this a better newspaper will be welcomed by the editorial staff.

OFF BEAT

By the Emcee

When the Adelphian Concert Choir goes touring next spring, there will be 12 new faces. Reading the usual order, we have Carol Todd, Dorothy Mora, Celia Rees (alternate), and Lynn Murphy (alternate), new sopranos; Catherine Cooney, Marjorie Venter, and Mary Jean Heidinger as new altos; Ernest Bates is the solitary tenor addition; new basses are Bill O'Connell, Howard Hitchcock, Wilbur Sepetoski, and Jack Robyn, and John Hayes, baritone.

Their voices, naturally, are the basis of their acceptance into the choir, but here's hoping they can adjust also to the choir's own inimitable (thanks, Phil) humor. A big "Congratulations" to each one.

Salutations, while we're in the mood, to Ruthella Raver, who has been selected to accompany the Campus Trio this year. Ruthella replaces Jeanne Thurber, who graduated last year. This hard-working, all-girl combination is much in demand and, by virtue of its guest appearances, publicizes CPS. The Trio is another reason why the music department's student manager, six feet Harley Stell, likes his job.

Everyone now enrolled in the music department is helping to make history. Very seldom, according to Professor Keutzer, is there more than 10 per cent of a college student body taking some form of music. But with over 300 now enrolled in at least one music course, 24 per cent of the ASCPS can be considered as enjoying the finest of the fine arts (private opinion).

This figure amounts to a number slightly less than the total school enrollment when Professor Keutzer first saw fog and CPS a year ago.

There are 10 organ students, 20 instrumentalists, 15 violin players, 85 voice pupils, and 110 piano aspirants. This means that if you take a private music lesson of any type, you are one out of 240. No wonder there are weird sounds in every building on the campus.

One theory class has 45 enrolled, and the history and appreciation class has 81. Well, it could be worse.

Affording excellent training for choral work are the Men's Collegiate Singers and the Women's Collegiate Singers. Both groups will sing in the music-dramatic production of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" in December. Miss Cramer seems satisfied with her 36 women, but Mr. Rasmussen wouldn't care at all if his group doubled its present size of 20.

Circle October 23 in your date book and plan to be in Jones Hall when the new members of our music faculty will be presented in concert. Judging from the fine comments that everyone received after their performances for the Ladies Musical Club last week, our professors are artists as well as instructors. They will give you a concert well worth remembering, and that's a promise.

Because there will be great demand to hear this program, tickets are now being sold for $1.25 in the music building. The concert is promoted by the Women's College League, and all proceeds will go to furnish the new men's dormitory. Your Em Cee knows a dozen men now who will urge you to attend this program, and some of them aren't musically-minded either. While money for the new dorm is on hand, the profit from this concert may mean the difference between a white shower curtain and a red one.

Seriously, the auditorium seats only 700. Need I say more?

Seasoned Timber

Personality, poise, pep and polish put together spell Polly Packard, this year's capable ASCPS vice-president. Her many previous offices have given her a fine background for this position.

Polly is now a third floor resident of Anderson Hall, but rarely manages to retire to her room since being an O. T. major occupies a great deal of her time. Her friendly, winning smile has given encouragement to many lost "green beanies" and has won for her numerous friends.

In addition to her present office, she has been ASCPS secretary, president of Spurs, pledge mother of ABY, vice-president and treasurer of Kappa Phi, and a member of Otlah.

When asked what her special likes were, her comment was, "I love people." Also, she is not exactly adverse to hot fudge sundaes and dancing (with tall men), that is. She could not be persuaded to admit to any dislikes, but she intimated something about "noisy roommates."

A resident of Washington State all her life, she has moved around a great deal to various cities. Upon graduation in June, Polly hopes to complete her nine month's internship in occupational therapy in an eastern hospital.

Polly Packard

Poised, blonde, and beautiful describes Mrs. Frances Van Scoyoc, a competent addition to the Business Administration Department.

Mrs. Van Scoyoc, formerly Miss Francis Hoss, rules over economic history, accounting, and business administration I (marketing). After earning her diploma here in 1941, Mrs. Van Scoyoc continued her education at Northwestern University where she earned her master's degree.

Professor Van Scoyoc's husband, an infantryman, was lost on a beach-head in the ETO. He attended the University of Washington and was graduated from George Washington University in Washington, D. C. At her home in Puyallup, from where she commutes daily, her son, Stephen, aged 2½, awaits her. "My hobby or whatever you might call it seems to be baby care," she laughed.

While studying here at CPS, Mrs. Van Scoyoc was a member of the Alpha Beta Upsilon sorority, and still enjoys the "marvelous spirit of cooperation that exists at the College."

SOUNDing Off

By Ed Stanton

Why did you come to college?

Why did you come to CPS? There must be some reason. What is it?

Did you come just to get your easy money from the "Bill?" Was it because CPS is near home; did you come on some friend's recommendation? Or did you come because of what CPS offers scholastically and through its wonderful heritage?

Our college has a grand history. Through the years men and women have carried the torch of high ideals and moral standards. Are we going to let that torch fall?

Everything we do is somehow reflected on the college. If we want CPS to remain a respectable, Christian college, we must cooperate in proving ourselves to be clean, intelligent young men and women. Let's all get together and prove to the world that we are worthy of the College of Puget Sound, that we are proud of OUR college, our college of dreams.

Oooops! We Slipped!

The Trail wishes to correct a statement made in last week's issue concerning CPS bands. The new band organized under the direction of John O'Conner is not the first CPS band. There has been a college band since 1930 except for the last few war years.

Dorm Diary

Dear Diary:

Not that I was eager, or anything like that, but when I saw those men come to install the coke machine I made it a point to get right up there at the head of the line. Half the girls were ready and waiting before the workmen were even through fixing it. Strange as it may seem, we're all much thirstier than we ever dreamed of being before. Did I say I was trying to reduce? Well—reduce the coke supply, anyway.

Now that formal pledging is completed, the flow of formals has passed. The dorm looked just like a rainbow last Saturday night, as a constant stream of colorful formals, corsages and all, paraded off to the respective sorority gatherings.

Bea Young has returned to the dorm to begin her senior year at CPS. Bea has been taking OT work in Portland and so was late in returning. It seems good to see a few more of last year's gang back again.

All the lizards, frogs and mice crawled back into their holes Sunday afternoon for none of the wee creatures, so loved by freshman dorm girls, were safe any longer. Change is one of the spices of life and having lived at CPS for three long weeks we thought it time to have a change.

Doning coveralls and checking muscles, the movers got under way. Top bunk after top bunk came tumbling down and were assembled into the most artistic mess I have ever had the pleasure of laying eyes on. But peace reigned in the new arrangement—until the lights went out and no one could find their beds.

IRC Plans Banquet

"Everyone who is interested in world affairs is invited to come to the International Relations Club banquet on October 14," announces Katherine Hultgren, IRC president.

According to Dr. Warren Tomlinson, advisor of the club, discussions for this year will include the Near East, India, Greece, Poland, Eastern Europe and the United Nations.

Office Boy (rising to the occasion): "I couldn't swear to that, sir, but grandma was always very popular!"

A stutterer was asked the reason why he stuttered.

"That's my p-p-peculiarity," answered. "N-n-nearly everybody has some p-p-peculiarity."

"You're wrong. I have none," said the questioner.

"Don't you stir your t-t-tea with your right h-h-hand?"

Johnny: Mother, the football coach gave me two positions on the team—end and guard.

Mother: That's impossible. How can a small boy like you be both end and guard?

Johnny: I sit on the end of the bench and guard the water bucket.

Bill Causin New Officer

Bill Causin was elected vice-president of the senior class at a meeting last Thursday noon. Virginia Kilde Lease, who was originally chosen for that office has not returned to school this fall.

Bill, a veteran, was elected ASCPS president in 1944 but was unable to serve his term because of his entering the service.

Board Members Make Appointments

At a Central Board meeting Friday a juke-box committee and a yell king and duke were appointed, according to Phil Garland, ASCPS president.

Ray Cason was chosen yell king to replace Kelly Hamilton, who was elected to that position last spring but has not returned to CPS. Harmon Weston will take Ray's place as yell duke.

Chairman of the juke-box committee is Ken Hogatt, with Christy Walker and Phil Anselone as the committee.

Leonard Raver, Student Accompanist Leaves For Army; Sister Replaces

The long arm of Uncle Sam pulled out one of the supporting bricks of the music department and whole college last Monday morning when Leonard Raver left for the army. According to Clyde Keutzer, head of the music department, the vacancy he left will be filled in part by his sister Ruthella. She will accompany the Adelpian Choir along with her work as accompanist for the Campus Trio. Leonard was to have been organist for the Monday and Tuesday chapels and, as yet, no substitute has been found.

It came as a surprise last Friday when Leonard announced that he had enlisted for eighteen months. "He is the most talented and promising student in the music department, and his place will be held open awaiting his return," commented Professor Keutzer.

At CPS Leonard, besides his work with the choir and as chapel organist, played for many chapel programs and will be remembered by all for his contribution to Dickens' Christmas Carol. It is a habit of those mentioning him to forget, in the light of his musical achievements, his part in dramatics heard at the college. Lenny, as his friends called him, was in the freshman plays and the Homecoming play last year. Away from college, Leonard was organist at Epworth Methodist Church where he gave an organ concert. He has played for many weddings and accompanied several of the soloists in Tacoma. Highlighting his career thus far was his introduction by the Women's Musical Club last week.

Benefit Concert To Be Presented By Music Faculty

A benefit concert, sponsored by the Women's College League, is being presented by the Music Department on October 23 in Jones Hall. The proceeds will go to help furnish the new men's dormitory.

Featured on the program will be the new members of the music faculty: Miss Erla Mae Cramer, soprano; Mr. Ivan Rasmussen, baritone; Mr. Raymond Vaught, violinist; Mr. Gordon Epperson, cellist; and Mr. Herbert Horn, pianist. Mr. Leonard Jacobsen and Mr. D. Robert Smith will be the accompanists for the evening.

In addition to their solos Miss Cramer and Mr. Rasmussen will sing a duet from the opera "Don Giovanni" by Mozart, and Messrs. Vaught, Epperson and Horn will play a trio arrangement of "Three Nocturnes" by Bloch.

Tickets may be obtained now from both the bursar's office and Prof. Keutzer at the Music Building. The price will be $1.25.

108 Men Pledge Five Fraternities; Mu Chi's Head List With 29 Pledges

Dance Committee Appointments

Committee appointments for the traditional Sadie Hawkins day to dance have been completed this week, according to Don Carsten, general chairman of the affair, which is to be held Saturday, November 2.

Committee chairmen are as follows: decorations, Mary Jean Kean; juke box, Christy Walker; publicity, Kerttu Kahn; entertainment, Harmon Weston; tickets, Louise Kipper, and cleanup, Dave Parker.

"The dance will be held on the Campus, either in the gym or the SUB," announces Don.

Circus Visitor: Is it difficult to eat soup with that beard?
Bearded Lady: Yes, indeed it is—it's quite a strain.

One hundred and eight men have been pledged to the five fraternities at CPS. Although capacity limitations were enforced, an unusually large number of pledges were accepted, according to Dean John Regester. The Sigma Mu Chi's lead the list with 29 pledges. They are as follows:

Gammas Announce Two Engagements During Saturday Pledge Banquet

Adding excitement to the Delta Alpha Gamma pledge banquet Saturday evening was the announcement of two engagements.

Miss Viletta Rowe revealed her engagement to Garland A. Strong, son of Mrs. Mamie Strong of Seattle. She also presented a box of chocolates at the Kappa Phi rush dinner on Sunday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Rowe of Wenatchee. A June wedding is planned for next summer.

Viletta, a senior, is president of Anderson Hall, a member of the Adelpian Choir, the Puget Sound Symphony, SCA, and has taken part in Campus Radio Theater productions.

Garland is now completing his apprenticeship as a mortician in Seattle.

At the same banquet, Miss Ruth Ann Dodsworth, '46 alum, revealed her engagement to John Esias. Though she is in the east, Ruth Ann sent her box to Delta Alpha Gamma sorority and one to the members of Kappa Phi.

The young couple met last year when they both spoke for groups at First Methodist Church in Tacoma.

Viletta Rowe

Ruth Ann, better known as "Doddy," was ASCPS president last year. She also served as secretary of the junior class, vice-president of Spurs, and was active in speech and dramatic groups. She is now attending McKenzie Theological School in Hartford, Connecticut.

Sophomores Elect Two New Officers

Despite a small representation of members, the sophomore class elected two officers at a meeting last Wednesday. Ron Button was chosen sergeant-at-arms and Sidney Smith was elected representative to Central Board, according to Clayton Anderson, sophomore president.

The election was necessary in order to fill the vacancy made by Harold Simonson who has gone into the army, and to select a sergeant-at-arms. This office had not been filled at last spring's elections.

Sid is a member of Sigma Zeta Epsilon and Ron is a pledge of the same fraternity.

Other class officers elected last spring were Doris Mitchell, vice-president; Beverly Johnson, secretary-treasurer; and Bernard Crowell, Central Board representative.

Miss Clarabel Stevens Announces Engagement

Miss Clarabel Stevens, secretary to the Dean, announced her engagement to Bruce McCullough, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Renwick, on August 7.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Stevens, Miss Stevens is a member of the Adelpian Concert Choir. The couple plan to be married in the spring.

700 Students Attend Rally

Winding through Tacoma in the first pep rally of the year, 700 CPS students turned out Friday night in 75 cars. A bonfire was held in the lot behind Howarth Hall and the team was introduced.

Helping with the plans were Gale Hilstad, Ken Campbell, Jim Wornstaff, Clarence Nelson, Pat Pratt, Bernard Crowell, Ken Hoggatt, and Christy Walker.

The names of two girls were omitted from last week's list of sorority pledges. They are Betty Sorensen, Alpha Beta Upsilon; and Lois Vick, Lambda Sigma Chi.

Rasmussen-Peterson

The engagement of Miss Louise Rasmussen to Harold Peterson was revealed this summer at a meeting of Delta Alpha Gamma Sorority. No date is set for the wedding.

She is a second semester freshman, and he attends the University of Washington.

First Home Game Of Season To Be Played At Stadium

By Mal Stevens

It's going to be the old Badger game this Saturday afternoon in the Stadium at 2 p. m. when the Pacific University Badgers from Forest Grove, Oregon, come to town to face the Loggers. It is the first conference game and first home game for CPS, and they will be after their first victory as well.

O. D. Gates, the mystery coach from Pacific, will send an undefeated team on the field. The Badgers have chalked up a win over Everett Junior College and a conference win over Whitman, 6-0, which was considered quite an upset.

All rabid grid fans are eagerly awaiting a chance to see the Badger star, Stan Russell, who does about everything there is in the line of football. He runs, passes, kicks, sells programs and takes tickets. Russell excels in the kicking department. According to some scribes, he beat Whitman last week by himself, punting the ball out of bounds several times inside the Whitman ten-yard line. If that wasn't enough he romped over for the only and winning touchdown.

Several Players Injured

Coach Patrick has been working his charges hard this week despite being handicapped by the absence of a few ball players injured in last Saturday night's game. Jack Hermesen, starting end, Kenny Vollmar, quarterback, and Bus Mitchell suffered painful leg injuries. Dick Hermesen, tackle, aggravated an old shoulder injury and missed two days this week, but all are expected to be in shape by Saturday.

The Loggers are smarting under that one point loss at Bellingham and are scrimmaging with that "it won't happen again" attitude. The Pacific game is the Logger's first crack at a Northwest conference team as the Western Washington game last Saturday was non-conference.

Probable Starters . . . .

Coach Patrick again this week can't be pinned down to name a starting lineup, but if it is anything like last Saturday's starting team it will look like this.

"Woodie" Wood, who proved to be a bulldozer type fullback and a great kicker, should get the call at the line-cracking position. "Handsome Bob" Robbins will spell Woodie in that position. Kenny Vollmar, the man from Chicago, looks like the logical choice for signal-caller. The tailback position will be divided between Vic Martineau and "Scat" Orland, who broke away for two long runs in the Viking game. At right half two bone-crushers, Darrell Swenson and Tommy Ruffin are a toss-up.

At the ends will be Jack Hermesen and Dick Robinson. If Hermesen's leg does not respond to treatment it will be either Bus Mitchell or Fred Pyfer. The tackle spots are pretty well taken care of by Ralph Rowe and Dick Hermesen. Bob Morrison, the "Renton Wrecker" will see a lot of action in one of the tackle slots.

Bud "the Cat" Greedy, captain of last week's game, and Les Gilsdorf are tussling with Ralph Lundvall and Jim Rice for the start guard positions. George LaVerne Martineau seems to be a fixture at center with Dick Towle doing the relief work.

Radio Club Meets Mondays

Officers of the Radio Club announce that their organization will meet every Monday night at 8 o'clock in room 14 of Howarth Hall.

"We want to invite anyone interested to attend," says Ed LaChapell, president. Ken Hoggatt, secretary, adds that anyone interested in forming a record club contact him or Christy Walker this week.

Gym Shorts

By Helen Caputo

"Ohhh!" yelled Lois Fassett, as her finger began to swell. The usual screams and yells from the gym are intermingled with tortured groans and moans. It seems that hockey is a rugged game! Especially when Mrs. Johnson's voice thunders above the noise yelling "sticks." All of a sudden there is silence. Guess what? Somebody fouled!

In spite of these minor accidents, however, turnouts are a tremendous success, with approximately 45 girls playing. The fortunate sophomores outnumber the other classes. Since class games began last Monday, it is as yet too early to decide who has the edge.

The froshies are carrying the stick beautifully. Three freshman girls who are mastering the technique are Jean Tippli, Gwen Jones, and Richie Gardner.

Watch the bulletin board in Jones Hall, and the gym at all times for announcements.

Hockey ends October 18, and is followed by basketball.

End, Center, Tackle, Guard!
Hit that man and hit him hard!
Hit him high! Hit him low!
Yea! Loggers, let's go.

Log Of The Week Grid Coach Hopes Ducat Sale Will Revive Interest

By Mal

This is the saga of Hagerty, a presumably mad Irishman with a tin whistle. He was turned loose and ran amuck on the gridiron in Bellingham last Saturday night. He cut a wild figure dashing up and down the white-striped field, aimlessly blowing a weird tune on his pipe of wrath. The tune he played was also accompanied by lyrics. The words were not always the same but the song always started with "It's Bellingham's ball and—"

Hagerty was the referee of the game last Saturday night.

No one knows Hagerty's first name, but by the time the first quarter was over, the Logger ball players had various names for him, all having something to do with his mental capabilities and optical facilities. It was learned after the game that Hagerty was obtained a few hours before game time to do his dance accompanied by his pipe. His fellow cohorts in the striped shirts that night, a headsmen (that's supposed to be head linesman but the mistake describes him) and an umpire, confused the huge crowd and the Logger gridsters as much as Hagerty did, but had no whistles or horns to accompany their antics.

We are not trying to say that the Loggers lost the game due to the poor officiating that predominated the game, but all any visiting ball club asks is a fair shake.

Coach Patrick made numerous treks to the center of the field to ask for interpretations of Hagerty's puzzling decisions. On one occasion even the squad of Logger benchwarmers rushed to the sidelines in protest to an obvious miscall on a fumble play near the Western Washington goal line, and were shooed back to the bench by Hagerty's leering physiognomy and a shaking fist that threatened a 15-yard penalty.

In an effort to get the students and organizations behind the football team, Coach Frank Patrick announced this week that the Athletic Department would award a prize to the student, dormitory, fraternity or sorority selling the most tickets to the first CPS home game against Pacific University on Saturday afternoon, October 12, in the Tacoma stadium.

The contest will start next Tuesday and will end at 6 p. m. the following Friday. The winner will be announced during the half-time at the game and the prize will be presented in chapel the next week.

"Tacoma has long been PLC conscious and it is time for CPS to get the people of this town out to our games," Coach Patrick declared when revealing the forthcoming contest.

This column is supposed to pick the Logger star of the week. But last Saturday Hagerty stole the show, and we now nominate him as the man who put on the best performance in the Bellingham game.

After the game in the locker room Jack McMillan, Logger center, summed the whole thing up with, "I think those officials we had tonight will go through the entire season undefeated."
