Logger Locomotive to Willamette Still Planned

245 People Required For Special Train

"Come on Loggers, win this game!" Of course you want the football players to hear you cheering at the Willamette game this Saturday. They will hear you if you take the special train to Salem this Saturday morning along with many other CPS people.

Tickets are on sale in the bookstore all day and in the ASCPS office at noon, according to Polly Packard, vice president of the student body. They may also be bought at the Union Pacific train office which is on South 9th between Pacific and "A." The price is $9.09. She added that tomorrow will be the last day tickets will be on sale.

Polly emphasized that anyone may make the trip, thus including all Tacoma people and alums. However, at least 245 people must buy the tickets if the special train is to be chartered.

"The train will leave at 7 a. m. and arrive home about 11:30 p. m. The football team will be going down on Friday, but will return with the special train, if there is one," concluded Polly.

Department of Music Revives Orchestra

With the enlargement of the Music Department this year there has been a revival of the orchestra, an important group on the campus, under the able baton of Mr. John O'Connor.

Open for expansion, the orchestra temporarily boasts approximately forty members. Included in this group are seven 2nd violins, five 1st violins, five cellists, two violas, two basses, one bassoon, four French horns, four trombones, four trumpets, one clarinet, one oboe, one timpani, one percussion, and four flutes. Incidentally, all four flutists answer to the name of "Ann."

Among the composers which make up their practice repertoire are Beethoven, Handel, Haydn, DeLives, and Grossman. Attention is being focused on Handel's Messiah which is to be presented in Jones Hall on December 8, with Professor Clyde Keutzer, conducting. In addition to the orchestra there will be two choruses and several soloists.

Despite the fact that this is a college organization, it is open to all people in the community with any instrumental talent. The orchestra is designed not only to give the students an opportunity to learn the orchestral repertoire of music, but also to stimulate similar interest in the people of the community.

New Programs On Economic Affairs Added

Something new has been added to the Tacoma radio station, KTIB. Every Wednesday evening at 7:00 programs sponsored by the Tacoma Council of Churches are striving to bring before the public the current problems on world and economic affairs and to present the opinions and solutions of high school and college students.

Every week a group of four students, alternately from a high school and college, participate in these programs. Usually a minister from one of the local churches presides over the panel. Each individual gives a two and a half minute talk on the topic chosen for the session, followed by a discussion among the students. In conclusion the minister summarizes the discussion.

So far four programs have been presented. Two weeks ago four students from the College of Puget Sound participated, with Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, CPS president, presiding.

Last Wednesday two students from CPS and two members of Pacific Lutheran College took part in the discussion. Representing the College of Puget Sound were Ceila Rees and Robert Winskill from the Immanuel Presbyterian Church.

The question before the group was: "Is the home taking its place in the community?" Dr. Milton A. Marcy, minister of the First Methodist Church summarized the discussion.

Tonight Stadium and Lincoln students will be represented on the program. The topic for discussion will be "How Do You Feel About Compulsory Military Training?"

"These programs should be of interest to all college students, for the problems of today will be our problems to solve tomorrow. Tune in on Wednesday nights and find out what's going on in our world and listen to what other students think about current problems," invites Bob Winskill.

Dr. R. F. Thompson Returns from Trip

Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, CPS president, returned Sunday evening from a week's trip to the east. The main purpose of his trip was to make the Founders' Day Address at Drew University in Madison, New Jersey.

The topic for his speech was "The Realm of Christian Statesmanship." Dr. Thompson received his B. D., M. A., and Ph. D. at Drew.

While he was gone he spent two days in New York and one day in Chicago visiting prospective faculty members for next year. He also visited the Phi Beta Kappa headquarters. Dr. Thompson made the trip east by train, and flew home.

"Everyone must come dressed in Dogpatch style or they won't be admitted," states Don.

Partially completed plans for the intermission period include a pie-eating contest, and hillbilly numbers by Harley Stell and his banjo.

Dancing will be from 8:30 p. m. to 12 in the SUB with music furnished by the jukebox.

Spurs Take New Member On Monday

Gretchen Ernst, Delta Alpha Gamma sorority member, was tapped by the Spurs, national sophomore women's honorary, during chapel Monday.

She will fill the vacancy left by Jane Hagen, one of the fifteen Spurs chosen last spring. Jane is attending Washington State College this year.

Gretchen, the daughter of Reverend and Mrs. J. Henry Ernst, is active in SCA, Kappa Phi, and the Women's Chorus.

Each spring 15 freshmen girls are chosen on the basis of participation in school activities, scholarship, and personality to be Spurs in their sophomore year.

Troy Strong Attending UN Conference Today In New York City, N.Y.

College Delegates Represent Northwest Students in New York UN Conference

Among the delegates from all over the world who are attending the United Nations conference which begins today in New York City are Troy Strong, CPS junior, and Lois McConkey Putnam, University of Oregon.

Having participated in a broadcast entitled "Your United Nations" which was carried over an Eastern NBC network last night, Troy and Mrs. Putnam are representing over 47,000 students from 33 colleges and universities in the Pacific Northwest. The program will be transcribed and rebroadcasted over station KGW in Portland and possibly by KMO in Seattle.

Purpose of Delegation

The purpose of the delegation, according to Troy, "is to request that college students of all countries be allowed an annual channel into the UN through resolutions to their country's delegates."

Resolutions adopted at the Pacific Northwest College Congress held at Reed College in Oregon last spring are being presented to the UN conference.

Youth Fights for Peace
"The students' stake in the atomic age," said Dr. Philip Morrison at the congress last spring, "is life or death."

Dr. Morrison, an atomic physicist who helped perfect the atomic bomb, pointed out that the ages of those scientists who worked on the bomb averaged 29 years.

"With this reminder of the capabilities of youth we hope to be given the opportunity to help plan our destiny," says Troy.

The movement is sponsored by the National League of Women Voters.

Coming Chapel Program Set

Chapel programs of real interest are in store for everyone this next week, according to Dr. Arthur Frederick, faculty member of the chapel committee.

Tomorrow Miss Mary A. Dingman, a World Y.W.C.A. secretary, will speak. For 22 years she has been working in Europe and China and she has just returned from England. At present she is on a lecture tour.

Don Blanding To Speak

A poet of national fame, Don Blanding, will be the speaker for the Monday evening chapel. This program is going to be open to all students and will start at 6:30. He will also speak at Anderson Hall on Sunday afternoon at 4. Anyone interested may come to this program, states Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, who has arranged for Mr. Blanding's appearance. A few years ago Mr. Blanding spoke at school and was very enthusiastically received, Dr. Thompson added.

Author Will Be Guest

On Monday morning Mrs. Edith Genee, an author, will be the guest in chapel.

Battin Demonstrates Economic Principles

Many books have been written about one basic principle of economics, the law of supply and demand. Without a demand there is no need for a supply, and without a supply there is no use demanding.

Take for example the man who owns a Blue Business Suit. As long as he can make that suit last there will be no reason for him to buy a Blue Suit. The demand for this article goes down. With no demand for Blue Suits the supply is then thrown away.

Years later the man's Blue Suit finally falls apart. He looks for another but as the supply has been burned, because there was no demand, his demand is futile because there is no supply. It logically follows that he buys a new brownish-gray suit and the cycle is then repeated.

Anyone who finds this theory confusing please see Dr. Battin. He knows the principle and has only recently acquired The Suit. Congratulations, Doctor!

Brains Without Beards?

No longer is it necessary for a man to possess a long gray beard before his opinions are considered valuable.

College students of today are being recognized in the political circles of the world.

CPS is especially honored in being represented at the United Nations conference by Troy Strong.

We we worthy of this honor?

Do we fully appreciate the significance of this opportunity to express our views on current problems to the most important assemblage of men on this globe?

Are we as Christian college students concentrating on our part in these world issues?

Off Beat

BY THE EM CEE

The big news this week is tonight's faculty concert in Jones Hall Auditorium. For a month now, interest has been mounting, and the new music professors who will arouse audience enthusiasm are pressing black pants and shining silver shoes as though there were a Town Hall debut on tap. If there are any bow ties behind the footlights tonight, they won't be green with purple checks and yellow polka dots.

There will be solos, duets, trios, and foursomes beginning at 8:30 p. m., all of which will give the evening plenty of variety. Erla Mae Cramer, soprano; Gordon Epperson, violin-cellist; Raymond Vaught, violinist; Ivan Rasmussen, baritone, and Herbert Horn, pianist, are the five profs (for some of us) who will be very much artists tonight (for all of us).

The yellow ducats that will admit you to the performance have been scattered far and wide, but most of them will start coming back home early tonight. Each ticket will do double duty, for a reception is planned to follow the last encore. So sharpen your senses and come prepared to hear fine music, see the artists perform, shake their hands at the reception, and taste the familiar punch.

Voice students of Ivan Rasmussen have been working extra hard since he started showing them pictures of Irene Jordan last week. Miss Jordan, a student of Mr. Rasmussen for four years, has just signed a contract with the Metropolitan Opera Company, and her former teacher has promised the same future for all of his present pupils. It's nice to think about, but some pupils won't achieve that future. Those are the male students who could never be mezzo-sopranos at the "Met" no matter how many years they worked with Mr. Rasmussen.

Running a close second to the large concert bureaus is our own music department. The telephone there is a busy little instrument, with requests coming in every day for soloists at all types of public and private functions. The department usually can furnish the entertainment desired, but to make everyone happy often involves a juggling of dates, a change of plans, and the placing of a hand over the mouthpiece for whispered consultations.

Faculty members and students alike are bombarded, and even with the bus shortage, they cover a lot of ground. The Campus Trio, especially, is kept on its toes. The only attraction not available this season is a drum and bugle corps.

Among the present day shortages are oboe players and bassoon players. If you don't believe it, ask Professor O'Conner. His Monday night symphony needs some of both these double-reeded instruments, and he can show the uninformed a picture of either woodwind if there is anyone who doesn't know for what to look. Better yet, keep your ears open and if you hear a yowling cat on Hallowe'en night, scare it up to Jones 403—it may be a valuable oboe player.

Seasoned Timber

By Zeldia Lay

In direct opposition to the once-popular theory that "he who is wise is never popular among his associates," friendly Janice Lindeman has sailed through three years of life at CPS, capturing numerous scholastic awards and honorary social titles.

Janice, a senior who is majoring in business administration and economics, holds a Howarth scholarship in the field of business administration. Last spring she was admitted to Otlah, senior women's honorary as well as Mu Sigma Delta, also a scholastic honorary. Besides all those duties to occupy one's time, Janice somehow finds time to be Secretary of ASCPS, president of Kappa Sigma Theta

Dorm Diary

Polly Packard, Lu Randall, Jan Blake, and Bea Young have had a blessed event—they are the mothers of two fine baby fish; and speaking of the Big Four, Polly wishes to publicly retract (under pressure) a statement she made in a recent Trail about noisy roommates.

Any day now I'm expecting to see Ruth Lubbe walking around on her knees. That daily jaunt to work must be wearing, to say the least. In fact, the bus strike has hit us all mighty hard. If a dorm girl is seen striking out with a knapsack on her back, she's only well prepared for the hike to town and home again.

The air of excitement on third floor is due to Bonnie Steele in a flurry over a trip to Washington State, Vi Rowe in a flurry over her new diamond ring, and their roomie, Ginny Barker, just in a flurry, plus the naturally exuberant Frosh spirits of third floor's baby's, Gwen Roberts, Dixie James, Sue Robinson, Lois Poindexter, DeDe Johnson, and Betty Ann Jensen.

Faculty Benefit Is 8:30 Tonight

A benefit concert featuring the new faculty of the Music Department is being held this evening at 8:00 in the Jones Hall auditorium. Proceeds of the concert, sponsored by the Woman's College League, will go to help furnish the new men's dormitory.

Soloists will be Miss Erla Mae Cramer, soprano; Prof. Ivan Rasmussen, baritone; Prof. Raymond Vaught, violinist; Prof. Gordon Epperson, cellist; and Prof. Herbert Horn, pianist. They are to be accompanied by Prof. Leonard Jacobsen, and Prof. D. Robert Smith. A reception in the Student Union Building will follow the concert.

sorority, and a member of WAA. Oh yes, and she tells me that during her spare moments she works at the National Bank of Washington. Janice is a graduate of Stadium high school and belonged to Spurs during her sophomore year.

When I inquired if she would care to make any statements to her public, she looked rather bewildered, and then smilingly said: Well, you can tell them that "I'm sorry I'm a senior now, instead of a freshman just starting out at CPS." That's what all those seniors seem to say. I can't understand it. Here I am, on needles and pins, hoping I can finish one semester safely, and she's sorry she's about leaving!

Sounding Off

By Polly Packard

Do you know that I couldn't possibly give away a million dollars, just because I wanted to give it away and offered it? (If I had it, that is.) I couldn't give it away unless someone wanted it and took it. There is probably little doubt that I could get rid of it easily. Anyway, it will be a long day before anyone gets a million dollars from me.

But what about the priceless gifts the College of Puget Sound is offering to anyone who will take it? Really, it is a gift in spite of what you're paying, because what is here to take is worth much more money than any of us has.

Besides the fun and the knowledge which we are all eager to receive, there are the great truths and experiences of others which are ours for the taking which this college offers. Of what use is knowledge without love and understanding? We learn facts and truths, but their value is in their use and application. If we are willing to receive what our speakers in religious chapels have to give and profit by their experience; if, while we are here, we learn more of how to use what knowledge we receive, the College of Puget Sound will be fulfilling its purpose.

Faculty Notes

Did you know that Prof. Herbert Horn, of our music department, is really an outdoor man at heart? He says there is nothing he enjoys more than hiking through the woods or scaling a peak.

Mr. Horn received his bachelor of music degree from De Pauw University, Chicago, and earned his Master's degree at the University of Southern California. He has appeared as guest soloist with numerous well-known orchestras, including the Chicago symphony, the Illinois symphony, the Chicago Civic symphony, and the University of Southern California symphony orchestra.

Before serving in the armed forces as a combat engineer on Okinawa and in Korea, he was head of the piano department at Hastings College.

When asked about his favorite aversion he said, (piano students take note) "Freshman girls who try to play the piano with long, red fingernails."

... shallow men believe in luck, believe in circumstances. Strong believe in cause and effect.
—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Caught Red-Handed
Wife: Let me see that letter you've just opened. I can see from the handwriting it's from a woman and you turned pale when you read it.

Husband: You can have it. It's from your milliner.

The Cross-Eyed Bear
A little boy came home from Sunday school and said to his mother: "We studied about a bear today." "A bear?" said his mother. "Yes," replied the boy, "we sang a song called 'Gladly the Cross I'd Bear.'"

Did You Know That?
Teacher: How did the pioneers discover iron?
Bobbie: They smelt it!

The Nerve—
A few days after the bulldog bit Goldberg, along came the reporter of the Health Department: "The dog was mad."

"The dog was mad?" yelled Goldberg. "The dog was mad! Well, do you think I'm any too pleased?"

Nutz?
Visitor (in lunatic asylum): Why are you pushing that wheelbarrow upside-down? That's a crazy way to do.

Nut: What's crazy about it! Yesterday I pushed it right side up and the superintendent filled it with bricks.

You Can't Win
Pat: Can you beat it? My wife believes in fortune telling—and it's set me back over five bucks.

Mike: You're lucky! My kid believes in Santa Claus and it cost me a week's pay.

Tall Story
Britisher: I say, old boy, your sky is much clearer here than ours in London.

New Yorker: It ought to be—those skyscrapers cost plenty.

You Said It!
A group of American college students were touring Europe just before the war. Now they had at last reached one of the great glories of Rome—the mighty Vesuvius. Silently they stared at the molten lava.

Suddenly their guide broke the silence: "No where else in the world," he opined, "can you find such a tremendous lake of fire!" "Maybe not," countered a bold collegian, "but our Niagara Falls would put out this fire in two and a half seconds."

Green Apple Pie—Yum
Man: Waiter, do you have the kind of pie that mother used to make?

Waiter: You bet we do.
Man: Then give me cake.

Letter to the Editors
9:50, Chapel time. Be there. We start off by standing to sing the school song.—Well, at least we stand. My observation shows that about one-third of the students sing. Why? Well, I for one don't know the song, and after looking around I haven't been able to find a copy to learn it from. How about mimeographing us off some and letting the Spurs see that we get a copy, or better still, put it in The Trail.

Homecoming Queen Candidates

ANITA STEBBINS

Full of vim and vigor is blond, blue-eyed Anita Stebbins, who is Alpha Beta Upsilon's choice. Accustomed to hitting high notes with her accomplished soprano voice, Anita is hitting a new high on the campus by her recent nomination for Homecoming queen. Being a member of the Adelpian Choir and the soprano of the Campus Trio, she has become very popular both on and off campus. A Tacoman by birth and a sophomore by hard work, it's hard indeed to find her when she isn't eating a chocolate sundae—for that is on the top of her favorite list.

MARION SANDAL

An effervescent smile, shining blue eyes and honey-colored tresses introduce you to Marian Sandal of Tacoma, the Gamma candidate for Homecoming queen. After wearing the trim blue suit of the Waves, Marian is now setting college fashions at CPS. Marian, a junior, is majoring in history. She is vice-president and social chairman of her sorority, and as a freshman she was representative to Central Board.

BETTY BARKOST

Blond, blue-eyed Betty Barkost is the CPS campus beauty chosen by the Lambda Sigma Chi sorority as their candidate for Homecoming queen. She stands five feet four inches tall, weighs 115 pounds and carries herself with the air of a queen. Betty is the girl you have seen studying in the sociology classroom, lounging in the Lambda room, and sending the Lambda pledges hither and yon to do her errands. Everyone seems to know her, but those few who do not have at least seen her name in print—on posters painted in what the art students call "abstract design."

MARY AGNES GALLAGHER

A beautiful brunette with sparkling green eyes—who? Mary Agnes Gallagher, the Kappa Sigma Theta's candidate for Homecoming queen. Mary Agnes, better known as Mag, graduated from Stadium high school in 1942, where she was Secretary of the Junior class, and president of Stadium, the girls' athletic association. Her abundant ability was recognized at the beginning of her college career, for Mag has been Secretary of the Women's Athletic Association, Treasurer of the Ski Club, and Secretary and Treasurer of Kappa Sigma Theta. Now in her Junior year, she is the "Queen of Clubs," being president of Inter-sorority council, and president of the Adelpian Choir. Although her activities keep her busy, Mag manages to carry out a full time program with Sociology as her major. Her vivacious personality and ever ready smile make her eligible to reign over the annual festivities of Homecoming.

BEVERLY MacDONALD

Homecoming Queen this year is cute little Beverly MacDonald. "Bev" is the only one of the five candidates who is a member of the freshman class, and she's mighty proud of it, too. Sandpoint, Idaho, was the point of her debarkation where she graduated in "45."

"Simply popping with vim, vigor, and vitality," that's "Bev." She was very active all through high school and has made a wonderful start for herself here. Music is her hobby, and music is her college major. She is taking voice lessons and for a little added spice, organ.

Lambda Members Engaged, Married

With their return to CPS, Lambda Sigma Chi members learned of the engagements and weddings of several sorority sisters during the summer months.

Fiffles-Helmer

At a summer meeting, Miss Marion Fiffles announced her engagement to Robert J. Helmer. The wedding will be on October 27 at St. Nicholas Hellenic Orthodox church with a reception in the Crystal Ballroom of the Winthrop hotel. Marion is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Fiffles of Tacoma.

Hodges-Wilson

Miss Barbara Hodges announced her engagement to Richard Wilson at the meeting on September 25, with the traditional box of chocolates. Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Hodges, is a sophomore while her fiance is a senior at the University of Washington.

Miller-Tonge

August 21 was the date chosen for the wedding of Miss Sarah Lou Miller, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Christian Miller, former registrar

Omicrons, Pledges Choose Officers

Members of the Delta Pi Omicron fraternity held elections last week, with offices going to the following men: Robert Salmon, president; Harold Schumock, vice-president; Robert Lynch, secretary; Clarence Schorer, treasurer; Francis McConnell, sergeant-of-the-guard; Donald McCort, chaplain; and Andrew Moe, pledge captain.

Omicron pledges chose Norman Hawkins as their president; Paul Anderson, secretary; Robert Fagg, treasurer. Other officers will be elected at a later date.

of CPS, to Harry Warren Tonge. The rites were solemnized at Epworth Methodist Church. Both are students here.

Shorer-Justice

A surprise to many was the secret marriage to Miss June Shorer to Sidney Justice on May 7. The rites were officiated by the Reverend Carl A. Johnson at the First Christian Church.

June, a junior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Shorer of Centralia. In addition to Lambda Sigma Chi, June is a member of Kappa Phi.

Sidney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Justice of Tacoma. A sophomore, he belongs to Delta Pi Omicron.

SCA Regional Conference Held

Most of the campuses in Washington, Oregon and Idaho were represented at the region conference of Student Christian Associations, held at Trestle Glen, south of Portland, on October 11-13.

With the theme "Where Can We Take Hold?" the delegates considered community, national, and world problems. The intensive program included addresses by George Thomas, Negro lawyer from Portland, Chang Shen and Pekka Mannio, students from China and Finland respectively, and Dr. Warren Tomlinson of the CPS faculty, who spoke on "The United Nations and World Government."

The Student Christian Association of CPS sent as delegates Amos Cambric, Beverly Van Horn, Marjorie Todd, John Sampson, Barbara Lindahl, Helen Strong and Mary Jackson.

Chi Nu's To Dance This Friday Night

The pledges of Alpha Chi Nu fraternity will hold their Autumn dance this Friday night at the Masonic Temple, Roof Garden. Dancing will be from 9 to 12, to the popular music of Walt Gundstrom's band.

The various committees for the dance are: refreshments, Joe Manley, Claude Knecht and Bob Mack. Decorations, Jim Brumbaugh, Bruce Todd, Don Diamond and Dick Dakin. Tickets, Bill Sherd and George Hill.

The dance will be a semi-formal affair.

They are Zelta Lay, Miriam Manke, Marian Geehan, Cathy Reed and Frances Criswell, who won the Beta pledge pin by earning the highest grade average in the group.

Theta Pledges Elect

With a busy year ahead the Kappa Sigma Theta pledges, under the leadership of Bea Rayno, pledge mother, elected their officers. Chosen at the first official pledge meeting last Wednesday, were: Jo Kraus, secretary; Betty Jean Goselin, treasurer; and Barbara Hufford, sergeant-at-arms.

Locals Seek Victory Over Willamette In Salem League Battle

With the Northwest Conference lead at stake the Loggers invade the lair of the Willamette Bearcat in Salem, Oregon, Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. CPS needs a win to nail down first place, as a tie game would leave Willamette in first place by virtue of the CPS-Linfield deadlock last week.

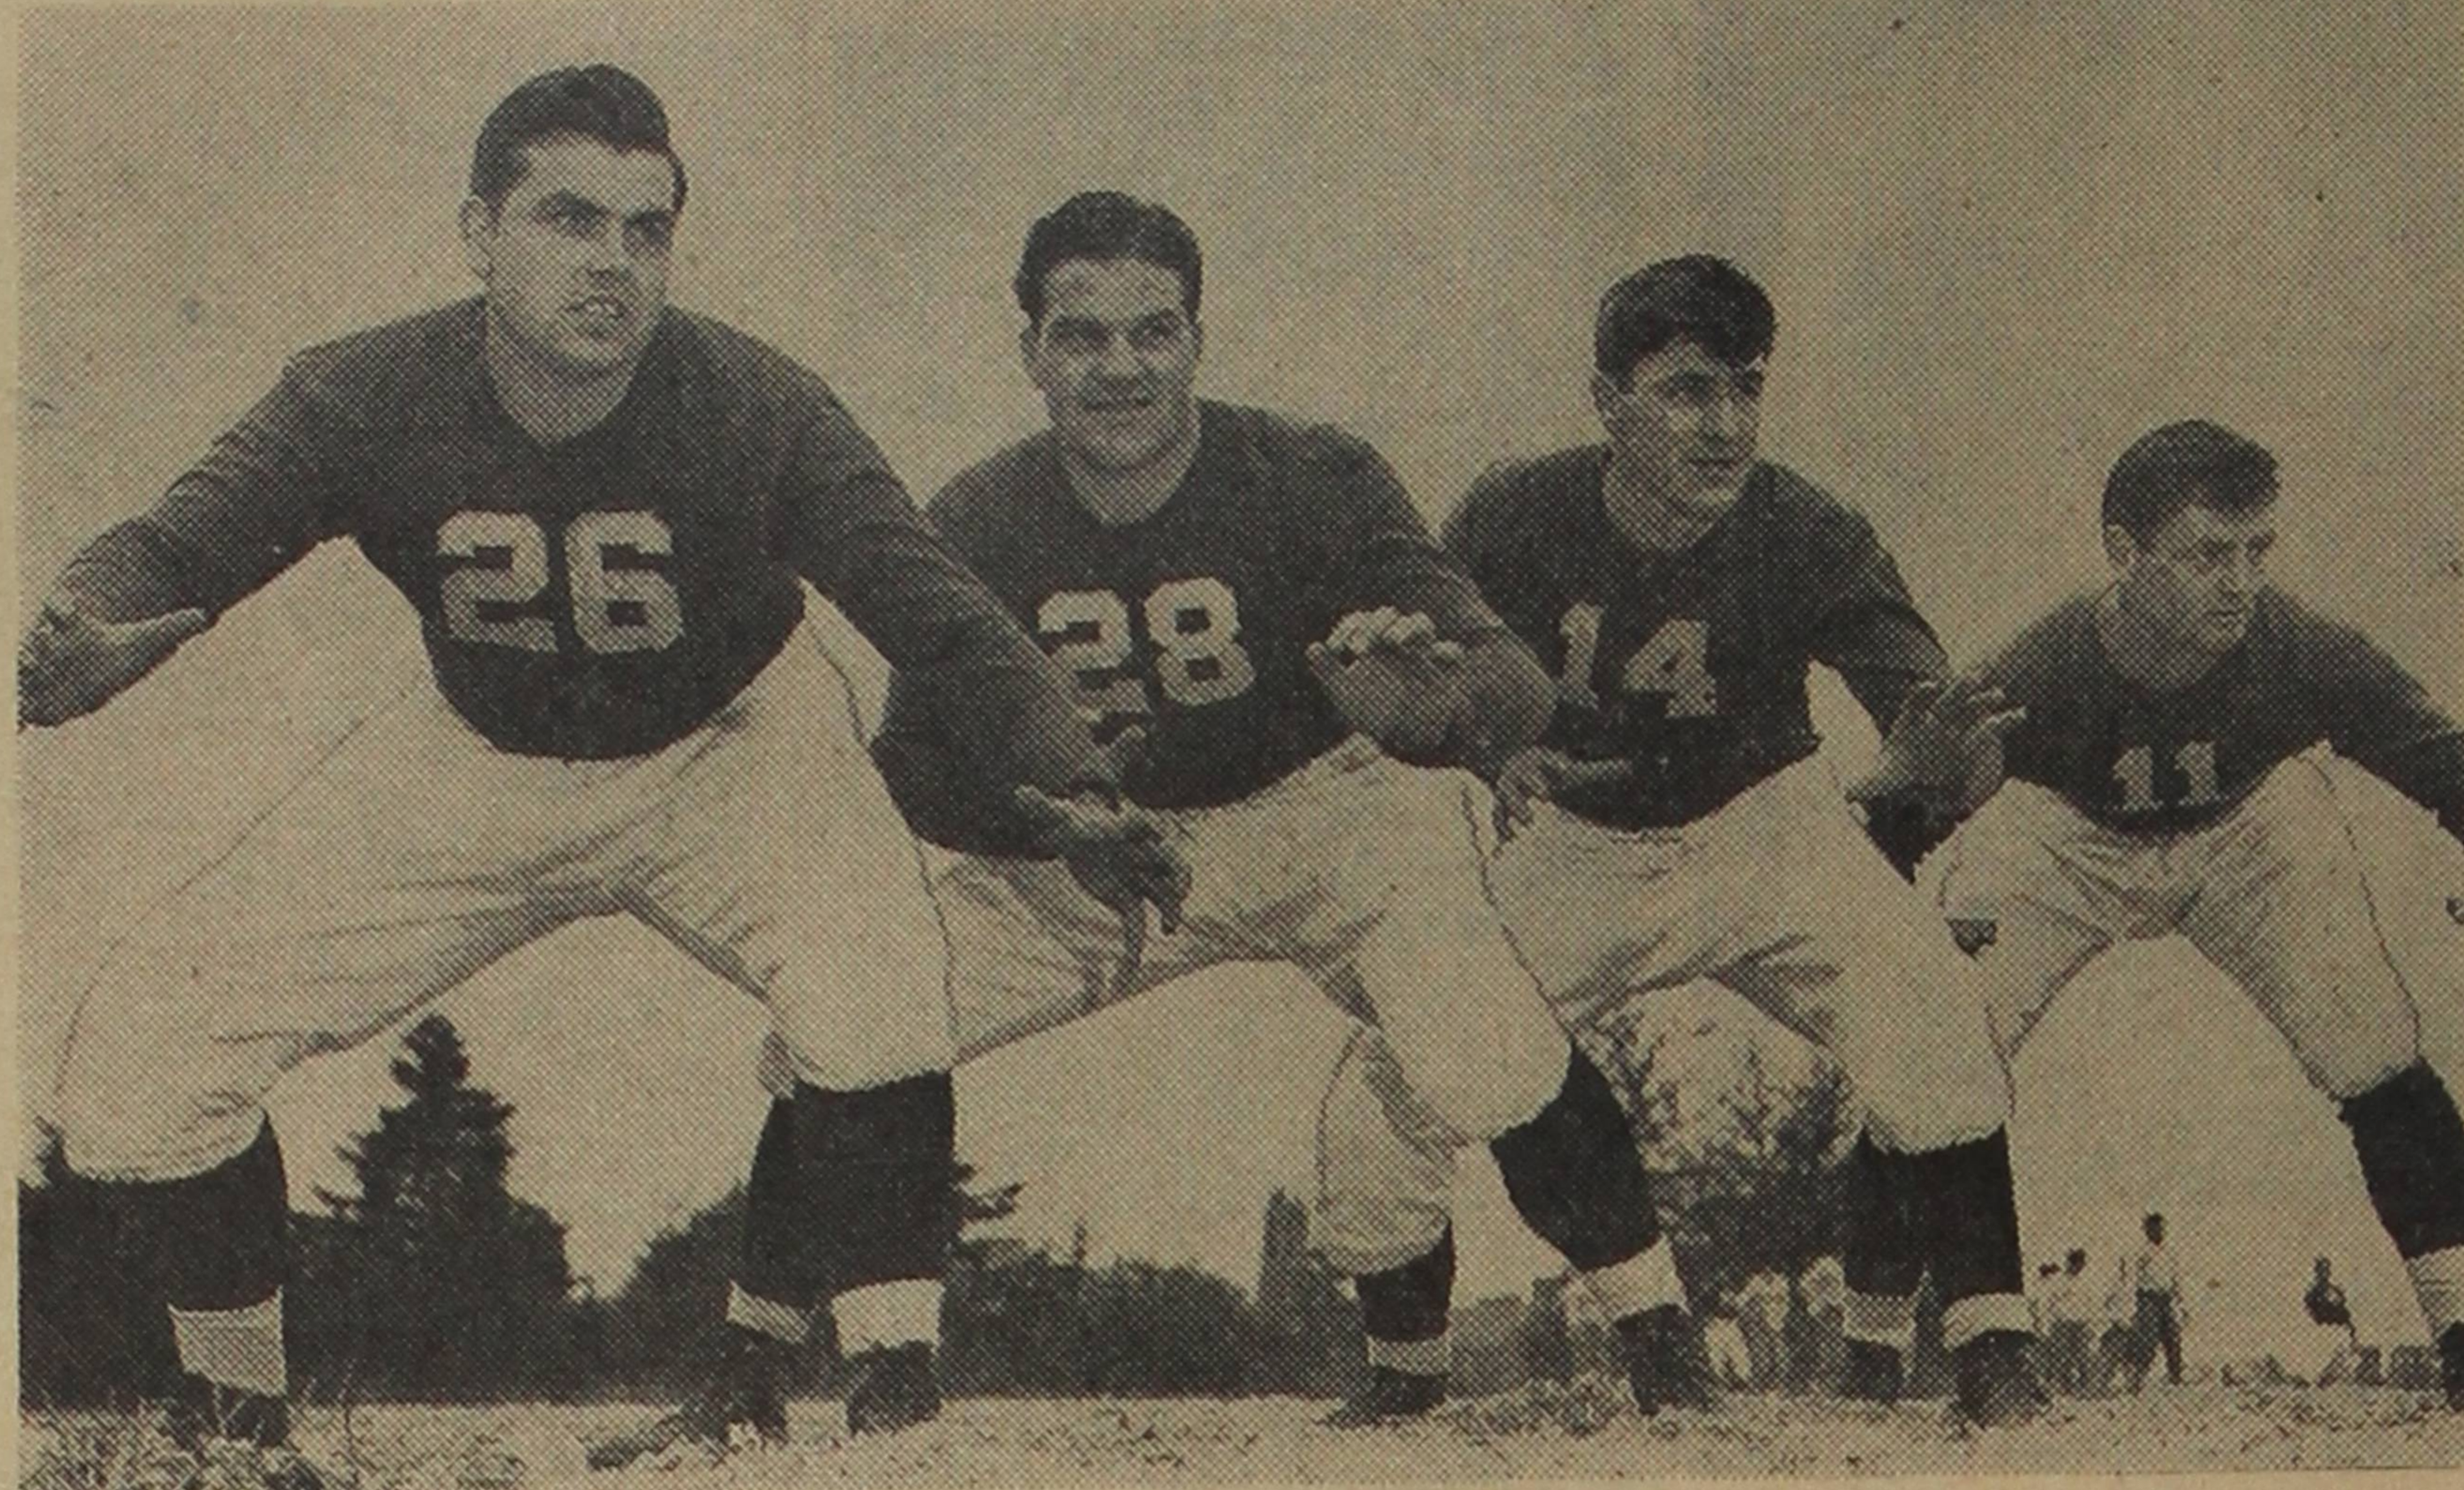

The Bearcat has managed to smother all conference opponents this year by decisive scores, including UBC, 28-12; College of Idaho, 27-7; Linfield 31-6. By virtue of the big scores in his previous games, Coach Walt Erickson now has at least two fast, hard running and seasoned ball clubs ready. The Willamette roster is loaded with veterans from the champions of '42.

The Loggers came out of the mud fight last Saturday in fairly good shape. The only serious casualty was Dick Hermsen, who aggravated an old knee injury, and will be out of action for several weeks. Warren Wood, who saw no action at all last week, is expected to be back in shape.

Dr. Hermann, team physician, expressed doubts as to whether Kenny Vollmar, 200 pound quarterback, would be ready. Jack Wilson and Ed Bemis will go on handling the quarterback job if Vollmar isn't ready. Bob Robbins is slated for heavy duty at fullback and Bob Morrison, the Renton Wrecker, will fill in the tackle hole left by Hermsen. The rest of lineup is unchanged.

This week Coach Patrick has stressed pass defense, as Willamette plays a wide open type of ball, and is expected to fill the afternoon air with footballs.

Coach Patrick stated, "This is the one we're after. The boys, after their temporary slow-up last Saturday, are ready. I know I can speak for the fellows on the team when I say we would like to see that special train to Salem filled with rooters. It certainly helps a lot to have an organized rooting section behind you when playing away from home."

Tall Timber Tackles—Ready for a full 60 minutes of bruising line play against the Willamette Bearcats Saturday in Salem are the four husky tackles pictured above. They are Dick "Butch" Hermsen, Ralph Rowe, Bob Morrison and Arnie Sandvig. However, Hermsen and Sandvig are injured and may see only partial action.

CPS, Linfield In 6 to 6 Tie

Loggers Battle Wildcats In Conference Deadlock On Muddy Gridiron

Coach Frank Patrick and his CPS gridmen weren't too sure who whom, what or when they were playing last Saturday, but after 60 minutes of slipping and sloshing in a sea of mud they were positive that it was "Finfield." Actually, it was Linfield and the net result of the trip to McMinnville last weekend was a 6 to 6 deadlock.

Linfield's sea fleet reached the TD port midway in the opening period. Relying on line plays, the Wildcat convoy racked up four consecutive first downs and set the stage for Bill Merchant's scoring plunge from the three yard stripe. The conversion attempt was throttled by the entire Logger forward wall.

Early in the second quarter, Dick Robinson pounced on a Wildcat fumble on the Linfield 45 yard line to pave the way for CPS's lone tally. Bob Robbins, Harry Mansfield and Tom Ruffin led the sustained drive to pay "mud," with Robbin culminating march by splashing over from three yards out. Ruffin's placement hit the upright and bounced away.

Ruffin, Robbins and Mansfield stood out in the Logger backfield, while Greedy, Ralph Rowe and Butch Adams played good defensively in the forward wall. Four regulars, Kenny Vollmar, Warren Wood, Darrell Sullivan and Jim Rice, did not play because of injuries.

Highlights on the most exciting hockey game of the season, which was played Friday by teams No. 3 and 2. The two captains, Bev Johnson and Cernetta Harvlie bullied to start the game.

With just a few minutes left of the game Harvlie and Moberg together managed to disentangle the ball from the scrimmage to make a final score 3 for team No. 3. At the end of the game and the score was 3-2, with team 3 the winner.

Team 3 leads the victory list with team 2 following. The two remaining teams, 1 and 4, replayed Monday to battle for third place, team 1 was outscored by team 4.

There is some good news for girls who like swimming. All you need is a swimming medical card from the gym office; your own bathing suit if possible, and you can swim the first and third Monday of the month at the YWCA. The dates are as follows: Oct. 21; Nov. 4, 18; Dec. 2, 16; and Jan. 6. As this sport is enjoyed by almost all, a good turnout is expected.

Logger Cagers Slate Practice

The term "breather" on the CPS basketball schedule this season will only apply to the rest a player will get when he retires in favor of a substitute, according to Frank Patrick, athletic director.

The statement results from the imposing array of games the Loggers have scheduled with the University of Washington, Washington State, Montana, Gonzaga, Portland University and the regular Northwest Conference schools this year.

Meanwhile, the Loggers are going through twice-weekly practice drills under the guiding eyes of John Heinrich, head coach, and Tom Cross, assistant.

Several high school stars of former years have turned out including Bob Fincham, Vic Martineau and Don Heselwood, all returning lettermen from last year's squad; Bobby Angeline, Stadium ace of several years back; Bill Stiver, Don Hoff, "Jeep" Sawyer and Ed Huntington.
