Junior Prom Will Be Held February 15

"Sweetheart Ball," the Junior Prom, which was originally scheduled for November 23, will be held in the Tacoma Armory from 9 to 12 o'clock Saturday night, February 15, according to George Miller and Carolyn Cummings, co-chairmen of the dance.

Sponsored by the seniors (the juniors will give the Senior Ball for the seniors this spring), the Prom is semi-formal with the price of admission $1.75 per couple. Tickets will be on sale in the SUB at noon and may be purchased from any senior.

Heading the decorations, which will be in a Valentine's Day motif, is Genevieve Verone. Other committee chairmen are Norm Willard, programs; Bob Minitti, orchestra; Mike Jayko, hall; Bill Causin, refreshments; Kerittu Kahn and Dorothea Meek, tickets; and the entire senior class, clean-up.

Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. R. Franklin Thompson, Mrs. Lyle Ford Drushel Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Calvin B. Coulter, Prof. and Mrs. Clyde H. Keutzer, and Dr. L. Stanton Shelmidine.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Will Provide Free Lung Photographs

Free chest X-rays of every student and faculty member in the college will be taken next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, February 12, 13, and 14, according to Helen Strong, school nurse.

The student body will be taken in groups by classes, she explains, adding that if a student is missed the first day he should report to Howarth Hall.

A machine in a mobile unit parked by the cloisters will photograph the lungs without the inconvenience of removing clothing. All students will register their names in Howarth Hall before being X-rayed.

"This is an excellent opportunity for each of us, since chest plates from a private laboratory are quite expensive. We are asking for 100% cooperation from the entire student body," urges Mrs. Strong.

Registration Deadline

The deadline for making changes in registration that involve entering a new class is Saturday morning, Dean Register warned this week.

White Dinner Jackets in assorted sizes

If you have a white dinner jacket, how about doing your bit for CPS by lending it to a choir member to wear on the concert tour? Contact Frances Holt, secretary of the music department or Bill O'Connell.

Landscaping CPS Campus Is Reality

Sometimes dreams do come true! For proof of this startling fact, consult Dr. Thompson, or you can watch the landscaping of the CPS campus for your own proof.

This landscaping has been a dream of college officials for many years and this spring will see the beginning of its fulfillment.

The plans, in the charge of the Woodworth Company, and under the direction of landscaping architects Misses Schryber and Lord, who were in charge of the landscaping of Reed College in Portland, are now complete and the face-lifting will rejuvenate the whole appearance of the campus.

It will begin with a 50 foot terrace in front of Anderson Hall. The terrace will have a four and one-half foot drop to a sunken garden and it is hoped that eventually a fountain will be placed in the middle of the garden. On either side of the dormitory quadrangle there will be another raised terrace which will slope gently to street level. The terrace will be erected and the grass planted as soon as the weather permits.

The street behind the "dorm" will be paved and will allow for diagonal parking. On the two lots south of the SUB, lawn will be planted with a center plot for flowers while the lots north of the SUB will be sanded and used for a parking lot.

Space for 500 students in new classrooms will be provided near the gym. This area will be planted with lawns and a system of walks will furnish two entrances to each building. To finish off the landscaping job the front of the boys' dormitory will be entirely in lawn, which is to be planted this spring.

Students Cast Votes for Royalty

Ballot Boxes In Jones Hall

Have you seen the brightly colored boxes in lower Jones Hall? They are waiting to be filled with votes in the form of money for your choice for king and queen of the Women's Federation tolo, February 8. Anna Marie Vaughn, who is in charge of the voting, trimmed each candidate's box in the colors of his respective organizations.

The candidates are Joan Mooney, Alpha Beta Upsilon; Clarence Nelson, Alpha Chi Nu; Pauline Anderson, Delta Alpha Gamma; Rod Brown, Delta Kappa Phi; Andy Moe, Delta Pi Omicron; Phyllis Kurrell, Independents; Bill O'Connell, Independents; Janice Ludwig, Kappa Sigma Theta; Ted Christianson, Sigma Mu Chi; Mary Alice Dyer, Lambda Sigma Chi; Les Gilsdorf, Sigma Zeta Epsilon.

This tolo, Sweetheart Swingtime, will be held in the Elks Club ball-room Saturday from 9:00 until 12. Admission price is one dollar per couple. The dance is informal, which is afternoon dresses for the women and suits for the men. The music will be furnished by a sound movie of popular dance bands.

A tolo is a turn-about of the usual dates. The women invite the men to the dance, call for them at their home, pay for their transportation to the dance and home again, pay for the admission, refreshments and all expenses for the evening. The women should treat the men just as they would like to be treated on dates and open the doors for them, check their coats, and find them seats. The women may present their dates with corsages if they desire.

Last year approximately $245.00 was obtained from this tolo and the voting for king and queen. This money supports in part five of the organizations here on the campus.

Amvets Will Meet

An invitation was extended this week by Elmer Strong, commander of Amvets, Tacoma Post No. 1, to all Washington state resident veterans attending CPS to attend a mass meeting next Monday evening to discuss the proposed state veterans' bonus and continuation of the state department of veterans' affairs.

The time and place of next Monday's meeting will be announced in local papers and all veterans, members of Amvets or not, are urged to attend.

Reed Wins Award

Wilma Reed, occupational therapy senior, was recently awarded a $50 anonymous scholarship in recognition of her academic achievements.

She earned the award by receiving the highest grade in medical lectures (Biology 138) last semester. The course consists of two lectures a week given by doctors from the Medical Association.

Wilma, whose home is in Vancouver, B. C., plans to begin her clinical training in O. T. this summer.

Symphony Will Present Concert

Conducted by Professor Raymond Vaught, the Puget Sound Symphony will present its first concert of the year in Jones Hall auditorium, Sunday afternoon, February 16, at 4 o'clock.

"Square Dance," an original composition by Leroy Ostransky, assistant in the theory department, will be played for the first time.

Soloist for the occasion will be Herbert Horn, of the piano department, who will play Liszt's "Concerto in E Flat." The orchestra is composed of 65 persons, about 40 of whom are CPS students, the remainder being Tacoma musicians.

Professor John O'Conner was originally scheduled to conduct the concert but will be unable to do so because of illness.

'Lampighter' Hop Tomorrow Night

Things will be sizzling if you bring your flame to the Lampighter's Serenade. If you're carrying a torch come stag. Dancing will be to the music of part of the Workshop Band from 8:30 to 12, Friday, February 7, in the SUB.

Tickets are a dollar a couple or sixty cents for the stag line and may be purchased from any of the committee members according to Bill O'Connell, chairman. The dance will be informal, with girls wearing afternoon dresses and men wearing suits.

Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Keutzer and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ostransky.

All-School Ski Day Moved To Feb. 22

Because of conflicts with other school activities, the all-school Ski day at the Milwaukee Ski Bowl has been moved from February 8 to February 22. Tickets and information will be available at noon in the SUB.

Races will be held to determine ownership of the Inter-Sorority and Inter-Fraternity Cup. A men's and women's downhill race will take place; all skiers are invited to enter. A list will be put on the Ski-Bulletin which all desiring to enter should sign.

"There is still open membership in the Ski Club for all students who are interested in promotion and participation of skiing here at school," states Bob Church, Ski Club president.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30 in J204.

Northwest College Congress Scheduled For March 6, 7, 8

On March 6, 7 and 8, student delegates will again attend the Pacific Northwest College Congress at Reed College, Portland.

The first Congress was held last year and was sponsored jointly by the Portland League of Women Voters and by Reed College. Student representatives from 31 colleges and universities in the Northwest met and discussed the problem of strengthening world organization for the preservation of peace. These representatives formulated proposals and resolutions which embodied their thinking and which were later presented to their respective schools for ratification.

Survey of UN
This year discussions will center around a survey of the United Nations and its agencies. Representatives will be assigned to participate in one of five sections where various phases of United Nations activity will be reviewed and criticized, particularly in the light of the 1946 Congress.

The work of the first Pacific Northwest College Congress (PNCC) attracted widespread attention and favorable comment throughout the country. Two of the representatives at the Congress, Troy Strong from the College of Puget Sound, and Lois McConkey Putnam from the University of Oregon, were selected to present the resolutions to the American delegation at United Nations.

Delegates Find Enthusiasm
On their trip to New York last October Lois and Troy found great interest and enthusiasm concerning the work of the Congress. No student organization had been officially received at United Nations before their visit and the resolutions were received with great interest by the American delegation.

Realizing the potential value of a permanent, non-partisan student organization, the instigators of the 1946 College Congress planned a similar event for 1947. Other sections of the nation expressed much interest and were extended invitations to send students, who might act as observers, to the 1947 Pacific Northwest College Congress.

Committee Organized Here
Already a PNCC Policy Committee has been established at CPS. The committee represents a fair cross section of college students (Continued on Page 3)

Here We Go Again!

Usually we have enough sense to keep away from the fire after once getting our eyebrows singed.

However, we are venturing to re-open a subject which is becoming increasingly irritating and which caused us to be on the receiving end of a number of unfavorable comments when we last expressed our views on it.

We refer to the noisome pestilence known in modern parlance as the juke-box. We have two faults to find with this instrument:

A.—It is at least twice as loud as is necessary for normal hearing. (Why can't the volume be fixed at somewhere near a reasonable pitch so that it cannot be tampered with?)

B.—The selections available on the juke-box are definitely not representative of the music which college students should and do enjoy. Jazz and boogie-woogie are all right, but many students would appreciate some semi-classical numbers. (Maybe even some long-haired stuff!)

We would rather eat our meals to something like "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" than "Open the Door, Richard." How about you?

For Ping-Pong Addicts Only

After engaging in an exhilarating game of ping-pong with a ball which was cracked in several places and which struck the table with a sickening thud and rolled slowly off over the edge, we decided to make a survey of the situation and see what could be done.

We came to the conclusion that no worthier use for student body funds could be found than that of keeping the table tennis fans supplied with ping-pong balls.

The main complication involved would be that of finding a safe "keeper of the balls." Letters to the editor containing suggested answers to this problem will be welcomed.

Off Beat BY THE EM CEE

A small group of people saw Miss Erla Cramer off for sunnier skies in California last week. Most of her voice students were moved over to the lists of Margaret Myles, who was slightly amazed at the number of students involved. Miss Myles, whose name as a singer is reaching national scope, has just appeared, along with Raymond Vaught, as one of the featured artists on the March of Dimes concert.

For talented music students, the class in Teaching Music is receiving deluxe instruction. Just look at the all-star staff of teachers: Professors Rasmussen, Keutzer, Smith, Vaught, with several observing classes on the outside. You would think all this attention would be directed toward educating the masses, but no, only four upper classmen!

If you've ever heard the statement "But I thought the war was over," it was probably coming from a potential USO artist. The first and third Sundays of each month, CPS students produce and perform a complete half-hour show at the main USO on 13th and Fawcett. Working in conjunction with the Music Department under the title Music Production and Administration, students receive credit for actively drumming up and producing the shows, this being no easy task—especially around finals time.

Among those who have appeared are Irene Fearn, Anita Stebbins, Betty Fyke, Elizabeth Anderberg, Aleatha Dieatrick, Ruthella Raver, and Francis Holt, sopranos and accompanists. Harmon Weston, Barney Stempczynski, Bill Gianelli, Willard Norman, Bob Winkskill, Bill O'Connell and Willard Gee, have appeared as vocalists or in special acts.

Sounding Off

By MARY JACKSON

Discipline: from DICIPULUS, from DISCERE, to learn. Maybe that looks like so much Latin to you, but even if you didn't go through AMO, AMAS, AMAT in high school, you can focus your mind for a moment on the inescapable connection between discipline and learning.

By the time we've reached college, teachers seem to have discarded the well-worn paddles they used to have in the upper right-hand drawers of their worn desks and outgrown the childish habit of keeping us after school for misbehaving. But that does not mean that discipline is no longer necessary for efficient learning.

The flattering assumption of our elders seems to be that we are now capable of disciplining ourselves. Parents, teachers, and even the army have deserted us and left the problem to discipline up to us. No study halls to make sure we study, no truant officer to check up when we play hookey, no inspection to make sure we shine our shoes. Self-discipline means a lot of different things. It means getting up when the alarm goes off. It means making a schedule and sticking to it—and likewise a budget. It means doing lessons for Friday on Wednesday instead of late Thursday night. And it also means remembering that education isn't all in books, and seeing that your social development isn't neglected. It means deciding what comes first in your life, and then putting first things first. It's up to you.

Workshop Band Makes Debut; "Give Us More" Says Public

Comments on Leroy Ostransky's Workshop Band were heard everywhere on the campus after its debut at the sophomore dance last Friday. Various samples of public opinion are printed below:

Mary Alice Dyer: It was loud—I thought they were pretty good, really.

Bob Winkskill: I thought it was quite good after they got warmed up. For a purely amateur group I thought they were certainly swell.

Barbara Lindahl: I thought it was good!

Jim Johnson: They got hotter than crackers there at the last! Keep it up!

Elizabeth Anderberg: Well, I enjoyed listening to the fast numbers but not dancing to them.

Polly Packard: Wonderful!

Donald Phillips: I think we ought to have them more often.

Virginia Barker: It's the best that CPS has ever offered in the way of popular musical entertainment. Let's be sure to see more of them. Both the instrumental and vocal renditions were tops!

O'Connor Takes Vacation, 'At Home' at 3309 No. 8th

John A. O'Connor, director of the CPS band and its liveliest live wire is taking a vacation from school and its tiresome activities for awhile. (This is not of his own choosing, to be sure.)

Although rheumatic fever seems to have thrown Mr. O'Conner for the present, within two months he'll be back again. In the meantime if you can manage to drop around to the O'Conner home he will be glad to see you. So if you happen to be passing by 3309 North 8th, just pound on the door and shout "Open the Door, Johnny!"

Robinson-Hoff

With the passing of the traditional box of candy Miss Patricia Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Robinson of Port Angeles, revealed to her sorority, Alpha Beta Upsilon, her engagement to William M. Hoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hoff, also of Port Angeles. The box, which in true Beta fashion was tied with purple ribbon and topped with a cluster of yellow roses, was presented the evening of January 8.

'Aunt Mary' Cooks Dinner For Dozens

If you eat at the SUB, you've probably wondered who is responsible for the delicious dinners, and especially that home-made pie. You're missing someone well worth knowing if you haven't taken time to get acquainted with Mrs. Langdon as well as her cooking. She disclaims any professional skill in the culinary arts, but years of experience in cooking for her own family made her the superb cook that she is.

Mrs. Langdon, who has seven grandchildren now, first came to CPS about four years ago when her son Ray went into the service. She needed something to keep her from worrying, so she became the cook for Anderson Hall, where she shared the worries of the girls with the same sympathy and understanding that she handed out between-meal snacks. During her two years there, she formed many lasting friendships and was beloved by the girls, who affectionately called her "Aunt Mary."

This is Mrs. Langdon's second year in the SUB, where she has complete charge of the evening meal and dinner on Sunday. When this fall brought such an influx of students to the campus, Mrs. Langdon lost ten pounds the first month worrying how she would feed them adequately.

Recently the prospective inmates of the new boys' dormitory told Mrs. Langdon that she had been nominated to be their cook next year. Out of loyalty to the girls, she didn't commit herself; but there is bound to be plenty of competition over the privilege of having her for cook.

Mrs. Langdon is always sorry to see her many friends in the graduating class each year leave CPS, but she says "I love all the girls, and—maybe I shouldn't say it—but I love all the boys, too." Students of CPS—boys and girls alike—feel the same way about you, Mrs. Langdon.

Frat Council to Meet Friday

Inter-Fraternity council will hold its first meeting this semester tomorrow at 9:50 in Room 206, according to Don Burnett, president.

In order to have a satisfactory discussion of the Inter-Fraternity dance, Don would like the old as well as the new members to attend.

☆ Around the Globe . . .

Industry Now Peaceful

All is peace and light on the industrial front these days. Agreements to extend periods of mediations and to include "no strike" clauses have replaced ultimatums. There is even a possibility John L. Lewis will see a way for his miners and the mine owners to live in harmony.

The reason for this good behavior on the part of industrial workers is apparent. In session at Washington is a Congress prepared to legislate a path to industrial peace and production at the expense of labor and its unions.

This might easily go too far. Labor has taken advantage of management more than once in the past few years, but the passage of labor-discriminating laws at this time cannot compensate for what is past. Unions and collective-bargaining should be accepted as part of the answer to better labor management relations. Should Congress abolish these institutions, anarchy and untold bloodshed would result.

However, there is a need for remedial legislation. All forms of sympathy strikes should be barred. Labor should be given a responsibility equal to that of management. Unions should be made subject to penalties for violations of contract.

It is to be hoped the suddenly sensible behavior of labor will not placate Congress sufficiently to cause them to drop the whole matter. The irresponsibilities characteristic of the working man in 1946 must not be repeated again.

Causin Copes With Chems German; Extra Activities

By VIRGINIA BARKER

Test tubes and textbooks seem to keep Bill Causin well occupied, with chemistry, econ., and German ranking among his academic interests. But Bill hasn't limited his interests to academic lines alone, for a glance at the college career of this blond Tacoma boy shows participation in many extra-curricular activities.

Bill came to CPS in 1940 and spent three busy years on the campus before he was interrupted by the army. During these college years Bill showed an interest in school affairs by being a member of the Ski Club and the American Chemical Society. In his sophomore year, Bill was elected to the Intercollegiate Knights. His junior year was even busier, for Bill served on the war co-ordination board and headed the group during the spring semester. At the same time he served as president of his fraternity, Delta Kappa Phi. But his offices didn't stop there; in March of that year, Bill was elected ASCPS president but served only until June at which time the army stepped in.

As a fitting climax to his previous honors, Bill was recently named to appear in this year's publication of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Now as a senior, Bill is again holding important offices, this time as vice president of his class and president of the campus affiliate of the American Chemical Society. Bill doesn't limit his chemical techniques to the college lab alone, for he is also holding down a part-time job in the lab of Balfour and Guthrie.

When Bill isn't busy in a chem lab, you'll probably find him enjoying some outdoor sport. Golf ranks first among his favorites, followed closely by hunting and skiing.

Letters To The Editor

Richard (the Wretch)

Open dat door Richard! Knock! Knock! Knock!—Open dat door Richard.

The juke box in the SUB seems to scream the knockings on Richard's door every other record. "If I ever find Richard, I'll soon open HIS door," are the words of Mrs. Flossie Hanby, manager of the cafeteria, who is probably as much exposed to "Richard" as any individual as she expresses the opinion of 99 44/100% of the student body. Unfortunately, there always seems to be that small percentage of joy-makers who are lousy with nickels and insist on stuffing the machine with them.

Here's hoping by the time this gets to press, Richard will have opened the door and his record will be nothing but dust in the bottom of the juke box.

Woe be to the individual who dares to revive "Flat Foot Floogey!"

Booby Traps

I am a person with a normal sense of hearing and therefore hear all of the gripes students grumble from day to day.

We have booby traps on the campus. Not long ago a couple were out walking and discussing the atomic make-up of the moon when the girl was seized by the foot and held; the boardwalk had her. The young man, being a pre-med student, could not stand to see her suffer, so he took his knife out and amputated the foot. This is a very distressing incident and do we want more? Who will be next?

Yours truly,
THE HECKLER.

In an effort to clarify questions concerning the distribution of student body funds, The Trail prints herewith the financial statement for the period from September 1, 1946, to December 31, 1946. The first column represents money on hand September 1, and the second column appropriations for the nine departments made by Central Board this fall. Because G. I. money for payment of student body fees has not yet arrived, the budget was set up on a basis of 1100 students to leave a safe operating margin of cash. ASB fees received later on will be apportioned to the various departments or held in reserve for next year.

Soph Dance Success In Spite of Snow

As advertised, the Sophomore Sweater dance was one of the most informal, inexpensive, and enjoyable social functions of the year. Co-chairmen Gretchen Swayze and "Andy" Anderson said, "It was a real pleasure to work on such a project when one receives the kind of cooperation we did. The administration, faculty, Spurs, Knights, and THE TRAIL gave us unlimited support. Everyone seemed eager to promote the Sweater Dance; even Richardson's reduced their sweaters to half price." The prize for intermission entertainment went to Kappa Sigma Theta for the best sorority contribution, while the Zetes won the "Hanby Trophy" for excellent entertainment.

Enrollment Hits New High Here

That the total enrollment of the college has surpassed that of last semester, climbing to 1510 during the past week, was revealed this week by Registrar Richard D. Smith. Although this is above the planned "limit," about ten students who have made arrangements to register but are still attending schools whose semesters have not yet ended, will be enrolled. A breakdown of the classes made by his office show 33 graduate students in attendance, 15 specials, 110 seniors, 189 juniors and 396 sophomores. Freshmen still account for over half, or 761.

Riconosciuto Heads Frat

Election of officers for the spring semester was held by the members of Alpha Chi Nu fraternity this week. Taking over as fraternity head is Marshall Riconosciuto. Other members to gain positions are Art Nelson, vice president; Harold Murphy, recording secretary; Willard Norman, corresponding secretary; Dick Jacobsen, treasurer; and Ralph Johnson, social chairman.

Frat Pledges Paint House

"Hey, brother, where's that can of paint?" "That goes on the wall not the floor, pledge." If you had an opportunity to peek into the Alpha Chi Nu fraternity house last week, no doubt you would have heard these strange remarks and many others, coming from the lips of Chi Nu pledges. The reason: Chi Nu Hell Week! Now this was not the usual week in which members plague the pledges with nonsensical tasks, but a constructive one that saw the pledges cleaning the floors, painting the walls and performing many additional household chores. On Thursday night, the pledges received a "rest" by generous Chi Nu members only to be "rushed" into rough initiation. Pledges initiated were Tom and Richard Gass, Gordon Hill, Robert Mack, John Mathewson, Fred Jacobsen, Ed Cook, Phil Rogers, Dwain Erickson, James Roberts, Joe Manley, Stewart Setner, Jack Shaughnessy, Richard Nicholson, Robert Rule and Dick Petersen.

Baker-Hultgren Troth Revealed

The troth of two popular juniors was revealed at the last meeting of Kappa Sigma Theta, when Kathryn Hultgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hultgren announced her engagement to Jerry Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Baker. "Tinker," member of Kappa Sigma Theta, is vice president of the junior class and president of the International Relations Club. Jerry, first vice president of Delta Kappa Phi, is junior representative to Central Board.

Memorial Library Will Be Erected When Costs Down

The Everill S. Collins Memorial library, probably the next building to be constructed on the campus will be erected when building costs adjust themselves, according to R. Franklin Thompson, president of the college. First funds for the library, sorely needed at CPS, came several years ago in the form of a bequest of $100,000, from the late Everill S. Collins, who for many years was on the board of trustees of the school. The fund now totals $132,000. Some land in the state was also included in the gift. To Cost $200,000

Plans for the new structure, expected to cost about $200,000, were tentatively submitted to the estate several years ago. The same Tudor architecture as the rest of the buildings on the campus will be used for the separate, fire-proof structure which will be located at the north end of the inner quadrangle, north and west of Jones Hall. Other projected construction, still far in the future, however, includes an auditorium and music building on the west of the quadrangle. The area will be bounded on the south by a new chapel.

Residence for President Although designs have been completed, the planned residence for the president of the college, to be located on the corner of the CPS property at North Eighteenth and Union avenue is still "a long way in the future" said Dr. Thompson.

Kappa Phi Degrees

The Degree of the Pine and the Degree of the Light of Kappa Phi will be given Tuesday, February 18, for all those who missed it, announces Anna Marie Vaughn, president. All girls should see Carol Todd about passing the test for the Degree of the Light, she added. A rush tea for all Methodist girls was held last Tuesday evening at Mason Methodist Church. Dottie Kostenbader and De De Johnson were in charge. Those who took the Degree of the Light on January 28 were Laura Alm, Peggy Egbert, Mary Jackson, Betty Ann Jensen, Charlotte Johnson, Betty Kormmesser, Barbara Noble, Ruthella Raver, Patty Schaller, Marjorie Smovir, Jean Tippie and Pat Voshmik.

Play by Faculty, Tradition Here, Due This Semester

By BOB WINSKILL

One of the traditions that has been in effect here at the college for many years has been that of the faculty play. Once in every college term (once in every four years) the faculty, under the direction of Miss Martha Pearly Jones, presents a play, usually a one-act melodrama, for the entertainment of the student body. The last such play was presented in 1942 when the melodramatic farce "Winsome Winnie," a one-act play written in three acts, was given. Starring that production were Mrs. Drushel, Dick Smith, Professor McMillin, Dr. Tomlinson and Dr. Williston.

Usually the play is given as a regular production of the college with visitors invited to an evening presentation. It may be that they will have to give their dramatic talents outlet by performing for two nights so that all in the school may have the opportunity to see them.

While plans have not been released for the play to be given this year, all hope that the faculty and dramatic department have not forgotten this year's senior class, who slaved during their terms here for the privilege of seeing the faculty perform.

O. T. Students Begin Clinical Experience

Members of the occupational therapy class in rehabilitation began actual clinical work this week at the Tacoma Workshop in Tacoma General Hospital under the direction of Alice Clay, the Registered Occupational Therapist there.

Sponsored by the Junior League, the workshop is maintained mostly for the benefit of out-patients including orthopedic and spastic cases. The eight senior O.T.'s who will spend one day a week at the hospital this semester are Jan Blake, Eileen Boyd, Polly Packard, Mary Rough, Wilma Reed, Joyce Nelson, Cathy Tillman and Bea Young. "It's the first link between theory and field work for most seniors. I feel that it is one of the most important courses in the senior year and I think it will be one of the most interesting," says Wilma.

Delta Kaps Elect Burnette

Delta Kappa Phi fraternity members cast their ballot in favor of Don Burnette as the man to succeed George Miller as president of the organization, at a meeting January 29. Other spring term officers chosen were Jerry Baker, first vice president; Bob Seabloom, second vice president; Sydney Seldon, treasurer; Jack Neudorfer, recording secretary; Al Billet, corresponding secretary; Dick Swanson, historian; and Ken Campbell, sergeant-at-arms.

Other committees will also work to present to CPS students a program whereby delegates may gain student impressions on major issues. Students are urged to begin thinking along international lines with special regard to United Nations.

CPS Cagers Host to Lewis-Clark This Weekend

Loggers Tackle Lewis-Clark Five Friday, Saturday

The Lewis and Clark Pioneers, the infants of the Northwest Conference, trek into town this Friday and Saturday to tussle with the high-flying Loggers, who once more are on the victory trail after trouncing the Portland Pilots last Monday night. The series will be played in the campus "Crackerbox" gym, preliminary games starting at 7 p. m.

Loggers Upset Portland Pilots

Staging a brilliant second half scoring spree which netted them 44 points, the Loggers of Puget Sound ran roughshod over the powerful Portland University Pilots 70-48 at Portland Monday night.

The score at halftime showed the Loggers leading by a scant two point margin 26-24, which seemed to be an indication that the Lumberjacks would have a battle on their hands in the final period. After the intermission, however, the Maroon and White went to work on the Pilots, scoring almost at will over their highly regarded opponents to sew up the game early in the second half. Coach Heinrick made numerous substitutions, but the Loggers kept right on making baskets.

Ed Huntington paced the point-making brigade, chalking up 15 points, which was high for both teams. Close behind were Bob Fincham and Al Danielson, each with 12. Bob Angeline, who played a bang-up game during the last period, tossed in 10 counters.

Gym Shorts

Ten girls were chosen to make up the All-Star basketball team, according to Mrs. Betty Johnson, women's physical education director. They are Lois Fassett, Kimi Fujimoto, Beverly Johnson, Barbara Noble and Jean Tippiie, forwards; Ila Jane Haugen, Joyce Hegg, Janice Lindeman, Peggy Rough and Bea Young, guards.

These girls were chosen for teamwork, sportsmanship, ability and improvement. They were picked by Mrs. Johnson, Betty Jean Cappa, Women's Athletic Association president; Carol Hamilton, W. A. A. manager; Lois Fassett and Fran Swenson, basketball managers.

Janice, a senior, has been an All-Star player for four years, and Lois, a junior, has been one for three years. Kimi, Bea and Peggy were chosen last year also.

The Pioneers of Lewis and Clark were formerly the men from Albany College. The college had its fiscal face lifted, moved its home from Albany, Oregon, to Portland, and this year has entered intercollegiate competition again. Their debut in the league was rather disastrous with the dropping of two tilts to last year's champs, UBC, but they then knocked off Willamette and Pacific in that order. The Pioneers now stand fourth in the league with two losses, while the Loggers are wallowing just a step above the basement, with two wins and four defeats, having eight conference games to play.

However, a clean sweep of this series by CPS could keep them very much in the running for the conference championship.

Coach John Heinrick has his top scorer, Bill Stivers, ready to go. The Whiz Kid will be teamed with steady Ed Huntington at the guard spots, Ron Button at center, and Al Danielson and Bob Fincham at forwards, comprising the rest of the front line. Incidentally, Fincham, it seems, has regained his old form, potting ten points in the last half against Portland.

Expecting to see plenty of action during the series are shock troopers Bob Angeline, who played fine ball against Portland U.; Hal Wolfe and Bob Rinker, reserve centers; Bob Lewis, a newcomer; and Don Hoff.

Gridders Are To Be Honored Tonight

A banquet honoring members of the Logger '46 grid squad will be held this evening at 6:30 at the Top of the Ocean. The team will pick an honorary captain for the past season in addition to bestowing the inspirational award on one of the men.

Coach Frank Patrick has invited the various high school coaches and sports writers from the Puget Sound area to be his guests. The awarding of letters will take place at a later date.

Clay Huntington

Clay Huntington, CPS student and former Trail sports editor, will address 630 Pacific Coast Catholic high school journalists at a conference this weekend at St. Leo's in Tacoma. His topic will be "Radio and Newspaper Sports Writing."

Huntington is sportscaster for KTBI. Incidentally, he will broadcast the Lewis and Clark-Puget Sound two-game series this week.

Scores Are High In Cage Battles

High one-sided scores dominated opening battles in intramural basketball night games Monday and Tuesday at the college gym.

Starting off the schedule on Monday, the Omicron "A" squad took a "defensive" battle from the Mu Chi's 16 to 9. Loper, Omicron forward, held high point honors capturing 11 of the 16 counters. In the only other game played that night, the Indies "B" team showed they were a team to be watched, downing the Delta Kaps 38-23.

On Tuesday evening, with Willard Norman and Jack Rinker leading the way, the Chi Nu "A's" gave the Delta Kaps a severe drubbing, chalking up an easy 56-17 win. The Chi Nu "B" five also showed they were a high tallying ball club, racking up a 42-16 victory over an out-classed Omicron team. Tom Gass, lanky Chi Nu forward rang up 10 points for the victors.

The final game of the evening saw the Zeta "B" quintet trounce the Mu Chi's 42-7.

Although a large crowd of male supporters attended the games both nights, lack of support by female fans was very evident. Come on, girls, let's turn out for the games and give the boys moral support.

Sounders Trim Gonzaga 30 to 28 in Close Contest

It was a nip and tuck basketball game at the armory last night when the College of Puget Sound and Gonzaga teams met, but it was the Loggers who nipped the Bulldogs and tucked away a 30-28 victory to even their two-game series with the Zags this season.

Led by Bob Fincham, who scored 15 points to grab high honors for the evening, CPS took an early lead which they relinquished only twice during the contest and warded off a belated Bulldog rally.

Fincham and old reliable, Ed Huntington, accounted for all the Logger tallying during the initial period, which saw the Zags ever on the Sounders tail due mainly to the fancy shooting of John Presley, Gonzaga captain and guard. When the teams left the floor at half time the scoreboard showed CPS 16, Gonzaga 15.

At the onset of the final stanza the Maroon and White took a commanding 26-19 lead on buckets by Huntington and forward Al Danielson. The Bulldogs, however, came roaring back to close the gap just short of victory.

Failure to make their foul shots count almost lost the game for the North Enders. It was not until the dying moments of the game that they counted their one and only charity toss.
