winners will be awarded prizes donated by some of the Trail advertisers, and will appear with the Workshop Band at their regular yearly concert which will be broadcast over station KMO. They will also be called on to sing for many other various college functions.

Rules:

1. Applicants must be a member of A.S.C.P.S.
2. They must submit to the Trail office, three songs. Two of these songs shall be chosen to be sung before the examining board, without the use of music.
3. Contestants will be judged on singing ability, personality and public appearance.
4. No previous singing ability is necessary.
5. Prizes will be awarded to the winner at the broadcast of the Workshop Band.
6. The application below must be submitted to the Trail office by Tuesday, November 18. The song selections must be submitted on the following Thursday.
7. First preliminaries will be held next Friday. A list of those to appear will be printed in the next Trail.
8. Semi-finalists will be judged by representatives from sororities, fraternities and the Independents. Finalists will appear in chapel and will be elected by the student body ballots.
9. Contestants should also have available, pictures of themselves which can be used in the Trail.

Leonard Jacobsen Scheduled Soloist

From the beachhead at Leyte Island, Philippines, to the music faculty at the College of Puget Sound is a short resume of the past five years of the life of Professor Leonard Jacobsen.

The Department of Music will present Leonard Jacobsen, pianist, not soldier, in a recital at Jones Hall auditorium at 4 p. m. this Sunday. This concert is complimentary to the public.

Mr. Jacobsen, head of the piano department at the college, is a graduate of Northwestern University. Among his many teachers, Mr. Jacobsen lists such world notables as Rudolph Ganz and E. Robert Schmitz. His previous recital was at the Kilbourn Hall of Music in Rochester, New York, this past summer.

The Banjo King assumes the 'angle.'

Who is 'Zete Eddie'?

By DEX SILVER

Who is Eddie? That is the question that has been going around the campus for the past few days. It is now cleared up in the form of EDDIE PEABODY, whose appearance last week at the Metropolitan theatre in Seattle caused quite a sensation. Especially to the members and pledges of the Sigma Zeta Epsilon fraternity, was this personal appearance a sensation, in that Eddie Peabody is a former Zete. According to Eddie, one of the greatest thrills of his life came when he was M.C. at the old Fox theatre here in Tacoma, and the members of the fraternity initiated him into their fellowship.

Sunday night Eddie really put on a show for the boys of the fraternity when they turned out en masse to see their old pal perform. And perform he did, making a couple of casual references to his old fraternity brothers occupying the center portion of the first balcony. One of his remarks cost him a few minutes of his time. That was when he said, "I'm very happy to see some of my fraternity brothers up there. See you after the show, boys."

Immediately after the show the boys gathered backstage to congratulate Eddie on his fine performance (which by the way, is well worth the time it takes to go to Seattle), and to take a few pictures to replace the one which now hangs in the Zete house, made some twenty years ago. Eddie was very happy to see the boys and tell about his initiation into the fraternity, which he referred to as "really rough." When asked if he remembered anything about the initiation, Eddie grinned and said, "Remember it, how could I forget it? Would you care for me to assume the angle just for old time's sake?" and with this he assumed the "angle." Sergeant-at-Arms Art Demers, having seen the show, let Eddie rest on his laurels and set aside the paddle so Eddie could rest on his — laurels after he got back to his hotel.

Eddie, who was a commander in the navy during the war, also found time to exchange war stories with some of the veterans who had been in the South Pacific at the same time he was there.

Asked if there was any chance of him coming to Tacoma, Eddie winked and said, "Off the record fella's there is a rumor that after completing some of my scheduled appearances, I might make a date in Tacoma with you." Carrying this a little further he said his first stop in Tacoma would be the College of Puget Sound. Then is when "Lightning" Anderson came up with the suggestion that Eddie might be persuaded to play in a chapel period. Eddie's response to this proposal was far from reluctant, which

'Messiah' Dates Changed

"The Messiah," which is to be presented by the mass choirs from the Methodist churches of Tacoma with the Adelpians at the College of Puget Sound will be given at Jason Lee auditorium December 7 at 4 p. m.

The rehearsals will be held on December 3 and December 5 at Jason Lee auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

was met with enthusiasm from the Zetes. Something to look forward to and hope for is this chance that Eddie Peabody, the nation's Banjo King, and star performer for a number of years on the National Barn Dance, would make a personal appearance at the College of Puget Sound.

(We are wondering whether the Zetes had a CPS tour for Eddie in mind when they got the brooms and rakes out last Friday in an attempt to clean up the campus.)

Eddie, (we call him that because he is the kind of a gent who just doesn't seem to be called by his last name), really makes that banjo sing, and lets loose with everything he's got while going through his routine. Some of the Zetes would swear that Eddie had four hands to make that much music all by himself.

After shaking hands with all the gang and thanking them for taking the trouble to come to Seattle to welcome him, Eddie went up to his dressing room and got a handful of pictures to distribute among the Zetes. Eddie assured them that it was no trouble, and on the way home, several guys made the statement that they were going back for more, this time with dates. (To impress the gal with the success of this famous brother, no less.)

Little Chapel Open for Worship

With the decrease in the number of religious chapels, the students have felt the need of a definite place of worship and a set time in their crowded schedules to do so. To satisfy this request the Student Christian Association has organized an interdenominational morning meditation period.

The Little Chapel is the scene of a daily worship period which begins at 7:30 each morning. The program begins with the singing of several hymns and is followed by silent prayer. During the remaining half hour students are free to leave or enter.

"This type of worship has been successful on other campuses," said Bonny Steele. "If we approve of a Christian college and a Christian world, we should all use this privilege which belongs equally to each of us," she concluded.

The first meeting was held October 20.

CPS Grad Instructor

Richard Vimont, class of '41, is now an instructor of surgery at Brooks General Army Hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Vimont went to St. Louis College where he received his M.D. degree.

'Who's Who in American Universities' To Contain 19 CPS Students' Names

"Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" has been published annually since 1934. The purpose of this project has been to serve as an outstanding honor in which a deserving student, after displaying merit in college, would be given recognition. Also to establish a reference volume of authoritative information on the great body of American college students. This is a free service, at the disposal of all business men in the United States and Canada.

The nominations for Who's Who are usually made by a committee under some college executive, president, dean or registrar. The students are chosen conscientiously and impartially. The basis for the choices made by a faculty and student committee are service, leadership, practical qualities, contributions to extra curricular and scholastic achievement and usefulness to business and societies. Those serving on the committee from CPS are Mrs. Drushell,

Dr. Thompson, Jerry Baker and Dean Register.

400,000 Bus Tokens Sought for Fund

Jars have been placed in the book store and in the school library for the bus tokens being collected by the Tacoma Orthopedic Association. There are about 400,000 bus tokens out now which are valued at $33,000. With the money from this campaign, the association is to establish a fund for an orthopedic hospital here in Tacoma.

Student Accounts Mailed

Complete itemized statements were mailed last week to the students concerning their college accounts. The bursar requests all students to check their accounts closely. If any errors are found, they should be reported to the business office immediately.

Machines Added To Bursar's Office

Previously all CPS accounting had to be done by hand, but it is now done by a four thousand dollar Remington-Rand automatic balance accounting machine. Students and customers are now able to receive a completely balanced account of their bills, instead of just the total sum due or the total sum paid. The machine was given to the college by the Federal Works Agency but it has received a $450 overhaul.

The college post office now has a new meter machine for stamping envelopes. The mail now goes right through the downtown post office without delay for stamping. The machine will speed the mail and record the amount of postage used here at the college.

Zetas Are First To Clean Campus

An investigation disclosed that last Friday the pledges of the Sigma Zeta Epsilon fraternity manned brooms, rakes and dustpans, and proceeded to remove the debris that has been making an eyesore of the College of Puget Sound.

That they might set a precedent, the members and the pledges of this organization have taken an oath that they will put all refuse in the can provided for this purpose.

Also acting on behalf of the campus cleanup campaign was the Delta Kappa Phi fraternity. They supplied the large refuse can now located at the front door of the Sub.

The ball has started rolling. Let's speed it up with aid from the other organized groups of CPS.

Hitchcock President of Methodist Students

Over 600 young Methodist students were in Tacoma the weekend of Oct. 31 to Nov. 1, for the conference youth conclave.

Conference officers for the coming year were elected. Howard Hitchcock, president of the Methodist student movement on the campus, was elected president.

Carl Mackworth of Bellingham was elected vice president for the high school groups, Mary Matsuda the working group; Marjorie Loss of Vashon Island, vice president for of Bremerton and WSC, secretary; Ed Stanton of Wenatchee and CPS, treasurer, and Kay Bradshaw of Seattle and the University of Washington was chosen publicity chairman.

At this conference an offering of $272.25 was collected for C.A.R.E.

An Obituary

By YVONNE BATTIN

A tradition of the College of Puget Sound died on the plains beneath the Blue Mountains March 17, 1947. Dr. Battin's notorious Nash Lafayette choked out her last breath while faithfully carrying the CPS debate squad to another national tournament. We didn't know when we started that it would be her last trip. For ten years she had been loyally doing her best to get the squad to all the coast tournaments and to the national contests, and we thought that she'd come through again as she'd always done.

But as we neared Pendleton the transmission missed, the gear shift wouldn't shift and the clutch lost its grasp upon life. And with her rumbling insides growling and scraping to an end, she passed on quickly but dramatically as five hushed debaters and their professor felt the vibrations of her suffering body down the last mile.

I was the only debater who could remember her all shiny and new one sunny day in 1937 and I knew that because I was a member of the family that owned her. During all her ten years with the Battins and with the college she had been a good car—except to Doc's wife.

She had a few weaknesses, especially apparent in her old age. She liked to sleep in on foggy mornings; she developed a tubercular cough and an asthmatic wheeze which became embarrassingly noisy; and she couldn't control her contempt for Mrs. Battin. This was really her worst fault because it was pure contrariness and nothing more that made her refuse to budge when Mrs. Battin was at the wheel.

However, she was very fond of Doc and would do just about anything for him, sometimes running on for miles when the gas tank registered empty. And she would run for days for him without oil or water and never complain until something was ready to break loose.

She had brains too. Parked on the college campus every day for ten years she picked up a lot of so-called higher education from the liberal arts atmosphere. But she learned more from debate than from anything else and developed a loyalty to the college and to the debate squad which no other car on the campus could equal.

Through her service to the forensics department she became quite cosmopolitan. There's no state between Washington and Tennessee in which she's not had a flat tire. She was stuck in the sandy dust of Kansas, she ran out of gas in the 5 o'clock traffic in Berkeley, California; she lost her fan blades in Oregon one year, and she left a spring near Yelm, Washington, last fall.

But the old Nash didn't experience the growth of herself alone. She was a part of the growth of boys and girls as they became men and women. She felt the warmth between members of a team; she watched ideas take root while passing through the barren prairies of Wyoming; she parked quietly in the big cities and saw ideals crumble; she climbed through the Black Hills and saw them rebuilt; she listened to the discovery of truth on the open highway.

Most of the students at school used to make fun of her wrinkled fender, her loose radiator cap, her toothless grill. And they teased about all the noise she made. But I think they'll miss her, because she was a part of the college — she was a part of them.

Yes, the Nash stopped in Oregon, but she didn't fail CPS or her last group of debaters. The old girl died in action after enriching the lives of youth for ten long years.

Clarence Keating Jr. '39 Elected Seward Mayor

Clarence P. Keating Jr. '39 has been elected mayor of Seward, Alaska. While at CPS, he was a member of Sigma Zeta Epsilon, Debate Club, Inter-Fraternity Council and the Knights. Clarence also was president of the Letterman Club, Quadrant secretary, yell king and was active in dramatics and in journalism.

Polish Girl Widely Travelled

Marie Prokopec

America seems so much like a dreamland to those who live in the decaying old world that false ideas tending to make it appear "out of this world" are often forged. In the middle-east, for instance, says Marie Prokopec, CPS Polish student, who left Beirut, Lebanon, six months ago, "everybody seems to think that America is the country where the majority of the people are millionaires."

"I expected the United States to be diferent," says Marie. "I did not know people were working as much as they do!" As she talks, her deep blue eyes, surrounded by humorous wrinkles, shine mischievously. But as soon as she approaches the "subject of her life," you can see a shadow passing in her laughing eyes. Marie was living in Wilno where her father was working for the government, when the Russians invaded Poland in September, 1939. Her father escaped to Lithuania, but the rest of the family remained in Wilno. Considered as dangerous by the invaders, they were awakened one night in April, 1940, by several Russian soldiers. They were given one hour to pack a few things before leaving for Russia on a freight train, crowded in like cattle. The explanation was that they were shipped east for their own "protection." They were finally sent to Siberia where Marie, her sister, her mother, and her grandmother had to work on a farm. They had never worked before.

"The Russian family with whom we stayed was always very nice to us," says Marie. "But the Red police were constantly beating around. My grandmother, who was aged, was unable to stand the strain. She died a few months later."

Meanwhile, Marie's father was in Lithuania. In 1941, when the Germans turned on Russia, the Red Army invaded Lithuania and Mr. Prokopec was deported to the U.S.S.R. In 1942, when General Sikorsky formed the first Polish Army to fight against the Germans, Marie's father was appointed an officer, and sent to Persia. At that time necessary arrangements were made to have Marie, her mother and sister join Mr. Prokopec in Persia. Before they got there, Marie's father died.

Marie says she was so surprised when she met the first Persian woman, still wearing a veil over her face, hiding one eye. She stayed near Teheran in a Polish camp and never had any opportunity to learn the native language. She had quite a thrill when, as a Polish girl scout, she delivered flowers to the Shah and his wife and talked to them on his birthday. Marie says, "You'd be surprised how modern the town of Teheran is!"

In 1944, some friends of hers were going to Palestine to complete their studies. She decided to go too. She spent two years in a Polish military high school in Nazareth. Marie was privileged to live in a house, next to the place where the Holy Family is said to have lived. She says that now there is a big church erected on the very place.

When her sister married an American officer and went to America in 1945, Marie went back to Teheran. Later she moved with her mother to Ghazir, Syria.

When the war was over, Marie and her mother contemplated returning to their home. But when the leftist government of Poland was recognized as the de facto government, they gave up the idea. "We did not want to go to a country where the government was Communist. We had seen what it was like in Russia," she said.

Marie and her mother started then to unravel the red tape which secures the admission of an alien into the United States. The matter was made easier by the fact of her having a sister over here.

Marie intends to become an American citizen as soon as permitted. She likes it here very much. At the beginning though, it did not all go smoothly. She had the hardest time understanding our way of talking. "I couldn't understand American people when I arrived because I had been used to talking to British people."

After a three-day visit of New York, Marie crossed the United States by car to San Francisco, which she liked very much. And she adds, "Colorado and California are my favorite states, and I think I like northern California more because it reminds me so much of Lebanon."

After a month in California, Marie came to Tacoma with her sister, her brother-in-law being assigned to Fort Lewis. She attended the summer semester at CPS. She found the campus so pleasant and "found here so friendly people" that she decided to stay here instead of transferring to the University of Washington, as she had originally planned.

Pepsi-Cola Offers Fellowships

For college seniors who will graduate in 1947 or 1948, there are 26 fellowships now being offered by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board. Each of these awards will pay full tuition and $750 a year for three years. Any college student who will receive a bachelor's degree during this school year is eligible to apply. Winners will be selected on the basis of their promise of outstanding achievement in later life as evidenced by their undergraduate records and recommendations as to character, personality and qualities of leadership, and the fellowships will be limited to those students who have financial need. The fellowships may be used at any accredited graduate or professional school in the United States or Canada.

Seniors who wish to apply for one of these fellowships may obtain application blanks from the Dean or by writing to the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board, 532 Emerson Street, Palo Alto, California.

Yearbook Photos Now Being Made

Individual pictures of seniors and Greek group members are now being taken at the Kennell-Ellis studios, for the Tamanawas, according to Lois Phillips, editor.

Appointments can be made through representatives in each Greek organization and Independent Seniors are urged to make appointments during Tuesday and Thursday chapel periods. There will be a staff member at the desk in the lobby of Jones Hall to take appointments, which may also be made by contacting Betty Sorenson or John Lane, co-business managers.

Anyone wishing pictures by Christmas must have them taken before the end of this month.

New annual staff members are Forrest McKernan, organizations editor, and Abbie Tudor, Dick Erskine, Michael Stella, Valerie Dever and Alyce Yamaguchi.

Student Body Groups Members of UNESCO

The newly formed United States National Student Association has been granted membership in the National Commission for UNESCO (United National Economic, Scientific, and Cultural Organization). Notification to this effect was received by the national office of the USNSA located in Madison, Wis., from the State Department in Washington, D. C.

The United States National Student Association is an organization based upon the student government bodies of colleges and universities all over the United States. Delegates who attended the Constitutional Convention at Madison came from 356 campuses and were directly representing 1,389,000 American college students. The programs of the USNSA will benefit the individual college student through his student governing body.

One of the primary purposes of forming the group was to provide a means by which all American students, working through their democratically elected student bodies, can help better understanding between all the people of the world.

Yale Beats Notre Dame

Does anybody know if Yale ever played Notre Dame? We would appreciate any letters giving us such information. We would also appreciate anybody reading this column, sometimes we don't and the mistakes go un-corrected.

The editor said in his column that they don't get enough letters anymore, don't write any about this article, they can't print them — the editor doesn't like us.

There probably won't be a swim team this year, they can't find a pool. They can't use Stadium's any more. The principal doesn't like them.

Foreign news—"Pierre La Rue," age 25 years, was injured slightly last Wednesday when Paris police clashed with strikers in the match factory. Heh, heh! (Strikers in a match factory, you dope!) Welcome, freshmen.

Last week when CPS played Santa Clara (papers always make mistakes like that) the winning touchdown was made by Guard Carlson — nice goin'! Is it true you don't have to turn out 'til 4:30 now, Dick?

Our sympathies to the card players, try shuffle board in the basement of Jones and see what happens . . . I wonder how all this will look in print?

Has anybody noticed—

"Hot Lips" O'Connor still smilin' . . . every other patriotic school in the U.S. had no sessions on Armistice day . . . Miss Button declining offers to chaperone . . . Don Adams trying to pour milk in the wrong end of the glass . . . Dick Burroughs said he can lick Dick Parker . . . There, that should fix things up for next week.

Well, that's all for today. We remain your typical college pal, cutting classes, losing books, disliking deans, staying away from pep rallies . . . What bums!

Mothers' Clubs Hold Meetings

Mothers of new pledges were honor guests at the Monday meeting of Sigma Mu Chi. A tea was held in the fraternity house with calling hours from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank Taylor was hostess, assisted by Mrs. N. W. Knapp and Mrs. Walter McCullough. Mrs. Ernest Ball arranged the entertainment.

Mrs. Henry Salley presented a display of stationery and gift wrappings which will be sold to raise funds for the fraternity house.

Apha Beta Upsilon sorority members met at the home of Mrs. H. A. Stebbins last Monday. Mrs. C. G. Trimble told of the interesting experiences she had while living in China.

Dogpatchers Sing and Sprawl at Elk's Hall Dogpatch Dance

Attended by Many Skunk Hollow Fans

Dogpatchers and Skunk Hollow lads turned out in grand fashion for the annual Sadie Hawkins dance at the Elks' Temple last Saturday night.

Margot "Pansy Yokum" Murray received a box of chocolates as her reward for having the best costume for the girls. William Angeline carried home his men's Yardley set for winning the boys' costume prize with his Marryin' Sam outfit. Byron Crull and Sonya Michael won free dinners at the New Yorker Cafe for being the most outstanding couple.

Salome, a live pig, donated by Tom Carstens and Bert McMurtrie of the Tacoma Times, was won as door prize by Jessie Lee Mock.

Old Gold and Blue Brings Back Stadium Alums

All you Stadium alumni better saddle your "hosses" and grab your gals for the big Grad Roundup in the Armory corral, November 29, from 8:30 to 12 p. m. Don't forget to wear your Sunday-go-to-meetin' clothes. (That's heels for the gals and suits fer the fellers, in case you critters can't tell.)

Dex Silvers, vice president of this year alum association, says that it's going to be the best gol-durned dance ever thrown. Ivy Cozart's bringing along his thirteen-piece orchestra and Gloria Kristofferson is planning on singing a few numbers right along with the band. Prizes will be offered for the oldest grad in attendance, the prize waltz and the best jitterbugging. Rope yourself a dollar pardner and come on along.

Working on committees are: Branding the Armory, Sue Pringle, Gloria Greene, Gloria Nelson, Marion Sterne, Joan Hopper, Ginger Gundstrom, Nancy Riehl, Marcella Morton, Jack MacPherson, Ralph Wehmhoff, Don Semmeron, Ron Hendrickson, Wells Anderson, Ed Balarezo, Roald Reitan, Earl Smith, Fred Schweitzer, Garry Hersey and Larry Martin, with Gene Bolstad as foreman.

Gate, Walt Blomberg and Ron Edling.

Vittles, Bernie Crowell. Spreading the news around, Bob Hayward, Bev Butler, Jerry Baker, Bruce Andreason, Roald Reitan, Dex Silver, Faye McCrady, Dorothy Thaller, Betty Barkost, Clara Bowe, Parker Buck, Hunter Simpson and Jack Waechter.

Entertainment, Gloria Kristofferson, Jackie Schore and Marjie Joy Miller.

Alum officers for 1947 were: President, Parker Buck '41, now attending the University of Washington; vice president, Dex Silvers from CPS; and secretary, Margaret Lindeman Crowell, a CPS graduate.

NOW WE'RE LOGGIN'

By BEV and ROSE

Coming out of the cafeteria one afternoon, Jackie Smith, only a few months away from her native France, asked her companion, "But don't Americans ever drink wine with their meals?" No comment. Compliments are in order for the members of Sigma Zeta Epsilon. If you notice a change on the campus, over to the cleaner side, you may thank the Zete pledges who have been spotted with brooms in their hands. But was it a slip of the broom or the hand that gave Tommy Ruffin that "fell in the mud" look?

Sue Pringle is thinking seriously of checking coats at the formal dance tomorrow night. Seems recent coat checkers made a nice amount in tips, and anyway CPS is playing in Oregon Saturday.

What could be better than being psycho-analyzed? Clair Candler and Ann Vlahovich, to mention a couple, thought it would be interesting. Don't you get enough tests in your classes?

Natalie Hyndman '47 passed the traditional box of candy to her Gamma sisters at last week's meeting. Her wedding to Howley Gilbert is set for February 14.

Garage Scene of SMX Sneak

Not wishing to be outdone by the pledges of other fraternities, the Sigma Mu Chi's held a successful sneak in Herb Satterlee's garage last Wednesday. Access to the second floor of the garage was gained through the only means of entrance, a trapdoor in the roof. While waiting with anxious ears for the sounds of any members, the pledges and their dates were entertained with skits.

Dr. and Mrs. Powell were chaperones. Pledges and their dates were: Jack Babbitt and Gloria Greene, Ed Balarezo and Virginia Fisher, Don Barclay and Betty Lou Fycke, Jack Bennett and Mary Lou Johnson, Bill Brouillet and Ann Vlahovich, Buster Brouillet and Marion Earls, Gene Brown and Beverly Olson, Dick Chiarvano and Lita Johnson, Jim Dinsmore and Mary Kincheloe, Barry Garland and Blythe Callahan, Bob Irons and Marg Agule, Bob Kennedy and Peggy Allen, Jack MacPherson and Yvonne Gauthier, Chuck Montague and Lorna Hill, Bob Peterson and Donna Hatcher, Harold Prescott and Rosemary Stevenson.

Also Norm Sorenson and Peggy Eggbert, Herb and Betty Satterlee, Gordon Scraggin and Janice Peterson, Al Slaughter and Margie Smover, Ray Spalding and Kathy McElwain, Len Spanich and Judy Larson, Ron Tuttle and Joanne Black, Ralph Wehmhoff and Gloria Normo, Dick Sallee and Merle Walker, Ed Drake and Ruthie Reid, Joel Belsvik and Jackie Holmberg, Don Berg and Ann Ev Stefens, Walt McCullough and Beverly Hayward, Bill Allen and Donna Arnold, John Lane and Jean Bunomoa, Jim Belligur and Virginia Carr, Bob Bowmen, Milt Gust, Bob Johnson, Ted Lyon, Gordon Marvik, Jay McCall, Vern Powells, Roald Reitan, Bill Jones and their dates.

Gretchen Swayze, Theta, is chairman for the inter-sorority "Bubble Ball," sponsored by Kappa Sigma Theta, Alpha Beta Upsilon, Lambda Sigma Chi and Delta Alpha Gamma.

Bubble Ball To Bounce Sat. Nov. 15

Blue and silver will be the theme colors for the annual Inter-Sorority formal "Bubble Ball" to be held tomorrow night at Fellowship Hall. "Bumps" Blackwell's orchestra will be featured. The dance is an all-school affair sponsored by the four active sororities.

Gretchen Swayze, dance chairman, announced that bubbles in the form of gay balloons will be featured in decoration plans.

Members of the decoration committee are Donna Arnold, Rose Carbone, Natalie Hatcher, Noreen Knutzen, Ramona Merry, Annette Ogden, Phyllis Snider, Joanne Vandenberg, Ann Vlahovich, Peggy Trimble and Eunice Williams.

Other committee members are Joy Adams, Barbara Albertson, Katherine Alm, Lorraine Anderson, Jo Ann Black, Joan Oakes and Rayme Stebbins for refreshments. Program chairmen are Helen Mahoney and Gloria Nelson.

On the publicity committee are Mercedes Cox, Gloria Greene, Patty Lemley, Joan Hopper, Alice Palmer and JoAnn Smith. In charge of patrons and patronesses are Barbara Anderson and Beverly Farrell.

Successful Sneak Staged by Gammas

Delta Alpha Gamma pledges chose Wednesday, November 5, to sneak, with all pledges present but one. While Gamma members and D.K.'s rushed from searching Titlow beach to Brown & Haley Candy Co. to elsewhere, the pledges were dancing, playing cards and pool, and enjoying some impromptu entertainment provided by some of the more talented pledges present.

The sneak was held in the basement rumpus room of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy on Stadium Way.

After all available food had been devoured, hamburgers, french fries and milkshakes were sent for.

At 10:30 the pledges called the D.K. house, asked for a Gamma member, and invited the members to the party by an original if not witty poem. As they arrived, they were greeted by a newly-composed song.

New Theta-Zete steady twosome are Martha Wright and Wayne Mann.

Marty Sangster reported Monday that "Ready for Eddie" was the theme when Eddie Peabody, the banjo king, an honorary Zete alum since the days when he was M.C. at the old Fox theatre, now the Music Box, was given a royal welcome Sunday night at the Seattle-Tacoma airport and later at the Metropolitan theater when the Zetes turned out enmasse to meet and welcome their brother. Clayton Anderson was N.C.O.I.C. according to Marty.

It seems funny in the comics but when it really happens—While swimming last Thursday, Barbara Hodges took a running dive off the board at the Y and hit her head so hard on the water that she knocked herself out. Maybe that was one of "life's hard knocks" that people are always talking about!

Second Quarter Interception Leads to CPS Score

Four records as well as the Western Washington football team took a pasting from the Loggers Saturday. Final score of the game was: CPS 6, Western Washington 0. Final tally on the statistical end proved the Guard Dick Carlson's pass interception won the Logger-Viking game.

Woodsmen had scored their first touchdown at home this season, their first non-conference win of the current schedule, and their first win over Western Washington since 1940.

On the short end of the first downs and rushing yardage the hosts had to rely on Guard Dick Carlson for their six points. Carlson galloped fifty-five yards for the TD with an intercepted Western aerial, in the second quarter. During the balance of the struggle both teams played on fairly equal basis. Deepest penetration for the visiting eleven was a belated drive to the two-yard line, while CPS visited the Western seventeen in the dying minutes of the contest.

Earlier this season the Vikings, a member of the Washington Intercollegiate Conference lost a 6 to 0 decision to the PLC Gladiators in a mud-spattered fray.

College to Field Tour Hoop Squads

CPS will have four basketball squads this year, stated Coach Heinrich this week. They will be organized in this order: A varsity which will be the top team, playing our major opponents. Second, the super varsity which will play in the Tacoma city league. The members of this team need a little more experience before moving up to the varsity. The third team will be the junior varsity. They will play other college junior varsities. The freshman squad will play a tough schedule in order to give them experience for their future years at CPS.

CPS varsity basketball schedule for 1947-1948:

Sat. Dec. 13: University of Washington, there.

Tue. Dec. 16: Portland University, here.

Wed. Dec. 17: Pacific Lutheran College, armory.

Fri. Dec. 19: Pacific University, here.

November 7, 8 and 9 were the dates for the hockey conference held in Portland, Oregon. Besides schools in this area, the conference boasted three teams from Canada.

In inter-school competition the girls from CPS tied Oregon State 1-1, lost to the University of Washington 2-1, and defeated Centralia Junior College 4-0. Honors go to the W.A.A. girls, Beverly Johnson, Barbara Prechek, Marie Switzer, Eunice Williams, Mary Kirlich, Harriet Warner and Miss Bond.

Any girls who are interested in an inter-school ski conference please see Miss Bond, or place your name on the bulletin board in the gym.

Footballers Will Visit Pacific U. Tomorrow

For the last excursion of the season, the Logger gridsters take off for Forest Grove, Oregon, tomorrow morning to do battle with Pacific University. Game time, 8 p. m. Saturday night.

A win for Puget Sound will put the Patrick boys in undisputed second place in the league.

For the first time this season the Loggers will go into a fracas at full strength. LaVerne Martineau, last year's all conference center, is slated to take over his old center position. Verne has been out since the Idaho game with a broken pedal extremely. Jim Sulenes, high-flying right half-back, is all over his bad ankle which kept him out of the Western Washington go-round last Saturday. Al Greco, another right half, has been wrestling with influenza the past week, but is in good shape for Pacific.

Bob Ryan, the Gig Harbor rambler, the Logger starting quarterback, is suffering from a slightly dislocated shoulder as a result of the Bellingham game, but Doc Herrmann assures the Ryan followers the boy will be ready to go this week end.

Coach Patrick will take a 33-man squad to Oregon. His probable starters will be: Dick Robinson and Norm Pollom at the ends, with Don Greenwood seeing plenty of action, especially down-under kicks; "Butch" Hermesen and Bill Kowalski at the tackles, with "Tubby" Rowe the number one alternate; Jim Rice and "Hero" Dick Carlson will be the guards; Vern Martineau or Ed Notley at the pivot post; Joe Hedges is liable to get the call over Bob Ryan at quarter due to Ryan's injured shoulder; Ray Spalding, the port side half, is the probable tailback; Jim Sulenes at right half; "Bulldozer" Wood, old reliable, at the fullback post.

Despite all the moaning and groaning over the fortunes of the Logger grid team this year, CPS can still come up with a better season than last year. With two victories in the home stretch, the Loggers can finish in second place in the conference, which is a good deal higher than they've finished for many years.

Skiers To Begin Practice

The ski team will start turnouts Monday evening on the field, announced Bill Lief, one of the coaches in charge of the conditioning program. An incomplete list of skiers who have signed up for the ski team are: Curtiss M. Lewis, Jim Oakes, Mel Bakey, C. H. Howe, H. Nickolls, John Lane, Norm Jenson, Vic Krovak, Bob Church, Harry Caren, W. Seaman, Anton Harabe, Bob Joynar, Bill Coburn, Doug Johnson, John Taylor, Stan Olson, Bob Ramsy and Wendell Howe.

The ski team coaches are D. D. Rosellini, an ex-ski trooper, and a class B skier in the P.N.S. D. D. will instruct downhill salaam. Bill Lief, who has just returned from the ski school in Norway, will instruct cross-country and assist in the other events. The manager is Bob Church and advisers are Dr. Tomlinson and Dr. Sprenger.

The ski team will engage in intercollegiate meets. At present a schedule is being worked out which is to include events with P.L.C., Idaho, Seattle College, Western Washington, Willamette, Whitman and Oregon. Letters will be awarded on the turnouts, the cooperation with the coaches and the events entered. The ski team will have transportation to the skiing areas every weekend, and expenses will be paid by the school for the team's expenses incurred for actual races. There is still opportunities to sign up to be on the team, jumpers and cross-country men are especially needed. If you have not signed up see either Bob Church or Dr. Tomlinson.
