Boxers Training for Smoker

A boxing show sponsored by the Lettermen's Club will be presented Friday night at 7:30 p. m. in the college gym. In making the announcement this week, "Promotor" Harry Mansfield gave a list of bouts that pack dynamite. Included among the pugilists is Dick Hiltburhn, ex-WSC middleweight champ. Dick faces Joe Butcher. Other bouts set are: Joe Hedges and Jack Lowney, 160; Don Reisinger and Jack Courtney, 155; Joe Manley and Dick Elmore, 150; Russ Keyes and Norm Pollom, heavyweights; Frank Luhtala and Milt Gust, 140; Johnny Drake and Milt De Graw, 175, and Gordie Gaspard and Jack Babbitt, 160 pounders.

Admiring "Killer" Joe Manley as he prepares for workout are "Pee Wee" Ogden, "Chris" Kristofferson and Lorraine Rockaway. He assured the girls that he would "moilder da bum," in referring to his fight with Dick Elmore scheduled for next Friday.

During the past two weeks, the boxers have been working out at Ray Kelly's gymnasium. Mr. Kelly has not only donated the gym, but also a trainer, "Chee Chee" Britt, one-time welterweight of wide renown. There will be no main event but positions on the card will be made by drawings. Pat Flanagan has been named as referee for the matches.

Debators Form Mock Congress

A squad of 29 debaters left for the Western Association of Teachers of Speech tournament at Whitman college last Wednesday after practice tournaments.

A congress of students is to be formed and will have practice sessions during the tournament. Nominee for president of the congress is Norman Schut. Representative to the Security Council is Walter Lowenstein. Economic Council will be William Davison, Kenneth Campbell, Bruce Rector, Otho Halligan and Norman Schut. Social Council will be Philip Anselone, Alex Mortillaro, Bill Allen, Kevin Rolfe and Irvin Miller. Trusteeship Council will be David Frame, Dick Druess, Rodney Stark, Forrest McKernan and Jackie Hodgson. The Education and Cultural Council will be Yvonne Battin, Marjorie Smovir, Ed Barnes, and Bill Lee. Military Committee will be James Beyer, Robert Hanson, Bill Kidd and Dudley Panchot. The final section of the congress, the International Court of Justice, will be Sam Heritage, Art Stolz, Barry Garland, William Wallace and Harold Padgett.

Five Women, Four Men Will Compete

Semi-finals of the Prince and Princess of Song contest will be held Tuesday, Dec. 9, in C-36 at one o'clock. Thirteen judges will select the four contestants to enter the finals which will be held the first week after the Christmas vacation. Two each of the five women and four men participating will enter the finals and be voted on by the entire student body. Each fraternity and sorority will furnish one judge for the semi-finals. The Independents will have two representatives at the contest.

Junior Prom Corsages Symbolic

Mums will be the order of the day at the Junior Prom. They will be worn by the girls as corsages and the Knights say that they have no objection to them being purchased from the organization to be used as buttonaires by the men. The Knights, a CPS service organization, will sponsor the sale of these flowers and they will be representative of the school, having a letter P in the center of them.

Instead of paying four or five dollars for an orchid, the Knights recommend that you pay only a dollar for the symbolic flowers which can be ordered at a stand in Jones Hall. For you vets that might be financially embarrassed, the flowers can be charged. Delivery service will cost an extra fifteen cents.

Signed Applications Due

Students planning to graduate in January, June or August must obtain applications and have them signed by their major advisers and the dean. Forms were sent to most of the seniors but some have not yet been returned. All applications must be turned in this week, according to Jean Button, assistant to the registrar.

Patrick Quits

Coach Patrick submitted his resignation as head coach to President Thompson Tuesday afternoon. This resignation was formally accepted Wednesday at noon by the college. Coach Patrick has just completed his second year of football, and would have been head coach for two years next February. He will leave immediately for Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, and after spending the Christmas holidays with his parents he plans to attend a coach's meeting in New York.

Methodist Group Meets Sun. at Epworth Church

All students of Methodist preference will meet at Epworth Methodist Church, So. 8th and Anderson, Sunday at 7:30 p. m. for the second in the series of the Methodist Student Movement meetings, announces Howard Hitchcock, president. He will be assisted by a program committee composed of Gretchen Swayze, Jack Heal and Kathleen Weidkamp. Members from the Mason Church Preside will serve refreshments. Music will be supplied by members of the First Methodist Church fire-side. The previous meeting was attended by approximately 125 students.

Schut Is Officer At IRC Conference

Norman Schut, CPS student, was elected vice president of the Northwest Regional Conference of International Relations Club to be held at the University of Idaho next year.

Schut was one of 15 CPS students to attend this year's conference at the University of British Columbia. Schut, W. Barker, J. Beyer, E. Roundtree, W. Lee, J. Smith and Dr. Warren Tomlinson, faculty adviser, took part in the round table discussions on Europe. Jim, Johnson, Rafid Askari, Li-Shen Liu, M. Prokopek and Aki Kato joined the conferences on Asia. Lyle Lane, Walter Stuffacher, J. Clinton and V. Dever discussed the U.N.

The keynote address to the 150 delegates was made by Dr. Peter H. Odegard, president of Reed College. He stressed the need for an informed public opinion, and called for an American foreign policy "based on the principle that we do not seek to dominate the world, but are prepared to share knowledge, power and welfare with other people."

Choral Readers Plan Presentations

The annual recital of the Choral Readers from the College of Puget Sound will be given in early spring. However, the girls have been busy preparing many numbers to be given in connection with the Christmas play at the college—and in and around Tacoma.

A few of the performances will be the Christmas party at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church on Dec. 3, the Christmas party at Epworth Methodist Church on Dec. 10 and the AAUW performance at Weyerhaeuser Hall on Dec. 20.

The Choral Readers are directed by Professor Martha Pearl Jones, head of the speech and dramatics department.

Intercollegiate Knights To Convene in Seattle

A regional convention of the Intercollegiate Knights will begin tomorrow with the Wigwam chapter of Seattle College as this year's host. Colleges from the northwest will be represented, with Charles Gruenwald, Jack Young and Duke Art Nelson the delegates from Log Chapter of the College of Puget Sound.

February 10 at 4 p. m., announces Pat Mason, vice-president. All members must be in by that regulation, which was enforced by student sentiment." Due to the change in social practice regard-

Memorial Plans To Be Made Stadium, Fountain or What?

Just prior to the last vacation a subject under much discussion was the proposed memorial to be built by the students and alumni of CPS. Proposed projects under consideration were a memorial pool and a new football stadium. "Which of the two should be built?" was the question on everyone's tongue.

The memorial pool was favored by many because it would only cost $5000 and could be completed this year. But would it be a just representation of the idea that is behind the whole move? It would be, according to plans, a fountain mounted atop a graduated pool. This is supposed to be in memory of the men who lost their lives in the last war. Would a pool represent a soldier or sailor giving his life for his country? Would a statue be mounted atop, representing such a soldier with water squirting out the barrel of his rifle? How else could such a fountain represent the idea behind it?

The other idea, that of a memorial stadium, would cost around $20,000. It was favored by many, especially those active in sports. Such a project is indeed a fine idea, but how long would it take to be completed? Surely the students that will donate to such a memorial would rather have something they can appreciate, completed this year.

In other words, the discussion has swung from one extreme to the other. From an inexpensive, non-representative memorial to an extremely high costing and long-time project.

What would be the matter with the construction of a swimming pool? The cost would lie reasonably between the two above suggestions, be of immeasurable value to all students in years to come, and could be completed in time so that those contributing would get a little benefit from the project.

What is your opinion on the subject? Let's start talking it up. Let the people at CPS know what you want so that a fair decision can be made.

Publicity Office Now Operating

Keeping the public and alumni informed on the activities of the college, the alumni office has begun its first year as a full scale publicity office. Located in room 6 of Jones Hall, the office is open every day from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Bonnie Lee Heintz manages the office and gathers news for the Puget Sound Alumnus, which is published by the alumni office staff. Mal Stevens covers all athletic publicity and acts as graduate athletic manager. Handling all school publicity and public relation angles for President Thompson is Bill McNamara's job.

News concerning the activities of out-of-town students is sent from the office to the various home-town papers.

A recent addition to the office is a picture and cut morgue, which is to contain all pictures and cuts belonging to CPS. The Trail and other publications may borrow from the morgue.

To inform students planning to enter CPS in the spring, a brochure containing information about the college is being planned by Mr. McNamara.

President Thompson asks that all campus news, except dances and society, go through the alumni office so that full details will be known and available for the city papers.

'Messiah' Combines Many Local Choirs

Combined choirs of approximately 150 voices will present "The Messiah" by George Frederick Handel at Jason Lee auditorium Sunday at 5:00 p. m.

Soloists will include Margaret Davis, soprano; Margaret Myles, contralto, and Ivan Rasmussen, baritone, from the faculty of the college. Ralph Schreiner, tenor, will also sing two selections.

The choirs participating will be: the First Baptist Church, directed by Raymond Vaught; Immanuel Presbyterian Church, directed by Mrs. Ross Wright; Epworth Methodist Church, directed by Mrs. John Martin; Mason Methodist Church, directed by Mrs. Donald Dilts; First Methodist Church, directed by D. Robert Smith, and the Adelphian Concert Choir from the College of Puget Sound, directed by Professor Clyde Keutzer.

The entire presentation will be under the direction of Professor Clyde Keutzer. An orchestra of 29 pieces has been formed for accompaniment.

Todd Thought City Would Never Expand Past CPS

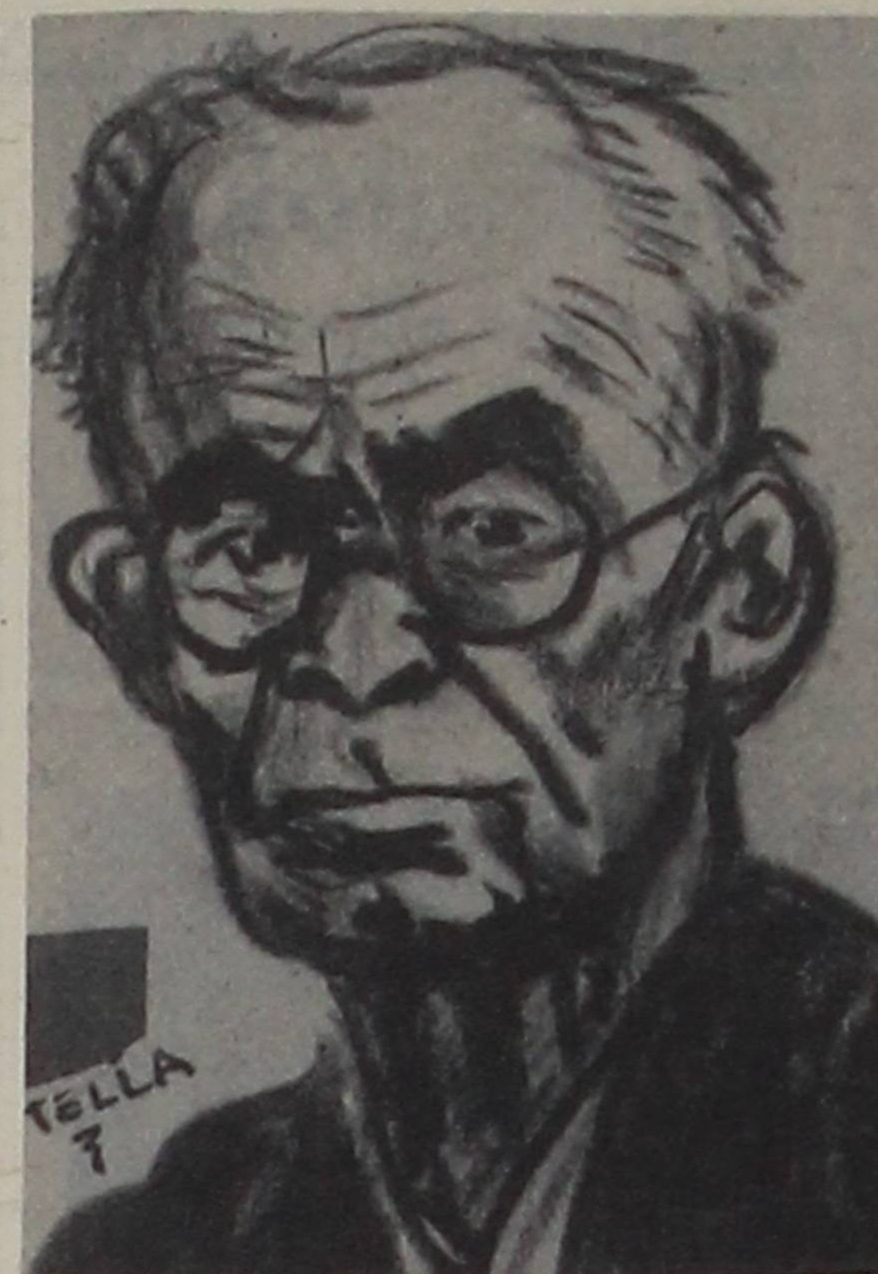

"I never dreamed of becoming a college president," said Dr. Edward H. Todd, CPS president emeritus. With this, the pleasant, white haired gentleman leaned back in his chair and began his life history and that of the College of Puget Sound.

After high school, Dr. Todd attended Simpson College, Iowa. He paid most of his expenses by working as a clerk in grocery store for $10.00 a month. Following graduation in 1883, he became pastor of the Valico Circuit. In 1887, Dr. Todd married and the next year he and his wife went to Boston, where he attended Boston University School of Theology. He graduated in 1893 with a bachelor's degree of Sacred Theology.

Dr. Todd in 1913 was elected president of the University of Puget Sound. "I began to study education, as I had no formal educational work before. I attended meetings, read books, manuals, etc. Mrs. Todd was always backing me in my work. She is as loyal as anyone can be," said Dr. Todd.

In 1914, the institution became known as the College of Puget Sound. Many more good faculty members were obtained. "We did only what we were able to finance. Do good work and pay for it has been my policy all through my career here at CPS," he said.

The campus is one of the most successful of Dr. Todd's many achievements. After visiting forty campuses, and studying the organization and relation of building to building, the campus as we see it now is a result of careful and long planning. The present location was decided on the basis that the City of Tacoma would never reach out far enough to surround the school. In 1942 Dr. Todd resigned and Dr. Franklin Thompson became the new president.

"I'm happy in the success Dr. Thompson is having. It is with gratification and satisfaction that I look back over the school and see where I took told of it and where I left it," said Dr. Todd.

"Mrs. Todd and I are looking with intense interest at the school since our retirement. We hope some time to have the manuscript of the history of CPS finished. What success I have is due to the labor and love of many," concluded Dr. Todd.

This week the column will be noisier than ever; we were notified to write it ten minutes ago. Congratulations to the football team and the crowd for showing the proper spirit at the final game. We were so excited we smoked three cigars off our gloves after the game went out.

Notice the ghostly appearance of the Sub these afternoons. The Sub for you students you know: no playing, no smoking, no loud talking, no scuffing of feet, no stunts. If you will look through the paper this week you will notice the absence of the "Now We're Loggin'" column. Anyone object? Letters may be dropped into the Trail section or the letter box in Jones. Demonstrate or something.

Question of the week—Should college students be allowed? Dave Evans—There's a law agin' it. Briggs—Communist influence. Thank you people for the kind cooperation. Welcome freshmen. ABOUT BLOOD — There is a stir up now showing what Greek spirit has given the most. We will have competition. There should be plenty of blood flowing. Christmas is coming again — I doubt if there will be another column so Merry Christmas! I wonder if Santa Claus will wear red this year?

Seen at a going away party last week for Mrs. Emily Potts were Messrs. and Mesdames Sam Spade and Mumbles. A charming couple were Mr. Benny Myers and Mrs. Wash who wore a bright blue bustle with inverted pleats.

Well, we've made as little sense as possible, as you should be able to tell from the last paragraph, so we close with a penny for the thought section of your speech notebook. "People in glass houses should not take baths."

Omicrons To Hold Sports Dance

"Winter Wonderland" will be the theme of the Delta Pi Omicron dance, to be held at Titlow Hall, Dec. 5. The sport dance is under the direction of Gene Tone, chairman, and a committee of Denis Le Moine and Dick Milton.

The hall will be decorated in the fraternity colors of blue and white, according to Charles Mustoe, decoration committee chairman. The Omicron Quartet will entertain at intermission.

Sea Grill Scene Of Spur Breakfast

A breakfast for last year's Spur group, given by the present members, has been planned for Dec. 14. The breakfast will be held at Crawfords and following, the girls will attend Mason Methodist Church.

Marcella Morton is in charge of the arrangements. Barbara Noble and Peggy Allen are planning the program during which the old Spurs will receive their miniature emblems.

November 16th a shower was given for Emma Nelson, Spur vice president, at the home of Yvonne Battin.

Gifts were presented and refreshments served. The rooms were decorated with chrysanthemums and the table was centered with two large wedding rings.

Luba Ostofichuck, Gwen Roberts and Betty Troxel were in charge of the party.

Starlight Fantasy Theme for Sorority Dance at Lakeside

Tomorrow evening the pledges of Alpha Beta Upsilon sorority will hold their annual pledge formal at the Lakeside Club. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 o'clock.

"Starlight Fantasy" will be the theme of the affair. Balloons, stars and angels will be featured in the decorations. Ivy Cozart and his orchestra will provide the music for the evening.

Pat Lemley and Mercedes Cox are co-chairmen for the affair. Decorations and tickets will be handled by Jo Vandenberg, Joan Oakes, Phyllis Snyder and Annette Ogden. Donna Arnold, LaVonne Schuler, Barbara Anderson, Eunice Williams and Jackie Thurber will take care of refreshments. Heading the decoration committee are Jo Anne Smith and Clara Bowe. Kappa Phi Girls Enjoy House Party

The week end before vacation, Kappa Phi members and pledges, along with their sponsor, Mrs. Willis Carruth, shivered through a cold but entertaining night and day at Epworth Heights, located on Puget Sound half way to Seattle. The group of twenty-five traveled in a u-drive truck and stayed overnight at the Mason lodge. Saturday evening the pledges entertained the members, with Barbara Prechek in charge.

The fireplace was popular for roasting the dozens of marshmallows and weiners that were consumed.

Hoopsters To Open Season Dec. 13

Loggers Win Grid Final, Place 3 on All-Conference

"Not too little, only too late." That was CPS's football plight in 1947. In their final two tilts the Logger gridders found what they had searched for all season—Mr. Outside—Dale Larson, Lincoln graduate.

In the Pacific University game Larson waded sixty-five yards to Puget Sound's only score. Against Linfield the middleweight speedster romped to touchdowns twice on plays from scrimmage going 38 and 72 yards and then carrying a 30-yard pass another 43 yards to a third tally.

Combined with Mr. Inside—Warren Wood, from Sumner—Larson gave the Loggers the speed and deception which they have lacked in their so-so season. With these two back next year an offensive threat may be in the making on the Puget Sound grid scene.

Against Linfield 204 yards were compiled on the ground and 77 racked up by passing. Linfield bulled their way 43 yards on the ground and 64 yards in the air.

In their nine starts this season the Loggers dented the victory column four times and piled up 73 points. On the other end of the field the opponents came out on top five times and totaled 103 points.

League final standings gave the Woodsmen fourth spot with three wins and two losses in league games and a total of 60 points for and 29 against.

When the choosing of the Northwest all-conference elevens was made, CPS got the go-by on the first team, but landed Tackle Dick Hermesen and Guard Jim Rice on the second string while Don Greenwood obtained honorable mention at end.

Super Varsity Drops Opener

Coach Bob Levinson's Super Varsity, playing their first city league game Monday night, lost to the McChord Field quintet 45 to 38. The C.P.S. Frosh scored six quick points in the opening minutes of play before the Flyers put on the brakes.

At the half the score stood at 32 to 13 in favor of McChord Field. Rallying in the second half, Coach Levinson's team outplayed and outscored the Flyers but could not quite overcome the 19 point lead.

Dean Meyer, three year letterman at Camas High school, led the scoring with 9 points. Ron Tuttle, former Stadium sharpshooter, followed closely with 7 counters. Other scoring was as follows: Gastfield 5, Dye 6, Montague 5, Jernstrom 4, Taylor 2, Colburn 1, Hersey, Danielson, Martin, Anderson, Seymour.

The Frosh were scheduled to play the Stoplite Tavern quintet last night and will be playing two and three games a week for the balance of the season, Levinson has announced.

With the first game scheduled for December 13 against the University of Washington at Seattle, Coach John Heinrick's hoop hopes continued to take a beating. Latest casualties were Buster Brouillet transfer from W.S.C. and Rod Gibbs from the U. of W. who were ruled ineligible for competition for a year by a decision of the Northwest Conference coaches. The newly compiled rule reads that all students other than veterans transferring into this league will be ineligible for one year in competition in any inter-school sport.

Four other members of the squad have been out during the past few days with wrenched and sprained ankles. Bob Angeline and Leonard Swayer are both back at practice but Dick Salatino is still nursing a bad sprain. Hal Wolffe sustained a twisted ankle over the weekend and may miss the first game or two.

Instead of the originally scheduled four basketball teams, the candidates for basketball have been channeled into two teams, the varsity under Coach Heinrick and the super varsity or freshman squad under Bob Levinson. The frosh have a schedule with teams in the city league, several independent teams and frosh squads from nearby colleges.

After a final tally of the cuts and ineligibilities the varsity squad will be as follows: Forwards: Don Hoff, Bob Fincham, Bill Richey, Bob Suter, Chick Burrows, Bud Blevins and Lloyd Blanus; centers: Al Danielson, Don Danielson, Bob Rinker and Hal Wolfe; guards: Bill Stivers, Len Swayer, Bob Angeline, Ed Huntington, Don Hesselwood, Dick Salatino and Clinton Aiton.

Boys Continue Volleyball Schedule

With basketball planned for the first part of February the intramural counsel has been studying the point system in connection with a revision of the point scoring for an all-year trophy for the winning team. No definite decision has been made as yet, however.

In the volley ball field three games will be played to decide the final winner with the winner of two games being declared victorious. The games are being played on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursday at 6, 7 and 8 o'clock.
