

Inter-Fraternity Council Presents Check to College

A check for $100 was recently presented to the College of Puget Sound by the CPS Interfraternity Council. This check, which was presented to Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, president, is intended for use in the college's Emergency Medical Relief Fund, a fund designed to help those students who are unable to afford emergency medical care.

On February 28, IFC President Tom Beardemphl, First Vice President Ray Berry, and Secretary-Treasurer Fred Langton, attended the state-wide IFC convention in Pullman. As guests of the WSC Council, the delegates spent two days in discussion with representatives from the University of Washington, WSC, and Whitman.

Tom Beardemphl, member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and recently elected president of Interfraternity council, handed the check to Dr. R. Franklin Thompson, president of the college, for the amount of $100.

Jack Rummel, second vice president and member of Sigma Chi fraternity, and Fred Langton, secretary-treasurer and member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, appeared with Beardemphl to make the presentation.

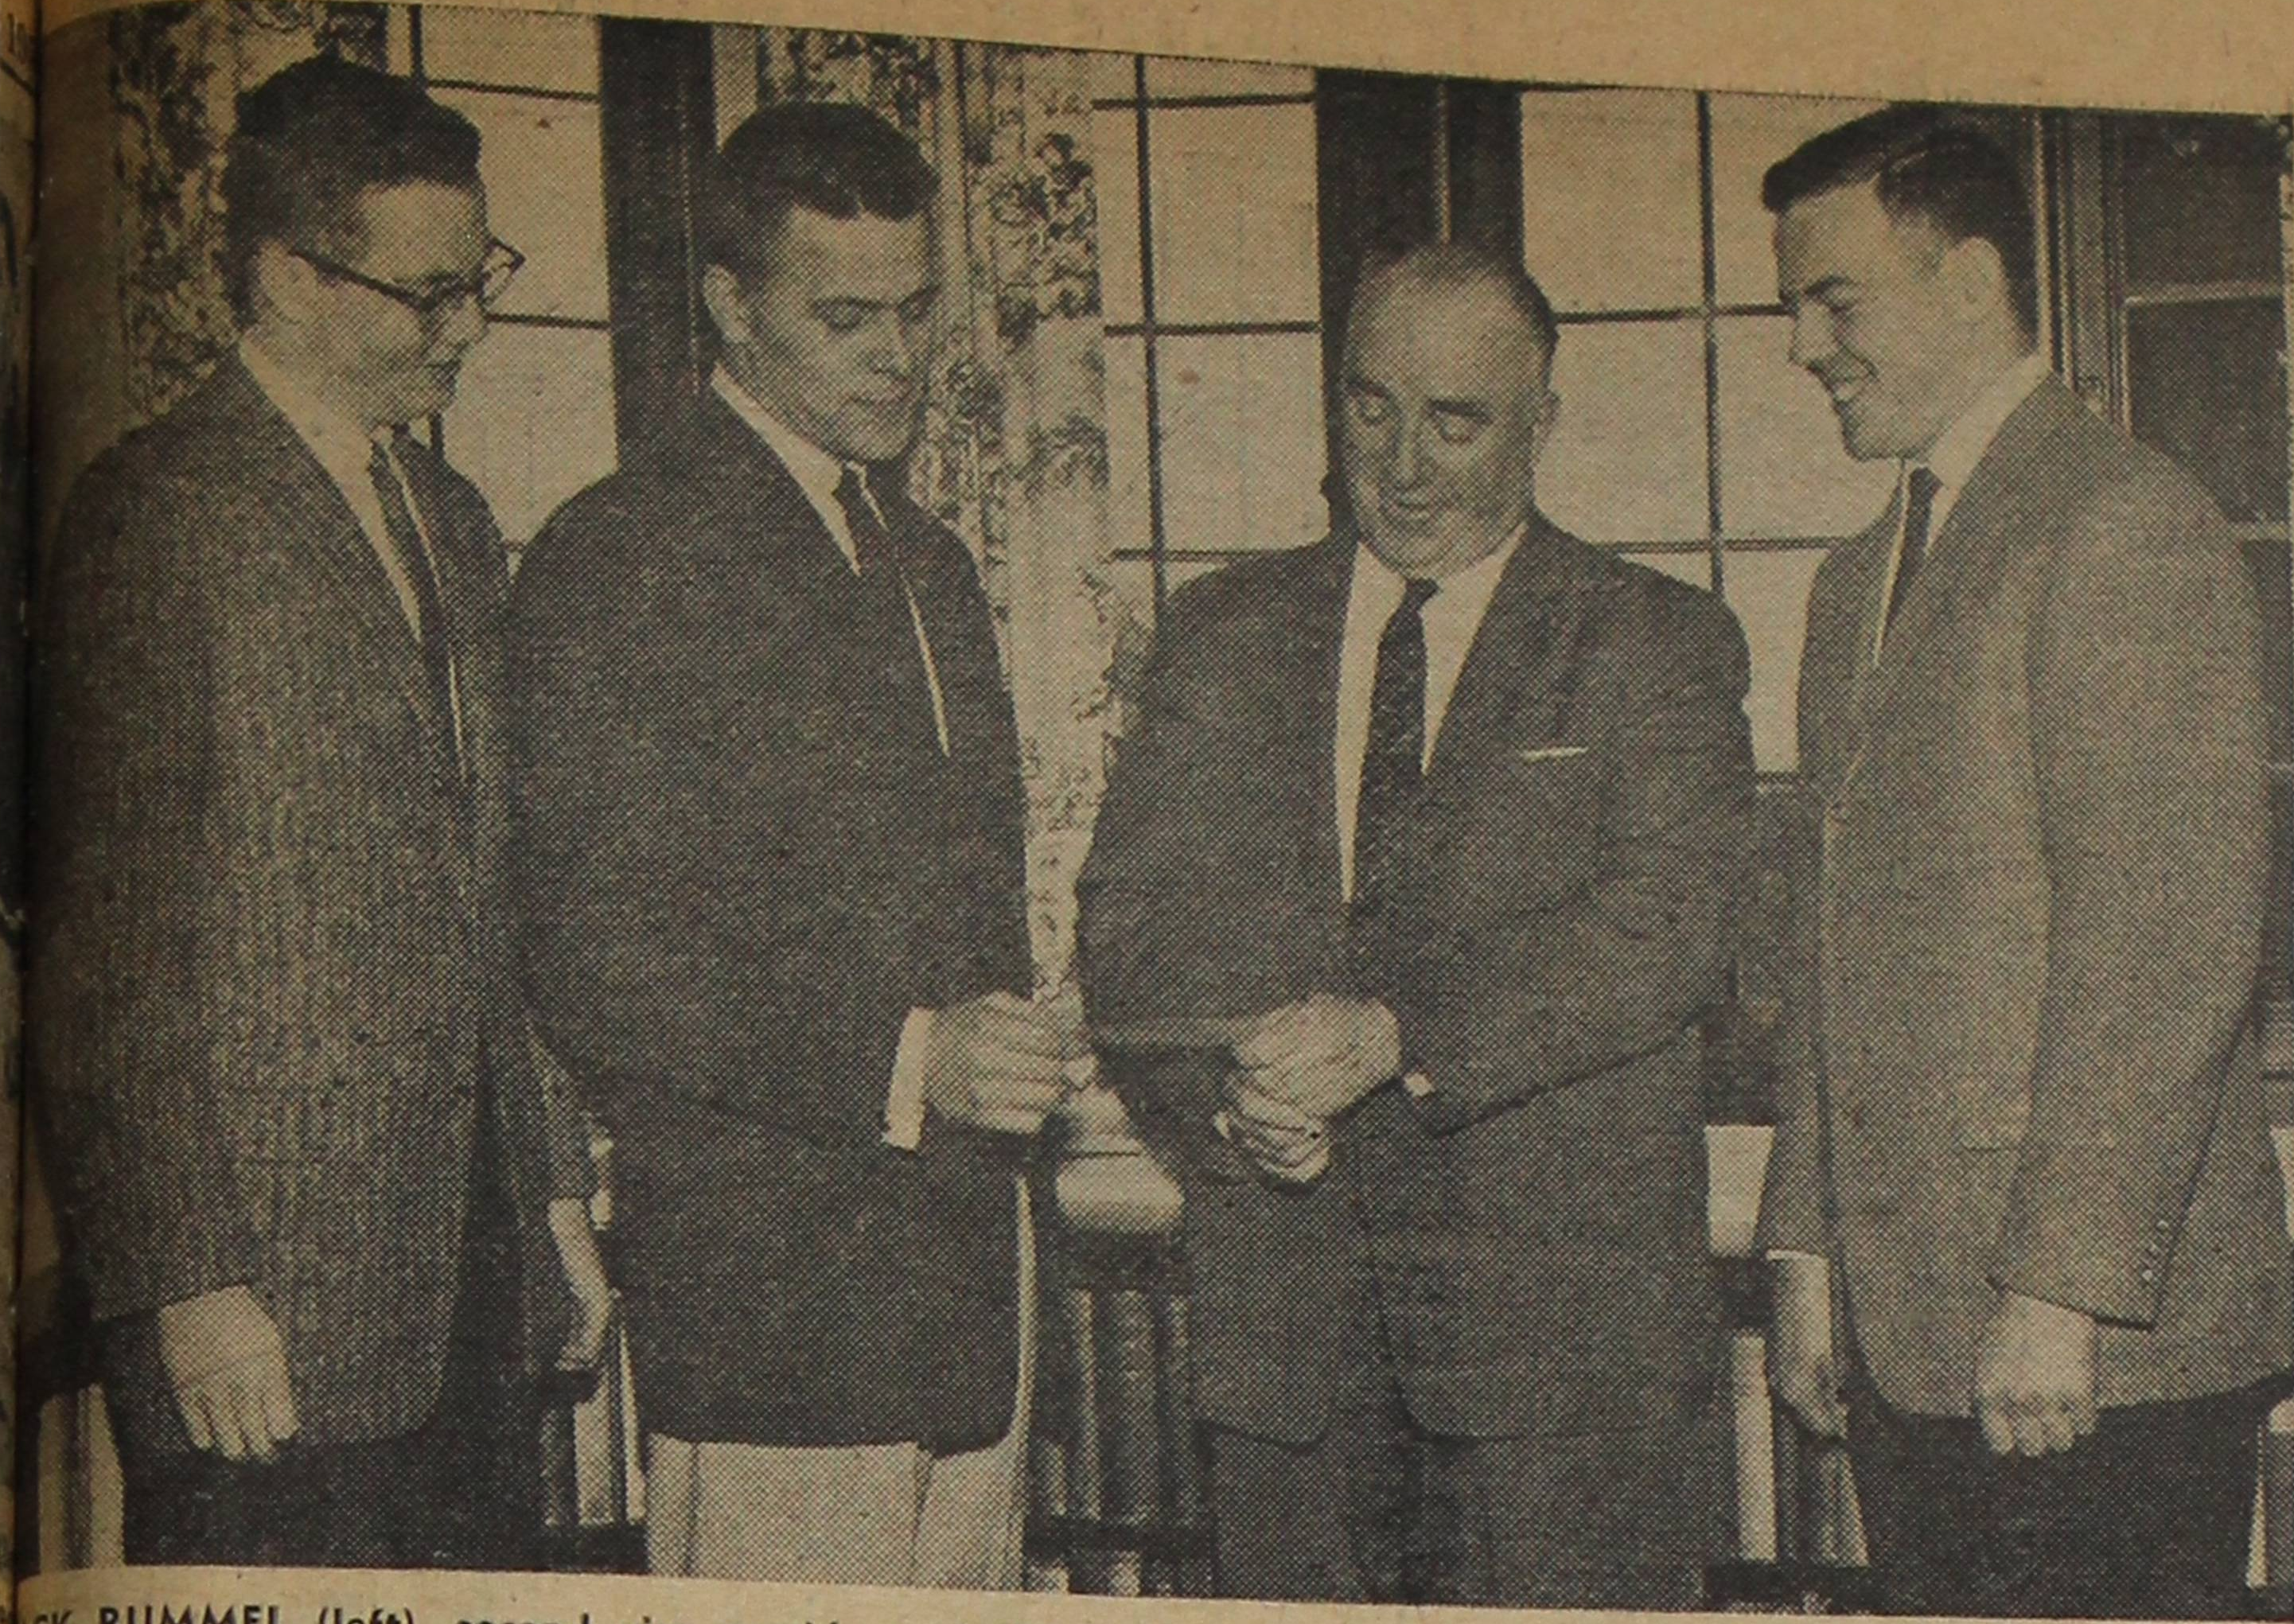

Ray Berry, newly elected first vice president of IFC, and member of Theta Chi fraternity, was not present.

Beardemphl replaced Jinx ReCTOR as president. He has been very active in IFC, being head of the Christmas party among other activities.

Berry replaced Dick Bidleman as first vice president. He previously served a term as second vice president.

Rummel, new second vice president, is also Interfraternity council publicity director and representative to Student Christian Council.

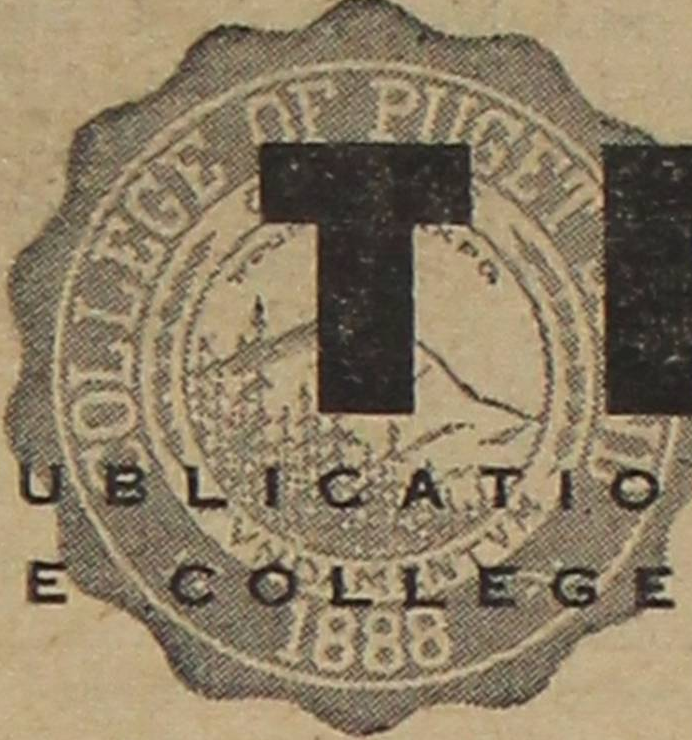

Langton, newly elected secretary-treasurer, has previously been active in IFC.

Duane Parker was elected next year's senior class president as 39 juniors went to the polls yesterday's class elections. Parker tallied 22 votes as his opponent, Boyd Lyle received 17.

Jay McCue received 31 votes to become next year's senior class vice president. Bob Dunbar, his opponent, had 8.

Lorna Moen edged out Carol Weeks for the secretary-treasurer position with 20 votes to Miss Weeks' 19.

Next year's sergeant-at-arms will be Murray Johnstone. He received 24 votes to Tom Carmichael's 15.

This year's May Princess will be Barb Keevil. She edged out Carol Sandford by one vote — 10-9.

In the elections for next year's junior class officers, John Pokela won the presidential race with 34 votes to Jack Higgins' 22.

Jerry Rapp defeated Roger Pyle for the vice presidential position with 31 votes to Pyle's 25.

Phyllis Walker won the secretary-treasurer's position, defeating Lorna Royall, 29-27.

Sergeant-at-arms for next year's juniors will be Jack Rummel. He polled 33 votes to Ollie Ordahl's 23.

This year's sophomore class May Princess will be Bev Gilman. She defeated Carol Selden, 42-14.

Next year's sophomore class elections will be held in Freshman convocation April 2.

DAFFODIL FESTIVAL PLANS PROGRESSING

Plans for the CPS daffodil float are now in their final stages, according to Harvey Coleman, co-chairman.

"Most of the framework will be done over the spring vacation," said Coleman. "But the daffodils cannot be stuffed into the float until the night before the parade. We hope to have the cooperation of the student body when that time comes."

The float, designed by John Pokela, will carry out the theme "Daffodils Salute Alaska." It will be one of the largest floats ever entered by the college, according to Pokela.

Nomination of the queen candidates was made by the six CPS fraternities. The first girl nominated by each house was given five points, the second girl three points, and the third girl one point. The queen will be chosen from among the three girls who received the most number of points. Voting will take place in convocation immediately after spring vacation. Finalists are Robbin Chervenka, Jan Hinton and Gail Pokela.

Hiss Chervenka, who lives in Sumner, is a junior. Miss Pokela is from Tacoma and Miss Hinton from Shelton. The latter two girls are freshmen and both are pledges to Alpha Phi sorority.

WAA KEGLERS WILL BOWL APRIL 17-24

"The WAA Inter-Sorority tournament will be held April 17 and 24 at North End alleys from 4-6 p.m.," announced manager Pat Bates recently.

Each sorority and independent group will be allowed to have one team.

No turnouts are required to be eligible for the tournament. Three lines will be bowled on each day. Since the points will be given per line, girls who wish to earn 100 points will need to have bowled four lines before Easter vacation. The score sheets for these turnouts may be turned in to Miss Bond's office in the women's gym.

NO TRAIL

Due to the ensuing spring vacation, no Trail will appear next week, Floyd Fessler, Trail editor, announced.

The next Trail will appear April 14, Fessler added.

MEMBERS OF THE JUILLIARD STRING QUARTET are Robert Mann, violinist; Isidore Cohen, violinist; Raphael Hillyard, violist, and Claus Adam, cellist. They will perform before CPS students and the general public Sunday, April 12.

Juilliard Quartet Visits College of Puget Sound Soon

Foremost among America's musical ensembles — the Juilliard String Quartet — will perform for CPS students 3 p.m., Sunday, April 12, in the Jones Hall auditorium.

Praised internationally for their incomparable interpretations of the chamber music of Haydn, Mozart, and Bartok, the group has toured the globe, achieving both popular and critical acclaim.

So perfect is their playing that a London "Times" critic exclaimed that "It is almost an impertinence to praise them."

In Prague and Budapest this summer enthusiastic crowds practically mobbed the group and tore concert halls apart in their unrestrained approval. The cry for encores was so great that additional concerts had to be given.

The Juilliard Quartet has toured its native America from coast to coast with equal success.

The four talented young Americans who compose the group are: Robert Mann and Isidore Cohen, violinists; Raphael Hillyard, violist, and Claus Adam, cellist. All have won recognition individually as concert soloists and recording artists.

This unique musical treat, sponsored by the Artist Lecture series, is open to any CPS student for only 50 cents general admission or $1 for reserved seats. The public will pay $1.50 general admission and $2 for reserved seats.

Tickets will be sold after spring vacation in the ASCPS office and in the Music building office. Tickets for the general public are available at Fraser's.

EASTER TIME

The coming of spring turns a young man's fancy to love, but to the CPS student it means a week's vacation and home, even if he has to swallow goldfish to get there.

Spring vacation begins Wednesday, March 25, at 8 a.m., and all the dormitories will be closed until Sunday, March 29. The library will be open during vacation but will close each evening at 5:00 and will remain closed all day Friday and Sunday.

April Fool's Day will be no joke if that all-important test is missed for classes will resume at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, April 1.

Candidates Chosen for AFROTC Coed Colonel

With beauty enough to make any campus man execute an eyesight, five CPS coeds have been chosen as candidates for the title of honorary Coed Colonel of the CPS Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps cadet group. Candidates for the honor are: Chris Hager, Delta Delta Delta; Marilyn Gross, Pi Beta Phi; Sara Peck, Chi Omega; Darlene Townsend, Alpha Phi, and Jan Filer, Independents. The girls were chosen by vote of their individual social groups.

Final voting to determine this year's Coed Colonel will take place at the annual AFROTC Military Ball, April 3. The lucky girl will be crowned during intermission at the dance, titled, Flight Into the Stars.

For the first time, the Coed Colonel is scheduled to appear in a decorated car in the Daffodil parade. Sponsor of the military ball and the Coed Colonel entry in the parade is the CPS squadron of the Arnold Air Society, an honorary professional group of advanced AFROTC cadets.

All five candidates appeared today in upper-class convocation. They appeared before the entire detachment of AFROTC cadets in the CPS Memorial Fieldhouse recently, and were voted on by each member of AFROTC at that time.

The name of the new Coed Colonel will be kept secret until intermission of the Military ball, when she will be crowned by one of the cadet officers in the AFROTC contingent.

Last year's Coed Colonel was Pat Nichols, sophomore from Tacoma.

ELAINE KLEIN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF WAA

The Women's Athletic Association held elections for 1959-60 officers last Tuesday.

Elaine Klein, a sophomore from Marysville, was elected president. Last year Elaine served as program chairman; she is a member of Spurs and of the varsity debate squad.

Other officers are Sandra Adler, vice president; Rasa Dekshenicks, secretary; Maureen Sims, treasurer; Nancy Dross, publicity chairman; and Janice Stranne, program chairman.

Arija Lietuviatas was selected as Central Board representative.

Voting was also held for the Inspirational Award winner. The name of the girl who has won this award will be announced at the WAA dance, April 11, after the water show.

tennis anyone? . . .

Where are the tennis courts? Although the CPS tennis squad seems to be in the unfortunate position of trying it, the problem of trying to play tennis without tennis courts is in reality an impossibility.

No home courts are available to the erstwhile Logger squad as all facilities in town are presently in use.

The high schools have their places tied up soundly. Same for the Tacoma Tennis Club. With "no vacancy" signs all over town, the Puget Sounders have no choice but to build their court themselves.

They could play on their own court if it was constructed properly. (For more information on this, refer to the Lucky Logger column on page 3.)

If new tennis courts were built, that would solve the problem. Such things, however, require time and money. The 1959 edition of the CPS tennis contingent unfortunately has little of either.

"spring has sprung" . . .

"Spring has sprung," as the poets say, and with the interspersing of sunshine between the raindrops the annual malady of spring fever has hit the campus, and hit it hard.

Once again a good portion of the student body is packing their luggage for home with lofty, intellectual intentions of intensive study which must definitely be accomplished.

But what happens to the student's earnest desire to cram? Wednesday he leaves for home; Thursday, he spends with his family, getting acquainted again. Friday he makes plans for the fabulous week-end to come. Friday night, of course, he goes out. Saturday he makes a serious effort to study for about two minutes, but then a friend drives up with plans for a great, can't-be-missed time down at the beach, and he's off. Saturday night, of course, he goes out. Sunday he sleeps late, recovering from a hangover. Sunday night, of course, he goes out. Etc., etc., . . .

The professor who throws a test soon after the student's return is, of course, cursed vehemently for at least two weeks. Some teachers certainly aren't fair!

take me to your leader . . .

What do you do each Wednesday at 6:15? Through the course of every school the average number of complaints are received by the Trail and other sources of the "lousy" way our college is being run. Also, "why don't those do-nothing idiots on Central Board ever do anything?"

These complaints are almost always made by persons who never grace Central Board meetings with their presence.

To these people, and to all others as well, the Trail extends its most cordial invitation to attend the Central Board meetings, each Wednesday at 6:15 in the McCormick room of the Collins Memorial Library, and find out how our student government is really being run.

The elections are over and the newly elected officers are preparing to take over their duties as members of Central Board. Now would be a good time to attend the Central Board meetings and get acquainted with your new student body officers. Remember: they represent you, the Associated Students of the College of Puget Sound, and you can best offer them constructive criticism by seeing them in action each week.

Home Show Attracts Many Patrons

One of the biggest events to hit the CPS Fieldhouse each year, ended Sunday.

Tacoma's eleventh annual Home Show and Better Home Exposition drew to a close Sunday evening after attracting thousands of interested patrons from all parts of Western Washington.

Exhibitors and show people displayed their products to a packed house each night as thousands crowded the Fieldhouse to see everything new and modern for the home.

According to Clarence Wilson, executive secretary of Tacoma Master Builders, "Capyppo," the model home on Deepwood Drive in the Glenwood Acres Addition, Lakewood, was also host to great numbers of people. The model home, setting for the newest, most modern design in home building yet available, was open every day at no charge.

Two stage shows nightly featured Uncle Willie, well known pantomimist and dancer of international fame.

Dozens of valuable prizes and over 100 exhibits were offered to the public.

Among things the public viewed were a sensational garden design for year-around usage featuring artistic accents, great carousel booth; master builders' 30-foot panorama of new and interesting home building ideas.

Tops among the prizes was a $2,400 sunplay pool installed free. Queen of this year's Home Show was Cheryl Thorstad.

Linda Sticklin, a senior from Chehalis, Wash. was recently chosen Queen of the 1959 Boat Show. The Boat Show is an annual event which each year features the marine wares of the local merchants. and Yakima, the dates for this show this year are April 3, 4, and 5. The show is being sponsored by the Tacoma Poggie Club which is basically a salmon fishing organization. Besides showing of Boats other minor exhibitions of sports will be presented.

Linda was chosen from a field of six other CPS candidates. Each year the court of the Boat Show alternates, one year the Queen and the princesses are picked from CPS and the next year from the PLC. During the show the queen will be modeling sportswear clothes from Washington Sport Shop.

The LUCKY LOGGER

By DOUG PERKINS

SOPHS WIN. The class of '61' stayed off a late rally to defeat the Juniors 38-36 in an intra-class basketball game last Thursday in the girl's gym. The juniors notched the count at 36 all with 50 seconds remaining in the contest just to have the sophomores score the clinching bucket. The class of '60' missed an opportunity to tie the score at the foul line with no seconds remaining.

There is a rumor that the Seniors and Freshmen might be able to floor a team to challenge the Juniors and Sophomores. If so, contact Jack Higgins of the Sophomores or Howie Eastman of the Juniors.

CPS MERMEN EIGHTH IN THE NATION. Earl Ellis, husky Logger ace, placed third in the 220, and 440-yard free style and sixth in the 100-yard to give the Loggers eighth place in a field of 16 teams at the NAIA swimming meet last Friday in Muncie, Ind.

Again hats off to Coach Don Duncan, Earl Ellis, Kimo Streeter, and the entire CPS swimming team for a terrific showing this year. With the exception of the 1946-47 season, this is only the second time CPS has had a swimming team.

Plenty of talent, rackets, tennis balls and no courts is the song the tennis team sang last week. The city high schools have reserved all available courts and the Tacoma Tennis Club has restricted facilities for members only. As for using the campus courts, birds fly at an altitude of three feet over the courts all night long and never have to worry about running into screening or nets.

At last PLC has run out of the services of Chuck Curtis, Roger Iverson, and Jim VanBeek. The Lute trio, considered the best three ball players to be on a PLC team at the same time, have traveled to Kansas City every year of their varsity career. The three ended their collegiate basketball with the 97-87 loss in the finals of the Small College Basketball Tournament two weeks ago.

NCAA CROWN COMES TO THE COAST. California won the first national collegiate basketball championship for the Pacific Coast conference since Stanford won in 1942. With 17 seconds remaining in the contest, Cal's Darall Imhoff tipped in the winning basket to give the Bears a 71-70 victory over Jerry West's West Virginia crew.

Kristine Havel, Marsha Smith Place in Pageant

Two CPS coeds placed in the finals of the Miss Tacoma Pageant, held last Thursday and Friday in the Tacoma USO auditorium.

Kristine Havel, sophomore from Tacoma, placed second in the contest. Miss Havel, stardust queen of Kappa Sigma, modeled her own clothes, which she made at extremely low cost.

Marsha Smith, a junior from Honolulu, Hawaii, placed fourth in the pageant. Miss Smith, a member of Alpha Phi, demonstrated the hula to the song, "Lovely Hula Hands."

Winner of the contest was Sherry Holmes, a graduate of the Stadium high school.

CPS coeds placing in the semi-finals were Carol Sandford, Judy Daniell, Kristine Havel, Marsha Smith, Maija Ievins, Claudia Cole, and Judy Olsen.

Ping Pong Tourney Won by Kappa Sigma

Kappa Sigma took a second in doubles, second in "B" singles and a third in "A" singles to win the ping pong tournament again this year.

Phil Delta Theta took a third in doubles, a first in "B" singles and a fifth in "A" singles to tie Todd Hall for second place in the final standings. Todd had a fifth in doubles, third in "B" singles and first in "A" singles.

This marks the fourth straight year Kappa Sigma has won the ping pong tourney.

CPS Students Help Save Two in Fire

Presence of mind of Stadium high school's football coach and members of CPS fraternities, was credited by fire and police authorities for the rescue of his 17-year-old daughter from their blazing home about 12:30 a.m. The family's pet dog perished in the $12,000 fire March 16.

Unhurt except for singed hair and minor burns on his hands, for which he declined hospitalization, was Robert E. Levinson, 3106 No. 15th St., the Stadium teacher and coach.

The daughter, lowered by her kneeling father from the fire-fringed window sill of a second-floor bedroom window, was Joan Levinson, 17, who suffered no serious injuries in her six-foot drop. She landed on her feet.

The girl, clad only in a nightgown, was quickly blanketed by Police Sgt. Henry Oathout and officer Tom Morris. She was taken to the Tacoma General hospital for care of shock and smoke inhalation, but was afterward released and taken to the home of friends.

Met by Wall of Fire

Levinson told the officers and Fire Inspector Kenneth Heymel he was sitting in a front room of the home watching TV about 12:25 a.m. when he smelled something burning. On opening a door connecting with the rear section of the house he was met with a terrific wall of heat and flames that surged into the room.

Temporarily staggered, but realizing his daughter was sleeping in an upstairs room, he plunged back into the heat and reached the flaming stairway.

Joan, he said, was already awake and crying for help from an upstairs landing when he got to her. He said he took her hands, reached a window and lowered her by her own arms as far as he could reach downward. When she was down he dropped out the same window.

Firemen said the Tacoman's act of opening the door added sudden impetus to the flames which had earlier been burning in the rear section of the home.

So great was heat of the fire just before first fire equipment arrived that exposure damage of about $1,000 was caused to the nearby residence at 1416 No. Cedar St., listed to Mrs. Beatrice McCormack.

Wife Was Away

Levinson, reporting his wife, Ann, was in Seattle for the night, commented he was so intent on reaching his daughter in the flaming upstairs that he entirely forgot to turn in any fire alarm.

Fire dispatchers said the call was turned in by neighbors that were awakened by the leaping flames.

Others in the neighborhood told Sgt. Oathout they had noticed frantic barking of the small Levinson dog about 11 p.m. but had attached no special significance. The body of the dog, apparently asphyxiated, was afterward found in the ruins of an upstairs bedroom.

Seen and Reviewed

By JOHN KELIHER
Part I

Art began with the Cro-Magnon. No one knows precisely when it began and it would not matter if they did.

But we do know that art was the first language and first the language of magic. That ancient saw, "Knowledge is power," was literal truth to our great uncles who drew the bison on cave walls in the Pyrenees. The red clay sketch of the bull bison was an enchantment designed to render up the soul of the great beast before the spear of the warrior. Sometimes the man won, occasionally the bison; man or beast, beast or man, the victory was attributed to the strength of the incantation—the ability of the artist.

The Vincent van Gogh exhibit at the Seattle Art Museum will close shortly. Although I have visited the show, there are no words which I can use to review it. Like the cave paintings, van Gogh's works must be seen and experienced to know their meanings.

For words too, are an outgrowth of magic. They contain an image, box it in and order it about. This cannot be done in the case of van Gogh. He is—his paintings are—like a red pebble in the salt tide. When newly wet the pebble has a redness which is warm and vibrant, but as the pebble becomes dry, its color turns to dull red and is lifeless. So it must be with any word description of his paintings.

More important than his method, his technique, and your knowledge of them, is the fact that 30 miles due north, they exist and you may see them. They need no explanation or commentary and if you view them you will surely have an experience of a lifetime.

Part II

It was either Voltaire or Dr. Sheldine who defined a cynic as one who knows the price of everything and the worth of nothing. In the atmosphere of the liberal arts college one is supposed to acquire a wide background of knowledge from as many different areas as possible. Few of us do. Our areas of specialization require the greater part of our time and we often feel that we know little beyond the content of our major field. We know the prices, but not the worth of other subjects.

In this context Dr. Coulter once remarked that students generally have a healthy, and sometimes well founded disrespect for the opinions of their contemporaries.

A few students have decided that the answer to this problem is the free exchange of ideas among and between members of the CPS student body.

Under the leadership of Tom Barry and with the advice of Dr. John Magee, they have formed an organization which intends to discuss the underlying ideas of everything from O. T. and Astrophysics, to B. A. (or Music theory) and Philosophy. They say that they want to know what the Education department is aiming at and what political science has to do with the molecular structure of the atom.

Barry says that the first meeting will be held Wednesday evening one week after spring vacation. The group is, as yet, unnamed but it will pattern itself after the old Franklin clubs.

There will be no membership dues and few formalities.

It's date to paste in your hat, April 8, in the Student lounge of the SUB—it may be a very lively organization. All students are welcome.

Silver Opinion Contest Open To CPS Coeds

During the month of March, Reed & Barton, America's oldest major silversmiths, are conducting a "Silver Opinion Competition," in which valuable scholarship awards totaling $1,050 are being offered to duly enrolled women students at a few selected colleges and universities. CPS has been elected to enter this competition in which the first grand award is a $500 cash scholarship; second grand award is a $250 scholarship, and third, fourth and fifth awards are $100 scholarships. In addition there will be 100 other awards with winners having the option of receiving a $25 savings bond or a "starter set" of sterling silver, fine china and crystal with a retail value of approximately $45.

In the "Silver Opinion Competition" a nentrant is asked to name her favorite china pattern, her favorite crystal and the sterling silver design she likes best. Then in her own words she must tell why she has chosen the three particular designs. She can use as few or as many words as she likes. There is no set limit. Entries will be judged on the basis of interesting opinions rather than on literary techniques. Closing date is midnight, March 31.

Susan Curran is the student representative who is conducting the "Silver Opinion Competition" for Reed & Barton at CPS. Those interested in entering the Silver Opinion Competition should contact Miss Curran at the Home Economics office for entry blanks and for complete details concerning the competition rules. She also has samples of 9 of the most popular Reed & Barton designs so that entrants can see how these sterling patterns actually look.

Through the opinion on silver design expressed by college women competing for these scholarships, Reed & Barton hopes to compile a valuable library of expression of young American likes and dislikes.
