

After 3000 Mile Trip - Adelphian Home Concert

The Adelphian Concert Choir has returned from their annual concert tour in which they traveled over 3000 miles along the west coast, presenting concerts in the three states of Washington, Oregon and California. They will entertain UPS students in their home concert April 21, at 8:15 p.m. in the auditorium of the First Methodist Church.

The Adelphians, under the direction of Dr. Bruce Rogers, Director of the UPS School of Music, have given performances in Vancouver and Aberdeen, Wash.; Roseburg and Klamath Falls, Oregon; Chico, Salinas, Whittier, Downey, Los Angeles, Redwood City, Oakland and Roseville, California. After the home concert in Tacoma next Wednesday they will give concerts in Seattle and Everett.

The Adelphians' program covers the whole range of choral literature from a seventeenth century chorus from Carissimi's oratorio "Jephthah" to an eighteenth century setting of the "Christe Eleison"; nineteenth century music of Brahms and Bruckner, twentieth century sacred and secular music, some of which was written in the last year.

Soloists in the program will be Beth Pederson, contralto, with her guitar; Roy Wilson, baritone, and Edith Woodworth, soprano, who will present a scene with Linn Johnson and Linda Wilson from Pergolesi's comic opera "The Maid-Mistress"; Jim Moore, baritone, will sing with the background of the men of the Adelphians.

Other members of the choir are Robin Bloms, Richard Boling, Vicki Brown, David Brubaker, Marcia Craven, Jack Dickison, Raymond Fife, Mary-Ann Finney, Diane Garland, Karen Hakala, Polly Hickman, Janet Hutson, Brian Irwin, Philip Jones, James Kinney, Cynthia Lockhart, Judith Lowe, Margaret Mackey, Dee Magnuson, Judy Markham, Carol Maxson, John

The annual Spring Weekend on the UPS campus is scheduled for May 7 and 8. Co-chairmen

Tickets of the Adelphian home concert may be obtained at the music office by presenting your UPS activity card between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Tickets for the general public sell for $1.75.

Vernal Equinox Fosters Affair

Carolyn Loucks and Clint Campbell have a full weekend planned for students and their parents, starting off Friday night with the Varsity Show in the Fieldhouse from 8 to 10 p.m. During the intermission of the Varsity Show the May Queen will be crowned from eight senior candidates; Liz Powell, Alpha Phi; Pat Thompson, Chi Omega; Shirley Clements, Delta Delta Delta; Linda Abbenhouse, Gamma Phi Beta; Beth Peterson, Pi Beta Phi; Carolyn Ibbotson, Kappa Alpha Theta; Irene Saito, Harrington; and Carole Carmichael, Tacoma General.

Parent lectures are scheduled for Saturday morning, later Saturday afternoon the Songfest will get under way, although it will not be competitive this year. The schedule of events will end Saturday night with the parents' banquet, followed by an all-school dance.

First Annual Public Affairs Forum Held On UPS Campus

The first ASB sponsored Public Affairs Forum set a significant precedent for any that may follow. This analysis of the 1964 election was conducted on the UPS campus this week and established the ambitious project as one worthy to be continued. The analysis presented by outstanding scholars, political leaders, and television commentators explained the pre-election condition of the country, the events on election day, the forces that influenced these events and made bold predictions for the future. The major personalities participating in the forum were John Bailey, National Democratic Chairman, Dean Burch, former National Republican Chairman, Samuel Lubell, nationally syndicated columnist, and Robert Dahl, Sterling Professor of Political Science at Yale University.

The forum, chaired by Tom Spring, senior political science major from Tacoma, was instigated last fall by a small financial allocation from the ASB budget. The bulk of the monetary burden was carried by contributions from interested parties in the Seattle-Tacoma area. A student committee, headed by Spring, worked out the details through the year. Faculty advisers were Dr. Paul Heppe and Dr. Earl Kruschke.

Other participants in the forum included Harry M. Scoble, Aaron Wildavsky, Herbert Altschull, Charles Herring, Herb Robinson, Hugh A. Bone, Samuel Sharkey, Angus Campbell, and Lewis Froman. Active undergraduates on the committee included Larry Blake, Roy Kimbel, Sharon Peck, John Pierce, Bill Ramseyer, Judy Rouse, Pat Thompson, and Ken Watkin.

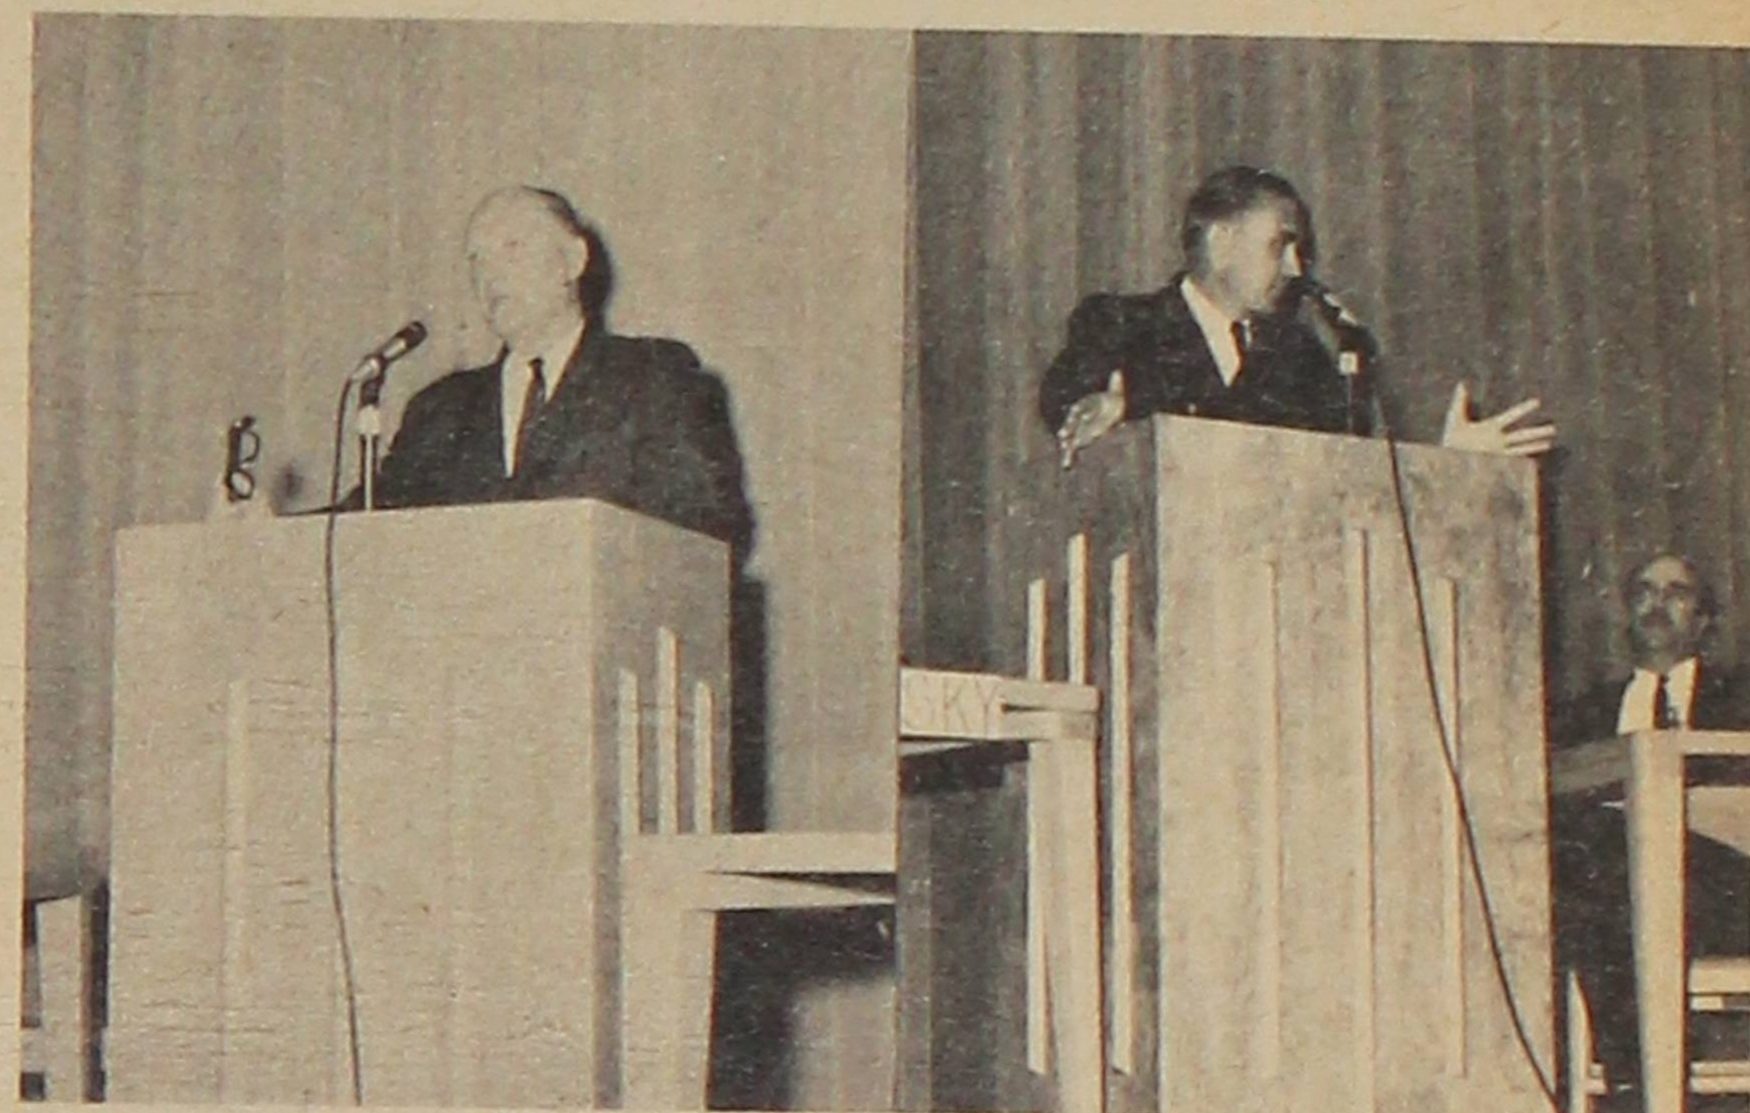

Lively presentations and interchange marked the forum. Each of the speakers had a unique viewpoint to present. As a result, the material that was forwarded the last three days has significance for the student body, the public-at-large, and especially the academic community.

Forum Important-Exams More So?

The Public Affairs Forum, held this week, is one of the most significant events to be seen on this campus in many years. Personalities from all over the nation, experts in their field, have converged onto the UPS campus bringing with them the high lights of the national news services and imparting their knowledge to the next generation's citizens. Certainly, everyone seems to realize how valuable an experience this event is. Everyone except some professors who must urgently give tests, quizzes, papers or other 'busywork' to keep their students from attending the Forum.

It was only a short few weeks ago that mid-terms were here and exams should have been flying thick and heavy. Were they? Not as much as they seem to be this week. One would think that since the Public Affairs Forum was scheduled far in advance, the professors would have time to find some way to work around it with their test schedules and other things that can so very easily keep a great number of really interested students from attending this co-curricular event.

If, instead of an intelligent, useful symposium as this, there was presented a concert of Little Known Upper Mongoloid Washing Songs and Daily Prayers given by Hashish Kebab of the Bronx, we could see why no great stir would be made in the little routine of campus life. But a subject vital to each American, especially those of us who will soon assume the burden of running the country or electing those who will, being expounded upon and analyzed by acknowledged experts in the field cannot be disregarded if this University even tries to claim that it is educating the future citizens of the U.S.

It seems that the professors in question are often the same ones who insist on giving pop quizzes, short exams and papers during closed period, a time when students are to be preparing for finals—not taking them. It also seems that with a little bit of advance planning, these professors could eliminate this "traffic jam" of academic trivia and free the students for events of such educational import or preparation.

The time is long overdue for each individual professor to realize and take into consideration the fact that the students in his classes have an average of 12 hours of other classes for which to prepare. It seems all right to force education by "piling it on," but beyond a certain point the law of diminishing returns quickly sets in. After all, we are here to receive an education—not to be kept from one. And such a small amount of effort is needed on the part of these professors to enhance the education we are receiving.

Coed Selected As Ambassador

Maxine Turner has been chosen to travel throughout Europe as an American Ambassador by the UPS chapter of the People-to-People Organization. The UPS senior was one of many representatives from universities all over the country to receive the honor.

The ambassadorship was applied for last fall by Maxine and she was selected on her past dedication to education. Last year she attended the National Education Conference in Canada and helped to publish a National Education book on International Relations. She was also State International Relations Chairman representing Washington. At present, Maxine is the president of UEA and is their representative to People-to-People.

Maxine Turner

The duties of the American Ambassadors will be to further the relations between the U.S. and the European countries. Maxine will spend most of her time in Scotland and Wales. It is her hope that the study of these countries will teach both cultural and educational understanding of the countries.

The trip will officially start June 11 at Howard University in Washington D.C. After a day of orientation, the group will go to Baltimore where they will depart for London. Maxine will stay with a family in London for a week at which time her role as an ambassador will start. The following week will be spent in Wales and then on to Scotland to finish up her official duties as ambassador. The next 20 days from July 10 to July 29 will be spent traveling throughout the rest of Europe independently.

According to Maxine "People the world over are the same, only different. What makes them different makes them interesting."

Maxine is planning on student teaching this fall and hopes to have slides from Europe to improve her social studies units. She is majoring in sociology and education and is a member of Alpha Phi sorority.

We Get Letters . . .

Dear Editor:

I was told that the tuition increase was for the following reasons:

1. More faculty.
2. Increased faculty pay.
3. Increased benefits for students (?).
4. Enlarge the library.

I have also been told that there is a normal "exodus" of a percentage of the faculty each year. Is there any reason why the percentage of the "exodus" from UPS must be composed of the finest percentage of our faculty? And, since the majority are leaving because the anticipated increase in pay and alleviation in duties are not sufficient to remunerate them for the effort they are putting forth (this came from some confidential sources), just what is happening?

Liberalty yours,
 M. R. Noble

AWS Fete To Be Held on April 27

AWS Banquet

All women students are invited to the annual AWS awards banquet April 27 at 5:30 p.m. in the South Dining Hall. The theme this year will be "April Showers of Honors."

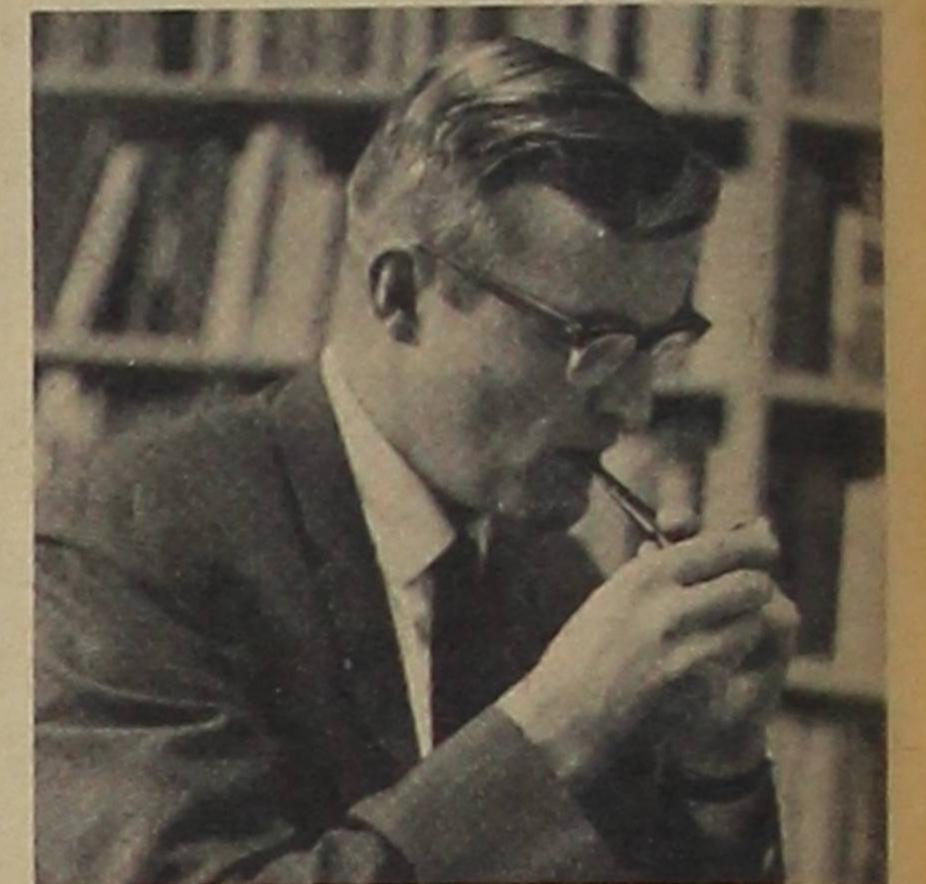

The banquet will include the tapping of new Spurs, announcement of Mortar Board members, presentation of WRA awards, and the announcement of the new AWS officers for next year.

The chairman is Pam Bryant and the assisting co-chairmen are Suzanne Scherdin and Jane Mitchell.

Simonson Invited To Ed Conference

By Sue Leth

Dr. Harold P. Simonson, chairman of the English department, has been invited to participate in a three-day conference at the University of Chicago from August 29 through September 1, in connection with the Board of Education of the Methodist Church, Division of Higher Education. "The Church Related College in Contemporary Society" will be the general topic of the conference, at which the participants will be discussing the distinctive nature of the church related college of liberal arts in both its curricular and co-curricular areas.

During the daily workshops and plenary discussion sessions, such topics as "Toward a Theology of Higher Education," "The Church Related College as a Context for Liberal Education," and "The College and Church in Reciprocal Service" will be explored. Participants will include four Methodist college presidents, two Methodist college deans and chaplains, four Methodist college faculty members, four educators from non-Methodist institutions, three business or industrial executives, three professional people, four upper college students, three pastors and/or bishops, and four Division of Higher Education staff members.

Local Chapter Selected As Outstanding in Region

Gamma Psi chapter of Theta Chi was named outstanding chapter in the region nine at the regional convention held in Corvallis, Oregon, April 9 and 10. The local chapter also received the honor of hosting the next regional convention at UPS in the spring of 1966.

The chapter competed against nine other chapters of Theta Chi from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alberta, Canada. Bill Brown, chapter president, was presented the award by the fraternity's National Vice-president, Mark McColm, at the Founder's Day banquet which closed the convention. Other members of Gamma Phi present were Al Burrows, Dennis Beard, Dale Beard, Dave Hart, Joe Heidal, Tom Brown, Jim Corbin, Layne Alexander and Rocky Lackman.

Brown said "I am very proud of the chapter's accomplishments. It took hard work on the part of every brother and I feel that this was the "shot in the arm" needed to put Gamma Psi on its way to outstanding chapter in the nation." The chapter received the title of most improved chapter in the region last year at this time and then went on to take the most improved chapter in the nation award last fall. The members feel that they have a chance to receive the outstanding chapter award and are working hard to earn it. A new fraternity house is in the process of being built now for the chapter in the fraternity complex. When it is complete they will be the last fraternity to move into University owned housing.

Knights Plan Rush Program

The Log Chapter of the Inter-collegiate Knights here at the University of Puget Sound has begun planning for the rushing of new members of the next school year.

The president of Knights, Rick Draughan, has stated that all prospective candidates will be notified in the near future. The needed qualifications for entry into the Log Chapter are that the individual must be a freshman male student registered with the University, have an accumulative grade point average above 2.4, and be of high moral character. Final selection is made by the present members after several rush functions. In charge of the rush for the Knights are Ed Edams and Clint Campbell.

The Coast Guard OCS Procurement Team on the Staff of the Commander, Thirteenth Coast Guard District, will be in Tacoma to interview prospective applicants and to administer the Coast Guard Officer Qualification Test to qualified individuals. Potential college graduates may apply for Officer Candidate School up to nine months prior to receiving degree.

P. W. Stanbri and R. W. Rogowski will be located at the Student Union Building from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. May 4, 1965.

Diamond Nine Looks Strong

The University of Puget Sound baseballers won their first two games of the season by defeating St. Martin's College 4-3 and 5-3 in a non-conference double-header at UPS' Burns Field last Saturday afternoon.

The first game was won in the first inning, as singles by Mike Noah, Roy Kimbel and John Whitehead, combined with a stolen base, Bob Crisman's long sacrifice fly and a walk provided the Loggers with two runs in the first inning.

The Logger nine added two more runs to clinch the victory on a walk to Kimbel and singles by Crisman and Normile in the sixth inning.

In the second game UPS scored two runs in the third inning and three runs in the fourth inning. Singles by Lee Martin, Roy Kimble and John Whitehead plus a walk jolted the St. Martin Rangers with the two runs in the third inning.

The game was clinched in the bottom of the fourth when Logger right fielder Roy Kimble lined a screeching double to right field for two runs.

Kimbel and Normile both had three hits for UPS to top that category, and southpaw Denny Peterson and freshman Steve Helgerson were credited with the wins.

The next base path contest will be against Western next Saturday at Bellingham.

UPS Netmen Split Matches

The University of Puget Sound netmen won and lost matches last week to the St. Martin Rangers and the Central Washington Wildcats respectively.

In their first match UPS opened its collegiate season with a 6-1 victory over St. Martins.

The only Logger defeat in singles was by Mike Harris as he bowed before Ranger Ken Kneeland 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. The other team members Bob Gargher, Lynn Erickson, Denny Hinton, and Kim Janda won their respective matches. UPS also swept both double matches.

In the second match against Central, the Wildcats collected a 4-3 victory over UPS by winning in the decisive second doubles match. It was the Loggers first defeat in three matches.

Logger winners in the single contest were Lynn Erickson, playing number three man; player-coach Denny Hinton, playing in the fourth spot, and Kim Janda, finishing up in the fifth position.

Both double matches were captured by Central which later proved to be the decisive points needed for the net victory.

UPS Athletic Director John P. Heinrick

Heinrick Honored

The University of Puget Sound athletic director, John P. Heinrick was honored upon his retirement from coaching by the Washington State Senate and House of Representative last Friday.

Eight state representatives who had attended UPS and one former Pacific Lutheran University sports star were responsible for presenting the resolution which has passed unanimously in both houses.

Coach Heinrick will be honored at a testimonial dinner May 1. Murray Healy, Stadium High athletic director, and Paul Boyle, Tacoma attorney, announced Saturday that tickets for the testimonial banquet are now on sale at the Tacoma Athletic Commission.

Linkmen Begin Another Season

Jerry Boyd, sophomore player-coach will be UPS' number one man when the University of Puget Sound golf team meets Western Washington State College in their first league match of the year next Monday, April 19 at Bellingham.

Rounding out the Logger squad will be Chuck Curran, a sophomore playing in number two spot; Jim McMaster, also a sophomore in number three spot; Mike West, a junior hooking at number four position, and Sam Biddle, a sophomore swinging in the number five position.

Other members of the team include freshman John McKay and sophomores Tom Tripp and Dick Lea.

Despite the lack of seasoned veterans, the UPS linkmen have a good chance of an excellent win-loss record due to their depth.

By Ed Adams

John Jewell, University of Puget Sound swimming captain and second team NAIA All-American member, received the Harry W. Werbisky trophy last Thursday night at the first annual UPS All-Sports banquet. The trophy, symbolic of outstanding sportsmanship, scholarship and aggressiveness, was presented to the Tacoma senior by University president Dr. R. Franklin Thompson before a packed crowd in the Loggers' student union dining hall.

Other annual awards were presented as follows: Most Inspirational Athlete—Tom Rawlings, senior football tackle from Olympia; Most Improved Athlete—Larry Smyth, sophomore basketball guard from Kennewick; and Outstanding Athlete of the Year—Joe Peyton, sophomore three sport sensation from Monticello, Mississippi.

Sam Baker, kicking specialist with the professional Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, was the featured speaker at the banquet honoring the Logger athletes from the various teams. Also present were representatives from over 40 of the area's high schools. The high school guests were hosted by a member of the Toppers, UPS booster organization, and a Logger varsity athlete. The dinner was served by the Chips, Women's Spirit organization.

Don Shotwell, UPS alumni and member of the school's board of trustees, was presented with a wrist watch by athletic director John P. Heinrick in commemoration of his 35 years of dedicated service to UPS. Shotwell, a former Logger athlete, was also chairman of the Baker Memorial Stadium Building Committee which was responsible for the construction of the 4,000 seat concrete football stadium which was dedicated this past fall at the Tacoma campus.

Other UPS athletes honored at the banquet, by sport, were:

Award winners Joe Peyton, John Jewell, Larry Smyth and Tom Rawlings with their awards.

In football Tom Rawlings won the Most Inspirational Award, and Harlan Patterson, Steve Maddocks and Peyton were honored as tri-captains for the 1964 season.

Peyton and Jim DiStefano were also recognized for being named to the All-Conference team. Peyton was selected to both the offensive and defensive teams as an end while DiStefano was selected as a defensive tackle.

In basketball, Mike Havnaer won the Most Inspirational and All-Conference second team, and Howard Nagle took All-Conference first team honors and Best Foul Shooting percentage during the regular season. Havnaer also served as the Loggers' basketball captain for the past year.

In swimming, John Jewell also received recognition for being named to the NAIA All-American second team, and Don MacMillian, though a non-letterman, was named as the swim team's Most Inspirational Award winner. This was a repeat All-America performance for Jewell as he was named to the first team as the result of his performance in the 50 yard freestyle. He had been clocked at 22.7; an NAIA record at that time.

Doug Hanna, Allen Nordell, Bob Harper, Dan Pender, and Jewell were also honored for their selection to the All-Conference swim team.

PARDON MY OPINION

Do you think the drinking age should be lowered to 18?

Jane Mitchell, freshman, Mt. Vernon: The majority of the people aren't mature enough to accept the responsibilities and consequences involved in social drinking. It would just increase the incentive to drink at a younger age because of the challenge that being under age presents.

Bob Riddick, senior, Tacoma: It it changed here, the 18 year olds would flock to the taverns and liquor stores at first. Then after the novelty wore off, the prestige of drinking would not be nearly as important.

Marilyn Alexander, junior, Bellevue: I would say no, but 21 isn't any magic age. I think a person would be more mature at 21, though.

Bob Sprague, senior, Tacoma: No. I think, generally, the 18 year old is not mature enough to respect alcohol. He knows its effects but not its consequences.

Sue Emanuels, freshman, Bellevue: No. I think that people should stop to think about the responsibilities concerning drinking and the dangers and what kind of pleasure they want to get out of it. They have to stop to realize what they are doing.

Bill Brown, sophomore, Tacoma: I'm definitely for it. I think that if a person is old enough to be forced to give his life for his country at age 18, he should be able to drink, smoke, vote or what-have-you.

Dr. Walton To Speak April 22

Dr. Ernest T. S. Walton, Senior Fellow of Trinity College in Dublin and head of the department of physics at the University of Dublin, will deliver an address Thursday, April 22, at 8 p.m. in Jones Hall auditorium on the Guiding Principles for Science and Religion. Dr. Walton holds both his doctor of philosophy and doctor of science degrees.

One of the leading scholars of our time, Dr. Walton was one of a small but brilliant group of scientists working at the famous Cavendish Laboratory of Cambridge University, England, where the modern concept of the atomic nucleus was developed. Under the leadership of the late Lord Rutherford, Dr. Walton and Sir John Cockroft developed the first atomic accelerator and produced the first artificial transmutation of the atomic nucleus by bombardment with high-energy protons. Their first device was the forerunner of modern particle accelerators. For this work they were awarded the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1951.

Dr. Walton has held several academic positions in England and Ireland, and has been active with the Methodist Church in Ireland. He has represented the Irish government at a number of international conferences, and is a member of various scientific societies. He was awarded the Hughes Medal of the Royal Society of London in 1938.

Additional appearances of Dr. Walton will include: "The Early History of Particle Accelerators," Wed., April 21, 10 a.m. in Howarth room 14; "The Growth of Modern Physics," Wed., April 21, 5:30 p.m., SC 201; "One Thing I know," Thurs., April 22, 10 a.m., Jones Hall auditorium (University Chapel); "The Scientific Work of Rutherford," Fri., April 23, 9 p.m., Howarth room 14.
